Java 8 Migration

The code base has been compiled with Java 8. To ensure backward compatibility, all APIs remain unchanged. Any custom Java class, such as custom elements, that have been compiled with the earlier JDK versions will continue to work on the new platform, except for the known incompatibilities listed in the Java 8 compatibility document by Oracle.