

Cisco CIO Summit 2007

The Ritz-Carlton Orlando, Grande Lakes • October 1-3, 2007 • Orlando, Florida

What book or author do you recommend?

The next generation is reading:

Harry Potter series by J.K. Rowling
Twilight & New Moon by Stephanie Meyer
Hardy Boys Mysteries by Franklin W. Dixon

CIOs are reading:

The World is Flat by Thomas Friedman
Tuesdays with Morrie by Mitch Albom
Guns, Germs and Steel by Jared Diamond

More on CIO bookshelves:

Accelerando!

Charles Stross

Ender's Game

Orson Scott Card

Execution

Larry Bossidy

Genghis Khan and the Making of the Modern World

Jack Weatherford

Good to Great

Jim Collins

Higher Standard of Leadership—Lessons from the Life of Gandhi

Keshavan Nair

Innocent Man & The Last Juror

John Grisham

Lever of Riches, Technological Creativity & Economic Progress

Joel Mokyr

Night

Elie Wiesel

Night Soldiers

Alan Furst

Now Discover Your Strengths

Marcus Buckingham
& Donald Clifton

One Step Beyond

Chris Moon

Purpose Driven Life

Rick Warren

Technological Revolutions and Financial Capital: The Dynamics of Bubbles and Golden Ages

Carlota Perez

The Alchemist

by Paulo Coelho

The Cathedral & The Bazaar

Eric Steven Raymond

The Fountainhead

Ayn Rand

The Goal

Eliyahu Goldratt

The Great War for Civilization

Robert Fisk

The History of the Peloponnesian Wars

Thucydides

The Know-It-All

AJ Jacobs

The Last Lion: Winston Spencer Churchill

William Manchester

The Machine That Changed the World

James Womack

The Making of the Atomic Bomb

Richard Rhodes

The Making of the Fittest

Sean B. Carroll

The Origin of Wealth

Eric Beinhocker

The Singularity is Near

Ray Kurzweil

The Untied States of America

Juan Enriquez

The Wisdom of Crowds

James Surowiecki

Traveling Light

Max Lucado

Walk in the Woods

Bill Bryson

Wikinomics

Don Tapscott

Winning

by Jack Welch