Creating a Collaborative Ecosystem with
Cisco TelePresence™ Virtual Conferencing

• Consulting • Technology • Outsourcing

Your Presence is Required—But Travel is Not

Face-to-face collaboration is the very lifeblood of innovation—creation of new products, delivery of solutions and superior customer service. Organizations can bring global teams together with Cisco TelePresence, offered by the Accenture & Cisco Business Group. Cisco TelePresence can help you and significantly improve productivity and innovation while reducing costs.

Success, however, lies in implementations that go beyond installation. The Accenture & Cisco Business Group can help you navigate the multi-stage delivery of a successful Cisco TelePresence deployment.

We can help you:

- Engineer the network.
- Manage the change.
- Optimize existing business processes with global methodologies and tools.
- Deliver consistent, scalable and repeatable solutions.
- Establish governance policies.
- Define support services.
- Implement end-user communications and training to drive adoption.

Furthering Business Agility Through Network-Enabled Business Process Solutions

IT leaders are faced with taking costs out, and bringing projects with near-term payback in. At the same time, IT is under pressure to deliver top-line value and positively impact the bottom line.

In our work with hundreds of global clients across an array of industries, we've discovered that high-performance organizations make better use of technology innovations.

The Accenture & Cisco Business Group works as one team, a single point of contact to help clients chart a practical roadmap, with time to business value as the destination. From strategy, to architecture, to implementation and integration into your business processes, we can guide you to make technology really work for your business.

Working as one team, the Accenture & Cisco Business Group helps you use IT as a strategic asset to further increase business agility.

Cisco TelePresence—“Like Being There” & Easy to Use
