Kapil Singhal

My name is Kapil Singhal. I live in New Delhi. I'm working in a company named Exevo India. It's a 300-people-strong company. It's into market research, and I'm working there as a network administrator.

I have to provide 99.5 percent uptime to my company. If there is any expansion program, then I have to look after that also. Overall, all the technical responsibilities are on my forehead.

I love my job because I deal with Cisco products and I'm passionate about Cisco. Now I'm preparing for my lab exam in Cisco CCIE Routing and Switching. CCIE is the premiere degree of Cisco and it's really hard to qualify for. My goal for the next three years would be to complete my CCIE lab, and I hope I will be able to achieve that.
