

Technical Support Model

- Technical Support Model, page 1

Technical Support Model

Following is the technical support model for using OpenStack:

- OpenStack is based on open source and is generally supported through its community using a best effort approach. If you use a third-party OpenStack installer and their support model, all generic OpenStack related support should come from the third-party support license.
- OpenStack Nexus Enabler part support will be from Cisco Nexus Solution Team.

