About WebEx Connect

Use WebEx Connect, the instant messenger for business users to send secure instant messages, invite or remind participants, and manage a training session. Connect integrates with Microsoft Outlook corporate directories and calendars, encrypts messages and scans them for viruses, and offers quick access to business conferencing services from WebEx.

To download WebEx Connect:

- 1 Log in to your Training Center Web site.
- 2 On the Training Center navigation bar, click Support > Downloads.

Use remote computer sharing to show attendees an application or file that is available only on a remote computer.

Attendees can view your remote computer, including all your mouse movements, in a sharing window on their screens.

You can share a remote computer during a training session for which you are the presenter, if:

- You have installed the Access Anywhere Agent on the remote computer
- You logged in to your Training Center Web site before joining the training session, if you are not the original training session host

About Joining a Training Session

You can join the following types of training sessions:

- Listed training session—A training session that appears on the list of training sessions page.
- Unlisted training session—A training session that does not appear on the list of training sessions page.
- In-process training session—A training session that is in process, from which the host invites you by email, instant message, or text message (SMS)

If a training session host either invites you to a training session or approves your registration request for a training session, you receive an email message that includes instructions and a link that you can click to join the training session. The email message contains the training session password, unless the host has specified that passwords do not appear in email messages.

If you did not receive an email invitation or registration confirmation, you can join a training session that is currently in progress. You need not be an authorized user or log in to your Training Center Web site to join a training session, unless the host has specified that all training session attendees must have a user account.

Note: If you have not yet set up Training Manager on your computer, you can do so before joining a training session to avoid a delay. Otherwise, once you join a training session, your Training Center Web site automatically sets up Training Manager on your computer.

Registering for a Training Session

If a training session host invites you to register for a training session, you receive an invitation email message. The email message contains a link that you can click to register for the training session.

If you did not receive an email invitation to register for a training session, you can register for the session on the Live Sessions page on the Training Center Web site:

If registering for a training session requires a password, you must provide the password that the training session host gave to you.

When scheduling a training session, the host may set a limit to the number of session attendees, as well as determine if there will be a waiting list for the session. If so, you may be allowed to register for a waiting list.

Note: If registration is required for a Recurring single-session class or a Multiple session course, you will be required to register for only one session. If you register again in a subsequent session, the previous registration will be canceled.

Important: The IM feature is not available for training sessions that require registration.

About scheduling a training session

When scheduling a training session you can accept the default settings that your Training Center Web site provides, or you can specify several options for your training session. These options allow you to customize your training session for your specific needs. Once you schedule a training session, you can modify its options. You can also cancel a scheduled training session at any time.

If another user has granted scheduling permission to you in his or her user profile, you can schedule a training session on behalf of that user. For details about granting scheduling permission to another user, see Allowing another host to schedule your training session (on page 111).

Choosing a level of security for a training session

You provide security for your training session by doing any of the following:

- Require a password—Most Training Center Web sites require that you specify a password for any session that you host. Attendees must provide this password to join the session.
- Specify an unlisted training session—When scheduling a training session, you can specify that the session is unlisted. An unlisted training session does not appear on the training session calendar. To join an unlisted training session, attendees must provide a unique session number. For more information about specifying an unlisted session, see About listed and unlisted training sessions.
- Exclude the session password from email invitations—When scheduling a training session, you can prevent the password from appearing in the email invitations that your Training Center Web site automatically sends to attendees. For details, see Excluding the session password from email invitations.
- Require attendees to log in—When scheduling a training session, you can require that attendees have a user account on your Training Center Web site. Thus, attendees must log in to your site before they can attend the session. For more information, see Requiring attendees to log in to your Training Center Web site.
- Require attendees to register for the training session—When scheduling a training session, you can require each attendee to fill out a registration request that includes his or her name, email address, and other information that require, and then send the request to you. You can then accept or reject each registration request. For more information, see Requiring registration for a scheduled training session (on page 75).

- Restrict access to the training session—Once all attendees have joined a training session, you can prevent additional attendees from joining it by restricting access to the training session.

Tip: Choose a level of security based on the training session's purpose. For example, if you schedule a session to discuss your company picnic, you probably need to specify only a password for the session. On the other hand, if you schedule a session in which you will discuss sensitive financial data, you may want to specify that the session is unlisted. You may also choose to restrict access to the session once all attendees have joined it.

- Listed for authorized users only—The training session appears on both the list of sessions and the training session calendar to only users who have user accounts and have logged in to your Training Center Web site.
- Unlisted—The training session does not appear on either the list of sessions or the training session calendar. An unlisted training session prevents anyone from viewing information about the session, such as its host, topic, and starting time; and helps to prevent unauthorized access to the session. To join an unlisted training session, an attendee must provide a unique session number.

If you invite an attendee to an unlisted training session, the attendee receives an invitation email message that includes complete instructions for joining the training session—including the training session number—and a URL that links directly to a Web page on which the attendee can join the training session.

Specifying whether a training session is listed or unlisted

To specify whether a training session is listed or unlisted:

- 1 On the Schedule Training Session or Edit Scheduled Training Session page, scroll to Session and Access Information.
- 2 Below This training session is, select one of the following options:
 - Listed for all
 - Listed for authorized users only

If you select this option, the training session appears on either the list of sesor the training sessions page for only authorized users who have an account on your Training Center Web site.
 - Unlisted
- 3 Click Schedule or Update.

Supporting over 500 attendees

You can set up your training session to allow over 500 attendees. However, if you choose this option, some Training Center features may be limited and others will not be supported. These include:

- The multipoint video, private chat, and active talker visual cue features will not be available.
- Attendees will not be able to view the names of other attendees.
- Each Breakout session and Hands-On Lab computer will support a maximum of 100 attendees.

Note: You will not be able to change this option within the session.

To specify whether to support over 500 attendees in a training session:

- 1 On the Schedule Training Session or Edit Scheduled Training Session page, scroll to Session and Access Information.
- 2 Select the This session will have over 500 attendees check box.

A message box appears, describing the limitations of this option.

- 3 Click OK.
- 4 If you have completed specifying options, click Schedule or Update.

Deleting sessions automatically

Important: Any tests that you associate with this training session will be lost if you select this option. All associated test will be deleted along with the training session.

To specify whether to automatically delete a training session after it ends:

- 1 On the Schedule Training Session or Edit Scheduled Training Session page, scroll to Session and Access Information.
- 2 Select the Automatically delete session after it ends check box.
- 3 If you have completed specifying options, click Schedule or Update.

Copying session information from another session

You can copy specific session information from other live sessions that you have scheduled, or from those that have been scheduled on your behalf. Some scheduling information will vary from session to session, and therefore cannot be copied into the scheduler, including:

- Date, time, and recurrence (except duration, time zone, and join-before-host options)
- Invited attendees and presenters lists (except estimated number of attendees and presenters)
- Registration data of registered attendees
- Hands-on lab information and reservation
- Course material and tests
- Tests

To copy information from another session:

- 1 On the Schedule Training Session or Edit Scheduled Training Session page, scroll to Session and Access Information.
- 2 Click Copy from.
The Select a Session window appears.
- 3 Select the session from which to copy session information.
- 4 Click OK.

Specifying tracking codes for a scheduled session

Your site administrator can specify that tracking code options that appear on the Schedule Training page. Tracking codes may identify your department, project, or other information that your organization wants to associate with your training sessions. Tracking codes can be optional or required, depending on how your site administrator set them up.

To specify tracking codes for a scheduled training session:

- 1 On the Schedule Training Session or Edit Scheduled Training Session page, scroll to Tracking codes, and then select a code label in the box on the left.

If your site administrator requires you to select a code from a predefined list, a list of codes appears.

 - If a list of codes appears in the box on the right, select a code from the list.
 - Type a code in the box on the right.
- 3 Repeat for each tracking code label.
- 4 Click Schedule or Update.

Tip: If your site administrator has also specified that the same tracking code options appear in your user profile, you can edit your user profile to specify the tracking codes. The codes then appear automatically on the Schedule Training Session page.

About E-commerce for Training Center

Note: E-commerce is an optional feature. If provisioned for your site, it must first be enabled and set up by your site administrator.

Training Center allows customers to pay for training conveniently by using credit cards, debit cards, VeriSign Payflow Pro, or PayPal Website Payments Pro (US or UK). Training Center E-commerce includes the following two features:

- fee-based training (for attendees)—attendees pay a fee for attending your sessions. For details, see Setting up fee-based training (on page 60).
- pay-per-use training (for hosts)—requires hosts to pay before they can start each training session. For details, see Setting up pay-per-use training (on page 61).

Setting up fee-based training

When you use fee-based training, attendees pay a fee for attending your sessions.

A fee-based training session requires attendee registration, and attendees must provide their payment information when registering.

To require a session fee for a training session, type an amount in the Session Fee text box on the Schedule Training Session page.

To turn on this E-commerce feature, contact your WebEx account manager.

About using coupons

Your organization can create discount coupons and send them to attendees. For example, you can have attendees pay in advance for a series of training sessions conducted on your organization's Training Center Web site. In return, your organization gives them coupons that they can use for each session in the series. You could also send coupons to prospective attendees as an incentive.

Attendees type the coupon code on the Payment Information page to receive discounts for a training session.

To activate the Coupons feature and distribute coupons, contact your site administrator.

Setting up pay-per-use training

Pay-per-use requires hosts to pay before they can start each training session. Pay-per-use is designed for organizations that do not want to handle billing for every training session conducted on their Training Center Web sites.

For example, an organization that allocated a training budget for each division can now ask individual divisions to cover their own expenses for conducting training on the organization's Training Center Web site. Then the organization can reimburse the costs.

To turn on this E-commerce feature, contact your WebEx account manager.

To set up a pay-per-use training session:

- 1 Click Start Session or Schedule on the Schedule Training Session page after you finish specifying options on the same page.

The Estimated Session Cost page appears. This page displays the estimated cost of the session based on the number of people minutes, teleconferencing minutes, and the rate per minute.

The number of people minutes is the training session duration multiplied by the number of computers connected in the session. The number of teleconferencing minutes is the session duration multiplied by the number of computers connected in the teleconference.

- 2 Optional. To modify session settings, click Change.
- 3 To return to the Estimated Session Cost page, click Start Session or Schedule.

- 4 Enter your payment information.

Setting up an audio conference for a scheduled session

Audio conferencing options may differ, depending on which options your organization uses.

To set up an audio conference:

- 1 On the Schedule Training Session or Edit Scheduled Training Session page, scroll to Audio Conference Settings.
- 2 Select one of the following options:
 - WebEx Audio—Specifies that the session includes an integrated audio conference. You can choose the following options:
 - ☐ Display toll-free number—If your Training Center site provides toll-free call-in audio conferencing, both a toll-free number and a toll number are available. For toll-free call-in teleconferencing, your organization assumes the charges for the calls; otherwise, participants assume the charges for their calls.
 - ☐ Show toll-free dialing restrictions link—Click to show a list of calling restrictions by country (www.webex.com/pdf/tollfree_restrictions.pdf).
 - ☐ Display global call-in-numbers—This option provides a list of numbers—such as toll-free or local numbers—that attendees in other countries can call to join the audio conference.
 - ☐ Enable teleconference CLI authentication when participants call in—CLI (caller line identification) is a form of caller ID, a telephony intelligent service that transmits a caller's telephone number before the call is answered. Any dial-in caller with a host site account can be authenticated and placed into the correct teleconference without needing to enter a training session number. For more information on CLI, see Using caller authentication to start or join a dial-in teleconference on page 164.

- ☐ Mute attendees upon entry—Select if want the attendees' audio to be muted when they enter the training session. This may prevent disruption, especially if the training session is in process.
- ☐ Entry & exit tone—Select the sound alert or announcement, if any, that you would like all participants to hear when an attendee joins or leaves the session.

Note: WebEx Audio conferencing supports up to 125 callers.

- Other teleconference service

- ☐ Specifies that the session includes a teleconference that another service provides.
- ☐ Enter instructions for joining the teleconference. These will appear on the Session Information page, in email invitations, and in the training session.

- Cisco Unified MeetingPlace Audio Conferencing

For Cisco Unified MeetingPlace audio conferencing, select one of the following:

- ☐ Attendees call in—Attendees call a phone number to join the teleconference and assume the charges for their calls.
- ☐ Attendees receive a call back—Attendees provide their phone numbers once they join the session, and then receive call-backs at the phone numbers they provide. You or your organization assumes the charges for the calls. Recorded instructions guide the attendee through the process of connecting to the teleconference.

- Use VoIP only—See Setting up a VoIP-only audio conference for a scheduled training session (on page 64) for more information.
- None—Specifies that no audio conference is necessary for the session.

3 Click Schedule or Update.

Note: Once you schedule the training session, instructions for joining the teleconference automatically appear

- on the Session Information page on your site, which participants can view before you start the training session
- in invitation email messages, if you invite participants using the Schedule Training page options
- on the Info tab, which appears in the content viewer in the Training Session window
- in the Join Teleconference dialog box, which appears in participants' Session windows once they join the session

You can also set up an Integrated VoIP (voice over IP (VOIP)) conference, in addition to or instead of a teleconference. For more information about using Integrated VoIP, see Setting up an Integrated VoIP conference for a scheduled training session.

Setting up a VoIP-only audio conference for a scheduled training session

You can use integrated VoIP for the audio in your training session. In a VoIP-only conference, participants use computers with audio capability to communicate over the Internet rather than the telephone system. You can assign a microphone to up to seven participants in an integrated VoIP conference.

To set up a VoIP-only audio conference:

- 1 On the Schedule Training Session or Edit Scheduled Training Session page, scroll to Audio Conference Settings.
- 2 Select the Use VoIP only option.
- 3 Select the Mute attendees upon entry check box if want the attendees' audio to be muted when they enter the training session. This may prevent disruption, especially if the training session is in process.
- 4 Click Schedule or Update.

Note:

- If you set up an integrated VoIP conference, you must start the conference after you start the training session.
- Only participants whose computers meet the system requirements for Integrated VoIP can participate in the conference. For details, see System requirements for Integrated VoIP (on page 65).

- If you use WebEx Recorder to record the training session and want to capture audio in the recording, you must ensure that the correct audio compression scheme is selected. For details, refer to the WebEx Recorder and Player User's Guide.

System requirements for Integrated VoIP

To participate in an Integrated VoIP conference, you must ensure that your computer meets the following system requirements:

- a supported sound card

For a list of supported sound cards, refer to the Frequently Asked Questions page on your Training Center Web site. You can access this page from your site's Support page.

- speakers or headphones
- microphone, if you want to speak during the conference

Tip: For better audio quality and greater convenience, use a computer headset with a high-quality microphone.

About requiring registration for a scheduled training session

You can require training session attendees to register for a training session before they can join it. Requiring registration allows you to view a list of attendees to determine whether they have registered for the training session, obtain attendees' names, email addresses, and optionally additional personal information before they can join the training session, and accept or reject individual registration requests. If you invite an attendee to a training session that requires registration, the attendee receives an invitation email message that includes information about the training session, including the registration password if you specify one, and a link that the attendee can click to register for the training session.

Important:

- If you accept registration requests automatically for a training session that requires a password and an attendee registers after the training session has already started, the attendee can join the training session immediately, without providing the password. Therefore, to secure a training session from unauthorized access, you must clear the Automatically approve all registration requests box, and manually accept or reject all registration requests.
- If you do not accept registration requests automatically for a training session that requires a password and an attendee registers after the training session has already started, the attendee cannot join the training session until he or she receives a registration confirmation email message and can provide the training session password.
- If you do not check for registration requests in your email program during the training session, and accept the attendee's request, the attendee cannot join the training session.
- If you require registration for a training session that has reached its maximum attendee registrants, you can allow attendees to register for a waiting list.

Requiring registration for a scheduled training session

To require registration for a scheduled training session:

- 1 On the Schedule Training Session or Edit Scheduled Training Session page, scroll to Registration.
- 2 Next to Attendee Registration, select the Require attendee registration check box.
- 3 Optional. To customize the registration form to obtain additional information about each attendee, click Customize form. For details about customizing a registration form, see Customizing a registration form (on page 79).

- 4 Do one of the following:
 - To accept or reject each registration request, clear the Automatically approve all registration requests check box.
 - To accept registration requests automatically without accepting or rejecting them individually select the Automatically approve all registration requests check box.
- 5 Optional. Specify a password that registrants must provide to register for the session, by typing it in the Set registration password and Confirm registration password boxes.

Specify a registration password only if you want to limit registrants to those whom you invite to register. If you invite attendees to register, each invitee receives an invitation email message, which contains the registration password.
- 6 Specify a date or time on which you will no longer accept registration requests, as follows:
 - Select None if there is no registration close date.
 - From the drop-down lists, select the days, hours, and minutes before the session starts.
- 7 Specify a maximum number of registration requests, by typing a number in the Maximum registrations allowed box. Leave the box blank for unlimited registrations.
- 8 If you specified a maximum number of registrations, select whether to allow attendees to register for a waiting list. If so, select whether to:
 - Automatically register the first attendee in the waitlist.
 - Manually register from the waitlist.
- 9 Specify whether an attendee can cancel registration, as follows:
 - Select Not allowed if you will not allow attendees to cancel registration.
 - From the drop-down lists, select the days, hours, and minutes before the session starts that an attendee can cancel registration.
- 10 Click Schedule or Update.

About customizing a registration form

If you require attendees to register for a live or recorded training session, you can customize the registration form on which attendees must provide information.

When customizing the form, you can choose which standard options you want to appear on the form and create any of the following options:

- Text Box—Opens the Add Text Box window, on which you can specify text boxes that appear on the registration form. For detailed information about specifying a text box, see About the Add Text Box window (on page 77).
- Check Boxes—Opens the Add Check Boxes window, on which you can specify check boxes that appear on the registration form. For detailed information about specifying a check box, see About the Add Check Boxes window (on page 78).
- Radio Buttons—Opens the Add Radio Buttons window, on which you can specify radio buttons that appear on the registration form. For detailed information about specifying radio buttons, see About the Add Radio Button window (on page 78).
- Drop-Down List—Opens the Add Drop-Down List window, on which you can specify a drop-down list that appears on the registration form. For detailed information about specifying a drop-down list box, see About the Add Drop-Down List window (on page 79).

For each option that you add to the form, you can specify whether the information is required that is, whether attendees must provide the information to register for the live or recorded training session.

About the Add Text Box window

The Add Text Box window allows you to specify a text box that appears on the registration form. A text box allows an enrollee to type information on the registration form. The detailed reports that you can obtain for live or recorded training sessions indicate which text boxes each registrant selected when registering for a live or recorded training session.

Textbox name—Specifies the text that appears to the left of the text box. A text box label can contain a maximum of 256 characters.

Type—Specifies whether the text box contains a single line or multiple lines on which an enrollee can type. If you select Multi-line, specify a number of lines in the Height box.

Width—Specifies the width of the text box, in characters. The number that you specify determines how the text box appears on the registration form, but does not affect the number of characters that an enrollee can type in the text box. About publishing course material for a scheduled training session

When scheduling a training session, you can publish files and course material on your Training Center Web site. This option lets participants download course material for review, preparation, testing, and so on before the session starts. To publish course material, you can either select files already in your personal folders in My Folders, or upload new files to My Folders first and then select them for publication on your site.

Once you publish course material, participants can download it from the Session Information page on your Training Center Web site. Once you approve participants' registrations, they receive a confirmation email message that contains a link to the Session Information page.

Any file that you publish that is in the Universal Communications Format (UCF), which has a .ucf extension, automatically opens in your content viewer once you start the session. If participants have downloaded a published UCF file before the session starts, it automatically opens in their content viewers as well once you start the session. Up to 10 published UCF files will automatically open in the content viewer.

To download UCF files that you publish, participants must install software that automatically caches, or stores, the file on their computers. Once a participant accesses the Session Information page on which you have published a UCF file, a security warning message box appears, in which the participant must click Yes to install the caching software.

Without the software, a participant cannot download the UCF file, and it will not open automatically in the participant's content viewer once you start the session.

Tip: For more information about UCF files and how to create UCF multimedia presentations, refer to the guide Getting Started with WebEx Universal Communications Toolkit, which is available on your Training Center Web site.

The file or files appear on the Schedule Training Session page, under Course Material.

- 4 Optional. To remove a file, click Remove next to the file name.
- 5 Click Schedule or Update.

Tip:

- You can customize the registration confirmation email message to instruct participants to download course material before the session starts. If you publish a UCF file, you can also instruct participants to click Yes when the Java security message appears on the Session Information page, which allows them to download the UCF file. For details about customizing a registration confirmation email message, see Customizing an email message (on page 101).
- If you provide a description of a file in your personal folders, the description appears under the file name on the Session Information page. This description can help participants to identify the course material. You can provide a description when either initially storing the file in your personal folders, or at any time by editing the file's description.
- If you specify a password for your training session, participants must provide the password on the Session Information page to download the course material.

- You can update or remove course material that you published at any time, by editing the scheduled training session. To remove a file, click Remove next to the file name. To update a file, remove it first, and then publish the updated file.

SCORM overview

SCORM (Sharable Courseware Object Reference Model) is a set of technical standards allowing Web-based learning systems to find, import, share, reuse, and export learning content in a standardized way. In SCORM pages, the learning management system (LMS) can track what needs to be delivered to the learner, when the learner achieves the skill or competency, and sends the learner to the appropriate level of content.

An Application Programming Interface (API) provides a standard way of communicating with the LMS using Web-friendly JavaScript. WebEx provides a SCORM page in which the host can specify which information is provided in the API.

You can read more about SCORM at the following Web sites:

- www.adlnet.org
- www.imsglobal.org
- www.rhassociates.com/scorm.htm

Attendees must provide this password to join the training session.

6 Optional. If you do not want the training session to be included in the list of sessions on the training session calendar, select Unlisted training session. For details, see Specifying whether a training session is listed or unlisted (on page 57).

If a receptionist answers the call, or the attendee's phone system uses a recorded greeting for incoming calls, the attendee cannot receive a call back. However, an attendee without a direct phone line can join an audio conference by calling a call-in telephone number, which is always available in the Session window, on both the Info tab and in the Session Information dialog box.

If you set up an Integrated VoIP conference, the presenter must start the conference after you start the training session.

- 6 Click OK.

The word (Host) appears to the right of the attendee's name in the participant list.

Reclaiming the host role

If an attendee has control of the training session, you can assume control by reclaiming the host role.

Important: If you leave a training session—whether intentionally or inadvertently—and then log back in to your Training Center Web site, you automatically become the training session host once you rejoin the training session. You can rejoin the training session using your list of scheduled training sessions.

To reclaim the host role:

- 1 Click the Participants panel.
- 2 In the participant list, select your own name.
- 3 On the Participant menu, choose Reclaim Host Role.

To restrict access to the training session:

- 1 In the Session window, on the Session menu, choose Restrict Access.

Attendees can no longer join the training session.

- 2 Optional. To restore access to the training session, on the Session menu, choose Restore Access.

Tracking participant attention

During your training session, you can easily tell if attendees are no longer focused on your presentation. The attention indicator shows if an attendee has:

- Minimized the training session window
- Brought another window, such as any kind of instant messaging (IM) window, in focus on top of the training session window

During a session, you can check:
	Individual attentiveness If an attendee is not paying attention, an exclamation mark appears next to the name of the attendee.

After a training session ends, you can generate reports to obtain data about individual attentiveness. A report contains this information for each attendee :

- Attention-to-attendance ratio: Attentiveness based on how long the attendee was in the training session

- Attention-to-duration ratio: Attentiveness based on the duration of the training session

For details, see About generating reports (on page 521).

Checking participant attention in a training session

During a training session, you can easily check which attendees are not paying attention.

- In most cases, the default location for sound files is C:\WINDOWS\Media. You can copy other sound files to the default folder or any other directory to make them available in the Personal Preferences dialog box.

Using WebEx Audio

WebEx Audio lets you use either your telephone or your computer to hear others and to speak in your training session:

- Telephone—you can use your telephone to receive a call to the audio portion of the training session or to dial in.
- Computer—you can use a headset connected to your computer to join the audio portion of the training session if the computer has a supported sound card and a connection to the Internet.

Note: If you are a host, you can invite up to 500 people to participate in the audio conference.

After joining the conference, participants can switch between audio modes with little or no listening interruption. In a mixed-mode conference, where some participants are using the telephone and others are using the computer, up to 125 people can speak.

Your role in an audio conference determines your level of participation. Whichever role you take, the following table describes the basic tasks you can accomplish in that role. For detailed instructions on a particular task, click "More" by the task description.

Using caller authentication to start or join an audio conference

Host accounts only

CLI (caller line identification), or ANI (automatic number identification), is a form of caller ID, a telephony intelligent service that transmits a caller's telephone number before the call is answered. Any dial-in caller with a host site account can be authenticated and placed into the correct audio conference without needing to enter a meeting number.

If you have a host account, and your site is enabled for ANI/CLI, you can

- schedule a meeting with dial-in ANI/CLI teleconferencing authentication.
- be authenticated whenever you dial into any ANI/CLI enabled audio conference to which you have been invited by email. Call-in authentication is established by mapping your email address to a phone number in your user profile.
- specify a call-in authentication PIN to prevent "spoofers" from using your number to dial into an audio conference

To schedule an audio conference with ANI/CLI authentication:

- 1 Log in to your Training Center Web site.
- 2 On the navigation bar, under Host a Meeting, click Schedule a Meeting.

The Schedule a Meeting page appears.

- 3 Click Change audio options.

The Audio Options dialog box appears.

- 4 Select the Enable audio conference CLI authentication when participants call in checkbox if it is not already selected.

Note: Caller authentication will only be available to participants if they are invited to a CLI/ANI enabled audio conference by email during the meeting scheduling process. Any participant invited to the audio conference once it has begun cannot use caller authentication.

Specifying call-in authentication for your host account

If you have a host account, and your site is enabled for call-in authentication, you can set authentication for any phone number listed in your user profile. Your call will be authenticated by mapping your email address against specified phone numbers in your profile whenever you dial into a CLI (caller line identification), or ANI (automatic number identification) enabled audio conference to which you have been invited by email.

Note: Caller authentication will only be available if you have been invited to a CLI/ANI (automatic number identification) enabled audio conference by email during the meeting scheduling process. Caller authentication will not be available if you are dialing in to a CLI/ANI enabled audio conference:

- from an invitation other than email.
- from an email invitation originated during the meeting.

To specify call-in authentication for your host account:

- 1 Log in to your Training Center Web site.
- 2 On the navigation bar, click My WebEx.
- 3 Click My Profile.
The My WebEx Profile page appears.
- 4 Under Personal Information, select the Call-in authentication checkbox beside any phone number for which you want dial-in authentication.
- 5 Click Update.

Using an authentication PIN

If you have a host account, and your site is enabled for CLI (caller line identification), or ANI (automatic number identification) audio conferences, you can use an authentication PIN to prevent "spoofers" from using your number to dial into an audio conference.

If your site administrator sets the authentication PIN as mandatory for all accounts using call-in authentication on your site, then you must specify a PIN number or caller authentication will be disabled for your account.

To specify an authentication PIN:

- 1 Log in to your Training Center Web site.
- 2 On the navigation bar, click My WebEx.
- 3 Click My Profile.

The My WebEx Profile page appears.

- 4 Under Personal Information, in the PIN: text box, enter a 4-digit PIN number of your choosing.
- 5 Click Update.

Editing or updating your stored phone numbers

You can edit or update the phone numbers listed in your profile if you have not yet joined the audio conference or if you joined the audio conference from your computer. In addition, you can view any phone number cookies stored on your computer.

Any updates you make do not take effect until the next time you join a training session.

To edit or update your profile:

- 1 Do either of the following:
 - On the Audio menu, choose Join Audio Conference.
 - At the bottom of the Participants panel, click Audio.

The Audio Conference dialog box appears.

- 2 Select Manage phone numbers from the dropdown box in the lower pane. The Manage phone numbers dialog box appears.
- 3 Click Edit to update the phone numbers in your My WebEx profile, or Clear to delete phone numbers that are stored in cookies on your computer.

Note: You cannot be participating in an audio conference by phone if you want to edit or update your phone numbers.

Sharing Files and Whiteboards

Your user role in a training session determines your level of file sharing. Whichever role you take, the following table describes the basic tasks associated with that role. The type of files you can share include documents, presentations, and videos.

Sharing files

File sharing is ideal for presenting information that you do not need to edit during the training session, such as a video or slide presentation. Participants can

- view shared files in their content viewers without the need for the application with which it was created.
- view a media file, such as a video, without the need for special software or hardware.
- view any animation and transition effects on shared Microsoft PowerPoint slides.

Note: Animations and transitions are not supported for Office 2013 users sharing PowerPoint slides. Instead, use Application or Desktop share.

After a training session starts, you can open presentations or documents to share. You do not need to select or “load” them before the training session.

While sharing a file, you can:

- Draw on the screen
- Use a pointer to emphasize text or graphics
- Print it More
- Display it at various magnifications, in miniature (thumbnails), and in a full-screen view More (on page 239)
- Synchronize all participants' displays with the display in your content viewer More (on page 240)
- Save it to a file More (on page 243)

At any time during a meeting, you can grant participants privileges that allow them to annotate, save, print, and display different views of shared content.

Sharing a file

You can share a file, such as a document, presentation, or video, that resides on your computer. Participants view the shared file in their content viewers.

To share a file:

- 1 On the Share menu, choose File (Including video).
The Share File dialog box appears.
- 2 Select one or multiple files that you want to share.
- 3 Click Open.
- 4 Files will load one at a time, and a status indicator will appear in the content area and on the document tabs. The shared file appears in the content viewer.

Choosing an import mode for presentation sharing

For Windows users only

Before you share a presentation, you can choose one of the following import modes:

- Universal Communications Format (UCF)-The default mode. Lets you display animations and slide transitions in Microsoft PowerPoint presentations. In the UCF mode, Training Manager imports presentations more quickly than it does in the printer driver mode. However, pages or slides may not appear consistently in Training Manager across platforms.

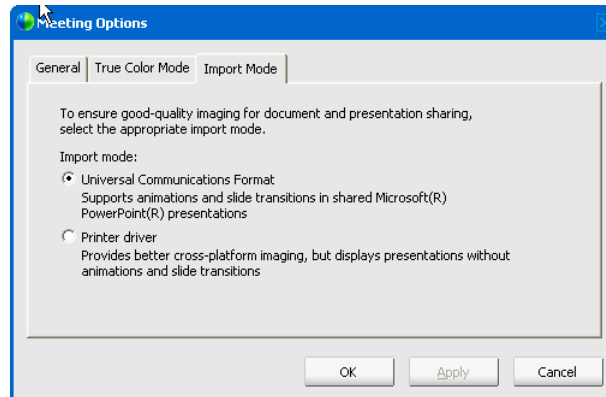

Note: UCF mode is not supported for Office 2013 users sharing PowerPoint slides.

- Printer driver-Displays shared presentations as they appear when you print them, providing a consistent appearance of pages and slides in Training Manager across platforms. However, this mode does not support animations or slide transitions. In this mode, the first page or slide may appear quickly, but the total import time for all pages or slides is usually longer than it is in the UCF mode.

Note: Changing the import mode does not affect any presentations that you are currently sharing. To apply a new import mode to a shared presentation, you must close it first, and then share it again.

To choose an import mode for shared presentations:

- 1 In the Training Session window, on the Training Session menu, choose Options.
The Training Session Options dialog box appears, with the Options tab selected by default.
- 2 Click the Import Mode tab.

The Import Mode tab options appear.

- 3 Select either Universal Communications Format or Printer driver.

Note: Animations and transitions are not supported for Office 2013 users sharing PowerPoint slides. Instead, use Application or Desktop share.

When sharing a Microsoft PowerPoint slide presentation in the content viewer, you can animate text and slide transitions, just as you can when using the Slide Show option in PowerPoint.

Note: To show slide animations and transitions, you must share the presentation as a Universal Communications Format (UCF) file (.ucf). The UCF import mode automatically converts a PowerPoint file (.ppt) to a UCF file when you share it. More (on page 230)

- For best results when sharing a presentation created using Microsoft PowerPoint 2002 for Windows XP, use a computer with an Intel Celeron or Pentium 500 MHz or faster processor.
- If at least one training session participant is using the Java Training Manager, animations and slide transitions will not display during the training session. The training session host can prevent participants from joining a training session using the Java Training Manager when scheduling the training session.

To show slide animations and transitions in a shared presentation:

- 1 Ensure that the content viewer has input focus by clicking in the viewer.

The content viewer has input focus if a blue border appears around the outside of the slide in the viewer.

- 2 On the toolbar, select the appropriate arrows to move through your presentation.

Saving a presentation, document, or whiteboard

You can save any shared document, presentation, or whiteboard that appears in the content viewer. A saved file contains all the pages or slides in the document, presentation, or whiteboard that is currently displayed in the content viewer, including any annotations and pointers that you or other attendees added to them.

Files that you save are in the Universal Communications Format (UCF), which have a .ucf extension. You can open a .ucf file either in another training session or at any time outside of a training session.

Once you save a new document, presentation, or whiteboard to a file, you can save it again to overwrite the file or save a copy to another file.

Opening a saved document, presentation, or whiteboard

If you saved a document, presentation, or whiteboard that appeared in the content viewer during a training session, you can do either of the following:

- Open file in the content viewer during another training session for sharing. Only a presenter or participants who have the Share documents privilege can open a saved file during a training session.
- Open the file at any time on your computer's desktop. If you open a saved file on your desktop, it appears in the WebEx Document Manager, a standalone, or “offline,” version of the content viewer.

A saved document, presentation, or whiteboard is in the saved Universal Communications Format (UCF) and has a .ucf extension.

This option is useful, for example, if you are viewing a previous slide in a presentation and want to quickly return to the actual slide that the presenter is discussing. Synchronizing your display also resizes it to that in the presenter's content viewer.

To synchronize your view of shared content in the presentation viewer:

On the View menu at the bottom of the window, select Sync Display With Presenter.

Sync Display With Presenter

Sharing Software

Sharing a tool, like a software application, works differently from sharing a document or presentation. When you share software during a training session, a sharing window opens automatically on all participant screens. You can show, in this special sharing window:

- an application (for example, you want to edit a document as a group or show your team how a tool works)
- computer desktop (for easily sharing several applications at once and for sharing file directories open on your computer)
- web browser (useful for sharing particular Web pages with participants or showing a private intranet)
- any application or the desktop on a remote computer with Access Anywhere installed on it (for example, you are on the road, and the computer in your office has the information you need)

Your site settings and your user role in a training session determines your level of participation in sharing software. Whichever role you take, this table describes the basic tasks associated with that role. For detailed instructions on a particular task, select "More" by the task description.

Role		Task description:

Your desktop appears in a sharing window on participants' screens.

For ideas that can help you to share your desktop more effectively, see Tips for Sharing Software. (on page 284)

Note: If your desktop has any background images or patterns, or wallpaper, your Training Manager software may remove them from participant views to improve the performance of desktop sharing.

Stopping desktop sharing

You can stop desktop sharing at any time.

To stop sharing your desktop:

In the Session Controls Panel, select the Stop button.

You can also pause sharing: Select the Pause button (located next to the Stop button).

If you are a participant, rather than the presenter, select the Return button to leave the sharing session.

You do not leave the training session, just the sharing portion of it.

Sharing a Web browser

A presenter uses Web browser sharing to show all training session participants all Web pages that he or she accesses in a browser. Web browser sharing is useful for showing participants Web pages on the Internet, or the presenter's private intranet or computer.

Participants can view the presenters Web browser, including mouse movements, in a sharing window on their screens.

Tasks related to sharing a Web browser:

- Start sharing a web browser More (on page 254)

- Manage how participants view the shared Web browser More
- Annotate and draw on a shared Web browser More and let a participant draw on a shared Web browser More
- Learn how to share Web browsers effectively More (on page 284)
- Stop sharing a Web browser More (on page 254)

Starting Web browser sharing

Host or Presenter only

You can share a Web browser with training session participants.

To share a Web browser:

- 1 On the Share menu, choose Web Browser.

Your default Web browser opens.

- 2 Go to a Web page in your browser.

Note: Participants view all new Web browser windows that you open. You can show participants several Web pages simultaneously

Stopping Web browser sharing

You can stop sharing a Web browser at any time.

To stop Web browser sharing:

On the title bar of the application that you no longer want to share, select the Stop button.

Tip: You can temporarily pause Web browser sharing, rather than stopping Web browser sharing. For details, see Pausing and resuming software sharing (on page 265)

Sharing a remote computer

A presenter uses remote computer sharing to show all training session participants a remote computer. Depending on how the remote computer is set up, the presenter can show the entire desktop or just specific applications. Remote computer sharing is useful to show participants an application or file that is available only on a remote computer.

Participants can view the remote computer, including all the presenter's mouse movements, in a sharing window on their screens.

As presenter, you can share a remote computer during a training session if:

- You have installed the Access Anywhere Agent on the remote computer
- You logged in to your Training Center Web site before joining the training session, if you are not the original training session host

For information about setting up a computer for remote access, refer to the Access Anywhere User's Guide.

Tasks related to sharing a remote computer:

- Start sharing a remote computer More (on page 255)
- Manage how and what participants view on the shared remote computer (pausing, changing to full-screen view, and so on) More (on page 264)
- Change settings on a remote computer while sharing it More (on page 259)
- Stop sharing a remote computer More (on page 258)

Starting remote computer sharing

Host or Presenter only

If you have already set up a computer for Access Anywhere, you can share the computer during a training session.

To share a remote computer:

- 1 On the Share menu, choose Remote Computer.
- 2 The Access Anywhere dialog box appears.

3 Under Remote Computers, select the computer you want to share.

4 Under Applications, select an application that want to share.

If you set up the remote computer so you can access its entire desktop, the option Desktop appears under Applications.

5 Select Connect.

Depending on the authentication method you chose when you set up the computer for Access Anywhere, you perform one of these tasks:

- If you chose access code authentication: You enter the access code you typed when you set up the remote computer.
- If you chose phone authentication: You receive a phone call at the number that you entered when you set up the remote computer.

6 Complete your authentication.

- If you chose access code authentication: Type your access code in the box, and then select OK.
- If you chose phone authentication: Follow the voice instructions.

Note:

- If you are not the original training session host, you must log in to your Training Center Web site before joining a training session in which you want to share a remote computer. If you are already in a training session, but did not log in to your site, you must leave the training session, log in to your site, and then rejoin the training session.
- If a password-protected screen saver is running on the remote computer, your training session service automatically closes it once you provide your access code or pass code.

- If the remote computer is running Windows 2000, and you must log in to the computer, send a Ctrl+Alt+Del command to the computer.
- If you set up the remote computer so you can access multiple applications, you can share additional applications simultaneously.

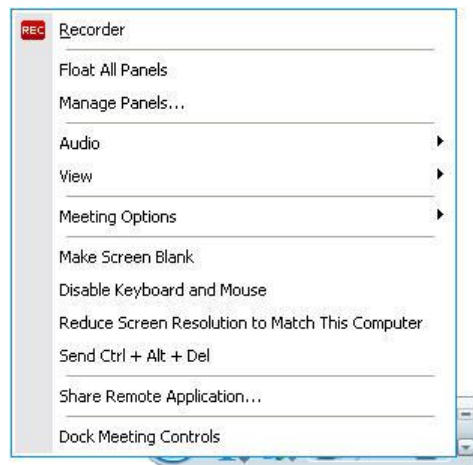

Sharing additional applications on a shared remote computer

Host or Presenter only

While sharing a remote computer on which you have specified that you can access only specific applications rather than its entire desktop, you can share additional applications on the remote computer. Training Session participants can view all shared applications simultaneously.

To share an additional application on a shared remote computer:

- 1 On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow button (it is the last button on the Session Controls Panel). Then choose Share Remote Application.

- 2 In the Select Application box, select the application you want to share.

After you choose another application to share, all previously selected applications remain open.

Example: You opened the Paint application first. Then you chose Notepad from the Select Application box. Both applications remain open on the shared desktop.

- 3 Select OK.

Stopping remote computer sharing

Host or Presenter only

You can stop sharing a remote computer during a training session at any time. Once you stop sharing a remote computer, the Access Anywhere Server disconnects your local computer from the remote computer. The remote computer remains logged into the Access Anywhere Server, so you can access it again at any time.

Before you stop remote computer sharing:

To ensure your privacy and the security of your remote computer, do one of the following:

- Close any applications that you started during the sharing session.
- If the remote computer is running Windows 2000, and you have administrator rights on the computer, log off from or lock the computer. To access these options on the computer, send a Ctrl+Alt+Del key combination to the remote computer More... (on page 263)
- Specify a screen saver password, and set the screen saver to appear after short period of inactivity—for example, 1 minute.
- Shut down the computer, if you do not plan to access it again remotely.

To stop remote computer sharing:

On the Session Controls Panel, select Stop Sharing.

Sharing stops and you return to Training Session Manager.

Managing a shared remote computer

Host or Presenter only

While sharing a remote computer during a training session, you can manage the remote computer by setting options and sending commands.

Options you can set:

- Disable or enable the keyboard and mouse on the remote computer More (on page 260)
- Reduce the screen resolution on the remote computer to match that of your computer, or restore the resolution on the remote computer More (on page 260)
- Adjust the size of the view of the remote computer that appears in the sharing window, including zooming in to and out from the view and scaling the view to fit the sharing window More (on page 261)
- Hide or display the contents on the remote computer's screen at the remote location More (on page 262)

Note: Any changes that you make to options affect the remote computer only during the current sharing session. The changes do not affect the default options that you set for the remote computer in the Access Anywhere Agent preferences.

Commands you can send:

- Ctrl+Alt+Del key combination, which allows you to access options to log in to, log out from, lock, or unlock a Windows PC More (on page 263)
- A command to bring remote applications to the front of your screen, if they are either behind other applications or minimized More (on page 263)

Reducing the screen resolution for a shared remote computer

While sharing a remote computer, you can reduce the screen resolution on the remote computer. This option helps to prevent the need to scroll while viewing the desktop or applications on the remote computer. The reduced screen resolution also appears in all participant sharing windows. You can return a remote computer's screen resolution to its original setting at any time during a remote access session.

To reduce the screen resolution on a remote computer:

On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow button (it is the last button on the Session Controls Panel). Then choose Reduce Screen Resolution to Match This Computer.

Note:

- If you reduce the screen resolution a remote computer during a sharing session, the Access Anywhere Agent restores the resolution to its original setting once you end the session.
- You can specify whether or not the remote computer's screen resolution is reduced automatically once you connect to the computer remotely. For details, refer to the Access Anywhere User's Guide.

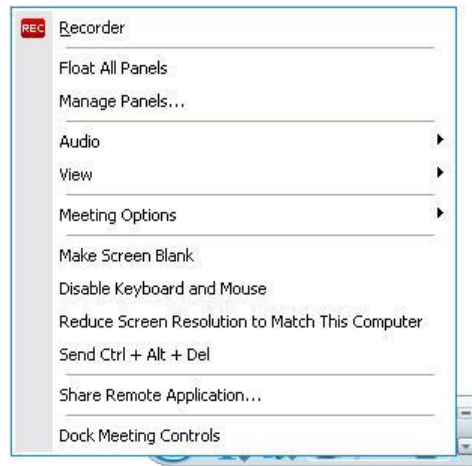

Disabling and enabling the keyboard when sharing a remote computer

Host or Presenter only

While sharing a remote computer, you can disable the keyboard and mouse on the remote computer, thereby preventing anyone from using the computer while you are accessing it remotely. You can re-enable a remote computer's keyboard and mouse at any time.

To disable or enable a remote computer's keyboard and mouse:

On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow. Then choose Disable Keyboard and Mouse.

The down arrow is located at the end of the Session Controls Panel.

A check mark next to the command indicates that the keyboard and mouse are disabled. If no check mark appears, the keyboard and mouse are enabled.

Note:

- If you disable a remote computer's keyboard and mouse during a sharing session, the Access Anywhere Agent re-enables them once you end the session.
- You can specify whether or not the remote computer's keyboard and mouse are disabled automatically once you connect to the computer remotely. For details, refer to the Access Anywhere User's Guide.

Adjusting the size of the view of a shared remote computer

Host or Presenter only

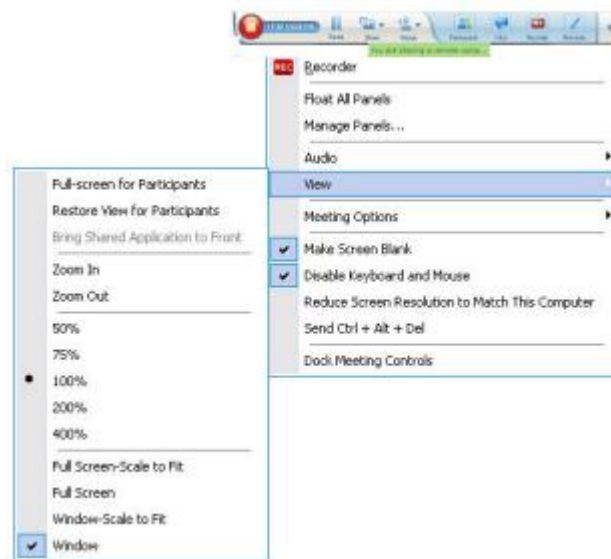

While sharing a remote computer, you can adjust the size of the shared view using one of these methods:

- Select a preset percentage at which to view the remote computer.
- Zoom in to and out from the remote computer in increments.

- Scale the remote computer view to fit the sharing window in which it appears.

To adjust the size of the view of a shared remote computer:

On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow (the last button on the panel) and then choose View. Choose a display option from the menu.

Hiding the contents on a shared remote computer's screen

Host or Presenter only

While sharing a remote computer, you can make a remote computer's screen blank, thereby preventing anyone at the remote computer's location from viewing the contents of the screen. If the contents on a remote computer's screen are hidden, you can display them at any time.

To hide or display the contents on a remote computer's screen:

On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow (the last button on the panel) and then choose Make Screen Blank.

A check mark next to the command indicates that the contents on the remote computer's screen are not visible. If no check mark appears, the contents on the remote computer's screen are visible.

Note:

- If you make a remote computer's screen blank during a sharing session, the Access Anywhere Agent displays the contents on the screen once you end the session.
- You can preset the remote computer screen to be blank after you connect to it. For details, refer to the Access Anywhere User's Guide.

Sending a Ctrl+Alt+Del command to a shared remote computer

Host or Presenter only

While sharing a remote computer that is running Windows, you can send an Ctrl+Alt+Del command to the computer to access options that let you:

- Log in to the computer
- Log out from the computer
- Lock the computer
- Unlock the computer

To send a Ctrl+Alt+Del command to a shared remote computer:

On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow (the last button on the panel) and then choose Make Screen Blank. Send Ctrl+Alt+Del.

Selecting an application on a shared remote computer

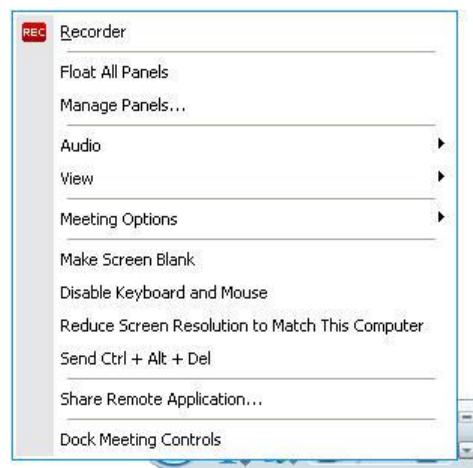

Host or Presenter only

If you have set up a remote computer to share only selected applications, rather than the entire desktop, you can only work with one application at a time. You can easily switch and share a different application.

To choose a different application to share:

On the Training Session Controls panel, select the down arrow. Then choose Share Remote Application.

Select the application you want to share from the list of available application.

Controlling views of shared software

The presenter can control participant views of a shared desktop, remote computer (if available), application or Web browser.

Participants can manipulate their individual displays of the shared software

Pausing and resuming software sharing

Host or Presenter only

While sharing software, you can temporarily pause sharing to freeze attendees' views.

If you want to return attendees to the Training Session window while sharing software, pausing shared software conserves resources on your computer and bandwidth for your Internet connection. This option is also useful if you do not want attendees to see certain actions that you take with shared software.

You can resume sharing to restore attendees' views of shared software at any time.

To pause software sharing:

Select the Pause button, located to the right of the Stop button.

The word "Paused" now appears in the panel. A short message is displayed indicating that the participant view would be frozen until you resume sharing. Additionally, the Pause button text changes to Resume.

To resume software sharing:

Select the Resume button.

Controlling full-screen view of shared software

Host or Presenter only

You can switch participant views of a shared application, remote computer (if available), or Web browser between a standard window and a full-screen view.

A full-screen view of shared software fits participant entire screens and does not include a title bar or scroll bars.

Participants can override your setting to control full-screen view or to zoom in or out on the shared software on their computers.

To display shared software in a full-screen view:

On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow (the last button on the panel) and then choose View. Then choose Full screen for Participants.

To see panel controls, select the gray down-arrow button (it is the last button).

Synchronizing views of shared software

Host or Presenter only

While sharing an application, desktop (if desktop sharing is available), or Web browser, you can synchronize all participant views of the software with your view.

Synchronizing views of shared software ensures that the sharing window appears as the active window on participant screens. For example, if a participant has minimized the sharing window, or moved another window on top of it, the sharing window becomes the active window when you synchronize views.

Note: Synchronizing views has no effect on the size in which the shared software appears on participant screens. Participants can control the size of their views independently.

To synchronize your view with participants:

On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow (the last button on the panel) and then choose View. Then choose Synchronize for All.

Selecting a monitor to share

To select a monitor to share:

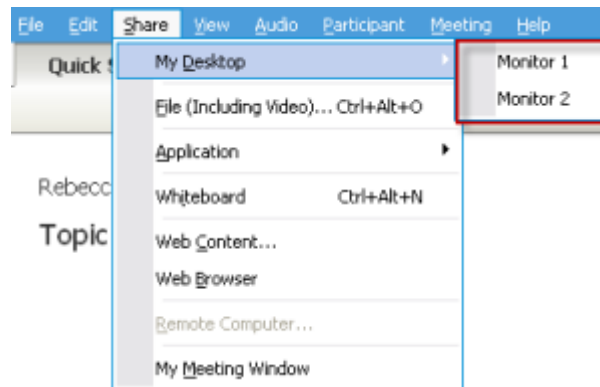

- 1 Start sharing your desktop:
 - On the Quick Start page, select Share Desktop.

If two or more monitors are detected on your system, a window appears and allows you to select one of the monitors.

- On the Share menu, select Desktop.

A submenu shows the available monitors.

- 2 Select the monitor you want to share.

The Session Controls Panel indicates which monitor you are sharing. If you are sharing the same monitor where the Session Controls Panel is, it says, "You are sharing this monitor."

If you are sharing a monitor that is not the same monitor where the Session Controls Panel is, it says, "You are sharing monitor <number>."

In addition, a green border appears around the monitor you are sharing.

To select a different monitor to share:

- 1 On the Meeting Control Panel, select the Select Content to Share button.

- 2 In the submenu that appears, select Share Desktop.

A submenu shows you the available monitors.

- 3 Select the monitor number you want to share.

The Session Controls Panel indicates which monitor you are sharing. In addition, a green border appears around the monitor you are sharing.

Controlling your view as a participant

Participant only

When viewing or remotely controlling shared software, you can set these options, which determine how shared software appears on your screen:

- Display the shared software in a full-screen view or a standard window. A full-screen view of a shared application or desktop fits your entire screen and does not include a title bar or scroll bars.
- Scale, or resize, a shared desktop or application to fit the full-screen view or standard window in which it appears.

To control your view of shared software:

On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow (the last button on the panel) and then choose View. Then choose an option from the menu.

Tip: To switch quickly from the standard window to a full-screen view of shared software, double-click the shared software.

Closing your participant sharing window

Participant only

While viewing or remotely controlling shared software, you can close the sharing window in which the software appears at any time. Closing a sharing window returns you to the Training Session window. If you close a sharing window, you can reopen it at any time.

To close a sharing window:

- 1 On the Session Controls Panel, select the down arrow (the last button on the panel) and then choose Stop <option> from the menu. The following graphic shows the Stop Application Sharing option because an application has been shared. If you have shared your desktop or Web Browser, the menu would show Stop Desktop Sharing.

- 2 Choose the appropriate option.

The sharing window closes. The Training Session window then automatically opens.

To return to the sharing window at any time:

In the Training Session window, on the Sharing menu, select a sharing option (desktop, remote computer, application or Web browser).

Switching your participant view

Participant only

While a presenter is sharing software, you can return to the Training Session window at any time. The sharing window remains open on your computer, so you can return to viewing the shared software at any time.

To return to the Training Session window while the presenter is sharing software:

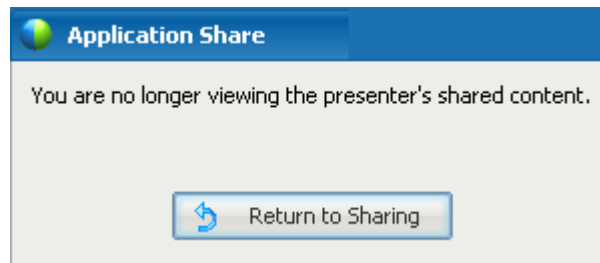

On the Session Controls Panel, select the Return to Training Session Window icon.

The Training Session window then appears.

To return to a sharing window:

In the Application Share dialog box, which appears in the Training Session window, select Return to Sharing.

To stop making annotations on shared software and return your mouse to a normal pointer, you must stop annotation mode.

To stop annotation mode:

Select the Stop Annotating button in the Tools panel.

Using annotation tools

If, while sharing software, you are the presenter or the presenter allows you to annotate, you can use the Annotation Tools panel that appears to make annotations. The Annotation Tools panel provides a variety of tools for annotating a shared desktop or application.

Annotation Tool	Icon	Description

Letting a participant annotate shared software

Host or Presenter only

You can let one or more training session participants annotate a shared desktop (if available), application or Web browser.

You can let several participants annotate shared software at the same time.

To let a participant annotate shared software:

- 1 On the Session Controls Panel, select the Annotate icon.

The tools panel appears.

- 2 Select the down arrow on the Allow to Annotate button.

You can choose "All" or select someone from the list.

Note:

- You can stop a participant from annotating shared software at any time. For details, see Stopping a participant from annotating shared software. (on page 277)

Requesting annotation control of shared software

Participant only

If a presenter is sharing a desktop, Web browser or application, you can ask the presenter to allow you to annotate the shared software.

After you have permission, you can:

- Make annotations by highlighting areas on the software, drawing lines and shapes, typing text, and using pointers.
- Clear annotations at any time.
- Change the color that you are using to make annotations.
- Save an image of your annotations on the shared software.

To request annotation control of shared software:

- 1 In the Session Controls Panel, select the Annotate button.

- 3 Optional. Choose another annotation tool. For details, see Using annotation tools (on page 274).

Note: If you are controlling shared software remotely, the presenter must take back control to turn on annotation mode. You and the presenter can then annotate the shared software simultaneously.

Giving up annotation control

Participant only

If the presenter has granted permission to you to annotate, you can stop annotating at any time.

To stop annotating:

In the Annotation Tools panel, select the Stop Annotating button.

Stopping an participant from annotating shared software

- 2 On the menu that appears, choose Allow to Annotate.

A check mark appears next to the names of those who can annotate the shared software.

- 3 Choose the name of the participant to cancel the selection.

Taking a screen capture of annotations on shared software

If you make annotations on shared software, you can save an image of the shared software, including all annotations and pointers, to a WebEx Universal Communications Format (.ucf) file. You can open a .ucf file on your computer desktop or in the content viewer in a training session.

Note: Participants cannot use this option unless the Host or Presenter grants the Screen Capture privilege to them. As Host, if you are sharing proprietary software, you may want to ensure that this privilege is turned off.

To take a screen capture of annotations on shared software:

- 1 On the Tools panel, select the Screen Capture button.

The Save As dialog box appears.

- 2 Choose a location at which to save the file, and then select Save.

Note: The file you save is an image of your entire desktop.

Granting participants control of shared software

While sharing the following types of software, the presenter can let a participant control it remotely:

- Application
- Desktop (if available)
- Web browser

A participant who has remote control of shared software can interact with it fully. While a participant is controlling shared software, the presenter's mouse pointer is inactive.

Rules of thumb for controlling shared software:

- Any participant can send a request to control the software remotely. More (on page 279)
- The presenter can then grant control to the participant. More (on page 280)
- Alternatively, the presenter can automatically grant control of shared software to any participant who requests remote control. More (on page 280)
- The presenter can stop a participant from remotely controlling shared software at any time. More (on page 281)

Caution: A participant who has remote control of the presenter's desktop can run any programs and access any files on the computer that the presenter has not protected with a password.

Requesting remote control of shared software

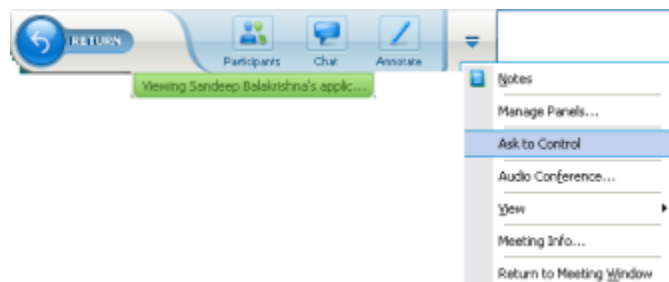

Participant only

If the presenter is sharing an application, desktop, or Web browser, you can ask the presenter to grant remote control to you.

Once you assume remote control of shared software, you can interact with it fully.

To request remote control of shared software:

On the Session Controls Panel select Ask to Control.

A request message appears on the presenter's screen.

Tip: While remotely controlling shared software, you can request the presenter to allow you to annotate it. For details, see Requesting annotation control of shared software. (on page 276)

Letting a participant remotely control shared software

Host or Presenter only

If you are sharing software, you can let a participant control it remotely.

To let a participant remotely control shared software:

- 1 On the Session Controls Panel select the down-arrow button on the Assign button.

This button is the third button from the left on the Controls panel.

- 2 On the menu that appears, choose Pass Keyboard and Mouse Control > [name of participant].

Automatically letting participants remotely control shared software

Host or Presenter only

While sharing software, you can automatically grant control of the software to a participant who requests control. In this case, a participant who requests remote control automatically takes control of the software that you are sharing. While automatic remote control is turned on, any participant can take control away from any other participant by requesting remote control.

To automatically let participants control shared software:

- 1 On the Session Controls Panel select the down-arrow button on the Assign button.

- 2 On the menu that appears, choose Pass Keyboard and Mouse Control > Auto Accept All Requests.

To stop letting participants control shared software automatically:

- 1 On the Session Controls Panel select the down-arrow button on the Assign button.

Stopping remote control of shared software

Host or Presenter only

While a participant is remotely controlling a shared application, desktop, or Web browser, you can take back control of the shared software at any time. You can do either of the following:

- Take back remote control of shared software temporarily, allowing a participant to take control at any time.
- Prevent a participant from further controlling shared software.

To take back control a shared software temporarily:

On your computer's desktop, select your mouse.

You can now control the shared software.

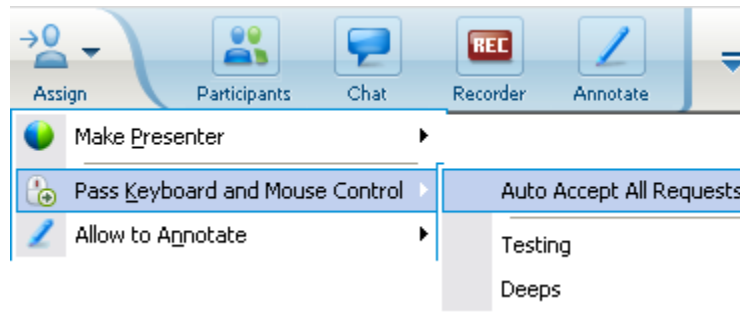

The participant who was controlling the shared software can take back control at any time by clicking his or her mouse.

To prevent a participant from further controlling a shared software:

- 1 On your computer's desktop, click your mouse.

You can now control the shared software.

On the Session Controls Panel select the down-arrow button on the Assign button.

- 2 On the menu that appears, choose Pass Keyboard and Mouse Control.

A menu appears, containing a list of all participants in the training session. A check mark appears to the left of the participant who has remote control.

- 3 Choose the participant's name to remove the check mark and cancel the selection.

Sharing applications with detailed color (Windows)

For Windows users only

By default, Training Manager sends images of shared software using 16-bit color mode, which is the equivalent of your computer's "High Color" (16-bit) setting. This mode provides an accurate representation of color for most shared applications. However, if your shared application contains detailed color images-such as color gradients-the color may not appear accurately on participants' screens. For example, color gradients may appear and color "bands."

If the accuracy and resolution of color in a shared application is important, you can turn on True Color mode in Training Manager. Using this mode, however, may affect the performance of application sharing.

When using True Color mode, you can select one of the following options:

- Better imaging (no image compression)
- Better performance (some image compression)

"Performance" refers to the "speed" at which images appear on participant screens, and "imaging" refers to the quality of the color in shared images.

Note: Before turning on True Color mode, ensure that your monitor display is set to True Color (either 24- or 32-bit color). For more information about setting options for your monitor, refer to Windows Help.

To turn on True Color mode:

- 1 If you are currently sharing an application, stop your sharing session.
- 2 On the Training Session menu, choose Training Session Options.
The Training Session Options dialog box appears.
- 3 Select the True Color Mode tab.
- 4 Select Enable True Color mode.
- 5 Select one of the following options:
 - Better imaging
 - Better performance
- 6 Select OK or Apply.

Sharing applications with detailed color (Mac)

For Mac users only

Before sharing an application or your desktop, you can choose one of the following display modes:

- Better performance: The default mode. Lets you display your content faster than you do using the better image quality mode.
- Better image quality: Lets you display your content with better image quality. In this mode, your shared content may take longer time to display than in the better performance mode.

Note: Changing the display mode does not affect presentation or document sharing.

To choose a display mode for your shared desktop or applications:

- 1 In the Training Session window, on the Training Center menu, choose Preferences.
The Preferences dialog box appears.
- 2 Select Display.

The display mode options appear.

- 3 Select Better performance or Better image quality, as appropriate.

Tips for sharing software

The following tips can help you to share software more effectively:

- Application sharing only: To save time during a training session, ensure that any applications you intend to share are open on your computer. At the appropriate time during the training session, you can then quickly begin sharing an application, without waiting for the application to start.
- If participants cannot see all of the shared software without scrolling their sharing windows, they can adjust their views of the shared software. They can reduce the size of the shared software in decrements, or scale it to fit inside their sharing windows.
- To improve the performance of software sharing, close all applications that you do not need to use or share on your computer. Doing so conserves processor usage and memory on your computer, thus helping to ensure that Training Manager can send images of shared software quickly during a training session. Also, to ensure that a maximum amount of bandwidth is available for software sharing, close any applications that use bandwidth, such as instant messaging or chat programs, and programs that receive streaming audio or video from the Web.
- If you are sharing an application for which the rendering of color on participants' screen is important, you can improve color quality by turning on True Color mode. For details, see Sharing applications with detailed color (on page 282).

- Application and Web browser sharing only: Avoid covering a shared application or Web browser with another window on your computer's desktop. A crosshatched pattern appears in participant sharing windows where the other window is covering the shared application or browser.
- Application and Web browser sharing only: If you want to switch your display between shared software and the Training Session window, you can pause software sharing before you return to the Training Session window, and then resume sharing once you return to the shared application. Pausing software sharing conserves processor usage and memory on your computer while you view the Training Session window. For details, see Pausing and resuming software sharing. (on page 265)
- Application and Web browser sharing only: If you have more than one monitor, when you share an application or web browser, the participants can see it on whichever monitor you are displaying it. If you move the application or Web browser to another monitor, it is still visible to the participants. If you are sharing more than one application, the participants will see the best view if you make sure the applications are displaying on the same monitor.
- Because software sharing requires additional bandwidth during a training session, it is recommended that you use a dedicated, high-speed Internet connection when sharing software. However, if participants are using dial-up Internet connections, they may notice a delay in viewing or controlling shared software. If you want to share a document, such as a Microsoft Word or Excel document, you can improve the training session experience for these participants by using document sharing instead of application sharing.

Sharing Web Content

share Web content with meeting participants	Sharing Web content (on page 288)
understand the differences between sharing a browser and sharing Web content	Differences between sharing Web content and sharing a Web browser (on page 288)

About sharing Web content

You can share Web content that resides on:

- The public Internet or Web
- Your company's intranet
- Your computer or another computer on your private network

Web content includes:

- Web pages, including pages that contain embedded media files, such as Flash, audio, or video files
- Standalone media files, such as Flash, audio, or video files

The Web content that you share opens in the content viewer on each participant's screen. If you share a Web page, participants view and interact independently with the content on the page. If the page contains links to other pages, they can also navigate independently to those pages.

If you use Web content sharing, then, participants can experience audio and video effects on a Web page. However, unlike Web browser sharing, this option does not allow you to guide participants to other Web pages. For more information, see Differences between sharing Web content and sharing a Web browser (on page 288).

Important: If you share content that requires a media player, participants can view and interact with the content only if the appropriate player is installed on their computers.

Sharing Web content

You can share a Web page that contains multimedia effects. The page opens in the content viewer on each participant's screen.

To share Web content:

- 1 On the Share menu, choose Web Content.
The Share Web Content dialog box appears.
- 2 In the Address box, enter the address, or URL, at which the content resides.
Or, if you have previously shared the content, select it in the drop-down list.
- 3 In the Type box, select the type of Web content that you want to share.
- 4 Click OK.

Tip: You can copy a URL from any source, such as another browser window, and then paste it in the Address box.

Differences between sharing Web content and sharing a Web browser

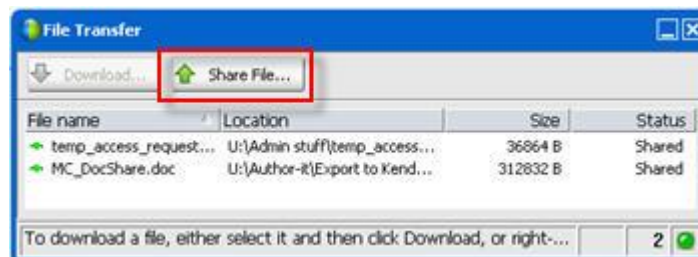

Training Center provides two options for sharing Web-based information. You can share Web content or share a Web browser with training session participants. Choose the feature that better suits your needs.

Sharing option	Advantages	Disadvantages
Web browser sharing	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Lets you guide participants to various Web pages and sites on the Web.▪ Lets you grant attendees control of your Web browser.▪ Lets you and other participants annotate Web pages.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Does not display media effects or transmit sounds on Web pages.▪ Does not let participants interact with Web pages independently.

Transferring and Downloading Files During a Training Session

During a training session, you can publish files that reside on your computer. Training Session participants can then download the published files to their computers or local servers. Publishing files is useful if you want to provide participants with a document, a copy of your presentation, an application, and so on.

Files that you publish reside only on your computer - not on a server. Thus, your published files are always protected from unauthorized access during a training session.

About polling attendees

During a training session, you can poll attendees by presenting them with a questionnaire on which they can select multiple-choice answers. Taking a poll can be useful for gathering feedback from attendees, allowing attendees to vote on a proposal, testing attendees' knowledge of a topic, and so on.

To take a poll, you must first prepare a poll questionnaire. You can prepare a questionnaire at any time during a training session. Or, to save time during a training session, you can prepare a questionnaire before a training session's starting time, save it, and then open it for use during the training session.

Once you close a poll, you can view the results and share them with attendees. You can also save the results of a poll for viewing outside of a training session.

The following figure shows an example of poll results in the text format.

Managing Question-and-Answer Sessions

Host only

During a question-and-answer (Q & A) session, you can respond to questions that attendees ask during the training session. A Q & A session not only provides instant text messaging similar to that in Chat, but also does the following:

- Provides a more formal procedure for asking and answering questions in text format
- Automatically groups questions to help you manage the queue, such as quickly identifying questions that you have or have not answered
- Displays visual cues for the status of questions
- Lets you assign questions to the appropriate domain expert on your team
- Allows you to quickly send a standard response to questions for which you cannot or do not want to answer immediately

You can save the questions and answers in a Q & A session to either a text (.txt) file or a comma-separated/comma-delimited values (.csv) file for future reference.

Tip: If you use Q & A during a training session, WebEx recommends that a panelist (the host or presenter) monitors the Q & A panel at all times during the training session.

Allowing participants to use Q & A

Host only

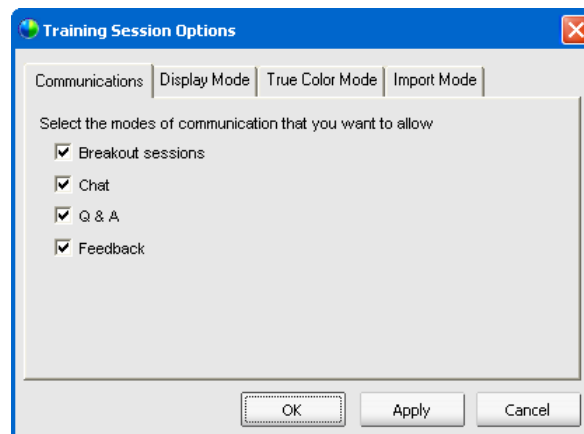

To use Q & A during a training session, ensure that the Q & A option is turned on. You can also turn it off at any time, if necessary.

To turn on or off Q & A during a training session (Windows):

- 1 In the Session window, on the Session menu, choose Session Options.
An options dialog box appears.
- 2 On the Communications tab, check or uncheck Q & A, as appropriate, and then select OK.

To turn on or off Q & A during a training session (Mac):

- 1 In the Session window, on the Training Center menu, select Preferences.
- 2 Select Tools.
- 3 Check or uncheck Q & A, and then select OK.

Setting privacy views in Q & A sessions

Host only

To protect the privacy of panelists and attendees during a training session, you can hide or show the following information when questions and answers are published on attendees' Q & A panels:

- Names of attendees who send questions
- Names of panelists who send answers
- Time stamps for questions and answers respectively

Note: The names of attendees and panelists and time stamps are always visible on panelists' Q & A panels.

To set privacy views:

- 1 Open the Attendee Options dialog by following one of these steps:
 - Windows: Right-click the title bar of your Q & A panel, and then choose Attendee Options.
 - Mac: Select ctrl, click, and then choose Attendee Options.

- Set a priority for any question you have received
- Identify the status of questions and answers—answered, unanswered, assigned, private, dismissed, or deferred—and address questions that need your attention.
- Assign questions to the appropriate expert on your team in the training session.
- Get an idea of the interactions between the panelists and attendees who ask questions.

- ① The auto-grouping of questions by tab make it easy for you to filter and answer questions.
Examples:
 Follow up on the questions that are sent or assigned to you on the My Q & A panel.
 View questions that have been given a priority status on the Prioritized tab; view only questions with a certain priority status on the Prioritized tab.
- ② Visual cues, such as "deferred" and "private," tell you the status of a question.
- ③ A question appears bold if no panelist has answered it.
- ④ Right-click (Windows) or select ctrl and click (Mac) a question to:
 - Assign it to a subject-matter expert, defer it, or dismiss it
 - Assign a priority status
 - Send a standard response if this question has been answered verbally

Working with the tabs on your Q & A panel

Your Q & A panel consists of five tabs. The All tab displays by default. The following table describes what each tab displays.

Once you save a new Q & A session to a file, you can also save a copy to another file.

Saving a Q & A session

At any time during a training session, you can save the questions and answers on the All tab on your Q & A panel to a .txt or .csv file.

Note: Training Manager automatically saves Q & A sessions every two minutes to the WebEx folder in the My Documents folder on the host and presenter computers.

To save a Q & A session:

- 1 In the Session window, on the File menu, choose Save > Questions and Answers.

- 2 Choose a location at which to save the file.

To view a .csv file, open it in a spreadsheet program, such as Microsoft Excel.

Participating in a Question-and-Answer Session

Question-and-Answer (Q & A) sessions during a training session allow you to ask questions and receive answers using your Q & A panel, in a more formal way than Chat.

Your Q & A panel automatically groups questions and answers into these two tabs, which make it easy for you to check whether your questions have been answered:

All—all questions and answers in a Q & A session during the training session More... (on page 327)

My Q & A—the questions you sent and the answers to your questions More... (on page 327)

Note: The host has to turn on the Q & A function in the event before you can use the Q & A panel.

Working with the tabs on your Q & A panel

Your Q & A panel provides two views of the question-and-answer queue: the All and My Q & A tabs. The All tab stays open all the time on your Q & A panel.

The My Q & A tab displays as soon as you send your first question using Q & A. You can close the My Q & A tab at any time.

To open the My Q & A tab:

Right-click (Windows) or select ctrl and then click (Mac) the All tab, and then choose Open Tab > My Q & A.

To close the My Q & A tab:

Right-click (Windows) or select ctrl and then click (Mac) the My Q & A tab, and then choose Close Tab.

Note: Closing the My Q & A tab does not cause you to lose the questions and answers on the tab. You can re-open it at any time.

Asking a question in a Q & A session

During a training session, you can send your questions to all or specific panelists in a Q & A session.

To ask a question in a Q & A session:

- 1 Open the Q & A panel.
- 2 On the Q & A panel, type your question in the text box.
- 3 Optional. To edit your question, highlight the text you want to edit, and then right-click (Windows) or select ctrl and then click (Mac) to use the editing commands in the menu.
- 4 In the Ask drop-down list, select the recipient, and then click Send.

Checking the status of your questions

The auto-grouping of questions and answers and visual cues on attendees' Q & A panels make it easy for you to check whether a panelist has responded to your question.

Always check the My Q & A tab to quickly find out whether your question has been answered. More... (on page 329)

My Q & A tab

Your Q & A panel provides two views of the question-and-answer queue: the All and My Q & A tabs. Always check the My Q & A tab to quickly find out whether your question has been answered. This tab displays a list of the questions you sent and the answers, whether public or private, to those questions.

Using Chat

Chat is useful during a training session if you want to:

- send brief information to all participants
- send a private message to another participant
- ask a question but do not want to use the Q & A option, which provides a formal procedure for asking and answering questions

All chat messages that you send or receive appear on the Chat panel in the training session window.

The Chat function allows you to perform these tasks:

- Send chat messages More... (on page 331)
- Print chat messages More... (on page 333)
- Save chat messages More... (on page 334)
- Open a chat file during a training session More... (on page 335)

Sending chat messages

During a training session, the presenter can specify chat privileges for participants. These privileges determine to whom participants can send chat messages.

To send a chat message:

- 1 Open the Chat panel.

This list contains the names of all sound files that reside at the default location on your computer.
 - Click Browse, and then select a sound file that resides in another folder.
- 6 Optional. To play the currently selected sound, click the button .
- 7 Click OK.

Note:

- Training Center saves your sound preferences on your computer. However, if you start or join a training session on another computer, you need to set your preferences again on that computer.
- Sound files must have a .wav extension
- In most cases, the default location for sound files is C:\WINDOWS\Media. You can copy other sound files to the default folder or any other directory to make them available in the Personal Preferences dialog box.

About Hands-on Lab

Hands-on Lab sessions allow instructors to prepare lessons or exercises that students can complete on remote computers on which training software is installed. Students can use these remote computers during a training session for hands-on learning and practice. Because instructors can control Hands-on Lab sessions, they can maintain an optimized lab environment that is effective, familiar, and consistent.

You can schedule the following two types of Hands-on Lab sessions:

- In-session Hands-on Lab. For details, see Setting up in-session Hands-on Lab (on page 345).
- On-Demand Hands-on Lab. For details, see Setting up on-demand Hands-on Lab (on page 348).

To set up a Hands-on Lab session, the host schedules the lab and reserves the computers for the presenter. Then the host starts the Hands-on Lab within the training session. The presenter assigns computers to participants, connects the computers with a mouse click, and then each participant can use the virtual computer at remote locations. The presenter or host can also

- set recording options for the Hands-on Lab session
- broadcast a message to all participants
- respond to a participant's request for help
- ask all to return from the lab
- end the Hands-on Lab session

Note: If you chose the scheduling option to support over 500 attendees for this session, the number of participants that can access a Hands-on Lab computer is limited to 50.

About Hands-on Lab

Hands-on Lab sessions allow instructors to prepare lessons or exercises that students can complete on remote computers on which training software is installed. Students can use these remote computers during a training session for hands-on learning and practice. Because instructors can control Hands-on Lab sessions, they can maintain an optimized lab environment that is effective, familiar, and consistent.

To set up a Hands-on Lab session, the host schedules the lab and reserves the computers for the presenter. Then the host starts the Hands-on Lab within the training session. The presenter assigns computers to participants, connects the computers with a mouse click so that participants can use the virtual computer for their learning and practice activities. Participants can also

- connect to a reserved computer
- chat with other Hands-on Lab participants
- ask for help during a Hands-on Lab session
- transfer files in a Hands-on Lab session
- pass control of a Hands-on Lab computer
- disconnect from a Hands-on Lab computer

Connecting to a reserved computer

Participants in a Hands-on Lab session can connect to an unassigned computer or a preassigned computer depending on which option the presenter chose when starting the session.

Connecting to unassigned computers

If the presenter has allowed participants to choose their own remote computer, they can connect to any reserved computer in the session.

Connecting to preassigned computers

If the presenter has manually assigned computers to Hands-on Lab participants, the Hands-on Lab Session connect message appears on the participant's desktop.

To connect to the remote computer, click Yes.

You are now connected to the remote computer. The Hands-on Lab Manager window is available from the Session Controls Panel on your desktop. You can also control the remote computer using the Sharing menu.

About Breakout sessions

A breakout session is a private content sharing session that includes two or more participants. Breakout sessions allow participants to brainstorm and collaborate in small, private groups that can include presenters or other students, away from the main training session. In a breakout session, small groups interact within a main Breakout Session window using much of the same features, such as sharing whiteboards and applications, as in the main training session. Multiple breakout sessions can occur at once. For more information about the Breakout Session window, see Using the Breakout Session window (on page 376).

Only those who are participating in a breakout session can view shared content. You can view a list of current breakout sessions in the main Session window on the Breakout Sessions panel.

In a breakout session, the participant who starts and conducts the breakout session is designated as the presenter of the breakout session. If Automatic Assignment is enabled, then a presenter may be randomly assigned to a breakout session. The Presenter's icon appears next to the presenter's name on the Breakout Session's Participant's panel.

For participants to start and join breakout sessions, the presenter must first allow breakout sessions for the training session. Then the host, the presenter, or an attendee who has breakout session privileges can create a breakout session.

Tip: Although breakout session attendees can be assigned manually or automatically during the training session, you can save time by pre-assigning attendees while scheduling the training session. For more information, see Setting up breakout sessions (on page 94).

Note: If you chose the scheduling option to support over 500 attendees for this session, the number of participants that can join a breakout session will still be limited to 100.

The Breakout Session Quick Start page appears only for the Breakout Session presenter. As a presenter, you can quickly connect to your Breakout Session audio conference, open a new whiteboard, or choose a sharing option. The Session Info page appears for both presenters and participants, and includes details for your session.

Participants cannot join an audio conference in the main session while connected to a breakout session audio conference.
- If audio conferencing is not available or has not been started for the main session before the breakout session is started, audio conferencing for breakout sessions is disabled also.
- When a participant who is in the breakout session audio conference leaves a breakout session, he or she disconnects from the breakout session audio conference automatically. The participant returns to the main session and can join the main audio conference by selecting Join Audio Conference on the Audio menu.

Starting an audio conference during a breakout session

When you start a breakout session, all the audio conference options that the host sets up in the main session are available during the breakout sessions.

The Join Audio Conference message box automatically appears in the Session window for each participant in the breakout session.

Passing the presenter role to another participant

As the breakout session presenter, you can pass the presenter role to another breakout session participant. The presenter of the breakout session is responsible for conducting the breakout session.

To pass the presenter role:

- 1 On the Breakout Session panel, in the participant list, select the name of the participant to whom you want to pass the presenter role.
- 2 Do either of the following:
 - In the Breakout Session window, on the Participant menu, choose Pass Presenter Role.

The selected participant is now the presenter of the breakout session. The presenter indicator appears next to the participant's name.

Note: You cannot pass the presenter role when sharing an application, your desktop, or a Web browser.

Presenting information in a breakout session

Presenting and sharing information in a breakout session works similarly to presenting information in the main session. The only difference is that you select what content or software that you want to share from the Share menu within the Breakout Session window. The Share menu in the Breakout Session window works the same way as the Share menu in the main Session window.

In a breakout session, you can choose to share

- documents or presentations
- a whiteboard in the Breakout Session window
- a Web browser
- your desktop
- an application
- UCF multimedia

Granting remote control to a participant in a breakout session

During a breakout session, you can allow another participant to remotely control your application. A participant who has remote control of shared software can interact with it completely.

Caution: A participant who has remote control of your desktop can run any programs and access any files on your computer that you have not protected with a password.

To grant remote control of a shared application to a breakout session participant:

- 1 Once you are sharing, select Assign Control on the Session Controls Panel.

- 2 On the menu that appears, point to Pass Keyboard and Mouse Control for what you are sharing, and then choose the participant to whom you want to grant remote control.

Once the participant assumes control, your mouse pointer is no longer active.

Note:

- You can reassume control of a shared application at any time by clicking your mouse.
- If a participant requests remote control, a request message appears next to your mouse pointer.

Ending your breakout session

If you are the presenter in a breakout session, you can end your session for all participants.

To end a breakout session:

- 1 Do one of the following:
 - On the Quick Start page, click End Breakout Session.
 - Close the Breakout Session Manager window by clicking the Close button in the upper-right corner of the window.

- 1 In the Breakout Session panel, highlight the breakout session that you want to restart.

- 2 Click the down arrow on the Start button.
- 3 Select whether to restart this breakout session with the same attendee assignments as before, or with new assignments made automatically.

Sharing content from your breakout session in the main session

If the training session presenter or host sends you a request, you can share content that you shared in a breakout session when you return to the main training session. To be able to share content in the main session, the training session presenter must have ended all the breakout sessions.

To share breakout session content in the main session:

- 1 If the training session presenter or host sends you a request to share breakout session content, the Share Breakout Session Content dialog box appears.
The content that you shared in your breakout session appears in a list.
- 2 Select the content that you want to share in the main training session. Hold down the Shift key to select more than one choice.
- 3 Click OK.

Training Manager first opens the shared content, then displays it in your content viewer. Attendees can then view the shared content in their content viewers.

About testing and grading

The Testing feature in Training Center gives you direct control over test creation, test delivery, test management, and scoring and grading, and the ability to track each attendee's performance. It also gives you access to the Test Library on your organization's Training Center Web site where you can store your tests and share your tests with other hosts in your organization. Tests are Web-based and easy to manage.

You can add tests to a training session and administer them at all stages of the learning process:

- Pre-session—Test attendees' knowledge so you can plan more effective and relevant training content
- In-session—Ensure that attendees follow the training content; receive feedback from attendees
- Post-session—Test attendees' comprehension of the training content; helps you plan your next training sessions based on the results of a post-session test
- Recorded session (only for sites that include the On-Demand Module option, which is Training Center with the Presentation Studio Integration)—Test users' comprehension of the training content; session and test can be taken at any time

Tip: You can also import a poll questionnaire and convert it to a Web-based test.

Adding tests to a scheduled training session

To test attendees, you must add tests to the training session that they will be attending.

Scoring and grading answers for a test

Training Center automatically checks attendees' answers against the correct answers you specified when creating the test and then scores the results.

An entire test is scored automatically if it contains no essay or fill-in-the-blanks questions. In this case, attendees can view test results once they submit their answers.

If a test contains essay or fill-in-the-blanks questions, you must manually review and score the test. A complete score is unavailable until you finish scoring the essay or fill-in-the-blanks questions.

To score the answers for a test:

- 1 Do one of the following:
 - From the Session Information page, click Score & Report.
 - From the Manage Test page, in the Student Answers section, click View and Score Answers.

The Submitted Tests page appears. This page lists attendees who have submitted their tests and attendees who have received their scores and grades, if assigned. You can also view the questions and grading scale, if specified.

About taking a test

The host or presenter of a training session that you are attending can conduct tests before, during, or after the session, or during a recorded session in a Presentation Studio presentation, to test your knowledge of the training content or seek feedback.

A host may request you to take one of the following types of tests:

- Pre- or post-session tests—A test starts and ends at the specified times and dates outside a training session. Email messages you receive from the host contain information about how to access these tests.
- In-session tests—The host starts a test during a training session. Your training service does not send email messages about these tests on behalf of the host. You can obtain test information by contacting the host.

- Recorded session tests (only in Presentation Studio presentations)—A test can be taken once, at any time during the recorded session.

You take tests and submit your answers on the Web. Once scoring is completed, you can view test results from the Session Information page on your Training Center Web site, on the Test Submitted page for a recorded session, or from the host's email message that contains your grade report.

To access the Session Information page for a training session, you can go to the training calendar on your Training Center Web site and then click the link for the session topic.

Sending and Receiving Video

If a video camera is installed on your computer, you can send video. Other participants can see you, or whatever you focus your webcam on. To see video, participants do not need to have a webcam installed on their computers.

Web Meeting Service supports high-definition (HD) video with up to 720p resolution. The technology automatically adjusts video to the highest quality for each participant according to the computer capabilities and network bandwidth.

Your administrator can set video options at the site level. A meeting host can set video options on the scheduler as well as in the meeting. If your site or meeting is not set up to use HD or high-quality video, standard video is used.

To start or stop sending video, select the video icon beside your name.

The icon turns green when you are sending video.

If you have a High Definition camera and you select the video icon, a one-time notification indicating You are ready to send HD video to other participants displays.

After you start sending video, you can perform the following tasks depending on your role.

Maintaining your scheduled meetings list

Once you schedule a training session, it appears in your meetings list on your My Meetings page. For more information, see Opening your meetings list (on page 461).

An online training session remains on your My Meetings page until you delete it. When scheduling a training session, you can choose to automatically delete the training session from your list of meetings once both of these conditions occur:

- You start and end the training session.
- The scheduled time for the training session has passed.

However, if you required registration for a scheduled training session, the training session remains in your list until you remove it. That way, you can still view information about attendees who registered for the training session at any time after you host the training session.

To remove a training session from your list of meetings on your My Meetings page, you must cancel the training session by deleting it on this page.

For details about the options on the My WebEx Meetings page, see About the My WebEx Meetings page (on page 463).

Publishing a recorded training session

You can publish a recorded training session that was created with WebEx Recorder. A recording that you publish must be in the WebEx Recording format (WRF), which has a .wrf extension.

To publish a recording, you can do one of the following:

- (Optional feature) Create a presentation using the On-Demand Module, with which you can re-create the live training experience, insert a test, or add narration. You can upload an existing recording file or PowerPoint file from your computer or another computer on your local network.

Note: The number of On-Demand presentations that can be stored on your Training Center Web site is determined by your licensing agreement. If the upload limit has been reached, you will be unable to create a recording until one is removed.

- Upload the recording to the server for your Training Center Web site. The file that you upload must reside on your computer or a local server.
- Specify the Web address, or URL, for the recording on a publicly accessible Web server. Because your storage space for recordings on your site is limited, you can use this option to publish an unlimited number of recordings, or recordings with large file sizes. To use this option, you may need to ask your organization's Webmaster to store the recording on the server and provide you with its URL.

To publish a recorded training session:

- 1 Open the My Training Recordings page. For details, see Opening your list of recorded training sessions (on page 526).
- 2 Click Add a Recording.
The Add a Recording page appears.

 - Session fee: Enter the amount you want to charge for the session. The default value is 0 (free).
 - Allow attendees to use coupons: Select this check box to allow attendees to use coupons when registering.
 - Access period: Specify how often an attendee can view the recording after registration is approved.
- 6 In the Presenter box, specify the presenter's name.
- 7 In the Email Address box, specify the presenter's email address.
- 8 In the Description box, enter a description of the recorded training session.
- 9 Optional: Specify the agenda for the training session.
- 10 Under Recording File, publish the recording in one of the following ways:

Specify a WebEx Recording file:

- a. Select WebEx Recording File (*.wrf).
- b. Click Browse, and then select the file that you want to publish.

Note: The maximum file size is 200 MB. Files that exceed the maximum will not be created, causing the Recording Creation Failed page to appear.

Specify a PowerPoint presentation for which you will add narration via telephone:

- a. Select PowerPoint with audio narration using telephone.

13 Optional: Specify file access options.

These settings protect your recording by requiring user authentication to view or download, and are necessary if eCommerce is enabled.

14 Click Add.

If you used the On-Demand Module, the Recording Created page opens.

15 Click OK.

You will receive an email confirmation that the presentation has been successfully uploaded and converted into a Presentation Studio presentation. The email will include a link that will take you to the My Training Recordings page.

Note: For details about the options on the Add a Recording page, see About the Add a Recording/Edit Recording Information page (on page 546).

About the On-Demand Module

The On-Demand Module gives you the maximum flexibility to create high-impact, multimedia on-demand training content and publish it online for your attendees. You can use the On-Demand Module to:

- Re-create the live training experience for on-demand access by inserting a recording of a live session.
- Insert a test, and request your audience to take the test when they view the recording or presentation.
- Create and deliver high-impact multimedia presentations complete with narration.

To create a presentation, select Create a Presentation Using Presentation Studio and specify one of the following files to upload (50 MB maximum):

- an existing WebEx recording file (WRF)
- a Powerpoint file (PPT)

Once you complete the Add a Recording page, your presentation will be submitted for processing. Once it is ready, you will receive an email explaining how to edit the presentation or add narration (Powerpoint only). By editing the presentation, you can also insert a test for your attendees to take when they view the presentation.

About Optimizing Recording Playback Quality

Once you specify a .wrf file to upload when creating a presentation using the On-Demand Module, you will be prompted to select which content to optimize.

About viewing a recorded training session

If a training session host publishes a recorded training session on your Training Center Web site, you can view the recording. A host may require that you do one or both of the following to view a recorded training session:

- Enroll to view a recorded training session. In this case, you must provide your name, email address, and any other information that the host requires.
- Provide a password. In this case, you must obtain the password from the host.

To view a recorded training session, you must use either the WebEx Player or the Windows Media Player 9 (or higher) to view it, depending on how the training session was recorded.

Your Training Center Web site automatically downloads WebEx Player to your computer the first time you view a recorded training session. A WebEx Player is available for the Windows operating system. If you have a user account, you can also download WebEx Player for Windows from the Support page on your Training Center Web site.

If the recording contains a Presentation Studio presentation, you will need the Windows Media Player 9 (or higher) on your computer to view it, as well as the following:

- Flash Player 7 (recommended but not required if recording includes Flash content)
- Sound card with proper driver installed

Use the latest operating systems and browsers to best view your recording:

- Windows 7 with Internet Explorer 7 (32-bit)
- Windows 7 SP1 with Internet Explorer 7 (64-bit) or Internet Explorer 8
- Windows XP SP3 with Internet Explorer 8
- Mac 10.5 with Safari 4
- Mac 10.6 with Safari 5

These other operating systems and browsers will work as well:

- Windows 2000, XP, or Vista
- Internet Explorer 6 or later, Firefox 3.0 or later, or Chrome 11 or later

- 1 If the host requires that you have a user account to view a recording, log in to your Training Center Web site.
- 2 On the navigation bar, expand Attend a Session.

3 Click Recorded Sessions.

- If viewing the recording requires registration, provide the required information on the registration form that appears, and then click Register.
- If viewing the recording requires payment information, provide the required information and any coupon codes on the registration form that appears, and then click Register.

The WebEx Player or Presentation Studio Viewer opens and begins playing the recording.
