

ANDY CHEW

Managing Director, UK & Ireland Architectures,
Cisco International Ltd.

@123chewy

Andy Chew is a Managing Director in Cisco UK and Ireland where he leads the Architecture Teams of Enterprise Networks, Security, Datacenter and Collaboration. Prior to this he was Head of the Collaboration Architecture team, and had previously held that role in Cisco's Emerging Markets Theatre.

He has overall responsibility for the achievement of the Theatre's Architectural financial targets, GTM objectives and personnel and organizational development goals. Externally he works closely with Partners and Customers and is leads several of Cisco's broader initiatives around innovation and mentoring.

Andy previously spent 7years at Siemens Enterprise Communications where he held various international leadership roles, including heading up global Unified Communications business management and Alliance Development for Unified Communications.

Andy has 20+ years General Management experience in the IT software and Services sectors, and has held a broad range of international positions.

He holds an MBA from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), where he is a Fellow of the Sloan School of Management.