

Christopher Reberger

Solutions Manager, Global IP Economics Practice
Internet Business Solutions Group

Christopher Reberger recently joined IBSG from PA Consulting Group and brings substantial experience in analyzing the costs and benefits of investing in new technologies. This experience includes market entry assessments, license valuations, CAPEX and OPEX estimates and assessing the financial impact of changes in regulatory environments for service providers. Much of this work was undertaken in support of debt placements by investment banks such as Goldman Sachs, Citigroup, ABN Amro etc.

In addition, Christopher has undertaken a range of statistical analyses and applied advanced quantitative and economic methods for a range of business issues, including bidding strategies for resource auctions.

Prior to PA, Christopher worked as a software engineer and management consultant in Australia, Sweden and the Netherlands. Christopher has degrees in Electrical Engineering, Business and Public Administration from the University of New South Wales and Harvard University.

Cisco Internet Business Solutions Group (IBSG)