

Excellence Award Best Enterprise Security Solution • Winner Cisco for Cisco ASA with FirePOWER Services

Cisco ASA with FirePOWER Services is deployed in nearly all countries worldwide and within large portions of the Fortune 100, Global 500 and across all U.S. military branches and in large civilian government agencies.

Sourcefire was acquired by Cisco in November 2013, and the number of customers is growing and pipelines have increased significantly. In addition, the number of partners has expanded.

Cisco recently introduced Cisco ASA with FirePOWER Services – the industry’s first, threat-focused next-generation firewall (NGFW) which delivers superior, multi-layered protection, improves visibility and reduces security costs and complexity. This solution combines Cisco’s industry-leading ASA firewall with Sourcefire’s industry leading next-generation IPS (NGIPS) and advanced malware protection (AMP) in a single device.

Third-party validation for industry-leading security effectiveness, low TCO, performance, execution and vision also fuels growth.

Cisco’s flexible service/support model includes a newly created global security sales organization consisting of 5,000-plus security experts; SMARTnet 24/7 support, hardware repair/advanced replacement and ongoing product updates; education and certifications on FirePOWER solutions via classroom, on-site and computer-based training; extensive professional services offerings; support via 750-plus certified reseller and distribution partners; real-time threat intelligence working around the clock to protect customers – Cisco Talos discovers, assesses and responds to the latest attacks and vulnerabilities; Cisco’s Collective Security Intelligence Cloud, fueled by users who share the latest threat intelligence; and the snort.org community, which provides ongoing security enhancements and testing.
