

Use Proximity-enabled video system for your meetings

The Meeting App automatically detects any Proximity enabled video conferencing system in range.

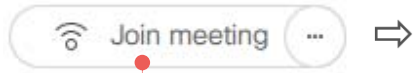

If a Proximity-enabled Cisco video system is in range, you can see this icon

Click to open the joining options screen

The Proximity-enabled video system name is shown here

Click to join meeting using the video system

If you have previously used intelligent pairing to join a Proximity-enabled video system, the app displays the icon in the Join meeting button, click to open the joining options screen
