

Cisco Employees by the Numbers

Cisco is a multigenerational, multicultural community that extends around the world. As of July 2009, Cisco has more than 65,500 employees in 92 countries and over 372 locations. Approximately one third of our employees work at the headquarters site in San Jose, California. Our workforce has a wide variety of skill sets, but it can be divided broadly into engineering, sales, and business support functions.

Workforce by Job Function

Cisco has one of the lowest rates of voluntary employee attrition in the IT industry. The table below gives the voluntary attrition rate for the last five years.

The tables below characterize the employees we have hired over the past four years in terms of gender and ethnicity. The ethnicity figures in the second table are given for employees in the United States only.

During the economic downturn and subsequent slowdown in hiring, we have added new employees selectively to support the investments we are making in market adjacencies. Cisco programs such as Hiring and Interview Training help us apply inclusion and diversity principles when selecting external job candidates. When filling positions from within the company, our Talent Connection program helps us align our internal talent with Cisco's top priorities.
