This document is intended for external users who have access to Smart Accounts

Log in to Cisco Software Central:

<http://www.software.cisco.com>

Select View My Consumption to view consumption reports for your Enterprise Agreements (EA)

3. Click the three dots icon to view options for the True Forward notification settings

4. Select Consumption Notification

The screenshot displays the Cisco Software Central interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Cisco logo and user information. Below this, a search bar contains the text "demo.cisco.com". A table lists several accounts, with the second row highlighted. A callout box labeled "3." points to the three-dot menu icon for the first account. A second callout box labeled "4." points to the "Consumption Notification" option in the dropdown menu for the second account.

Cisco Enterprise Agreement

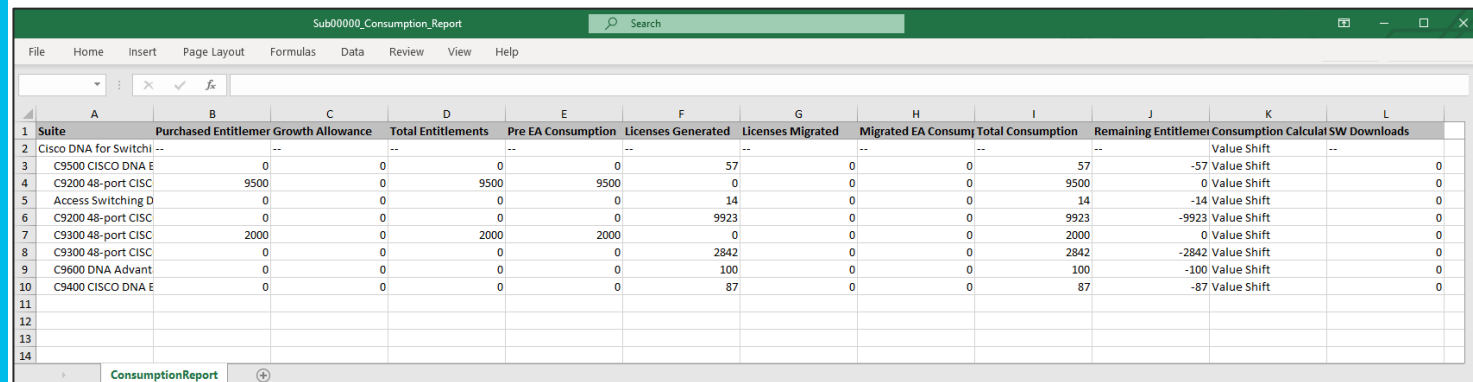

Dear Requester,

As part of the Enterprise Agreement, attached please find a consumption report which allows you to track the Enterprise Agreement license consumption against the purchased entitlements. You may find the same view and additional reports in the Enterprise Agreement Workspace. Use your Smart Account credentials to log into the Workspace and click on "Enterprise Agreement." Additional login instructions can be found on page 13 of this guide.

Please note: any over-consumption may generate a True Forward charge on the anniversary date documented below. If you have an upcoming TF event, please contact your Cisco Authorized Partner or Cisco Account Representative for additional information.
