

In-Sook Kim

Reliable, Straightforward Channel Operations Manager

Originally From:

Ulsan, South Korea.

Responsibilities:

Business intelligence and business process optimization. Creating new business rules to help companies do better. Improving the way Cisco works for channel partners. Working as a “people manager” to help Cisco keep its talented employees.

Described As:

Strong. Stable. Shy, but can be loud if necessary.

Surprising Fact Her Co-Workers Don't Know:

She used to be an amateur voice actor in college, and was in commercials.

Benefit Of Diversity:

Before coming to Singapore, she didn't really understand Muslim culture but after working with Muslim colleagues at Cisco and making Muslim friends, she respects the culture more, and understands it better.

Philosophy of Life:

The responsibilities you carry in society increase as you grow older, so always try to be confident and successful at any age. When you die, you should be proud of yourself.

Last Great Movie She Saw:

“The Red Cliff,” an epic film about the 3 kingdoms in ancient China, directed by John Woo.

Can't Live Without:

Her husband, who she met at Cisco, and was the best choice she's ever made.