

Read Me First for Cisco LCD Professional Series Displays

Dear Customer,

Thank you for your recent Cisco LCD Professional Series Display purchase.

You should keep this certificate even though it does not constitute proof of ownership for any product. Instead, it explains where you can obtain important safety instructions, information about regulatory compliance, product warranties, and other information that can prevent personal injury, reduce the risk of property damage, and prevent needless expense.

Sincerely,
Cisco Systems, Inc.

Product Safety Instructions

To learn how to install and operate this product safely, see Quick Install Guide for Cisco LCD Professional Series Displays and see the “Safety Instructions” chapter in User Guide for Cisco LCD Professional Series Displays, both of which are available in their most recent revisions on Cisco.com.

Regulatory Compliance and Safety Instructions

Cisco sold this LCD Professional Series display to you with the expectation that you will attach it to a Cisco Digital Media Player (DMP) for use in your digital signage network or enterprise TV network. In this way, your LCD display is an accessory for the DMP to which it is attached. The regulatory compliance information for that DMP extends to all its accessories, including this LCD display. See the printed regulatory compliance document that you received with your DMP. Alternatively, see the most recent revision of that document on Cisco.com, at http://www.cisco.com/en/US/products/ps7220/prod_installation_guides_list.html.

Cisco 90-Day Limited Hardware Warranty Terms

There are special terms applicable to your hardware warranty and various services that you can use during the warranty period. Your formal Warranty Statement, including the warranties and license agreements applicable to Cisco software, is available on Cisco.com. Follow these steps to access and download the Cisco Information Packet and your warranty and license agreements from Cisco.com.
