

Tim Skinner
Operations Director – Enterprise Retail, Manufacturing and Services
Cisco UK & Ireland

Tim leads Cisco's Enterprise sales and technical teams across the UK, helping customers from the Retail, Manufacturing, Utility and Industrial Services space enhance productivity, profitability and lower costs through better use of network based services and solutions.

After joining Cisco in 1999 Tim has held various roles including sales management, vertical business development and account management. Tim has been in the networking and data communications industry for 20 years and has a wealth of IT experience gained from Newbridge Networks and Case Communications where he held various engineering, sales and management roles.

Tim, his wife, two children and dog, live in a small village in Bedfordshire. Tim has a passion for golf and skiing but confesses to be out of practice in both.

Updated August 2009