3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.
4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions.

Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement You may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.
6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.
9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

Jackson JSON processor

Jackson is a high-performance, Free/Open Source JSON processing library. It was originally written by Tatu Saloranta (tatu.soloranta@iki.fi), and has been in development since 2007. It is currently developed by a community of developers, as well as supported commercially by FasterXML.com.

Licensing

Jackson core and extension components may be licensed under different licenses. To find the details that apply to this artifact see the accompanying LICENSE file. For more information, including possible other licensing options, contact FasterXML.com (http://fasterxml.com).

Credits

A list of contributors may be found from CREDITS file, which is included in some artifacts (usually source distributions); but is always available from the source code management (SCM) system project uses. This copy of Jackson JSON processor streaming parser/generator is licensed under the Apache (Software) License, version 2.0 ("the License"). ca-bundle.crt -- Bundle of CA Root Certificates

Certificate data from Mozilla as of: Thu Nov 3 19:04:19 2011#
This is a bundle of X.509 certificates of public Certificate Authorities (CA). These were automatically extracted from Mozilla's root certificates file (certdata.txt). This file can be found in the mozilla source tree:
It contains the certificates in PEM format and therefore can be directly used with curl / libcurl / php_curl, or with an Apache+mod_ssl webserver for SSL client authentication. Just configure this file as the SSLCACertificateFile.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement You may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).
"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.
4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

APPENDIX: How to apply the Apache License to your work.

To apply the Apache License to your work, attach the following boilerplate notice, with the fields enclosed by brackets "[]" replaced with your own identifying information. (Don't include the brackets!) The text should be enclosed in the appropriate comment syntax for the file format. We also recommend that a file or class name and description of purpose be included on the same "printed page" as the copyright notice for easier
identification within third-party archives.

This formulation of W3C's notice and license became active on December 31 2002. This version removes the copyright ownership notice such that this license can be used with materials other than those owned by the W3C, reflects that ERCIM is now a host of the W3C, includes references to this specific dated version of the license, and removes the ambiguous grant of "use". Otherwise, this version is the same as the previous version and is written so as to preserve the Free Software Foundation's assessment of GPL compatibility and OSI's certification under the Open Source Definition. Please see our Copyright FAQ for common questions about using materials from our site, including specific terms and conditions for packages like libwww, Amaya, and Jigsaw. Preamble

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users. This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it. (Some other Free Software Foundation software is covered by the GNU Library General Public License instead.) You can apply it to your programs, too.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with two steps: (1) copyright the software, and (2) offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the software.

Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The "Program", below, refers to any such program or work, and a "work based on the Program" means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification".) Each licensee is addressed as "you".

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

   a) You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

   b) You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

   c) If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License. (Exception: if the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

3. You may copy and distribute the Program (or a work based on it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you also do one of the following:

a) Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

b) Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

c) Accompany it with the information you received as to the offer to distribute corresponding source code. (This alternative is allowed only for noncommercial distribution and only if you received the program in object code or executable form with such an offer, in accord with Subsection b above.)

The source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For an executable work, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the executable. However, as a special exception, the source code distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

If distribution of executable or object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place counts as distribution of the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

4. You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Program except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Program is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

5. You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Program or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Program (or any work based on the Program), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Program or works based on it.

6. Each time you redistribute the Program (or any work based on the Program), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute or modify the Program subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.

7. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Program at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Program by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Program.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.
It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system, which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

8. If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

9. The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and "any later version", you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

10. If you wish to incorporate parts of the Program into other free programs whose distribution conditions are different, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

NO WARRANTY

11. BECAUSE THE PROGRAM IS LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE PROGRAM, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW. EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE PROGRAM "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE PROGRAM IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE PROGRAM PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

12. IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MAY MODIFY AND/OR REDISTRIBUTE THE PROGRAM AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE PROGRAM (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE PROGRAM TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER PROGRAMS), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Programs

If you develop a new program, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, the best way to achieve this is to make it free software which everyone can redistribute and change under these terms.

To do so, attach the following notices to the program. It is safest to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively convey the exclusion of warranty; and each file should have at least the "copyright" line and a pointer to where the full notice is found.

One line to give the program's name and a brief idea of what it does.

This General Public License does not permit incorporating your program into proprietary programs. If your program is a subroutine library, you may consider it more useful to permit linking proprietary applications with the library. If this is what you want to do, use the GNU Library General Public License instead of this License.

"CLASSPATH" EXCEPTION TO THE GPL

Certain source files distributed by Oracle America and/or its affiliates are subject to the following clarification and special exception to the GPL, but only where Oracle has expressly included in the particular source file's header the words "Oracle designates this particular file as subject to the "Classpath" exception as provided by Oracle in the LICENSE file that accompanied this code."

Linking this library statically or dynamically with other modules is making a combined work based on this library. Thus, the terms and conditions of the GNU General Public License cover the whole combination.

As a special exception, the copyright holders of this library give you permission to link this library with independent modules to produce an executable, regardless of the license terms of these independent modules, and to copy and distribute the resulting executable under terms of your choice, provided that you also meet, for each linked independent module, the terms and conditions of the license of that module. An independent module is a module which is not derived from or based on this library. If you modify this library, you may extend this exception to your version of the library, but you are not obligated to do so. If you do not wish to do so, delete this exception statement from your version.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.
"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.
5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

APPENDIX: How to apply the Apache License to your work.

To apply the Apache License to your work, attach the following boilerplate notice, with the fields enclosed by brackets "[]" replaced with your own identifying information. (Don't include the brackets!) The text should be enclosed in the appropriate comment syntax for the file format. We also recommend that a file or class name and description of purpose be included on the same "printed page" as the copyright notice for easier identification within third-party archives.

GNU LESSER GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
Version 2.1, February 1999

Copyright (C) 1991, 1999 Free Software Foundation, Inc.
51 Franklin St, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301 USA
Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

[This is the first released version of the Lesser GPL. It also counts as the successor of the GNU Library Public License, version 2, hence the version number 2.1.]

Preamble

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users.
This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.

Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.

When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.

We call this license the "Lesser" General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances.

For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License.

In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linux operating system.

Although the Lesser General Public License is Less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a "work based on the library" and a "work that uses the library". The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.

GNU LESSER GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called "this License"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

The "Library", below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A "work based on the Library" means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification".)

"Source code" for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

a) The modified work must itself be a software library.

b) You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

c) You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

d) If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

3. You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.

4. You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

5. A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a "work that uses the Library". Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a "work that uses the Library" with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a "work that uses the library". The executable is therefore covered by this License. Section 6 states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a "work that uses the Library" uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.

If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under Section 6.)

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

6. As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a "work that uses the Library" with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:

a)Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable "work that uses the Library", as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

b) Use a suitable shared library mechanism for linking with the Library. A suitable mechanism is one that (1) uses at run time a copy of the library already present on the user's computer system, rather than copying library functions into the executable, and (2) will operate properly with a modified version of the library, if the user installs one, as long as the modified version is interface-compatible with the version that the work was made with.

c) Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in Subsection 6a, above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.

d) If distribution of the work is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, offer equivalent access to copy the above specified materials from the same place.

e) Verify that the user has already received a copy of these materials or that you have already sent this user a copy.

For an executable, the required form of the "work that uses the Library" must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you distribute.

7. You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do these two things:

a) Accompany the combined library with a copy of the same work based on the Library, uncombined with any other library facilities. This must be distributed under the terms of the Sections above.

b) Give prominent notice with the combined library of the fact that part of it is a work based on the Library, and explaining where to find the accompanying uncombined form of the same work.

8. You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.
9. You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Library or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Library (or any work based on the Library), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Library or works based on it.

10. Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein.
You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties with this License.

11. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Library.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply, and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.
12. If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

13. The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the Lesser General Public License from time to time.
   Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

   Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Library specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and "any later version", you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Library does not specify a license version number, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

14. If you wish to incorporate parts of the Library into other free programs whose distribution conditions are incompatible with these, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

   NO WARRANTY

15. BECAUSE THE LIBRARY IS LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE LIBRARY, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW.
   EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE LIBRARY "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE LIBRARY IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE LIBRARY PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

16. IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MAY MODIFY AND/OR REDISTRIBUTE THE LIBRARY AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE LIBRARY (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE LIBRARY TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER SOFTWARE), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Libraries

If you develop a new library, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, we recommend making it free software that everyone can redistribute and change. You can do so by permitting redistribution under these terms (or, alternatively, under the terms of the ordinary General Public License).

To apply these terms, attach the following notices to the library. It is safer to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively convey the exclusion of warranty; and each file should have at least the "copyright" line and a pointer to where the full notice is found.

<one line to give the library's name and a brief idea of what it does.>
Copyright (C) <year> <name of author>

This library is free software; you can redistribute it and/or modify it under the terms of the GNU Lesser General Public License as published by the Free Software Foundation; either version 2.1 of the License, or (at your option) any later version.

This library is distributed in the hope that it will be useful, but WITHOUT ANY WARRANTY; without even the implied warranty of MERCHANTABILITY or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. See the GNU Lesser General Public License for more details.

You should have received a copy of the GNU Lesser General Public License along with this library; if not, write to the Free Software Foundation, Inc., 51 Franklin St, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301 USA

Also add information on how to contact you by electronic and paper mail.

You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or your school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the library, if necessary. Here is a sample; alter the names:

Yoyodyne, Inc., hereby disclaims all copyright interest in the library `Frob` (a library for tweaking knobs) written by James Random Hacker.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).
"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.
4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed.
with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and
(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions.
Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS,

Version 2.1, February 1999

Copyright (C) 1991, 1999 Free Software Foundation, Inc.
51 Franklin St, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301 USA
Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

[This is the first released version of the Lesser GPL. It also counts as the successor of the GNU Library Public License, version 2, hence the version number 2.1.]

Preamble

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users.

This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.

Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.

When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.

We call this license the "Lesser" General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances.

For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License.

In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linux operating system.

Although the Lesser General Public License is Less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a "work based on the library" and a "work that uses the library". The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.

GNU LESSER GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called "this License"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

The "Library", below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A "work based on the Library" means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification".)

"Source code" for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

a) The modified work must itself be a software library.

b) You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

c) You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

d) If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

3. You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.

4. You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

5. A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a "work that uses the Library". Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a "work that uses the Library" with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a "work that uses the library". The executable is therefore covered by this License. Section 6 states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a "work that uses the Library" uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.

If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under Section 6.)

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

6. As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a "work that uses the Library" with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:

a) Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable "work that uses the Library", as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

b) Use a suitable shared library mechanism for linking with the Library. A suitable mechanism is one that (1) uses at run time a copy of the library already present on the user's computer system, rather than copying library functions into the executable, and (2) will operate properly with a modified version of the library, if the user installs one, as long as the modified version is interface-compatible with the version that the work was made with.

c) Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in Subsection 6a, above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.

d) If distribution of the work is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, offer equivalent access to copy the above specified materials from the same place.

e) Verify that the user has already received a copy of these materials or that you have already sent this user a copy.

For an executable, the required form of the "work that uses the Library" must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you
7. You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do these two things:

a) Accompany the combined library with a copy of the same work based on the Library, uncombined with any other library facilities. This must be distributed under the terms of the Sections above.

b) Give prominent notice with the combined library of the fact that part of it is a work based on the Library, and explaining where to find the accompanying uncombined form of the same work.

8. You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

9. You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Library or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Library (or any work based on the Library), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Library or works based on it.

10. Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties with this License.

11. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Library.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply, and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

12. If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

13. The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the Lesser General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Library specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and “any later version”, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Library does not specify a license version number, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.
14. If you wish to incorporate parts of the Library into other free programs whose distribution conditions are incompatible with these, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

NO WARRANTY

15. BECAUSE THE LIBRARY IS LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE LIBRARY, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW. EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE LIBRARY "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE LIBRARY IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE LIBRARY PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

16. IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MAY MODIFY AND/OR REDISTRIBUTE THE LIBRARY AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE LIBRARY (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE LIBRARY TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER SOFTWARE), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Libraries

If you develop a new library, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, we recommend making it free software that everyone can redistribute and change. You can do so by permitting redistribution under these terms (or, alternatively, under the terms of the ordinary General Public License).

To apply these terms, attach the following notices to the library. It is safest to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively convey the exclusion of warranty; and each file should have at least the "copyright" line and a pointer to where the full notice is found.
This library is free software; you can redistribute it and/or modify it under the terms of the GNU Lesser General Public License as published by the Free Software Foundation; either version 2.1 of the License, or (at your option) any later version.

This library is distributed in the hope that it will be useful, but WITHOUT ANY WARRANTY; without even the implied warranty of MERCHANTABILITY or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. See the GNU Lesser General Public License for more details.

You should have received a copy of the GNU Lesser General Public License along with this library; if not, write to the Free Software Foundation, Inc., 51 Franklin St, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301 USA

Also add information on how to contact you by electronic and paper mail.

You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or your school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the library, if necessary. Here is a sample; alter the names:

Yoyodyne, Inc., hereby disclaims all copyright interest in the library 'Frob' (a library for tweaking knobs) written by James Random Hacker.

Copyright (C) 1989, 1991 Free Software Foundation, Inc.
51 Franklin Street, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301 USA
Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

Preamble
The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users. This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it. (Some other Free Software Foundation software is covered by the GNU Library General Public License instead.) You can apply it to your programs, too.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with two steps: (1) copyright the software, and (2) offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the software.

Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.
GNU GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The "Program", below, refers to any such program or work, and a "work based on the Program" means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

   a) You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

   b) You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

   c) If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License. (Exception: if the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

3. You may copy and distribute the Program (or a work based on it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you also do one of the following:

a) Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

b) Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

The source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For an executable work, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the executable. However, as a special exception, the source code distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

If distribution of executable or object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place counts as distribution of the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

4. You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Program except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Program is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

5. You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Program or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Program (or any work based on the Program), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Program or works based on it.

6. Each time you redistribute the Program (or any work based on the Program), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute or modify the Program subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.

7. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this may not distribute the Program at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Program by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Program.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system, which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that
to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

8. If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

9. The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software

10. If you wish to incorporate parts of the Program into other free programs whose distribution conditions are different, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Programs

If you develop a new program, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, the best way to achieve this is to make it free software which everyone can redistribute and change under these terms.

To do so, attach the following notices to the program. It is safest to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively convey the exclusion of warranty; and each file should have at least the "copyright" line and a pointer to where the full notice is found.

<one line to give the program's name and a brief idea of what it does.> Copyright (C) <year> <name of author>

This program is free software; you can redistribute it and/or modify it under the terms of the GNU General Public License as published by the Free Software Foundation; either version 2 of the License, or
This program is distributed in the hope that it will be useful, but WITHOUT ANY WARRANTY; without even the implied warranty of MERCHANTABILITY or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. See the GNU General Public License for more details.

You should have received a copy of the GNU General Public License along with this program; if not, write to the Free Software Foundation, Inc., 51 Franklin Street, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301, USA.

Also add information on how to contact you by electronic and paper mail.

If the program is interactive, make it output a short notice like this when it starts in an interactive mode:

Gnomovision version 69, Copyright (C) year name of author
Gnomovision comes with ABSOLUTELY NO WARRANTY; for details type `show w'.
This is free software, and you are welcome to redistribute it under certain conditions; type `show c' for details.

The hypothetical commands `show w' and `show c' should show the appropriate parts of the General Public License. Of course, the commands you use may be called something other than `show w' and `show c'; they could even be mouse-clicks or menu items--whatever suits your program.

You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or your school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the program, if necessary. Here is a sample; alter the names:

Yoyodyne, Inc., hereby disclaims all copyright interest in the program `Gnomovision' (which makes passes at compilers) written by James Hacker.

<signature of Ty Coon>, 1 April 1989
Ty Coon, President of Vice

This General Public License does not permit incorporating your program into proprietary programs. If your program is a subroutine library, you may consider it more useful to permit linking proprietary applications with the library. If this is what you want to do, use the GNU Library General Public License instead of this License.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the Work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."
"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition,
"control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.
2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.
2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed

as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions
for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work
by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.    GNU GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE

   Copyright (C) 2007 Free Software Foundation, Inc. <http://fsf.org/>
   Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

   Preamble

   The GNU General Public License is a free, copyleft license for software and other kinds of works.

   The licenses for most software and other practical works are designed to take away your freedom to share and change the works. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change all versions of a program--to make sure it remains free software for all its users. We, the Free Software Foundation, use the GNU General Public License for most of our software; it applies also to any other work released this way by its authors. You can apply it to your programs, too.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for them if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs, and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to prevent others from denying you these rights or asking you to surrender the rights. Therefore, you have certain responsibilities if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it: responsibilities to respect the freedom of others.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must pass on to the recipients the same freedoms that you received. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

Developers that use the GNU GPL protect your rights with two steps: (1) assert copyright on the software, and (2) offer you this License giving you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify it.

For the developers' and authors' protection, the GPL clearly explains that there is no warranty for this free software. For both users' and authors' sake, the GPL requires that modified versions be marked as changed, so that their problems will not be attributed erroneously to authors of previous versions.

Some devices are designed to deny users access to install or run modified versions of the software inside them, although the manufacturer can do so. This is fundamentally incompatible with the aim of protecting users' freedom to change the software. The systematic pattern of such abuse occurs in the area of products for individuals to use, which is precisely where it is most unacceptable. Therefore, we have designed this version of the GPL to prohibit the practice for those products. If such problems arise substantially in other domains, we stand ready to extend this provision to those domains in future versions of the GPL, as needed to protect the freedom of users.

Finally, every program is threatened constantly by software patents. States should not allow patents to restrict development and use of software on general-purpose computers, but in those that do, we wish to avoid the special danger that patents applied to a free program could make it effectively proprietary. To prevent this, the GPL assures that patents cannot be used to render the program non-free.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

0. Definitions.

"This License" refers to version 3 of the GNU General Public License.

"Copyright" also means copyright-like laws that apply to other kinds of works, such as semiconductor masks.

"The Program" refers to any copyrightable work licensed under this License. Each licensee is addressed as "you". "Licensees" and "recipients" may be individuals or organizations.

To "modify" a work means to copy from or adapt all or part of the work in a fashion requiring copyright permission, other than the making of an exact copy. The resulting work is called a "modified version" of the earlier work or a work "based on" the earlier work.

A "covered work" means either the unmodified Program or a work based on the Program.

To "propagate" a work means to do anything with it that, without permission, would make you directly or secondarily liable for infringement under applicable copyright law, except executing it on a computer or modifying a private copy. Propagation includes copying, distribution (with or without modification), making available to the public, and in some countries other activities as well.

To "convey" a work means any kind of propagation that enables other parties to make or receive copies. Mere interaction with a user through a computer network, with no transfer of a copy, is not conveying.

An interactive user interface displays "Appropriate Legal Notices" to the extent that it includes a convenient and prominently visible feature that (1) displays an appropriate copyright notice, and (2) tells the user that there is no warranty for the work (except to the extent that warranties are provided), that licensees may convey the work under this License, and how to view a copy of this License. If the interface presents a list of user commands or options, such as a menu, a prominent item in the list meets this criterion.

The “source code” for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. "Object code" means any non-source form of a work.

A “Standard Interface” means an interface that either is an official standard defined by a recognized standards body, or, in the case of interfaces specified for a particular programming language, one that is widely used among developers working in that language.

The "System Libraries" of an executable work include anything, other than the work as a whole, that (a) is included in the normal form of packaging a Major Component, but which is not part of that Major Component, and (b) serves only to enable use of the work with that Major Component, or to implement a Standard Interface for which an implementation is available to the public in source code form. A "Major Component", in this context, means a major essential component (kernel, window system, and so on) of the specific operating system (if any) on which the executable work runs, or a compiler used to produce the work, or an object code interpreter used to run it.

The "Corresponding Source" for a work in object code form means all the source code needed to generate, install, and (for an executable work) run the object code and to modify the work, including scripts to control those activities. However, it does not include the work's System Libraries, or general-purpose tools or generally available free programs which are used unmodified in performing those activities but which are not part of the work. For example, Corresponding Source includes interface definition files associated with source files for the work, and the source code for shared libraries and dynamically linked subprograms that the work is specifically designed to require, such as by intimate data communication or control flow between those subprograms and other parts of the work.

The Corresponding Source need not include anything that users can regenerate automatically from other parts of the Corresponding Source.

The Corresponding Source for a work in source code form is that same work.

2. Basic Permissions.

All rights granted under this License are granted for the term of copyright on the Program, and are irrevocable provided the stated conditions are met. This License explicitly affirms your unlimited permission to run the unmodified Program. The output from running a covered work is covered by this License only if the output, given its content, constitutes a covered work. This License acknowledges your rights of fair use or other equivalent, as provided by copyright law.

You may make, run and propagate covered works that you do not convey, without conditions so long as your license otherwise remains in force. You may convey covered works to others for the sole purpose of having them make modifications exclusively for you, or provide you with facilities for running those works, provided that you comply with the terms of this License in conveying all material for which you do not control copyright. Those thus making or running the covered works for you must do so exclusively on your behalf, under your direction and control, on terms that prohibit them from making any copies of your copyrighted material outside their relationship with you.

Conveying under any other circumstances is permitted solely under the conditions stated below. Sublicensing is not allowed; section 10 makes it unnecessary.

3. Protecting Users' Legal Rights From Anti-Circumvention Law.

No covered work shall be deemed part of an effective technological measure under any applicable law fulfilling obligations under article 11 of the WIPO copyright treaty adopted on 20 December 1996, or similar laws prohibiting or restricting circumvention of such measures.

When you convey a covered work, you waive any legal power to forbid circumvention of technological measures to the extent such circumvention is effected by exercising rights under this License with respect to the covered work, and you disclaim any intention to limit operation or modification of the work as a means of enforcing, against the work's users, your or third parties' legal rights to forbid circumvention of technological measures.

You may convey verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice; keep intact all notices stating that this License and any non-permissive terms added in accord with section 7 apply to the code; keep intact all notices of the absence of any warranty; and give all recipients a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge any price or no price for each copy that you convey, and you may offer support or warranty protection for a fee.
5. Conveying Modified Source Versions.

You may convey a work based on the Program, or the modifications to produce it from the Program, in the form of source code under the terms of section 4, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

a) The work must carry prominent notices stating that you modified it, and giving a relevant date.

b) The work must carry prominent notices stating that it is released under this License and any conditions added under section 7. This requirement modifies the requirement in section 4 to "keep intact all notices".

c) You must license the entire work, as a whole, under this License to anyone who comes into possession of a copy. This License will therefore apply, along with any applicable section 7 additional terms, to the whole of the work, and all its parts, regardless of how they are packaged. This License gives no permission to license the work in any other way, but it does not invalidate such permission if you have separately received it.

d) If the work has interactive user interfaces, each must display Appropriate Legal Notices; however, if the Program has interactive interfaces that do not display Appropriate Legal Notices, your work need not make them do so.

A compilation of a covered work with other separate and independent works, which are not by their nature extensions of the covered work, and which are not combined with it such as to form a larger program, in or on a volume of a storage or distribution medium, is called an "aggregate" if the compilation and its resulting copyright are not used to limit the access or legal rights of the compilation's users beyond what the individual works permit. Inclusion of a covered work in an aggregate does not cause this License to apply to the other parts of the aggregate.

6. Conveying Non-Source Forms.

You may convey a covered work in object code form under the terms of sections 4 and 5, provided that you also convey the machine-readable Corresponding Source under the terms of this License, in one of these ways:

a) Convey the object code in, or embodied in, a physical product (including a physical distribution medium), accompanied by the Corresponding Source fixed on a durable physical medium customarily used for software interchange.
b) Convey the object code in, or embodied in, a physical product (including a physical distribution medium), accompanied by a written offer, valid for at least three years and valid for as long as you offer spare parts or customer support for that product model, to give anyone who possesses the object code either (1) a copy of the Corresponding Source for all the software in the product that is covered by this License, on a durable physical medium customarily used for software interchange, for a price no more than your reasonable cost of physically performing this conveying of source, or (2) access to copy the Corresponding Source from a network server at no charge.

c) Convey individual copies of the object code with a copy of the written offer to provide the Corresponding Source. This alternative is allowed only occasionally and noncommercially, and only if you received the object code with such an offer, in accord with subsection 6b.

d) Convey the object code by offering access from a designated place (gratis or for a charge), and offer equivalent access to the Corresponding Source in the same way through the same place at no further charge. You need not require recipients to copy the Corresponding Source along with the object code. If the place to copy the object code is a network server, the Corresponding Source may be on a different server (operated by you or a third party) that supports equivalent copying facilities, provided you maintain clear directions next to the object code saying where to find the Corresponding Source. Regardless of what server hosts the Corresponding Source, you remain obligated to ensure that it is available for as long as needed to satisfy these requirements.

e) Convey the object code using peer-to-peer transmission, provided you inform other peers where the object code and Corresponding Source of the work are being offered to the general public at no charge under subsection 6d.

A separable portion of the object code, whose source code is excluded from the Corresponding Source as a System Library, need not be included in conveying the object code work.

A "User Product" is either (1) a "consumer product", which means any tangible personal property which is normally used for personal, family, or household purposes, or (2) anything designed or sold for incorporation into a dwelling. In determining whether a product is a consumer product, doubtful cases shall be resolved in favor of coverage. For a particular product received by a particular user, "normally used" refers to a typical or common use of that class of product, regardless of the status of the particular user or of the way in which the particular user actually uses, or expects or is expected to use, the product. A product is a consumer product regardless of whether the product has substantial commercial, industrial or non-consumer uses, unless such uses represent the only significant mode of use of the product.

"Installation Information" for a User Product means any methods, procedures, authorization keys, or other information required to install and execute modified versions of a covered work in that User Product from a modified version of its Corresponding Source. The information must suffice to ensure that the continued functioning of the modified object code is in no case prevented or interfered with solely because modification has been made.

If you convey an object code work under this section in, or with, or specifically for use in, a User Product, and the conveying occurs as part of a transaction in which the right of possession and use of the User Product is transferred to the recipient in perpetuity or for a fixed term (regardless of how the transaction is characterized), the Corresponding Source conveyed under this section must be accompanied by the Installation Information. But this requirement does not apply if neither you nor any third party retains the ability to install modified object code on the User Product (for example, the work has been installed in ROM).

The requirement to provide Installation Information does not include a requirement to continue to provide support service, warranty, or updates for a work that has been modified or installed by the recipient, or for the User Product in which it has been modified or installed. Access to a network may be denied when the modification itself materially and adversely affects the operation of the network or violates the rules and protocols for communication across the network.

Corresponding Source conveyed, and Installation Information provided, in accord with this section must be in a format that is publicly documented (and with an implementation available to the public in source code form), and must require no special password or key for unpacking, reading or copying.

7. Additional Terms.

"Additional permissions" are terms that supplement the terms of this License by making exceptions from one or more of its conditions. Additional permissions that are applicable to the entire Program shall be treated as though they were included in this License, to the extent that they are valid under applicable law. If additional permissions apply only to part of the Program, that part may be used separately under those permissions, but the entire Program remains governed by this License without regard to the additional permissions.

When you convey a copy of a covered work, you may at your option remove any additional permissions from that copy, or from any part of it. (Additional permissions may be written to require their own removal in certain cases when you modify the work.) You may place additional permissions on material, added by you to a covered work, for which you have or can give appropriate copyright permission.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this License, for material you add to a covered work, you may (if authorized by the copyright holders of that material) supplement the terms of this License with terms:

a) Disclaiming warranty or limiting liability differently from the terms of sections 15 and 16 of this License; or

b) Requiring preservation of specified reasonable legal notices or author attributions in that material or in the Appropriate Legal Notices displayed by works containing it; or

c) Prohibiting misrepresentation of the origin of that material, or requiring that modified versions of such material be marked in reasonable ways as different from the original version; or

d) Limiting the use for publicity purposes of names of licensors or authors of the material; or

e) Declining to grant rights under trademark law for use of some trade names, trademarks, or service marks; or

f) Requiring indemnification of licensors and authors of that material by anyone who conveys the material (or modified versions of it) with contractual assumptions of liability to the recipient, for any liability that these contractual assumptions directly impose on those licensors and authors.

All other non-permissive additional terms are considered “further restrictions” within the meaning of section 10. If the Program as you received it, or any part of it, contains a notice stating that it is governed by this License along with a term that is a further restriction, you may remove that term. If a license document contains a further restriction but permits relicensing or conveying under this License, you may add to a covered work material governed by the terms of that license document, provided that the further restriction does not survive such relicensing or conveying.

If you add terms to a covered work in accord with this section, you must place, in the relevant source files, a statement of the additional terms that apply to those files, or a notice indicating where to find the applicable terms.

Additional terms, permissive or non-permissive, may be stated in the form of a separately written license, or stated as exceptions; the above requirements apply either way.

8. Termination.

You may not propagate or modify a covered work except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to propagate or modify it is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License (including any patent licenses granted under the third paragraph of section 11).

However, if you cease all violation of this License, then your license from a particular copyright holder is reinstated (a) provisionally, unless and until the copyright holder explicitly and finally terminates your license, and (b) permanently, if the copyright holder fails to notify you of the violation by some reasonable means prior to 60 days after the cessation.

Moreover, your license from a particular copyright holder is reinstated permanently if the copyright holder notifies you of the violation by some reasonable means, this is the first time you have received notice of violation of this License (for any work) from that copyright holder, and you cure the violation prior to 30 days after your receipt of the notice.

Termination of your rights under this section does not terminate the licenses of parties who have received copies or rights from you under this License. If your rights have been terminated and not permanently reinstated, you do not qualify to receive new licenses for the same material under section 10.

You are not required to accept this License in order to receive or run a copy of the Program. Ancillary propagation of a covered work occurring solely as a consequence of using peer-to-peer transmission to receive a copy likewise does not require acceptance. However, nothing other than this License grants you permission to propagate or modify any covered work. These actions infringe copyright if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or propagating a covered work, you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so.

10. Automatic Licensing of Downstream Recipients.
Each time you convey a covered work, the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensors, to run, modify and propagate that work, subject to this License. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties with this License.

An "entity transaction" is a transaction transferring control of an organization, or substantially all assets of one, or subdividing an organization, or merging organizations. If propagation of a covered work results from an entity transaction, each party to that transaction who receives a copy of the work also receives whatever licenses to the work the party's predecessor in interest had or could give under the previous paragraph, plus a right to possession of the Corresponding Source of the work from the predecessor in interest, if the predecessor has it or can get it with reasonable efforts.

You may not impose any further restrictions on the exercise of the rights granted or affirmed under this License. For example, you may not impose a license fee, royalty, or other charge for exercise of rights granted under this License, and you may not initiate litigation (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that any patent claim is infringed by making, using, selling, offering for sale, or importing the Program or any portion of it.

11. Patents.

A "contributor" is a copyright holder who authorizes use under this License of the Program or a work on which the Program is based. The work thus licensed is called the contributor's "contributor version".

A contributor's "essential patent claims" are all patent claims owned or controlled by the contributor, whether already acquired or hereafter acquired, that would be infringed by some manner, permitted by this License, of making, using, or selling its contributor version, but do not include claims that would be infringed only as a consequence of further modification of the contributor version. For purposes of this definition, "control" includes the right to grant patent sublicenses in a manner consistent with the requirements of this License.

Each contributor grants you a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free patent license under the contributor's essential patent claims, to make, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise run, modify and propagate the contents of its contributor version.

In the following three paragraphs, a "patent license" is any express agreement or commitment, however denominated, not to enforce a patent (such as an express permission to practice a patent or covenant not to sue for patent infringement). To "grant" such a patent license to a party means to make such an agreement or commitment not to enforce a patent against the party.

If you convey a covered work, knowingly relying on a patent license, and the Corresponding Source of the work is not available for anyone to copy, free of charge and under the terms of this License, through a publicly available network server or other readily accessible means, then you must either (1) cause the Corresponding Source to be so available, or (2) arrange to deprive yourself of the benefit of the patent license for this particular work, or (3) arrange, in a manner consistent with the requirements of this License, to extend the patent license to downstream recipients. "Knowingly relying" means you have actual knowledge that, but for the patent license, your conveying the covered work in a country, or your recipient's use of the covered work in a country, would infringe one or more identifiable patents in that country that you have reason to believe are valid.

If, pursuant to or in connection with a single transaction or arrangement, you convey, or propagate by procuring conveyance of, a covered work, and grant a patent license to some of the parties receiving the covered work authorizing them to use, propagate, modify or convey a specific copy of the covered work, then the patent license you grant is automatically extended to all recipients of the covered work and works based on it.

A patent license is "discriminatory" if it does not include within the scope of its coverage, prohibits the exercise of, or is conditioned on the non-exercise of one or more of the rights that are specifically granted under this License. You may not convey a covered work if you are a party to an arrangement with a third party that is in the business of distributing software, under which you make payment to the third party based on the extent of your activity of conveying the work, and under which the third party grants, to any of the parties who would receive the covered work from you, a discriminatory patent license (a) in connection with copies of the covered work conveyed by you (or copies made from those copies), or (b) primarily for and in connection with specific products or compilations that contain the covered work, unless you entered into that arrangement, or that patent license was granted, prior to 28 March 2007.

Nothing in this License shall be construed as excluding or limiting any implied license or other defenses to infringement that may otherwise be available to you under applicable patent law.

If conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot convey a covered work so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not convey it at all. For example, if you agree to terms that obligate you to collect a royalty for further conveying from those to whom you convey the Program, the only way you could satisfy both those terms and this License would be to refrain entirely from conveying the Program.

13. Use with the GNU Affero General Public License.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this License, you have permission to link or combine any covered work with a work licensed under version 3 of the GNU Affero General Public License into a single combined work, and to convey the resulting work. The terms of this License will continue to apply to the part which is the covered work, but the special requirements of the GNU Affero General Public License, section 13, concerning interaction through a network will apply to the combination as such.

14. Revised Versions of this License.

The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the GNU General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program specifies that a certain numbered version of the GNU General Public License "or any later version" applies to it, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that numbered version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of the GNU General Public License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

If the Program specifies that a proxy can decide which future versions of the GNU General Public License can be used, that proxy’s public statement of acceptance of a version permanently authorizes you to choose that version for the Program.

Later license versions may give you additional or different permissions. However, no additional obligations are imposed on any author or copyright holder as a result of your choosing to follow a later version.

15. Disclaimer of Warranty.

THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE PROGRAM, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW. EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE PROGRAM "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE PROGRAM IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE PROGRAM PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

16. Limitation of Liability.

IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MODIFIES AND/OR CONVEYS THE PROGRAM AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE PROGRAM (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE PROGRAM TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER PROGRAMS), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

17. Interpretation of Sections 15 and 16.

If the disclaimer of warranty and limitation of liability provided above cannot be given local legal effect according to their terms, reviewing courts shall apply local law that most closely approximates an absolute waiver of all civil liability in connection with the Program, unless a warranty or assumption of liability accompanies a copy of the Program in return for a fee.

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Programs

If you develop a new program, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, the best way to achieve this is to make it free software which everyone can redistribute and change under these terms.

To do so, attach the following notices to the program. It is safest to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively state the exclusion of warranty; and each file should have at least the "copyright" line and a pointer to where the full notice is found.

<one line to give the program's name and a brief idea of what it does.>
Copyright (C) <year> <name of author>

This program is free software: you can redistribute it and/or modify it under the terms of the GNU General Public License as published by the Free Software Foundation, either version 3 of the License, or (at your option) any later version.

This program is distributed in the hope that it will be useful, but WITHOUT ANY WARRANTY; without even the implied warranty of MERCHANTABILITY or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. See the GNU General Public License for more details.

You should have received a copy of the GNU General Public License along with this program. If not, see <http://www.gnu.org/licenses/>.

Also add information on how to contact you by electronic and paper mail.

If the program does terminal interaction, make it output a short notice like this when it starts in an interactive mode:

<program> Copyright (C) <year> <name of author>
This program comes with ABSOLUTELY NO WARRANTY; for details type `show w'.
This is free software, and you are welcome to redistribute it under certain conditions; type `show c' for details.

The hypothetical commands `show w' and `show c' should show the appropriate parts of the General Public License. Of course, your program's commands might be different; for a GUI interface, you would use an "about box".

You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the program, if necessary. For more information on this, and how to apply and follow the GNU GPL, see <http://www.gnu.org/licenses/>.

The GNU General Public License does not permit incorporating your program into proprietary programs. If your program is a subroutine library, you may consider it more useful to permit linking proprietary applications with the library. If this is what you want to do, use the GNU Lesser General Public License instead of this License. But first, please read <http://www.gnu.org/philosophy/why-not-lgpl.html>.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:
(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of
the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed
as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions
for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work
by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions.
Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement You may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor,
7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties of or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

APPENDIX: How to apply the Apache License to your work.

To apply the Apache License to your work, attach the following boilerplate notice, with the fields enclosed by brackets "[ ]" replaced with your own identifying information. (Don't include the brackets!) The text should be enclosed in the appropriate comment syntax for the file format. We also recommend that a file or class name and description of purpose be included on the same "printed page" as the copyright notice for easier identification within third-party archives.

The XFree86/Xorg encoding files are in the public domain.

Most of these encoding files were generated by me in the winter of 1998/1998 from publicly available sources (notably from data files provided by the Unicode Consortium) using a throw-away program written in Common Lisp. Over the years, a number of people have kindly added new encoding files to the collection.

If you want to add a copyright statement to an encoding file, you need your brain examined.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition,
"control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.
2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

   (a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

   (b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

   (c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

   (d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all... other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

APPENDIX: How to apply the Apache License to your work.

To apply the Apache License to your work, attach the following boilerplate notice, with the fields enclosed by brackets "[[]]" replaced with your own identifying information. (Don't include the brackets!) The text should be enclosed in the appropriate comment syntax for the file format. We also recommend that a file or class name and description of purpose be included on the same "printed page" as the copyright notice for easier
identification within third-party archives.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.

"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

(a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

(b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

(c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

(d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.
You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity, or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability
incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

APPENDIX: How to apply the Apache License to your work.

To apply the Apache License to your work, attach the following boilerplate notice, with the fields enclosed by brackets "[]"
replaced with your own identifying information. (Don't include the brackets!) The text should be enclosed in the appropriate comment syntax for the file format. We also recommend that a file or class name and description of purpose be included on the same "printed page" as the copyright notice for easier
identification within third-party archives.

License as described below.

COMMON DEVELOPMENT AND DISTRIBUTION LICENSE (CDDL - Version 1.1)
1. Definitions.
1.1. Contributor means each individual or entity that creates or contributes to the creation of Modifications.

1.2. Contributor Version means the combination of the Original Software, prior Modifications used by a Contributor (if any), and the Modifications made by that particular Contributor.

1.3. Covered Software means (a) the Original Software, or (b) Modifications, or (c) the combination of files containing Original Software with files containing Modifications, in each case including portions thereof.

1.4. Executable means the Covered Software in any form other than Source Code.
1.5. Initial Developer means the individual or entity that first makes Original Software available under this License.

1.6. Larger Work means a work which combines Covered Software or portions thereof with code not governed by the terms of this License.

1.7. License means this document.

1.8. Licensable means having the right to grant, to the maximum extent possible, whether at the time of the initial grant or subsequently acquired, any and all of the rights conveyed herein.

1.9. Modifications means the Source Code and Executable form of any of the following:

A. Any file that results from an addition to, deletion from or modification of the contents of a file containing Original Software or previous Modifications;

B. Any new file that contains any part of the Original Software or previous Modification; or

C. Any new file that is contributed or otherwise made available under the terms of this License.

1.10. Original Software means the Source Code and Executable form of computer software code that is originally released under this License.

1.11. Patent Claims means any patent claim(s), now owned or hereafter acquired, including without limitation, method, process, and apparatus claims, in any patent Licensable by grantor.

1.12. Source Code means (a) the common form of computer software code in which modifications are made and (b) associated documentation included in or with such code.

1.13. You (or Your) means an individual or a legal entity exercising rights under, and complying with all of the terms of, this License. For legal entities, You includes any entity which controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with You. For purposes of this definition, control means (a) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (b) ownership of more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding shares or beneficial ownership of such entity.

2. License Grants.

2.1. The Initial Developer Grant.

Conditioned upon Your compliance with Section 3.1 below and subject to third party intellectual property claims, the Initial Developer hereby grants You a world-wide, royalty-free, non-exclusive license:

(a) under intellectual property rights (other than patent or trademark) Licensable by Initial Developer, to use, reproduce, modify, display, perform, sublicense and distribute the Original Software (or portions thereof), with or without Modifications, and/or as part of a Larger Work; and

(b) under Patent Claims infringed by the making, using or selling of Original Software, to make, have made, use, practice, sell, and offer for sale, and/or otherwise dispose of the Original Software (or portions thereof).

(c) The licenses granted in Sections 2.1(a) and (b) are effective on the date Initial Developer first distributes or otherwise makes the Original Software available to a third party under the terms of this License.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 2.1(b) above, no patent license is granted: (1) for code that You delete from the Original Software, or (2) for infringements caused by: (i) the modification of the Original Software, or (ii) the combination of the Original Software with other software or devices.

2.2. Contributor Grant.

Conditioned upon Your compliance with Section 3.1 below and subject to third party intellectual property claims, each Contributor hereby grants You a world-wide, royalty-free, non-exclusive license:

(a) under intellectual property rights (other than patent or trademark) Licensable by Contributor to use, reproduce, modify, display, perform, sublicense and distribute the Modifications created by such Contributor (or portions thereof), either on an unmodified basis, with other Modifications, as Covered Software and/or as part of a Larger Work; and

(b) under Patent Claims infringed by the making, using, or selling of Modifications made by that Contributor either alone and/or in combination with its Contributor Version (or portions of such combination), to make, use, sell, offer for sale, have made, and/or otherwise dispose of: (1) Modifications made by that Contributor (or portions thereof); and (2) the combination of Modifications made by that Contributor with its Contributor Version (or portions of such combination).

(c) The licenses granted in Sections 2.2(a) and 2.2(b) are effective on the date Contributor first distributes or otherwise makes the Modifications available to a third party.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 2.2(b) above, no patent license is granted: (1) for any code that Contributor has deleted from the Contributor Version; (2) for infringements caused by: (i) third party modifications of Contributor Version, or (ii) the combination of Modifications made by that Contributor with other software (except as part of the Contributor Version) or other devices; or (3) under Patent Claims infringed by Covered Software in the absence of Modifications made by that Contributor.

3. Distribution Obligations.

3.1. Availability of Source Code.

Any Covered Software that You distribute or otherwise make available in Executable form must also be made available in Source Code form and that Source Code form must be distributed only under the terms of this License. You must include a copy of this License with every copy of the Source Code form of the Covered Software You distribute or otherwise make available. You must inform recipients of any such Covered Software in Executable form as to how they can obtain such Covered Software in Source Code form in a reasonable manner on or through a medium customarily used for software exchange.

3.2. Modifications.

The Modifications that You create or to which You contribute are governed by the terms of this License. You represent that You believe Your Modifications are Your original creation(s) and/or You have sufficient rights to grant the rights conveyed by this License.

3.3. Required Notices.
You must include a notice in each of Your Modifications that identifies You as the Contributor of the Modification. You may not remove or alter any copyright, patent or trademark notices contained within the Covered Software, or any notices of licensing or any descriptive text giving attribution to any Contributor or the Initial Developer.

3.4. Application of Additional Terms.

You may not offer or impose any terms on any Covered Software in Source Code form that alters or restricts the applicable version of this License or the recipients rights hereunder. You may choose to offer, and to charge a fee for, warranty, support, indemnity or liability obligations to one or more recipients of Covered Software. However, you may do so only on Your own behalf, and not on behalf of the Initial Developer or any Contributor. You must make it absolutely clear that any such warranty, support, indemnity or liability obligation is offered by You alone, and You hereby agree to indemnify the Initial Developer and every Contributor for any liability incurred by the Initial Developer or such Contributor as a result of warranty, support, indemnity or liability terms You offer.

3.5. Distribution of Executable Versions.

You may distribute the Executable form of the Covered Software under the terms of this License or under the terms of a license of Your choice, which may contain terms different from this License, provided that You are in compliance with the terms of this License and that the license for the Executable form does not attempt to limit or alter the recipients rights in the Source Code form from the rights set forth in this License. If You distribute the Covered Software in Executable form under a different license, You must make it absolutely clear that any terms which differ from this License are offered by You alone, not by the Initial Developer or Contributor. You hereby agree to indemnify the Initial Developer and every Contributor for any liability incurred by the Initial Developer or such Contributor as a result of any such terms You offer.

You may create a Larger Work by combining Covered Software with other code not governed by the terms of this License and distribute the Larger Work as a single product. In such a case, You must make sure the requirements of this License are fulfilled for the Covered Software.

4. Versions of the License.

4.1. New Versions.

Oracle is the initial license steward and may publish revised and/or new versions of this License from time to time. Each version will be given a distinguishing version number. Except as provided in Section 4.3, no one other than the license steward has the right to modify this License.

4.2. Effect of New Versions.

You may always continue to use, distribute or otherwise make the Covered Software available under the terms of the version of the License under which You originally received the Covered Software. If the Initial Developer includes a notice in the Original Software prohibiting it from being distributed or otherwise made available under any subsequent version of the License, You must distribute and make the Covered Software available under the terms of the version of the License under which You originally received the Covered Software. Otherwise, You may also choose to use, distribute or otherwise make the Covered Software available under the terms of any subsequent version of the License published by the license steward.
4.3. Modified Versions.

When You are an Initial Developer and You want to create a new license for Your Original Software, You may create and use a modified version of this License if You: (a) rename the license and remove any references to the name of the license steward (except to note that the license differs from this License); and (b) otherwise make it clear that the license contains terms which differ from this License.

5. DISCLAIMER OF WARRANTY.
COVERED SOFTWARE IS PROVIDED UNDER THIS LICENSE ON AN AS IS BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, WARRANTIES THAT THE COVERED SOFTWARE IS FREE OF DEFECTS, MERCHANTABILITY, FIT FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE OR NON-INFRINGEMENT. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE COVERED SOFTWARE IS WITH YOU. SHOULD ANY COVERED SOFTWARE PROVE DEFECTIVE IN ANY RESPECT, YOU (NOT THE INITIAL DEVELOPER OR ANY OTHER CONTRIBUTOR) ASSUME THE COST OF ANY NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION. THIS DISCLAIMER OF WARRANTY CONSTITUTES AN ESSENTIAL PART OF THIS LICENSE. NO USE OF ANY COVERED SOFTWARE IS AUTHORIZED HEREUNDER EXCEPT UNDER THIS DISCLAIMER.

6. TERMINATION.

6.1. This License and the rights granted hereunder will terminate automatically if You fail to comply with terms herein and fail to cure such breach within 30 days of becoming aware of the breach. Provisions which, by their nature, must remain in effect beyond the termination of this License shall survive.

6.2. If You assert a patent infringement claim (excluding declaratory judgment actions) against Initial Developer or a Contributor (the Initial Developer or Contributor against whom You assert such claim is referred to as Participant) alleging that the Participant Software (meaning the Contributor Version where the Participant is a Contributor or the Original Software where the Participant is the Initial Developer) directly or indirectly infringes any patent, then any and all rights granted directly or indirectly to You by such Participant, the Initial Developer (if the Initial Developer is not the Participant) and all Contributors under Sections 2.1 and/or 2.2 of this License shall, upon 60 days notice from Participant terminate prospectively and automatically at the expiration of such 60 day notice period, unless if within such 60 day period You withdraw Your claim with respect to the Participant Software against such Participant either unilaterally or pursuant to a written agreement with Participant.

6.3. If You assert a patent infringement claim against Participant alleging that the Participant Software directly or indirectly infringes any patent where such claim is resolved (such as by license or settlement) prior to the initiation of patent infringement litigation, then the reasonable value of the licenses granted by such Participant under Sections 2.1 or 2.2 shall be taken into account in determining the amount or value of any payment or license.

6.4. In the event of termination under Sections 6.1 or 6.2 above, all end user licenses that have been validly granted by You or any distributor hereunder prior to termination (excluding licenses granted to You by any distributor) shall survive termination.

7. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY.
UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES AND UNDER NO LEGAL THEORY, WHETHER TORT (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), CONTRACT, OR OTHERWISE, SHALL YOU, THE INITIAL DEVELOPER, ANY OTHER CONTRIBUTOR, OR ANY DISTRIBUTOR OF COVERED SOFTWARE, OR ANY SUPPLIER OF ANY OF SUCH PARTIES, BE LIABLE TO ANY PERSON FOR ANY INDIRECT, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES OF ANY CHARACTER INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF GOODWILL, WORK STOPPAGE, COMPUTER FAILURE OR MALFUNCTION, OR ANY AND ALL OTHER COMMERCIAL DAMAGES OR LOSSES, EVEN IF SUCH PARTY SHALL HAVE BEEN INFORMED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES. THIS LIMITATION OF LIABILITY SHALL NOT APPLY TO LIABILITY FOR DEATH OR PERSONAL INJURY RESULTING FROM SUCH PARTY'S NEGLIGENCE TO THE EXTENT APPLICABLE LAW PROHIBITS SUCH LIMITATION. SOME JURISDICTIONS DO NOT ALLOW THE EXCLUSION OR LIMITATION OF INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, SO THIS EXCLUSION AND LIMITATION MAY NOT APPLY TO YOU.

8. U.S. GOVERNMENT END USERS.
The Covered Software is a commercial item, as that term is defined in 48 C.F.R. 2.101 (Oct. 1995), consisting of commercial computer software (as that term is defined at 48 C.F.R. 252.227-7014(a)(1)) and commercial computer software documentation as such terms are used in 48 C.F.R. 12.212 (Sept. 1995). Consistent with 48 C.F.R. 12.212 and 48 C.F.R. 227.7202-1 through 227.7202-4 (June 1995), all U.S. Government End Users acquire Covered Software with only those rights set forth herein. This U.S. Government Rights clause is in lieu of, and supersedes, any other FAR, DFAR, or other clause or provision that addresses Government rights in computer software under this License.

9. MISCELLANEOUS.
This License represents the complete agreement concerning subject matter hereof. If any provision of this License is held to be unenforceable, such provision shall be reformed only to the extent necessary to make it enforceable. This License shall be governed by the law of the jurisdiction specified in a notice contained within the Original Software (except to the extent applicable law, if any, provides otherwise), excluding such jurisdictions conflict-of-law provisions. Any litigation relating to this License shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts located in the jurisdiction and venue specified in a notice contained within the Original Software, with the losing party responsible for costs, including, without limitation, court costs and reasonable attorneys fees and expenses. The application of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods is expressly excluded. Any law or regulation which provides that the language of a contract shall be construed against the drafter shall not apply to this License. You agree that You alone are responsible for compliance with the United States export administration regulations (and the export control laws and regulation of any other countries) when You use, distribute or otherwise make available any Covered Software.

10. RESPONSIBILITY FOR CLAIMS.
As between Initial Developer and the Contributors, each party is responsible for claims and damages arising, directly or indirectly, out of its utilization of rights under this License and You agree to work with Initial Developer and Contributors to distribute such responsibility on an equitable basis. Nothing herein is intended or shall be deemed to constitute any admission of liability.

NOTICE PURSUANT TO SECTION 9 OF THE COMMON DEVELOPMENT AND DISTRIBUTION LICENSE (CDDL)

The code released under the CDDL shall be governed by the laws of the State of California (excluding conflict-of-law provisions). Any litigation relating to this License shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts of the Northern District of California and the state courts of the State of California, with venue lying in Santa Clara County, California.

GNU GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
Version 2, June 1991

Copyright (C) 1989, 1991 Free Software Foundation, Inc.,
51 Franklin Street, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301 USA
Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

Preamble

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it.  By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users.  This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it.  (Some other Free Software Foundation software is covered by the GNU Lesser General Public License instead.)  You can apply it to your programs, too.
When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with two steps: (1) copyright the software, and (2) offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the software.

Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

GNU GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The "Program", below, refers to any such program or work, and a "work based on the Program" means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it.
either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification".) Each licensee is addressed as "you".

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

a) You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

b) You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

c) If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License. (Exception: if the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.)

and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

3. You may copy and distribute the Program (or a work based on it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you also do one of the following:

a) Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

b) Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

c) Accompany it with the information you received as to the offer to distribute corresponding source code. (This alternative is allowed only for noncommercial distribution and only if you received the program in object code or executable form with such an offer, in accord with Subsection b above.)

The source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For an executable work, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the executable. However, as a special exception, the source code distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component

itself accompanies the executable.

If distribution of executable or object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place counts as distribution of the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

4. You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Program except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Program is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

5. You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Program or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Program (or any work based on the Program), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Program or works based on it.

6. Each time you redistribute the Program (or any work based on the Program), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute or modify the Program subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients’ exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.

7. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Program at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Program by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Program.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system, which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

8. If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

9. The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and “any later version”, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

10. If you wish to incorporate parts of the Program into other free programs whose distribution conditions are different, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

NO WARRANTY
11. BECAUSE THE PROGRAM IS LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE PROGRAM, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW. EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE PROGRAM "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE PROGRAM IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE PROGRAM PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

12. IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MAY MODIFY AND/OR REDISTRIBUTE THE PROGRAM AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE PROGRAM (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE PROGRAM TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER PROGRAMS), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

END OF TERMS AND CONDITIONS

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Programs

If you develop a new program, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, the best way to achieve this is to make it free software which everyone can redistribute and change under these terms.

To do so, attach the following notices to the program. It is safest to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively convey the exclusion of warranty; and each file should have at least the "copyright" line and a pointer to where the full notice is found.

<one line to give the program's name and a brief idea of what it does.>
Copyright (C) <year> <name of author>

This program is free software; you can redistribute it and/or modify it under the terms of the GNU General Public License as published by the Free Software Foundation; either version 2 of the License, or (at your option) any later version.

This program is distributed in the hope that it will be useful, but WITHOUT ANY WARRANTY; without even the implied warranty of MERCHANTABILITY or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. See the GNU General Public License for more details.

Also add information on how to contact you by electronic and paper mail.

If the program is interactive, make it output a short notice like this when it starts in an interactive mode:

Gnomovision version 69, Copyright (C) year name of author
Gnomovision comes with ABSOLUTELY NO WARRANTY; for details type `show w'.
This is free software, and you are welcome to redistribute it under certain conditions; type `show c' for details.

The hypothetical commands `show w' and `show c' should show the appropriate parts of the General Public License. Of course, the commands you use may be called something other than `show w' and `show c'; they could even be mouse-clicks or menu items--whatever suits your program.

You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or your school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the program, if necessary. Here is a sample; alter the names:

Yoyodyne, Inc., hereby disclaims all copyright interest in the program 'Gnomovision' (which makes passes at compilers) written by James Hacker.

<signature of Ty Coon>, 1 April 1989
Ty Coon, President of Vice

This General Public License does not permit incorporating your program into proprietary programs. If your program is a subroutine library, you may consider it more useful to permit linking proprietary applications with the library. If this is what you want to do, use the GNU Lesser General Public License instead of this License.

This document is freely plagiarised from the ‘Artistic Licence’, distributed as part of the Perl v4.0 kit by Larry Wall, which is available from most major archive sites. I stole it from CrackLib.

This documents purpose is to state the conditions under which this Package (See definition below) viz: "Shadow", the Shadow Password Suite which is held by Julianne Frances Haugh, may be copied, such that the copyright holder maintains some semblance of artistic control over the development of the package, while giving the users of the package the right to use and distribute the Package in a more-or-less customary fashion, plus the right to make reasonable modifications.

So there.

***************************************************************************

Definitions:

A "Package" refers to the collection of files distributed by the Copyright Holder, and derivatives of that collection of files created through textual modification, or segments thereof.

"Standard Version" refers to such a Package if it has not been modified, or has been modified in accordance with the wishes of the Copyright Holder.

"Copyright Holder" is whoever is named in the copyright or copyrights for the package.

"You" is you, if you're thinking about copying or distributing this Package.

"Reasonable copying fee" is whatever you can justify on the basis of media cost, duplication charges, time of people involved, and so on. (You will not be required to justify it to the Copyright Holder, but only to the computing community at large as a market that must bear the fee.)

"Freely Available" means that no fee is charged for the item itself, though there may be fees involved in handling the item. It also means that recipients of the item may redistribute it under the same conditions they received it.

1. You may make and give away verbatim copies of the source form of the Standard Version of this Package without restriction, provided that you duplicate all of the original copyright notices and associated disclaimers.

2. You may apply bug fixes, portability fixes and other modifications derived from the Public Domain or from the Copyright Holder. A Package modified in such a way shall still be considered the Standard Version.

3. You may otherwise modify your copy of this Package in any way, provided that you insert a prominent notice in each changed file stating how and when AND WHY you changed that file, and provided that you do at least ONE of the following:

   a) place your modifications in the Public Domain or otherwise make them Freely Available, such as by posting said modifications to Usenet or an equivalent medium, or placing the modifications on a major archive site such as uunet.uu.net, or by allowing the Copyright Holder to include your modifications in the Standard Version of the Package.

   b) use the modified Package only within your corporation or organization.

   c) rename any non-standard executables so the names do not conflict with standard executables, which must also be provided, and provide separate documentation for each non-standard executable that clearly documents how it differs from the Standard Version.
d) make other distribution arrangements with the Copyright Holder.

4. You may distribute the programs of this Package in object code or executable form, provided that you do at least ONE of the following:

a) distribute a Standard Version of the executables and library files, together with instructions (in the manual page or equivalent) on where to get the Standard Version.

b) accompany the distribution with the machine-readable source of the Package with your modifications.

c) accompany any non-standard executables with their corresponding Standard Version executables, giving the non-standard executables non-standard names, and clearly documenting the differences in manual pages (or equivalent), together with instructions on where to get the Standard Version.

d) make other distribution arrangements with the Copyright Holder.

5. You may charge a reasonable copying fee for any distribution of this Package. You may charge any fee you choose for support of this Package. YOU MAY NOT CHARGE A FEE FOR THIS PACKAGE ITSELF. However, you may distribute this Package in aggregate with other (possibly commercial) programs as part of a larger (possibly commercial) software distribution provided that YOU DO NOT ADVERTISE this package as a product of your own.

6. The name of the Copyright Holder may not be used to endorse or promote products derived from this software without specific prior written permission.

7. THIS PACKAGE IS PROVIDED "AS IS" AND WITHOUT ANY EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

Preamble

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your

By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software—to make sure the software is free for all its users. This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it. When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with two steps: (1) copyright the software, and (2) offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the software.

Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

GNU GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The "Program", below, refers to any such program or work, and a "work based on the Program" means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

   a) You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

   b) You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

   c) If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide...
a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License. (Exception: if the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

3. You may copy and distribute the Program (or a work based on it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you also do one of the following:

a) Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

b) Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

c) Accompany it with the information you received as to the offer to distribute corresponding source code. (This alternative is allowed only for noncommercial distribution and only if you received the program in object code or executable form with such an offer, in accord with Subsection b above.)

making modifications to it. For an executable work, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the executable. However, as a special exception, the source code distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

If distribution of executable or object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place counts as distribution of the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

4. You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Program except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Program is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

5. You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Program or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Program (or any work based on the Program), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Program or works based on it.

6. Each time you redistribute the Program (or any work based on the Program), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute or modify the Program subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.

7. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Program at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Program by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Program.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system, which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

8. If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

9. The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and "any later version", you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

10. If you wish to incorporate parts of the Program into other free programs whose distribution conditions are different, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

NO WARRANTY

11. BECAUSE THE PROGRAM IS LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE PROGRAM, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW. EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE PROGRAM "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE PROGRAM IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE PROGRAM PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

12. IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MAY MODIFY AND/OR REDISTRIBUTE THE PROGRAM AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE PROGRAM (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE PROGRAM TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER PROGRAMS), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USE, REPRODUCTION, AND DISTRIBUTION

1. Definitions.

"License" shall mean the terms and conditions for use, reproduction, and distribution as defined by Sections 1 through 9 of this document.

"Licensor" shall mean the copyright owner or entity authorized by the copyright owner that is granting the License.
"Legal Entity" shall mean the union of the acting entity and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with that entity. For the purposes of this definition, "control" means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of such entity, whether by contract or otherwise, or (ii) ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the outstanding shares, or (iii) beneficial ownership of such entity.

"You" (or "Your") shall mean an individual or Legal Entity exercising permissions granted by this License.

"Source" form shall mean the preferred form for making modifications, including but not limited to software source code, documentation source, and configuration files.

"Object" form shall mean any form resulting from mechanical transformation or translation of a Source form, including but not limited to compiled object code, generated documentation, and conversions to other media types.

"Work" shall mean the work of authorship, whether in Source or Object form, made available under the License, as indicated by a copyright notice that is included in or attached to the work (an example is provided in the Appendix below).

"Derivative Works" shall mean any work, whether in Source or Object form, that is based on (or derived from) the Work and for which the editorial revisions, annotations, elaborations, or other modifications represent, as a whole, an original work of authorship. For the purposes of this License, Derivative Works shall not include works that remain separable from, or merely link (or bind by name) to the interfaces of, the Work and Derivative Works thereof.

"Contribution" shall mean any work of authorship, including the original version of the Work and any modifications or additions to that Work or Derivative Works thereof, that is intentionally submitted to Licensor for inclusion in the Work by the copyright owner or by an individual or Legal Entity authorized to submit on behalf of the copyright owner. For the purposes of this definition, "submitted" means any form of electronic, verbal, or written communication sent to the Licensor or its representatives, including but not limited to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the Licensor for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work, but excluding communication that is conspicuously marked or otherwise designated in writing by the copyright owner as "Not a Contribution."

"Contributor" shall mean Licensor and any individual or Legal Entity on behalf of whom a Contribution has been received by Licensor and subsequently incorporated within the Work.

2. Grant of Copyright License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, prepare Derivative Works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute the Work and such Derivative Works in Source or Object form.

3. Grant of Patent License. Subject to the terms and conditions of this License, each Contributor hereby grants to You a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer the Work, where such license applies only to those patent claims licensable by such Contributor that are necessarily infringed by their Contribution(s) alone or by combination of their Contribution(s) with the Work to which such Contribution(s) was submitted. If You institute patent litigation against any entity (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the Work or a Contribution incorporated within the Work constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to You under this License for that Work shall terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. Redistribution. You may reproduce and distribute copies of the Work or Derivative Works thereof in any medium, with or without modifications, and in Source or Object form, provided that You meet the following conditions:

   (a) You must give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and

   (b) You must cause any modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

   (c) You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

   (d) If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

You may add Your own copyright statement to Your modifications and may provide additional or different license terms and conditions for use, reproduction, or distribution of Your modifications, or for any such Derivative Works as a whole, provided Your use, reproduction, and distribution of the Work otherwise complies with the conditions stated in this License.

5. Submission of Contributions. Unless You explicitly state otherwise, any Contribution intentionally submitted for inclusion in the Work by You to the Licensor shall be under the terms and conditions of this License, without any additional terms or conditions. Notwithstanding the above, nothing herein shall supersede or modify the terms of any separate license agreement you may have executed with Licensor regarding such Contributions.

6. Trademarks. This License does not grant permission to use the trade names, trademarks, service marks, or product names of the Licensor, except as required for reasonable and customary use in describing the origin of the Work and reproducing the content of the NOTICE file.

7. Disclaimer of Warranty. Unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing, Licensor provides the Work (and each Contributor provides its Contributions) on an "AS IS" BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. You are solely responsible for determining the appropriateness of using or redistributing the Work and assume any risks associated with Your exercise of permissions under this License.

8. Limitation of Liability. In no event and under no legal theory, whether in tort (including negligence), contract, or otherwise, unless required by applicable law (such as deliberate and grossly negligent acts) or agreed to in writing, shall any Contributor be liable to You for damages, including any direct, indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages of any character arising as a result of this License or out of the use or inability to use the Work (including but not limited to damages for loss of goodwill, work stoppage, computer failure or malfunction, or any and all other commercial damages or losses), even if such Contributor has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

9. Accepting Warranty or Additional Liability. While redistributing the Work or Derivative Works thereof, You may choose to offer, and charge a fee for, acceptance of support, warranty, indemnity,
or other liability obligations and/or rights consistent with this License. However, in accepting such obligations, You may act only on Your own behalf and on Your sole responsibility, not on behalf of any other Contributor, and only if You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold each Contributor harmless for any liability
incurred by, or claims asserted against, such Contributor by reason of your accepting any such warranty or additional liability.

APPENDIX: How to apply the Apache License to your work.

To apply the Apache License to your work, attach the following boilerplate notice, with the fields enclosed by brackets "[]"
replaced with your own identifying information. (Don't include the brackets!) The text should be enclosed in the appropriate comment syntax for the file format. We also recommend that a file or class name and description of purpose be included on the same "printed page" as the copyright notice for easier
identification within third-party archives.

The purpose of this License is to make a manual, textbook, or other written "document <quote>free</quote> in the sense of freedom: to assure everyone the "effective freedom to copy and redistribute it, with or without modifying it, "either commercially or noncommercially. Vorwort

Die meisten Softwarelizenzen sind daraufhin entworfen worden, Ihnen die Freiheit zu nehmen, die Software weiterzugeben und zu verändern. Im Gegensatz dazu sollen Ihnen die GNU General Public Licenses, die Allgemeinen öffentlichen GNU-Lizenzen, ebendiese Freiheit des Weitergebens und Veränderns garantieren und somit sicherstellen, dass diese Software für alle Benutzer frei ist.

Die Bezeichnung freie Software bezieht sich auf Freiheit der Nutzung, nicht auf den Preis. Unsere Allgemeinen öffentlichen Lizenzen sollen sicherstellen, dass Sie die Freiheit haben, Kopien freier Software zu verbreiten (und etwas für diesen Service zu berechnen, wenn Sie möchten), dass Sie die Software im Quelltext erhalten oder den Quelltext auf Wunsch bekommen können, dass Sie die Software ändern oder Teile davon in neuen freien Programmen verwenden dürfen, und dass Sie darüber informiert sind, dass Sie dies alles tun dürfen.

Diese Lizenz, die Kleine Allgemeine öffentliche Lizenz (Lesser General Public License), gilt für einige besonders bezeichnete Software-Pakete typischerweise Programmbibliotheken von der Free Software Foundation und anderen Autoren, die beschrieben, diese Lizenz zu verwenden. Auch Sie können sie verwenden; wir empfehlen aber, vorher gründlich darüber nachzudenken, ob diese Lizenz (LGPL) oder aber die gewöhnliche Allgemeine öffentliche Lizenz (GPL) die bessere Strategie zur Anwendung im jeweiligen speziellen Fall ist. Dabei bieten Ihnen die untenstehenden Erläuterungen eine Grundlage für Ihre Entscheidung.

Die Bezeichnung freie Software bezieht sich auf Freiheit der Nutzung, nicht auf den Preis. Unsere Allgemeinen öffentlichen Lizenzen sollen sicherstellen, dass Sie die Freiheit haben, Kopien freier Software zu verbreiten (und etwas für diesen Service zu berechnen, wenn Sie möchten), dass Sie die Software im Quelltext erhalten oder den Quelltext auf Wunsch bekommen können, dass Sie die Software ändern oder Teile davon in neuen freien Programmen verwenden dürfen, und dass Sie darüber informiert sind, dass Sie dies alles tun dürfen.
Um Ihre Rechte zu schützen, müssen wir Einschränkungen machen, die es jedem, der die Software weiter gibt, verbieten, Ihnen diese Rechte zu verweigern oder Sie zum Verzicht auf diese Rechte aufzufordern. Aus diesen Einschränkungen ergeben sich bestimmte Verantwortlichkeiten für Sie, wenn Sie Kopien der Bibliothek verbreiten oder sie verändern.

Beispielsweise müssen Sie den Empfängern alle Rechte gewähren, die wir Ihnen eingeräumt haben, wenn Sie kostenlos oder gegen Bezahlung Kopien der Bibliothek verbreiten. Sie müssen sicherstellen, dass auch die Empfänger den Quelltext erhalten bzw. erhalten können. Wenn Sie einen anderen Code mit der Bibliothek verknüpfen, müssen Sie den Empfängern die vollständigen Objekt-Dateien zukommen lassen, so dass sie selbst diesen Code mit der Bibliothek neu verändern, auch nachdem sie Veränderungen an der Bibliothek vorgenommen und sie neu compiliert haben. Und Sie müssen ihnen diese Bedingungen zeigen, damit sie Ihre Rechte kennen.

Wir schätzen Ihre Rechte in zwei Schritten: (1) Wir stellen die Bibliothek unter ein Urheberrecht (Copyright), und (2) wir bieten Ihnen diese Lizenz an, die Ihnen das Recht gibt, die Bibliothek zu vervielfältigen, zu verbreiten und/oder zu verändern.

Um jeden, der die Software weiter gibt, zu schützen, wollen wir darüber hinaus vollkommen klarstellen, dass für diese freie Bibliothek keinerlei Garantie besteht. Auch sollten, falls die Software von jemand anderem modifiziert und weitergegeben wird, die Empfänger wissen, dass sie nicht das Original erhalten haben, damit irgendwelche von anderen verursachte Probleme nicht den Ruf des ursprünglichen Autors schädigen.

Schließlich und endlich stellen Software-Patente die Existenz jedes freien Programms eine ständige Bedrohung dar. Wir möchten sicherstellen, dass keine Firma den Benutzern eines freien Programms Einschränkungen auferlegen kann, indem sie von einem Patentinhaber eine die freie Nutzung einschränkende Lizenz erwirbt. Deshalb bestehen wir darauf, dass jegliche eine Version der Bibliothek erprobte Patentlizenz mit der in dieser Lizenz (also der LGPL) im einzelnen angegebenen Nutzungsfreiheit voll vereinbar sein muss.

Die meiste GNU-Software einschließlich einiger Bibliotheken fällt unter die gewöhnliche Allgemeine öffentliche GNU-Lizenz (GNU-GPL). Die vorliegende Lizenz, also die GNU-LGPL, gilt für gewisse nacherklärte Bibliotheken. Sie unterscheidet sich wesentlich von der gewöhnlichen Allgemeinen öffentlichen Lizenz (GNU-GPL). Wir benutzen diese Lizenz, um das Linken (d.h. die Verknüpfung von Bibliotheken und anderen Programmteilen zu einem lauffähigen Programm) von Programmen, die nicht frei sind, mit diesen Bibliotheken zu gestatten.

Wenn ein Programm mit einer Bibliothek gelinkt wurde, sei es nun statisch oder dynamisch, so ist die Kombination der beiden, rechtlich gesehen, ein kombiniertes Werk, also eine abgeleitete Version der Original-Bibliothek. Die gewöhnliche GPL erlaubt ein solches Linken nur dann, wenn die ganze Kombination die Kriterien für freie Software erfüllt. Die LGPL erlaubt dagegen weniger strenge Kriterien für das Linken von irgendeiner anderen Software mit der Bibliothek.

So kann, wenn auch nur bei seltenen Gelegenheiten, eine besondere Notwendigkeit bestehen, einen Anreiz zur möglichst weitgehenden Benutzung einer bestimmten Bibliothek zu schaffen, so da diese dann ein De-facto-Standard wird. Um dies zu erreichen, müssen nichtfreie Programme die Bibliothek benutzen dürfen. Ein häufiger Fall ist der, da eine freie Bibliothek dasselbe leistet wie weithin benutzte nichtfreie Bibliotheken. In diesem Falle bringt es wenig Nutzen, die freie Bibliothek allein auf freie Software zu beschränken, und dann benutzen wir eben die LGPL.</para>

In anderen Fällen ermöglicht die Erlaubnis zur Benutzung einer speziellen Bibliothek in nichtfreien Programmen viel mehr Leuten, eine umfangreiche Sammlung freier Software zu nutzen. So ermöglicht z.B. die Erlaubnis zur Benutzung der GNU-C-Bibliothek in nichtfreien Programmen einer viel größeren Zahl von Leuten, das ganze GNU-Betriebssystem ebenso wie seine Variante, das Betriebssystem GNU/Linux, zu benutzen.</para>

Obwohl die LGPL die Freiheit des Benutzers weniger schützt, stellt sie doch sicher, dass der Benutzer eines Programms, das mit der Bibliothek gelinkt wurde, die Freiheit und die erforderlichen Mittel hat, das Programm unter Benutzung einer abgeänderten Version der Bibliothek zu betreiben.</para>

Die genau genauen Bedingungen für das Kopieren, Weitergeben und Abändern finden Sie im nachstehenden Kapitel. Achten Sie genau auf den Unterschied zwischen "work based on the library", d.h. Werk, das auf der Bibliothek basiert, und "work that uses the library" d.h. Werk, das die Bibliothek benutzt. Ersteres enthält Code, der von der Bibliothek abgeleitet ist, während letzteres lediglich mit der Bibliothek kombiniert werden muss, um betriebsfähig zu sein.</para>

Die genau genauen Bedingungen für das Kopieren, Weitergeben und Abändern finden Sie im nachstehenden Kapitel. Achten Sie genau auf den Unterschied zwischen "work based on the library", d.h. Werk, das auf der Bibliothek basiert, und "work that uses the library" d.h. Werk, das die Bibliothek benutzt. Ersteres enthält Code, der von der Bibliothek abgeleitet ist, während letzteres lediglich mit der Bibliothek kombiniert werden muss, um betriebsfähig zu sein.</para>

Eine "Bibliothek" bedeutet eine Zusammenstellung von Software-Funktionen und/oder Daten, die so vorbereitet ist, dass sie sich bequem mit Anwendungsprogrammen (welche einige dieser Funktionen und Daten benutzen) zum Bilden von ausführbaren Programmen linken (d.h. verbinden, kombinieren) lässt.</para>

Der Begriff "Bibliothek" bezieht sich im weiteren immer nur auf solche Software-Bibliotheken und solche Werke, die unter diesen Bedingungen der Lesser-GPL-Lizenz verbreitet worden sind. Ein "auf der Bibliothek basierendes Werk" bezeichnet die betreffende Bibliothek selbst sowie jegliche davon abgeleitete Bearbeitung im urheberrechtlichen Sinne, also ein Werk, welches die Bibliothek oder einen Teil davon, sei es unverändert oder verändert und/oder direkt in eine andere Sprache übersetzt, enthält. (Im folgenden wird die Übersetzung ohne Einschränkung als "Bearbeitung" eingestuft.)</para>

Unter dem "Quelltext" eines Werks ist seine für das Vornehmen von Veränderungen bevorzugte Form zu verstehen. Fr eine Bibliothek bedeutet "vollständiger Quelltext" den gesamten Quelltext fr alle in ihr enthaltenen Bestandteile, fr jegliche zu ihr gehörigen Dateien zur Definition von Schnittstellen und schließlich auch fr die Skripte, die zur Steuerung der Kompilierung und Installation der Bibliothek benutzt werden.</para> Andere Handlungen als Vervielfältigung, Verbreitung und Bearbeitung werden von dieser Lizenz nicht berührt; sie fallen nicht in ihren Anwendungsbereich. Das Ausführen eines Programms unter Benutzung der Bibliothek wird nicht eingeschränkt, und die Ausgaben des Programms unterliegen dieser Lizenz nur dann, wenn der Inhalt ein auf der Bibliothek basierendes Werk darstellt (unabhängig davon, dass die Bibliothek in einem Werkzeug zum Schreiben dieses Programms benutzt wurde). Ob dies zutrifft, hängt davon ab, was die Bibliothek bewirkt und was das Programm, das die Bibliothek nutzt, bewirkt.</para>

Sie dürfen auf beliebigen Medien unveränderte Kopien des vollständigen Quelltextes des Programms so, wie sie ihn erhalten haben, anfertigen und verbreiten. Voraussetzung hierfür ist, dass Sie mit jeder Kopie deutlich erkennbar und in angemessener Form einen entsprechenden Copyright-Vermerk sowie einen Haftungsausschluss veröffentlichen, alle Vermerke, die sich auf diese Lizenz und das Fehlen einer Garantie beziehen, unverändert lassen und zusammen mit der Bibliothek jeweils eine Kopie dieser Lizenz weitergeben.</para>

Sie dürfen für den eigentlichen Kopier- und Versandvorgang eine Gebühr verlangen. Wenn Sie es wünschen, dürfen Sie auch gegen Entgelt eine Garantie anbieten.</para>

Sie dürfen Ihre Kopie(n) der Bibliothek oder irgendeines Teils davon verändern, wodurch ein auf der Bibliothek basierendes Werk entsteht, und Sie dürfen derartige Bearbeitungen unter den Bestimmungen von Paragraph 1 vervielfältigen und verbreiten, vorausgesetzt, dass zusätzlich alle im folgenden genannten Bedingungen erfüllt werden: <orderedlist numeration="loweralpha">
<li>Das Bearbeitungsergebnis mu selbst wieder eine Software-Bibliothek sein.</li>
<li>Sie müssen die veränderten Dateien mit einem auffälligen Vermerk versehen, der auf die von Ihnen vorgenommene Modifizierung der Dateien hinweist und das Datum jeder niederer Angibt.</li>
<li>Sie müssen dafür sorgen, dass das Werk als Ganzes Dritten unter den Bedingungen dieser Lizenz ohne Lizenzgebühren zur Verfügung gestellt wird.</li>
</orderedlist>(So hat z.B. eine Funktion zum Berechnen von Quadratwurzeln einen von der Anwendung unabhängigen Diese Anforderungen gelten für das bearbeitete Werk als Ganzes. Wenn identifizierbare Teile davon nicht von der Bibliothek stammen und vernünftigerweise als unabhängige und gesonderte Werke für sich selbst zu betrachten sind, dann gelten diese Lizenz und ihre Bedingungen nicht für die betreffenden Teile, wenn Sie diese als gesonderte Werke weitergeben. Wenn Sie jedoch dieselben Teile als Teil eines Ganzen weitergeben, das ein auf der Bibliothek basierendes Werk darstellt, dann muss die Weitergabe dieses Ganzen nach den Bedingungen dieser Lizenz erfolgen, deren Bedingungen für weitere Lizenznehmer somit auf das gesamte Ganze ausgedehnt werden und somit auf jeden einzelnen Teil, unabhängig vom jeweiligen Autor.</para>

Somit ist es nicht die Absicht dieses Abschnittes, Rechte für Werke in Anspruch zu nehmen oder Ihnen Rechte für Werke streitig zu machen, die komplett von Ihnen geschrieben wurden; vielmehr ist es die Absicht, die
Rechte zur Kontrolle der Verbreitung von Werken, die auf der Bibliothek basieren oder unter ihrer auszugsweisen Verwendung zusammengestellt worden sind, auszublenden.</para>

Ferner bringt auch das einfache Zusammenlegen eines anderen Werkes, das nicht auf der Bibliothek basiert, mit der Bibliothek oder mit einem auf der Bibliothek basierenden Werk auf ein- und demselben Speicher-oder Vertriebsmedium dieses andere Werk nicht in den Anwendungsbereich dieser Lizenz.</para>

Sie können sich für die Anwendung der Bedingungen der gewöhnlichen Allgemeinen öffentlichen GNU-Lizenz (GNU-GPL) statt dieser Lizenz auf eine gegebene Kopie der Bibliothek entscheiden. Um dies zu tun, müssen Sie alle Eintragungen, die sich auf diese Lizenz beziehen,ndern, so dass sie nun für die gewöhnliche GNU-GPL, Version 2, statt für diese Lizenz (LGPL) gelten. (Wenn eine neuere Version als Version 2 der gewöhnlichen GNU-GPL erschienen ist, können Sie diese angeben, wenn Sie das wünschen.) Nehmen Sie keine anderen Veränderungen in diesen Eintragungen vor.</para>

Wenn diese Veränderung in einer gegebenen Kopie einmal vorgenommen ist, dann ist sie für diese Kopie nicht mehr zurücknehmbar, und somit gilt dann die gewöhnliche GNU-GPL für alle nachfolgenden Kopien und abgeleiteten Werke, die von dieser Kopie gemacht worden sind.</para>

Diese Option ist nützlich, wenn Sie einen Teil des Codes der Bibliothek in ein Programm kopieren wollen, das keine Bibliothek ist.</para>

Sie können die Bibliothek (oder einen Teil oder eine Ableitung von ihr, gemäß Paragraph 2 in Objektcode-Form oder in ausführbarer Form unter den Bedingungen der obigen Paragraphen <link linkend="sect1">1</link> und <link linkend="sect2">2</link> kopieren und weitergeben, sofern Sie den vollständigen entsprechenden maschinenlesbaren Quelltext beifügen, der unter den Bedingungen der obigen Paragraphen <link linkend="sect1">1</link> und <link linkend="sect2">2</link> auf einem Medium weitergegeben werden muss, das blicherweise zum Austausch von Software benutzt wird.</para>

<sect2 id="sect5" label="5">
<title>Paragraph 5</title>

<para>Ein Programm, das nichts von irgendeinem Teil der Bibliothek Abgeleitetes enthält, aber darauf ausgelegt ist, mit der Bibliothek zusammenzuarbeiten, indem es mit ihr compiliert oder gelinkt wird, nennt man ein <quote>Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt</quote>. Solch ein Werk, fr sich allein genommen, ist kein von der Bibliothek abgeleitetes Werk und flß daher nicht unter diese Lizenz.</para>

<para>Wird jedoch ein <quote>Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt</quote>, mit der Bibliothek gelinkt, so entsteht ein ausführbares Programm, das ein von der Bibliothek abgeleitetes Werk (weil es Teile der Bibliothek enthält) und kein <quote>Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt</quote> ist. Das ausführbare Programm flß daher unter diese Lizenz. <link linkend="sect6">Paragraph 6</link> gibt die Bedingungen fr die Weitergabe solcher ausführbarer Programme an.</para>

<para>Wenn ein <quote>Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt</quote>, Material aus einer Header-Datei verwendet, die Teil der Bibliothek ist, dann kann der Objektcode fr das Werk ein von der Bibliothek abgeleitetes Werk sein, selbst wenn der Quelltext dies nicht ist. Ob dies jeweils zutrifft, ist besonders dann von Bedeutung, wenn das Werk ohne die Bibliothek gelinkt werden kann oder wenn das Werk selbst eine Bibliothek ist. Die genaue Grenze, von der an dies zutrifft, ist rechtlich nicht genau definiert.</para>

<para>Wenn solch eine Objekdatei nur numerische Parameter, Datenstruktur-Layouts und Zugriffsfunktionen sowie kleine Makros und kleine Inlinefunktionen (zehn Zeilen lang oder krzer) benutzt, dann unterliegt die Benutzung der Objekdatei keinen Beschränkungen, ohne Rücksicht darauf, ob es rechtlich gesehen ein abgeleitetes Werk ist. (Auszuführbare Programme, welche diesen Objektcode plus Teile der Bibliothek enthalten, fallen jedoch weiterhin unter die Bestimmungen von <link linkend="sect6">Paragraph 6</link>).</para>

<para>Ansonsten können Sie, wenn das Werk ein von der Bibliothek abgeleitetes ist, den Objektcode fr das Werk unter den Bedingungen von <link linkend="sect6">Paragraph 6</link> weitergeben. Alle ausführbaren Programme, welche dieses Werk enthalten, fallen ebenfalls unter <link linkend="sect6">Paragraph 6</link>, gleichgültig, ob sie direkt mit der Bibliothek selbst gelinkt sind oder nicht.</para>

<sect2 id="sect6" label="6">
<title>Paragraph 6</title>

<para>Als Ausnahme von den Bestimmungen der vorstehenden fnf Paragraphen drfen Sie auch ein Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt, mit der Bibliothek kombinieren oder linken, um ein Werk zu erzeugen, das Teile der Bibliothek enthält, und dieses unter Bedingungen ihrer eigenen Wahl weitergeben, sofern diese Bedingungen Bearbeitungen für den eigenen Gebrauch des Empfängers und ein Rekbinde (reverse engineering) zum Beheben von Mängeln solcher Bearbeitungen gestatten.

Sie müssen bei jeder Kopie des Werks deutlich erkennbar angeben, dass die Bibliothek darin genutzt wird und dass die Bibliothek und ihre Benutzung durch die Lizenz abgedeckt sind. Sie müssen eine Kopie dieser Lizenz mitgeben. Wenn das Werk bei seiner Ausführung Copyright-Vermerke anzeigt, müssen Sie den Copyright-Vermerk für die Bibliothek mit anzeigen lassen und dem Benutzer einen Hinweis geben, der ihn zu einer Kopie dieser Lizenz führt. Ferner müssen Sie eines der nachfolgend genannten fünf Dinge tun: Liefern Sie das Werk zusammen mit dem vollständigen zugehörigen maschinengespeisten Quelltext der Bibliothek aus, und zwar einschließlich jeglicher in dem Werk angewandter Überarbeitungen, die den Bedingungen der Paragraphen 1 und 2 folgen müssen; und wenn das Werk ein ausführbares, mit der Bibliothek gekoppeltes Programm ist, dann liefern Sie es zusammen mit dem vollständigen maschinengespeisten Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt, in Form von Objektkode und/oder Quelltext, so dass der Benutzer die Bibliothek verändern und dann erneut linken kann, um ein verändertes ausführbares Programm zu erzeugen, das die veränderte Bibliothek enthält. (Es versteht sich, dass der Benutzer, der die Inhalte von Definitionsdateien in der veränderten Bibliothek verändert, nicht notwendigerweise in der Lage sein wird, die Anwendung neu zu kompilieren, um die veränderten Definitionen zu benutzen.)

Wenn die Weitergabe des Werks dadurch erfolgt, dass die Möglichkeit des Abrufens einer Kopie von einem bestimmten Ort angeboten wird, bieten Sie gleichwertigen Zugang zum Kopieren der oben angegebenen Materialien von dem gleichen Ort an.

Sie verwissem sich, dass der Benutzer bereits eine Kopie dieser Materialien erhalten hat oder dass Sie diesem Benutzer bereits eine Kopie geschickt haben.

reproduzieren. Doch gilt eine spezielle Ausnahme: Die weiterzugebenden Materialien brauchen nicht alles das zu enthalten, was normalerweise (in Quelltext-Form oder in binärer Form) mit den Hauptbestandteilen (Compiler, Kern usw.) des Betriebssystems, auf denen das ausführbare Programm laufen, weitergegeben wird, es sei denn, das ausführbare Programm gehört selbst zu diesem Hauptbestandteil.

Es kann vorkommen, dass diese Anforderung im Widerspruch zu Lizenzbeschränkungen anderer, proprietärer Bibliotheken steht, die normalerweise nicht zum Betriebssystem gehören. Ein solcher Widerspruch bedeutet, dass Sie nicht gleichzeitig jene proprietären Bibliotheken und die vorliegende Bibliothek zusammen in einem ausführbaren Programm, das Sie weitergeben, verwenden dürfen.

Sie dürfen Bibliotheks-Funktionseinheiten, die ein auf der Bibliothek basierendes Werk darstellen, zusammen mit anderen, nicht unter diese Lizenz fallenden Funktionseinheiten in eine einzelne Bibliothek einbauen und eine solche kombinierte Bibliothek weitergeben, vorausgesetzt, da die gesonderte Weitergabe des auf der Bibliothek basierenden Werks einerseits und der anderen Funktionseinheiten andererseits ansonsten gestattet ist, und vorausgesetzt, da Sie folgende zwei Dinge tun:

Sie dürfen die Bibliothek nicht vervielfältigen, verändern, weiter lizenzieren oder verbreiten oder mit ihr verlinken, sofern es nicht durch diese Lizenz ausdrücklich gestattet ist. Jeder anderweitige Versuch der Vervielfältigung, Modifizierung, Weiterlizenzierung und Verbreitung sowie des Linkens mit der Bibliothek ist unzulässig und beendet automatisch Ihre Rechte unter dieser Lizenz. Doch werden die Lizenzen Dritter, die von Ihnen Kopien oder Rechte unter dieser Lizenz erhalten haben, nicht beendet, solange diese Dritten die Lizenz voll anerkennen und befolgen.

Wenn es Ihnen nicht möglich ist, die Bibliothek unter gleichzeitiger Beachtung der Bedingungen in dieser Lizenz und Ihrer anderweitigen Verpflichtungen zu verbreiten, dann dürfen Sie als Folge davon die Bibliothek herauf nicht verbreiten. Wenn zum Beispiel ein Patent nicht die gebührenfreie Weiterverbreitung der Bibliothek durch diejenigen erlaubt, welche die Bibliothek direkt oder indirekt von Ihnen erhalten haben, dann besteht der einzige Weg, sowohl dem Patentrecht als auch dieser Lizenz zu gedenken, darin, ganz auf die Verbreitung der Bibliothek zu verzichten.</para>

Viele Leute haben großzügige Beiträge zu dem weitreichenden Angebot der durch dieses System verbreiteten Software im Vertrauen auf die konsistente Anwendung dieses Systems geleistet; es obliegt dem Autor bzw. Geber, zu entscheiden, ob er die Software mittels irgendeines anderen Systems verbreiten will; ein Lizenznehmer jedoch darf darber nicht entscheiden.</para>

The GNU General Public License is a free, copyleft license for software and other kinds of works. The License isCopyleft, which means that the freedom to share and change the work is ensured for all users, not only those who are able to support the developers who created it. By requiring that all derivative works also be released under the same license, it protects the freedom of users to make any changes they wish, and share their changes with others without losing the freedom to do so, even without the original author's continued help. The License is designed to make software free for all purposes without any premium, and protects users' freedom in critical areas like, but not limited to, the right to copy, distribute, modify, study, use, and even sell software that uses the license. The GNU GPL is not a patent license, and does not grant anyone any patenta grants. It uses the term "copyleft" instead to emphasize its intent to protect users' freedom in a way that is analogous to the protection that copyleft offers to literary works under copyright law.

A legtöbb szoftver licencei azzal a szándékot kifejezik, hogy minél kevesebb lehetőséget adjanak a szoftver megváltoztatásra s terjesztésre. Ezzel szemben a GNU GPL eljá, hogy garantálja a szabad szoftver módosításnak s terjesztésnek szabadsgát, ezáltal biztosítva a szoftver szabad felhasználhatósát minden felhasználó számára. A GPL szabályai vonatkoznak a Free Software Foundation legtöbb szoftverre, illetve minden olyan programra, melynek szerzője gy dnt, hogy ezt használja a szerzi jog megjellensekor. (A Free Software Foundation egyes szoftvereire a GNU LGPL vonatkoz.) Brki használhatja a programjaiban a GPL-t a szerzi jogi megjegyzés szerint.

A szabad szoftver megjells nem jelenti azt, hogy a szoftvernek nem lehet rá. A GPL licencek eljá, hogy garantálja a szabad szoftver módosításnak szabad terjesztést (s e szolgáltatásakról fysznt), a forrásf elhetséget, hogy brki szabadon módosíthassa a szoftvert, vagy felhasználhassa a szabad programokban, s hogy msk megismerhessék ezt a lehetőséget.

Ha valaki például ilyen program módosítást terjeszt, akk ingyen vagy bizonyos szeg fejben, a szoftverre vonatkoz minden jogot tovább kell adnia a fogad feleknek. Biztostani kell tovább, hogy megkapják vagy legalábbis megkaphassák a forrásfot is. persze ezeket a licencfeltételeket is el kell juttatni, hogy tiszta legyenek a jogaikkal.

A jogok vdlmben korlótoskot kell hozni, amelyek megtiltják, hogy brki megtárgyadhassa ezeket a jogokat msktl, vagy ezekrıl va lemondásra knyszertsen brki mst. Ezek a megszorzott bizonyos felelssgeket jelentenek azok szmára, akik a szoftver módosítását terjesztik vagy módosítják.

Az egyes szerzerek a magunk vdlmben biztostani akarjuk, hogy mindenki megtársias: a jelen szabad szoftverre nincs jlls. Ha a szoftvert módosított s továbbadtak, akkor mindenknak, aki m módosított változatot kapja, tudnia kell, hogy az nem az eredeti, gy a msk Ítal okozott hibknak nem lehet hatas az eredeti szerz srnevre.

Vgl, a szabad szoftver íl llandan fenyegetik a szoftvermódosítával. El szeretnkn kerlni annak veszlyt, hogy a szabad program terjesztő szabadalmat jegyezhessenek be r, ezáltal sajz szellemi tulajdon kpezv tegyek a programot. Ennek megelzhez tisztzt kvnjuk: szabadalom szabad szoftverrel kapcsolatban csak mindenki itali szabad hasznalatra jegyezhet be, vagy egyáltalnem jegyezhet be.

A msolsra, terjesztsre, módostra vonatkoz pontos szabályok s feltételek:

Ez a licenc minden olyan programra vagy munkra vonatkozik, amelynek a szerzi jogi megjegyzésben a jog tulajdonosa a kivétel szveget helyezte el: a GPL-ben foglaltak alapján terjeszhet. Az alábbiakban a "Program" kifejezés brmely ilyen programra vagy munkra vonatkozik, a Programon alapul munka pedig magt a programot vagy egy szerzi joggal vdett munkt jelenti: vagyis olyan munkt, amely tartalmazza a programot vagy annak egy rszlett, mdostottan vagy mdostatlanul s/vagy ms nyelvre fordta. The purpose of this License is to make a manual, textbook, or other written document free in the sense of freedom: to assure everyone the "effective freedom to copy and redistribute it, with or without modifying it," "either commercially or noncommercially. Secondarily, this License preserves "
"for the author and publisher a way to get credit for their work, while not "
"being considered responsible for modifications made by others."

This License is a kind of <quote>copyleft</quote>, which means that "
"derivative works of the document must themselves be free in the same sense."
"It complements the GNU General Public License, which is a copyleft license "
"designed for free software.

"We have designed this License in order to use it for manuals for free "
"software, because free software needs free documentation: a free program "
"should come with manuals providing the same freedoms that the software does."
"But this License is not limited to software manuals; it can be used for any "
"textual work, regardless of subject matter or whether it is published as a "
"printed book. We recommend this License principally for works whose purpose "
"is instruction or reference."
This License applies to any manual or other work that contains a notice "placed by the copyright holder saying it can be distributed under the terms "of this License. The <quote>Document</quote>, below, refers to any such "manual or work. Any member of the public is a licensee, and is addressed as "<quote>you</quote>.

A <quote>Modified Version</quote> of the Document means any work containing "the Document or a portion of it, either copied verbatim, or with "modifications and/or translated into another language.

A <quote>Secondary Section</quote> is a named appendix or a front-matter "section of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> that deals "exclusively with the relationship of the publishers or authors of the "Document to the Document's overall subject (or to related matters) and "contains nothing that could fall directly within that overall subject. (For "example, if the Document is in part a textbook of mathematics, a Secondary "Section may not explain any mathematics.) The relationship could be a matter "of historical connection with the subject or with related matters, or of "legal, commercial, philosophical, ethical or political position regarding "them."
The <quote>Invariant Sections</quote> are certain <link linkend="fdl-secondary">Secondary Sections</link> whose titles are designated, as being those of Invariant Sections, in the notice that says that the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> is released under this License.

The <quote>Cover Texts</quote> are certain short passages of text that are listed, as Front-Cover Texts or Back-Cover Texts, in the notice that says that the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> is released under this License.

A <quote>Transparent</quote> copy of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> means a machine-readable copy, represented in a format whose specification is available to the general public, whose contents can be viewed and edited directly and straightforwardly with generic text editors or (for images composed of pixels) generic paint programs or (for drawings) some widely available drawing editor, and that is suitable for input to text.
formatters or for automatic translation to a variety of formats suitable for "input to text formatters. A copy made in an otherwise Transparent file "format whose markup has been designed to thwart or discourage subsequent "modification by readers is not Transparent. A copy that is not "<quote>Transparent</quote> is called <quote>Opaque</quote>.

Examples of suitable formats for Transparent copies include plain ASCII "without markup, Texinfo input format, LaTeX input format, SGML or XML using "a publicly available DTD, and standard-conforming simple HTML designed for "human modification. Opaque formats include PostScript, PDF, proprietary "formats that can be read and edited only by proprietary word processors, "SGML or XML for which the DTD and/or processing tools are not generally "available, and the machine-generated HTML produced by some word processors "for output purposes only.

"material this License requires to appear in the title page. For works in "
"formats which do not have any title page as such, <quote>Title Page</quote> "
"means the text near the most prominent appearance of the work's title, "
"preceding the beginning of the body of the text."

If you publish or distribute <link linkend="fdl-transparent">Opaque</link> copies of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> numbering more than 100, you must either include a machine-readable <link linkend="fdl-transparent">Transparent</link> copy along with each Opaque copy, or state in or with each Opaque copy a publicly-accessible computer-network location containing a complete Transparent copy of the Document, free of added material, which the general network-using public has access to download anonymously at no charge using public-standard network protocols. If you use the latter option, you must take reasonably prudent steps, when you begin distribution of Opaque copies in quantity, to ensure that this Transparent copy will remain thus accessible at the stated location until at least one year after the last time you distribute an Opaque copy (directly or through your agents or retailers) of that edition to the public.

It is requested, but not required, that you contact the authors of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> well before redistributing any large number of copies, to give them a chance to provide you with an updated version of the Document.
MODIFICATIONS

You may copy and distribute a Modified Version of the Document under the conditions of sections 2 and 3 above, provided that you release the Modified Version under precisely this License, with the Modified Version filling the role of the Document, thus licensing distribution and modification of the Modified Version to whoever possesses a copy of it. In addition, you must do these things in the Modified Version:

- Use in the Title Page (and on the covers, if any) a title distinct from that of the Document, and from those of previous versions (which should, if there were any, be listed in the History section of the Document). You may use the same title as a previous version if the original publisher of that version gives permission.
Open Source Used In Data Center Network Manager 11 11.5(4) 6041
Include, immediately after the copyright notices, a license notice giving the public permission to use the Modified Version under the terms of this License, in the form shown in the "Addendum below.

Preserve in that license notice the full lists of Invariant Sections and required Cover Texts given in the Document's license notice.

Include an unaltered copy of this License.

Preserve the section entitled History, and its title, and add an item stating at least the title, year, new authors, and publisher of the Modified Version as given on the Title Page of the Document, if there is no section entitled History in the Document. Create one stating the title, year, authors, and publisher of the Document as given on its Title Page, then add an item describing the Modified Version as stated in the previous sentence.

"Include, immediately after the copyright notices, a license notice giving the public permission to use the Modified Version under the terms of this License, in the form shown in the "Addendum below."
Preserve the network location, if any, given in the Document for public access to a Transparent copy of the Document, and likewise the network locations given in the Document for previous versions it was based on. These may be placed in the History section. You may omit a network location for a work that was published at least four years before the Document itself, or if the original publisher of the version it refers to gives permission.

In any section entitled Acknowledgements or Dedications, preserve the section's title, and preserve in the section all the substance and tone of each of the contributor acknowledgements and/or dedications given therein.

Preserve all the Invariant Sections of the Document, unaltered in their text and in their titles. Section numbers or the equivalent are not "considered part of the section titles."

The author(s) and publisher(s) of the Document do not by this License give permission to use their names for publicity for or to assert or imply endorsement of any Modified Version.

You may combine the Document with other documents released under this License, under the terms defined in section 4 above for modified versions, provided that you include in the combination all of the Invariant Sections of all of the original documents, unmodified, and list them all as Invariant Sections of your combined work in its license notice.

The combined work need only contain one copy of this License, and multiple identical Invariant Sections may be replaced with a single copy. If there are multiple Invariant Sections with the same name but different contents, make the title of each such section unique by adding at the end of it, in parentheses, the name of the original author or publisher of that section if known, or else a unique number. Make the same adjustment to the section titles in the list of Invariant Sections in the license notice of the combined work.
In the combination, you must combine any sections entitled <quote>History</quote> in the various original documents, forming one section entitled "<quote>History</quote>; likewise combine any sections entitled "<quote>Acknowledgements</quote>, and any sections entitled "<quote>Dedications</quote>. You must delete all sections entitled "<quote>Endorsements</quote>.

You may make a collection consisting of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> and other documents released under this License, and replace the individual copies of this License in the various documents with a single copy that is included in the collection, provided that you follow the rules of this License for verbatim copying of each of the documents in all other respects.
You may extract a single document from such a collection, and distribute it individually under this License, provided you insert a copy of this License into the extracted document, and follow this License in all other respects regarding verbatim copying of that document.

A compilation of the Document or its derivatives with other separate and independent documents or works, in or on a volume of a storage or distribution medium, does not as a whole count as a Modified Version of the Document, provided no compilation copyright is claimed for the compilation. Such a compilation is called an aggregate, and this License does not apply to the other self-contained works thus compiled with the Document, on account of their being thus compiled, if they are not themselves derivative works of the Document. If the Cover Text requirement of section 3 is applicable to these copies of the Document, then if the Document is less than one quarter of the entire aggregate, the Document's Cover Texts may be placed on covers that surround only the Document within the aggregate. Otherwise they must appear on covers around the whole aggregate.
Translation is considered a kind of modification, so you may distribute translations of the Document under the terms of section 4. Replacing Invariant Sections with translations requires special permission from their copyright holders, but you may include translations of some or all Invariant Sections in addition to the original versions of these Invariant Sections. You may include a translation of this License provided that you also include the original English version of this License. In case of a disagreement between the translation and the original English version of this License, the original English version will prevail.

VORWORT

Diese Lizenz ist eine Art copyleft, das heft, dass abgeleitete Arbeiten des Dokumentes selbst wieder im gleichen Sinne frei sein mussen. Es ergnzt die GNU General Public License, die eine Copyleft-Lizenz fr freie Software darstellt.

ANWENDBARKEIT UND DEFINITIONEN

Ein Sekundrer Abschnitt ist ein benannter Anhang oder ein wichtiger Abschnitt des Dokumentes zum Gesamtthema des Dokumentes (oder verwandten Themen) handelt und nichts enthlt, was direkt unter das Gesamtthema fllt. Wenn zum Beispiel das Dokument teilweise ein Textbuch der Mathematik ist, erklrt ein Sekundrer Abschnitt keine Mathematik.) Die Beziehung konnte eine Angelegenheit einer historischen Verbindung mit dem Thema oder einer verwandten Sache sein, oder einer gesetzlichen, kommerziellen, philosophischen, ethnischen oder politischen Position ihr gegenber.

Unvernderliche Abschnitte sind spezielle Sekundr Abschnitte, deren Titel in dem Hinweis, der besagt, dass das Dokument unter dieser Lizenz verffentlich ist, gekennzeichnet sind, Unvernderte Abschnitte zu sein.

Covertexte sind spezielle kurze Textpassagen, die, als Vorderseitentexte oder Rckseitentexte, in dem Hinweis aufgehort sind, der besagt, dass das Dokument unter dieser Lizenz verffentlich ist.

Beispiele von passenden Formaten für Transparente Kopien enthalten reines ASCII ohne Codierung, das Texinfo-Eingabeformat, das LaTeX-Eingabeformat, SGML oder XML die eine öffentlich zugängliche DTD nutzen, und dem Standard entsprechendes HTML, das fr die Veränderung durch Menschen gestaltet wurde. Undurchsichtige Formate enthalten PostScript, PDF, proprietäre Formate die nur von proprietären Textverarbeitungen gelesen und bearbeitet werden, SGML oder XML fr die die DTD und/oder die Verarbeitungswerkzeuge nicht allgemein erhältlich sind, und maschinengeneriertes HTML, das von einigen Textverarbeitungen nur zu Ausgabezwecken produziert wurde.</para>

Die <quote>Titelseite</quote> meint bei einem gedruckten Buch die Titelseite selbst, und die folgenden Seiten, die ge布拉ucht werden, um leserlich das Material zu beinhalten, das die Lizenz benötigt, um auf der Titelseite zu erscheinen. Fr Arbeiten, die als solche keine Titelseiten haben, meint <quote>Titelseite</quote> den Text, der der wirkungsvollsten Erscheinung des Arbeitstitels am nächsten kommt und den Textkörper einleitet." Wrtern des Titels gleich auffällig und sichtbar darstellen. Sie dürfen andere Materialien zusätzlich zur Seite hinzufügen. Kopieren mit Veränderungen der Seiten, solange diese den Titel des Dokumentes absichern und diese Bedingungen erfüllen, kann in anderer Hinsicht als wortwörtliche Kopien behandelt werden.</para>

<para>Wenn die geforderten Texte für jede Seite zu groß sind, um leserlich darauf zu passen, sollten Sie die erstgenannten (so viele wie sinnvoll darauf passen) auf die aktuelle Seite setzen, und mit dem Rest auf angrenzenden Seiten fortfahren.</para>

<para>Wenn Sie mehr als 100 Undurchsichtige Kopien des Dokumentes veröffentlichen oder verteilen, müssen Sie entweder zusammen mit jeder Undurchsichtigen Kopie eine Transparente Kopie einfügen, oder in oder mit jeder Undurchsichtigen Kopie eine öffentlich zugängliche Computer-Netzwerk-Adresse angeben, die eine komplette Transparente Kopie des Dokumentes enthält, die frei von hinzugefügtem Material ist und die sich die allgemeine netzwerkknüttende Öffentlichkeit aufwandern kann. Wenn Sie die letzte Option verwenden, müssen Sie, wenn Sie beginnen, Undurchsichtige Kopien in Mengen zu verteilen, sinnvolle unsichtbare Schritte unternehmen, die sicherstellen, dass die Transparente Kopie unter der genannten Adresse mindestens ein Jahr, nachdem Sie das letzte Mal eine Undurchsichtige Kopie dieser Edition (direkt oder bei Ihren Vermittlern oder Händlern) an die Öffentlichkeit verteilt haben.</para>

<para>Es wird erbeten, aber nicht verlangt, dass Sie die Autoren des Dokumentes kontaktieren, bevor Sie eine große Anzahl an Kopien weiterverbreiten, um ihnen zu ermöglichen, Sie mit einer aktualisierten Version des Dokumentes zu versorgen.</para>

Although the Lesser General Public License is less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a "work based on the library" and a "work that uses the library". The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called "this License"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

Each copy of the program must contain the above copyright notice and this permission notice.

The Library may be used and modified by you under the terms of this License to create other works that combine it with, or extract it from, other software libraries, or to modify or otherwise make contributions to the Library.

A "machine-readable copy" of the Library means any representation of a work, independent of any interface to any computer-readable storage medium, in a form suitable for a user to use in a programming environment.

The "Library" means any machine-readable copy of a work that is the subject of this License.

The "work" means the Library, plus any additional works that reside in the same directory structure. The "work" also means any work that is derived from the Library by means of the process of interweaving or combining some of the code from the Library with some of the code from an application program written using the Library.

"Library Version" means any of the versions of the Library for all time. This License does not apply to any other work based on the Library or any other work containing a notice placed by the copyright holder on the Library showing that it is based on the Library.

The "modified version" of the Library means any work containing the Library, but not also all of the Library, plus some of the code of the application program, but produced independently from the Library and while it was under version control using a version control system such as CVS, RCS, or Subversion.

The "work on the Library" means either the work of authoring the Library, or the work of authoring a modified version of the Library.

The "complete machine-readable contents of the Library" mean all parts of the source code for all of the separate works that comprise the Library, including those to which the copyleft was not applied. If a program is modified by someone other than you, under version control systems like CVS, RCS, or Subversion, then the complete machine-readable contents of the Library means the understanding that each "work on the Library" means all modifications since the last time the program read the version control database.

"You" is not restricted to a single programmer, but all those who modify or use the Library.

The "License" means this document. You may use this License if you want to copy, link, or modify the Library or any covered work within the conditions described below.

In the following, some terms are used. These terms will be defined in greater detail below.
A "library" means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The "Library", below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A "work based on the Library" means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification").

"Source code" for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program
"using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is "
"covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library "
"(independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether "
"that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses "
"the Library does."

The modified work must itself be a software library.

You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)
These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.
"You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of <link linkend="sect2">Section 1</link> above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:"

"<placeholder-1/>"

"You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices."

"Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy."
This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.

You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, "under Section 2") in object code or "executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange."

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.
Section 5

A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a work that uses the Library. Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a work that uses the Library with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a work that uses the library. The executable is therefore covered by this License. Section 6 states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a work that uses the Library uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.
If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layers and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall
"under <link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link>.)"

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute
"the object code for the work under the terms of <link linkend="sect6" >\"Section 6\". Any executables containing that work also fall under "
"<link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link>, whether or not they are linked "
"directly with the Library itself."

As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a "work "
"that uses the Library\" with the Library to produce a work containing "
"portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your "

"choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the "
"customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications."

"Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source "

"linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable <quote>work that "
"uses the Library</quote>, as object code and/or source code, so that the "
"user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable "
"containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes "
"the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be " "able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)"
Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in Subsection 6a, above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.

If distribution of the work is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, offer equivalent access to copy the above specified materials from the same place.

Verify that the user has already received a copy of these materials or that you have already sent this user a copy.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things: <placeholder-1/>
For an executable, the required form of the "work that uses the Library" must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you distribute.
"You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-"by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not "covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided "that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the "other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do

Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Library (or any work based on the Library), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Library or works based on it.

Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and conditions. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Library.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply, and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

If any of the sentences in this section are found to be invalid or unenforceable for any reason (including the reason that the license or distribution of the Library by itself or in combination with other software would infringe a patent), the libTBX license shall continue to be available to all receivers of the Library who would have received copies without侑 their agreement and who shall not have included a notice that asserted their Right to Stop Distribution. Thus, no receiver shall be liable for anything that might otherwise be a violation of the rights specified in this section.

This License is intended to make tumors available to the public at no cost, while allowing beneficiaries to meet the legitimate interests of copiers and producers of derivative works that are creating economically viable alternatives to the version of the Library hereof in the Free Software Foundation's Libreto Series. In other words, this License is intended to be compatible with the Free Software Foundation's Notice and Disclaimer of Warranty, and is designed to promote maximum sharing of source code and compiled Code among the general public.
It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.
The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the Lesser General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Library specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and <quote>any later version</quote>, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Library does not specify a license version number, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.
The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling.
it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.
</para>

<para>
We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.
</para>

<para>
To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.
</para>

<para>
Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.
</para>

<para>
Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.
</para>

<para>
When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.
</para>

We call this license the <quote>Lesser</quote> General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances.

For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License.

In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linux operating system.

Although the Lesser General Public License is Less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a <quote>work based on the library</quote> and a <quote>work that uses the library</quote>. The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.
This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called "this License"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

A "library" means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The "Library", below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A "work based on the Library" means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification".)

"Source code" for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.
You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

- The modified work must itself be a software library.
- You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.
- You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.
- If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.
<para>
You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.
</para>

<para>
Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.
</para>

<para>
This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.
</para>

<sect id="sect4" label="4">
<title>Section 4</title>

<para>
You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.
</para>

<para>
If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.
</para>
A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a work that uses the Library. Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a work that uses the Library with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a work that uses the library. The executable is therefore covered by this License. Section 6 states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a work that uses the Library uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.

If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under Section 6.)

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.
As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a work that uses the Library with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:

Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable <quote>work that uses the Library</quote>, as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

Use a suitable shared library mechanism for linking with the Library. A suitable mechanism is one that (1) uses at run time a copy of the library already present on the user's computer system, rather than copying library functions into the executable, and (2) will operate properly with a modified version of the library, if the user installs one, as long as the modified version is interface-compatible with the version that the work was made with.
</para>
</listitem> </listitem>
<para>
Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in <link linkend="sect6a">Subsection 6a</link> above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.
</para>

</para>

For an executable, the required form of the <quote>work that uses the Library</quote> must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.
</para>

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you distribute.
</para>

</sect2>
Section 7

You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do these two things:

Accompany the combined library with a copy of the same work based on the Library, uncombined with any other library facilities. This must be distributed under the terms of the Sections above.

Give prominent notice with the combined library of the fact that part of it is a work based on the Library, and explaining where to find the accompanying uncombined form of the same work.

Section 8

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

Section 9
You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Library or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Library (or any work based on the Library), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Library or works based on it.

Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein.
You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties with this License.

If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Library.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply, and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the Lesser General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

If the Library does not specify a license version number, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

If you wish to incorporate parts of the Library into other free programs whose distribution conditions are incompatible with these, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

BECAUSE THE LIBRARY IS LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE LIBRARY, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW. EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE LIBRARY AS IS WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE LIBRARY IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE LIBRARY PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MAY MODIFY AND/OR REDISTRIBUTE THE LIBRARY AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE LIBRARY (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE LIBRARY TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER SOFTWARE), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

msgid "GNU Free Documentation License" msgstr ""
The purpose of this License is to make a manual, textbook, or other written document free in the sense of freedom: to assure everyone the effective freedom to copy and redistribute it, with or without modifying it, either commercially or noncommercially. Secondarily, this License preserves for the author and publisher a way to get credit for their work, while not being considered responsible for modifications made by others.
This License is a kind of <quote>copyleft</quote>, which means that derivative works of the document must themselves be free in the same sense. It complements the GNU General Public License, which is a copyleft license designed for free software.

We have designed this License in order to use it for manuals for free software, because free software needs free documentation: a free program should come with manuals providing the same freedoms that the software does. But this License is not limited to software manuals; it can be used for any textual work, regardless of subject matter or whether it is published as a printed book. We recommend this License principally for works whose purpose is instruction or reference.

This License applies to any manual or other work that contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it can be distributed under the terms of this License. The <quote>Document</quote>, below, refers to any such manual or work. Any member of the public is a licensee, and is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

A <quote>Modified Version</quote> of the Document means any work containing the Document or a portion of it, either copied verbatim, or with modifications and/or translated into another language.

The <quote>Invariant Sections</quote> are certain <link linkend="fdl-secondary">Secondary Sections</link> whose titles are designated, as being those of Invariant Sections, in the notice that says that the Document is released under this License.

The <quote>Cover Texts</quote> are certain short passages of text that are listed, as Front-Cover Texts or Back-Cover Texts, in the notice that says that the Document is released under this License.
A <quote>Transparent</quote> copy of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> means a machine-readable copy, represented in a format whose specification is available to the general public, whose contents can be viewed and edited directly and straightforwardly with generic text editors or (for images composed of pixels) generic paint programs or (for drawings) some widely available drawing editor, and that is suitable for input to text formatters or for automatic translation to a variety of formats suitable for input to text formatters. A copy made in an otherwise Transparent file format whose markup has been designed to thwart or discourage subsequent modification by readers is not Transparent. A copy that is not <quote>Transparent</quote> is called <quote>Opaque</quote>.

Examples of suitable formats for Transparent copies include plain ASCII without markup, TeXinfo input format, LaTeX input format, SGML or XML using a publicly available DTD, and standard-conforming simple HTML designed for human modification. Opaque formats include PostScript, PDF, proprietary formats that can be read and edited only by proprietary word processors, SGML or XML for which the DTD and/or processing tools are not generally available, and the machine-generated HTML produced by some word processors for output purposes only.

You may copy and distribute the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> in any medium, either commercially or noncommercially, provided that this License, the copyright notices, and the license notice saying this License applies to the Document are reproduced in all copies, and that you add no other conditions whatsoever to those of this License. You may not use technical measures to obstruct or control the reading or further copying of the copies you make or distribute. However, you may accept compensation in exchange for copies. If you distribute a large enough number of copies you must also follow the conditions in <link linkend="fdl-section3">section 3</link>.

You may also lend copies, under the same conditions stated above, and you may publicly display copies.
If you publish printed copies of the Document numbering more than 100, and the Document's license notice requires Cover Texts, you must enclose the copies in covers that carry, clearly and legibly, all these Cover Texts: Front-Cover Texts on the front cover, and Back-Cover Texts on the back cover. Both covers must also clearly and legibly identify you as the publisher of these copies. The front cover must present the full title with all words of the title equally prominent and visible. You may add other material on the covers in addition. Copying with changes limited to the covers, as long as they preserve the title of the Document and satisfy these conditions, can be treated as verbatim copying in other respects.

If the required texts for either cover are too voluminous to fit legibly, you should put the first ones listed (as many as fit reasonably) on the actual cover, and continue the rest onto adjacent pages.

If you publish or distribute Opaque copies of the Document numbering more than 100, you must either include a machine-readable Transparent copy along with each Opaque copy, or state in or with each Opaque copy a publicly-accessible computer-network location containing a complete Transparent copy of the Document, free of added material, which the general network-using public has access to download anonymously at no charge using public-standard network protocols. If you use the latter option, you must take reasonably prudent steps, when you begin distribution of Opaque copies in quantity, to ensure that this Transparent copy will remain thus accessible at the stated location until at least one year after the last time you distribute an Opaque copy (directly or through your agents or retailers) of that edition to the public.

It is requested, but not required, that you contact the authors of the Document well before redistributing any large number of copies, to give them a chance to provide you with an updated version of the Document.

MODIFICATIONS

You may copy and distribute a Modified Version of the Document under the conditions of sections 2 and 3 above, provided that you release the Modified Version under precisely this License, with the Modified Version filling the role of the Document, thus licensing distribution and modification of the Modified Version to whoever possesses a copy of it. In addition, you must do these things in the Modified Version:
Use in the <link linkend="fdl-title-page">Title Page</link> (and on the covers, if any) a title distinct from that of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link>, and from those of previous versions (which should, if there were any, be listed in the History section of the Document). You may use the same title as a previous version if the original publisher of that version gives permission.

List on the <link linkend="fdl-title-page">Title Page</link>, as authors, one or more persons or entities responsible for authorship of the modifications in the <link linkend="fdl-modified">Modified Version</link>, together with at least five of the principal authors of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> (all of its principal authors, if it has less than five).

Preserve all the copyright notices of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link>.

Add an appropriate copyright notice for your modifications adjacent to the other copyright notices.

Include, immediately after the copyright notices, a license notice giving the public permission to use the <link linkend="fdl-modified">Modified Version</link> under the terms of this License, in the form shown in the Addendum below.

Preserve in that license notice the full lists of <link linkend="fdl-invariant"> Invariant Sections</link> and required <link linkend="fdl-cover-texts">Cover Texts</link> given in the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document's</link> license notice.

A compilation of the Document or its derivatives with other separate and independent documents or works, in or on a volume of a storage or distribution medium, does not as a whole count as a Modified Version of the Document, provided no compilation copyright is claimed for the compilation. Such a compilation is called an aggregate, and this License does not apply to the other self-contained works thus compiled with the Document, on account of their being thus compiled, if they are not themselves derivative works of the Document. If the Cover Text requirement of section 3 is applicable to these copies of the Document, then if the Document is less than one quarter of the entire aggregate, the Document's Cover Texts may be placed on covers that surround only the Document within the aggregate. Otherwise they must appear on covers around the whole aggregate.

Translation is considered a kind of modification, so you may distribute translations of the Document under the terms of section 4. Replacing Invariant Sections with translations requires special permission from their copyright holders, but you may include translations of some or all Invariant Sections in addition to the original versions of these Invariant Sections. You may include a translation of this License provided that you also include the original English version of this License. In case of a disagreement between the translation and the original English version of this License, the original English version will prevail.

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Document except as expressly provided for under this License. Any other attempt to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Document is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

The Free Software Foundation may publish new, revised versions of the GNU Free Documentation License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns. See http://www.gnu.org/copyleft/.

Each version of the License is given a distinguishing version number. If the Document specifies that a particular numbered version of this License or any later version applies to it, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that specified version or of any later version that has been published (not as a draft) by the Free Software Foundation. If the Document does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published (not as a draft) by the Free Software Foundation.

The purpose of this License is to make a manual, textbook, or other written document "free" in the sense of freedom: to assure everyone the effective freedom to copy and redistribute it, with or without modifying it, either commercially or noncommercially. Secondarily, this License preserves for the author and publisher a way to get credit for their work, while not "being considered responsible for modifications made by others."

La finalitat d'aquesta Llicncia s crear manuals, llibres de text o altres "documents escrits "lliures" pel que fa a la llibertat: per "assegurar tothom la llibertat real de copiar-los i redistribuir-los, "modificant-los o no, amb finalitats comercials o no. Addicionalment, aquesta "Llicncia assegura l'autor i l'editor una manera d'obtenir crdit per la "seva obra sense ser considerat responsables de les modificacions fetes pels "altres."

We have designed this License in order to use it for manuals for free software, because free software needs free documentation: a free program should come with manuals providing the same freedoms that the software does. But this License is not limited to software manuals; it can be used for any textual work, regardless of subject matter or whether it is published as a printed book. We recommend this License principally for works whose purpose is instruction or reference.
This License applies to any manual or other work that contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it can be distributed under the terms of this License. The <quote>Document</quote>, below, refers to any such manual or work. Any member of the public is a licensee, and is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

A <quote>Modified Version</quote> of the Document means any work containing the Document or a portion of it, either copied verbatim, or with modifications and/or translated into another language.

A <quote>Secondary Section</quote> is a named appendix or a front-matter section of the Document that deals exclusively with the relationship of the publishers or authors of the Document to the Document's overall subject (or to related matters) and contains nothing that could fall directly within that overall subject. (For example, if the Document is in part a textbook of mathematics, a Secondary Section may not explain any mathematics.) The relationship could be a matter of historical connection with the subject or with related matters, or of legal, commercial, philosophical, ethical or political position regarding them.

Una <quote>Versi modificada</quote> del document significa qualsevol obra que contingui el document o una part d'ell, ja sigui copiat literalment o amb modificacions i/o tradut a un altre idioma.

Una <quote>Secci secundria</quote> s un apndix amb ttol o una secci preliminar del que t a veure exclusivament amb la relaci dels editors o autors del Document amb el tema
"general del Document (o amb temes relacionats) i no cont res que pugui "
"entrar directament d'aquest tema general (per exemple, si el Document "
"s en part un llibre de matemàtiques, una Secció secundària pot no parlar "

AGGREGATION WITH INDEPENDENT WORKS

A compilation of the Document or its derivatives with other separate and independent documents or works, in or on a volume of a storage or distribution medium, does not as a whole count as a Modified Version of the Document, provided no compilation copyright is claimed for the compilation. Such a compilation is called an aggregate, and this License does not apply to the other self-contained works thus compiled with the Document, on account of their being thus compiled, if they are not themselves derivative works of the Document. If the Cover Text requirement of section 3 is applicable to these copies of the Document, then if the Document is less than one quarter of the entire aggregate, the Document's Cover Texts may be placed on covers that surround only the Document within the aggregate. Otherwise they must appear on covers around the whole aggregate.

The purpose of this License is to make a manual, textbook, or other written document free in the sense of freedom: to assure everyone the effective freedom to copy and redistribute it, with or without modifying it, either commercially or noncommercially. Secondarily, this License preserves for the author and publisher a way to get credit for their work, while not being considered responsible for modifications made by others.

This License is a kind of copyleft, which means that derivative works of the document must themselves be free in the same sense. It complements the GNU General Public License, which is a copyleft license designed for free software.

We have designed this License in order to use it for manuals for free software, because free software needs free documentation: a free program should come with manuals providing the same freedoms that the software does. But this License is not limited to software manuals; it can be used for any textual work, regardless of subject matter or whether it is published as a printed book. We recommend this License principally for works... whose purpose is instruction or reference.

This License applies to any manual or other work that contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it can be distributed under the terms of this License. The <quote>Document</quote>, below, refers to any such manual or work. Any member of the public is a licensee, and is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

A <quote>Modified Version</quote> of the Document means any work containing the Document or a portion of it, either copied verbatim, or with modifications and/or translated into another language.

A <quote>Secondary Section</quote> is a named appendix or a front-matter section of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> that deals exclusively with the relationship of the publishers or authors of the Document to the Document's overall subject (or to related matters) and contains nothing that could fall directly within that overall subject. (For example, if the Document is in part a textbook of mathematics, a Secondary Section may not explain any mathematics.) The relationship could be a matter of historical connection with the subject or with related matters, or of legal, commercial, philosophical, ethical or political position regarding them.

The <quote>Invariant Sections</quote> are certain <link linkend="fdl-secondary">Secondary Sections</link> whose titles are designated, as being those of Invariant Sections, in the notice that says that the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> is released under this License.

The <quote>Cover Texts</quote> are certain short passages of text that are listed, as Front-Cover Texts or Back-Cover Texts, in the notice that says that the Document is released under this License.
</para>

<para id="fdl-transparent">
A Transparent copy of the Document means a machine-readable copy, represented in a format whose specification is available to the general public, whose contents can be viewed and edited directly and straightforwardly with generic text editors or (for images composed of pixels) generic paint programs or (for drawings) some widely available drawing editor, and that is suitable for input to text formatters or for automatic translation to a variety of formats suitable for input to text formatters. A copy made in an otherwise Transparent file format whose markup has been designed to thwart or discourage subsequent modification by readers is not Transparent. A copy that is not Transparent is called Opaque.
</para>

<para>
Examples of suitable formats for Transparent copies include plain ASCII without markup, Texinfo input format, LaTeX input format, SGML or XML using a publicly available DTD, and standard-conforming simple HTML designed for human modification. Opaque formats include PostScript, PDF, proprietary formats that can be read and edited only by proprietary word processors, SGML or XML for which the DTD and/or processing tools are not generally available, and the machine-generated HTML produced by some word processors for output purposes only.

The Title Page means, for a printed book, the title page itself, plus such following pages as are needed to hold, legibly, the material this License requires to appear in the title page. For works in formats which do not have any title page as such, Title Page means the text near the most prominent appearance of the work's title, preceding the beginning of the body of the text.
</para>

<sect1 id="fdl-section2" label="2"> <title>VERBATIM COPYING</title>

</sect1>
You may copy and distribute the Document in any medium, either commercially or noncommercially, provided that this License, the copyright notices, and the license notice saying this License applies to the Document are reproduced in all copies, and that you add no other conditions whatsoever to those of this License. You may not use technical measures to obstruct or control the reading or further copying of the copies you make or distribute. However, you may accept compensation in exchange for copies. If you distribute a large enough number of copies you must also follow the conditions in section 3.

You may also lend copies, under the same conditions stated above, and you may publicly display copies.

If you publish printed copies of the Document numbering more than 100, and the Document's license notice requires Cover Texts, you must enclose the copies in covers that carry, clearly and legibly, all these Cover Texts: Front-Cover Texts on the front cover, and Back-Cover Texts on the back cover. Both covers must also clearly and legibly identify you as the publisher of these copies. The front cover must present the full title with all words of the title equally prominent and visible. You may add other material on the covers in addition. Copying with changes limited to the covers, as long as they preserve the title of the Document and satisfy these conditions, can be treated as verbatim copying in other respects.

If the required texts for either cover are too voluminous to fit legibly, you should put the first ones listed (as many as fit reasonably) on the actual cover, and continue the rest onto adjacent pages.
If you publish or distribute Opaque copies of the Document numbering more than 100, you must either include a machine-readable Transparent copy along with each Opaque copy, or state in or with each Opaque copy a publicly-accessible computer-network location containing a complete Transparent copy of the Document, free of added material, which the general network-using public has access to download anonymously at no charge using public-standard network protocols. If you use the latter option, you must take reasonably prudent steps, when you begin distribution of Opaque copies in quantity, to ensure that this Transparent copy will remain thus accessible at the stated location until at least one year after the last time you distribute an Opaque copy (directly or through your agents or retailers) of that edition to the public.

It is requested, but not required, that you contact the authors of the Document well before redistributing any large number of copies, to give them a chance to provide you with an updated version of the Document.

You may copy and distribute a Modified Version of the Document under the conditions of sections 2 and 3 above, provided that you release the Modified Version under precisely this License, with the Modified Version filling the role of the Document, thus licensing distribution and modification of the Modified Version to whoever possesses a copy of it. In addition, you must do these things in the Modified Version:

Use in the Title Page (and on the covers, if any) a title distinct from that of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link>, and from those of previous versions (which should, if there were any, be listed in the History section of the Document). You may use the same title as a previous version if the original publisher of that version gives permission.

<title>FUTURE REVISIONS OF THIS LICENSE</title>

The Free Software Foundation may publish new, revised versions of the GNU Free Documentation License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns. See "http://www.gnu.org/copyleft/". Each version of the License is given a distinguishing version number. If the Document specifies that a particular numbered version of this License applies to it, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that specified version or of any later version that has been published (not as a draft) by the Free Software Foundation. If the Document does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published (not as a draft) by the Free Software Foundation.

GNU Lesser General Public License

Free Software Foundation, Inc.

GNOME Documentation Project

Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you "link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to"
"the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making"
"changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these"
"terms so they know their rights."

"Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs."

"When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library."

"We call this license the <quote>Lesser</quote> General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances."

"For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the"
"widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License."

A <quote>library</quote> means a collection of software functions and/or "
"data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs "
"(which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The <quote>Library</quote>, below, refers to any such software library or "
"work which has been distributed under these terms. A <quote>work based on "
"the Library</quote> means either the Library or any derivative work under "

"installation of the library."

"Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered "
"by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program "
"using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is "
"covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library "
"(independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether "
"that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses "
"the Library does."

"You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source "
"code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and "
"appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and "

You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do these two things:

Accompany the combined library with a copy of the same work based on the Library, uncombined with any other library facilities. This must be distributed under the terms of the Sections above.

Give prominent notice with the combined library of the fact that part of it is a work based on the Library, and explaining where to find the accompanying uncombined form of the same work.

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Section 17

"Open Source Used In Data Center Network Manager 11.5(4) 6176"
The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure the software is free for all its users. This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it. (Some other Free Software Foundation software is covered by the GNU Library General Public License instead.) You can apply it to your programs, too.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

We protect your rights with two steps: • We give a guarantee that you have Receive and change the software,
• We offer warranty protection against Incompatibility.

Finally, any free program is threatened by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.
The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

Exception:

If the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.

If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License. <placeholder-1/>

The purpose of this License is to make a manual, textbook, or other written document free in the sense of freedom: to assure everyone the effective freedom to copy and redistribute it, with or without modifying it, either commercially or noncommercially. Secondarily, this License preserves for the author and publisher a way to get credit for their work, while not being considered responsible for modifications made by others.

Edonork egin eta bana ditzake lizentzia-dokumentu honen kopia literalak, baina debekatuta dago dokumentuan aldaketak egitea.
This License is a kind of "copyleft," which means that derivative works of the document must themselves be free in the same sense. It complements the GNU General Public License, which is a copyleft license designed for free software.

We have designed this License in order to use it for manuals for free software, because free software needs free documentation: a free program should come with manuals providing the same freedoms that the software does. But this License is not limited to software manuals; it can be used for any textual work, regardless of subject matter or whether it is published as a printed book. We recommend this License principally for works whose purpose is instruction or reference.

A "Modified Version" of the Document means any work containing the Document or a portion of it, either copied verbatim, or with modifications and/or translated into another language.

A "Secondary Section" is a named appendix or a front-matter section of the Document that deals exclusively with the relationship of the publishers or authors of the Document to the Document's overall subject (or to related matters) and contains nothing that could fall directly within that overall subject. (For example, if the Document is in part a textbook of mathematics, a Secondary Section may not explain any mathematics.) The relationship could be a matter of historical connection with the subject or with related matters, or of legal, commercial, philosophical, ethical or political position regarding them.

This License applies to any manual or other work that contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it can be distributed under the terms of this License. The "Document," below, refers to any such manual or work. Any member of the public is a licensee, and is addressed as "you."
Dokumentuaren gai nagusiarekiko (edo gai horrekin zerikusia duten gaiekiko) duten erlazioari buruzkoa da soil-soilik. Atal sekundarioan ez da agertzen zuzenean gai nagusiari dagokion ezer. (Adibidez, Dokumentua matematikako eskuliburua bat bada, Atal sekundarioak ez du matematikarik azalduko.) Gai nagusiarekin edo harekin zerikusia duten gaiekin duen harremanak, konexio historikoa izan litéke, edo haien ikuspegi legal, komertzial, filosofiko, etiko edo politikoa."

Both covers must also clearly and legibly identify you as the publisher of these copies. The front cover must present the full title with all words of the title equally prominent and visible. You may add other material on the covers in addition. Copying with changes limited to the covers, as long as they preserve the title of the Document and satisfy these conditions, can be treated as verbatim copying in other respects.

If the required texts for either cover are too voluminous to fit legibly, you should put the first ones listed (as many as fit reasonably) on the actual cover, and continue the rest onto adjacent pages.

If you publish or distribute Opaque copies of the Document numbering more than 100, you must either include a machine-readable Transparent copy along with each Opaque copy, or state in or with each Opaque copy a publicly-accessible computer-network location containing a complete Transparent copy of the Document, free of added material, which the general network-using public has access to download anonymously at no charge using public-standard network protocols. If you use the latter option, you must take reasonably prudent steps, when you begin distribution of Opaque copies in quantity, to ensure that this Transparent copy will remain thus accessible at the stated location until at least one year after the last time you distribute an Opaque copy (directly or through your agents or retailers) of that edition to the public.

You may add a passage of up to five words as a Front-Cover Text, and a passage of up to 25 words as a Back-Cover Text, to the end of the list of Cover Texts in the Modified Version. Only one passage of Front-Cover Text and one of Back-Cover Text may be added by (or through arrangements made by) any one entity. If the Document already includes a cover text for the same cover, previously added by you or by arrangement made by the same entity you are acting on behalf of, you may not add another; but you may replace the old one, on explicit permission from the previous publisher that added the old one.

The author(s) and publisher(s) of the Document do not by this License give permission to use their names for publicity for or to assert or imply endorsement of any Modified Version.

You may combine the Document with other documents released under this License, under the terms defined in section 4 above for modified versions, provided that you include in the combination all of the Invariant Sections of all of the original documents, unmodified, and list them all as Invariant Sections of your combined work in its license notice.
The combined work need only contain one copy of this License, and multiple identical Invariant Sections may be replaced with a single copy. If there are multiple Invariant Sections with the same name but different contents, make the title of each such section unique by adding at the end of it, in parentheses, the name of the original author or publisher of that section if known, or else a unique number. Make the same adjustment to the section titles in the list of Invariant Sections in the license notice of the combined work.

In the combination, you must combine any sections entitled History in the various original documents, forming one section entitled History; likewise combine any sections entitled Acknowledgements, and any sections entitled Dedications. You must delete all sections entitled Endorsements.

You may make a collection consisting of the Document and other documents released under this License, and replace the individual copies of this License in the various documents with a single copy that is included in the collection, provided that you follow the rules of this License for verbatim copying of each of the documents in all other respects.

You may extract a single document from such a collection, and disperse it individually under this License, provided you insert a copy of this License into the extracted document, and follow this License in all other respects regarding verbatim copying of that document.
A compilation of the Document or its derivatives with other separate and independent documents or works, or on a volume of a storage or distribution medium, does not as a whole count as a Modified Version of the Document, provided no compilation copyright is claimed for the compilation. Such a compilation is called an aggregate, and this License does not apply to the other self-contained works thus compiled with the Document, on account of their being thus compiled, if they are not themselves derivative works of the Document. If the Document is less than one quarter of the entire aggregate, the Document’s Cover Texts may be placed on covers that surround only the Document within the aggregate. Otherwise they must appear on covers around the whole aggregate.

Translation is considered a kind of modification, so you may distribute translations of the Document under the terms of section 4. Replacing Invariant Sections with translations requires special permission from their copyright holders, but you may include translations of some or all Invariant Sections in addition to the original versions of these Invariant Sections. You may include a translation of this License provided that you also include the original English version of this License. In case of a disagreement between the translation and the original English version of this License, the original English version will prevail.

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Document except as expressly provided for under this License. Any other attempt to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Document is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

The Free Software Foundation may publish new, revised versions of the GNU Free Documentation License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns. See http://www.gnu.org/copyleft/.

Each version of the License is given a distinguishing version number. If the Document specifies that a particular numbered version of this License or any later version applies to it, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that specified version or of any later version that has been published (not as a draft) by the Free Software Foundation. If the Document does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published (not as a draft) by the Free Software Foundation.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to "deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights. These "
"restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute "
"copies of the software, or if you modify it."

"Pour protéger vos droits, il nous est nécessaire d'imposer des limitations "
"qui interdisent quiconque de vous refuser ces droits ou de vous demander "
"d'y renoncer. Certaines responsabilités vous incombent en raison de ces "
"limitations si vous distribuez des copies de ces logiciels, ou si vous les "
"modifiez."

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or "for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You "
"must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you "
"must show them these terms so they know their rights."

"Par exemple, si vous distribuez des copies d'un tel programme, titre "
"gratuit ou contre une remunération, vous devez accorder aux destinataires "
"tous les droits dont vous disposez. Vous devez vous assurer qu'eux aussi "
"reçoivent ou puissent disposer du code source. Et vous devez leur montrer "
"les présentes conditions afin qu'ils aient connaissance de leurs droits."

We protect your rights with two steps:

- copyright the software, and
- offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute "
  and/or modify the software."

Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that "everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If "
"the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its "
"recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any " problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors’ reputations.

"En outre, pour la protection de chaque auteur ainsi que la ntre, nous voulons nous assurer que chacun comprenne que ce logiciel libre ne fait l'objet d'aucune garantie. Si le logiciel est modifié par quelqu'un d'autre, nous voulons que les destinataires soient mis au courant que ce qu'ils ont reçu n'est pas le logiciel d'origine, de sorte que tout problème introduit par d'autres ne puisse entacher la réputation de l'auteur originel.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will "individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be "licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

"En définitive, un programme libre restera la merci des brevets des logiciels. Nous souhaitons viter le risque que les redistributeurs d'un programme libre fassent des demandes individuelles de licence de brevet, ceci ayant pour effet de rendre le programme propriétaire. Pour viter cela, nous tablissons clairement que toute licence de brevet doit être concédée de façon que l'usage en soit libre pour tous ou bien qu'aucune licence ne soit concédée.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Les termes exacts et les conditions de copie, distribution et modification sont les suivants.

de modifier ou distribuer le Programme ou les ouvrages fonds sur lui. Ces " actions sont interdites par la loi si vous n'acceptez pas la présente " Licence. En conséquence, en modifiant ou distribuant le Programme (ou un " ouvrage quelconque fond sur le Programme), vous signifiez votre acceptation " de la présente Licence en le faisant, et de toutes ses conditions concernant " la copie, la distribution ou la modification du Programme ou d'ouvrages " fonds sur lui."
Each time you redistribute the Program (or any work based on the Program), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute or modify the Program subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.

Chaque fois que vous redistribuez le Programme (ou n'importe quel ouvrage) fond sur le Programme), une licence est automatiquement concédée au destinataire par le concédant originel de la licence, l'autorisant copier, distribuer ou modifier le Programme, sous réserve des présentes conditions.
Vous ne pouvez imposer une quelconque limitation supplémentaire l'exercice des droits octroyés au titre des présentes par le destinataire. Vous n'avez pas la responsabilité d'imposer le respect de la présente Licence des tiers.

If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Program at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Program by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Program.

Si, conséquemment une décision de justice ou l'allégation d'une transgression de brevet ou pour toute autre raison (non limitée un problème de brevet), des obligations vous sont imposées (que ce soit par jugement, conciliation ou autre) qui contredisent les conditions de la présente Licence, elles ne vous excusent pas des conditions de la présente Licence. Si vous ne pouvez distribuer de manière satisfaire simultanément vos obligations au titre de la présente Licence et toute autre obligation pertinente, alors il en découle que vous ne pouvez pas du tout distribuer le Programme. Par exemple, si une licence de brevet ne permettait pas une redistribution sans redevance du Programme par tous ceux qui reçoivent une copie directement ou indirectement par votre intermédiaire, alors la seule “faon pour vous de satisfaire la fois la licence du brevet et la” “présente Licence serait de vous abstenir totalement de toute distribution du” “Programme.”

If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and any later version, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

Llicencia Pública General Reduda de GNU

Les llicències de la majoria de programari estan dissenyades per a prendre-us la llibertat de compartir-lo i modificar-lo. Contrariament, les Llicències dels generals de GNU estan pensades per a garantir-vos la llibertat de compartir-lo i modificar-lo, per tal d'assegurar que el programari sigui lliure per a tots els usuaris i usuries.

Tothom pot copiar i distribuir còpies literals d'aquest document de la llicència, per no es permet de fer-hi modificacions.

Les llicències de la majoria de programari estan dissenyades per a prendre-us la llibertat de compartir-lo i modificar-lo. Contrariament, les Llicències dels generals de GNU estan pensades per a garantir-vos la llibertat de compartir-lo i modificar-lo, per tal d'assegurar que el programari sigui lliure per a tots els usuaris i usuries.
Les llicències de la majoria de programari estan dissenyades per a prendre-us la llibertat de compartir-lo i modificar-lo. Contrariament, les Llicències públiques generals de GNU estan pensades per a garantir-vos la llibertat de compartir i modificar el programari lliure, per tal d’assegurar que el programari sigui lliure per a tots els seus usuaris i usuries.

Quan parlem de programari lliure ens referim a la llibertat, no al preu. Les nostres llicències públiques generals estan pensades per assegurar que tingueu la llibertat de distribuir còpies del programari lliure (i de cobrar per aquest servei, si voleu); que rebeu el codi font o que, si el voleu, el pugueu rebre; que pugueu modificar el programari o fer-ne servir parts en programes lliures nous; i que sapigueu que podeu fer totes aquestes coses.

Per protegir els vostres drets, cal que apliquem restriccions que prohibeixin a tothom de negar-vos aquests drets o demanar-vos que hi renunciue. Aquestes restriccions suposen determinades responsabilitats per a vs si distribueu còpies del programari o si el modifiqueu.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.
We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.

Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.

When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.

We call this license the "Lesser" General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances.
</para>

<para>
For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License.
</para>

<para>
In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linux operating system.
</para>

Although the Lesser General Public License is Less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.
</para>

<para>
The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a work based on the library and a work that uses the library. The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.
</para>

<title>TERMES I CONDICIONS PER A LA CPIA, DISTRIBUCI I MODIFICACI</title>

<sect2 id="sect0" label="0"/>
<title>Secci 0</title>
This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called "this License"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

A "library" means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The "Library", below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A "work based on the Library" means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification".)

"Source code" for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.
Podeu cobrar un preu per l'acte físic de trametre una còpia i podeu, si així ho voleu, oferir alguna garantia a canvi d'un preu.

Podeu modificar la còpia o còpies de la biblioteca o qualsevol tros de la biblioteca i, així, fer una obra basada en la biblioteca, i podeu copiar i distribuir aquestes modificacions o obres sota els termes de la Secció 1 anterior, sempre que també compliu les condicions següents:

1. The modified work must itself be a software library.
2. Heu de fer que els fitxers modificats portin indicacions ben visibles que diguin que heu modificat els fitxers, i hi heu d'escriure la data de la modificació.
3. You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.
4. If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.
Aquests requeriments afecten l'obra modificada com un tot. Si hi ha parts identificables que no es van derivades de la biblioteca, i es poden considerar racionablement com a obres independents i separades en si mateixes, aleshores aquesta llicència i els seus termes no s'apliquen a aquelles parts quan les distribueu com a obres separades. Per quan distribueu aquestes mateixes parts integrades en un tot que sigui una obra basada en la biblioteca, la distribució del tot s'ha de fer d'acord amb els termes d'aquesta llicència, i els permisos atorgats a altres beneficiaris abasten el tot sencer i, per tant, totes i cadascuna de les parts, independentment de qui les hagi escrites.

Així doncs, la intenció d'aquesta secció no consisteix a reclamar o disputar-vos cap dret a codi que hagueu escrit del tot vs mateix. La intenció és aviat exercir el dret a controlar la distribució d'obres derivades o collectives basades en la biblioteca.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.
You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

When a work that uses the Library uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.

If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under Section 6.)

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a work that uses the Library with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:
Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable work that uses the Library, as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

Use a suitable shared library mechanism for linking with the Library. A suitable mechanism is one that (1) uses at run time a copy of the library already present on the user's computer system, rather than copying library functions into the executable, and (2) will operate properly with a modified version of the library, if the user installs one, as long as the modified version is interface-compatible with the version that the work was made with.

Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in Subsection 6a, above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.

If distribution of the work is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, offer equivalent access to copy the above specified materials from the same place.

Verify that the user has already received a copy of these materials or that you have already sent this user a copy.
For an executable, the required form of the work that uses the Library must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you distribute.

You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do these two things:

Accompany the combined library with a copy of the same work based on the Library, uncombined with any other library facilities. This must be distributed under the terms of the Sections above.

Give prominent notice with the combined library of the fact that part of it is a work based on the Library, and explaining where to find the accompanying uncombined form of the same work.

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties with this License.

Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients’ exercise of the rights granted herein.
No esteu obligat a acceptar aquesta llicncia, ja que no l'heu signada. Tanmateix, no hi ha cap altra opció que us doni permís per modificar o distribuir la biblioteca o les seves obres derivades. Aquestes accions queden prohibides per la llei si no accepteu aquesta llicencia. Això doncs, en modificar o distribuir la biblioteca o les seves obres derivades, indiqueu que accepteu aquesta llicncia per a fer-ho, i tots els seus termes i condicions per copiar, distribuir o modificar la biblioteca o obres que hi estiguin basades.

You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties with this License.
Si, a conseqüència d'una decisió judicial, una demanda per infracció d'una patent o per qualsevol altra raó (no exclusivament relacionada amb patents), se us imposen condicions (tant si s'hi ordren judicial, acord, o el que sigui) que contradueixen les condicions d'aquesta llicència, no queda excusat de les condicions d'aquesta llicència. Si no us s'hi possible distribuir de manera que satisfi a la hora les obligacions que us imposa aquesta llicència i qualsevol altra obligació pertinent, aleshores no podeu distribuir el programa en absolut. Per exemple, si una llicència de patent no permet redistributeixar gratuïtament la biblioteca a aquells que hagin rebut copies de vs directament o indirectament, aleshores la única manera en què podreu satisfacer tant així com aquesta llicència seria abstenir-vos completament de distribuir la biblioteca.</para>

Si qualsevol fragment d'aquesta secció quedarà invalidat o no es pogués fer complir en qualsevol circumstància particular, la intenció s'ha de s'aplique al balan de la secció, i que s'apliqui la secció en la seva totalitat en altres circumstàncies.</para>

El propòsit d'aquesta secció no s'induir-vos a infringir cap patent ni cap altre requeriment del dret a la propietat, o a discutir-ne la validesa; l'unic propòsit d'aquesta secció s'ha de protegir la integritat del sistema de distribució de programari lliure, que s'implènta amb pràctiques de llicència pública. Molta gent ha fet generoses contribucions a l'ampli ventall de programari distribuït per aquest sistema refiant-se de l'aplicació consistent del sistema; li pertoca a l'autor, autora o donant decidir si vol distribuir programari per algun altre sistema, i un beneficiari de la llicència no pot imposar aquesta elecció.</para>

Aquesta secció pren a deixar del tot clar el que es considera una conseqüència de la resta de la llicència.</para>

Si hi ha pasos que restringeixen la distribució o l's de la biblioteca, ja sigui per patents o per interfacies sota copyright, el possessor del copyright original que posi la biblioteca sota aquesta llicència pot afegir limitacions geogràfiques explícites que exclouin aquests pasos, de manera que la distribució nom s'hi quedi permesa dins dels pasos no exclosos, o entre ells. En tal cas, aquesta llicència incorpora la limitació com si estigués escrita en el text de la llicència.</para>

As licenças de muitos softwares são desenvolvidas para restringir sua liberdade de compartilhá-lo e mudá-lo. Contrário a isso, a Licença Pública Geral GNU pretende garantir sua liberdade de compartilhar e alterar software livres – garantindo que o software ser livre e gratuito para os seus usuários.

Quando nos referimos a software livre, estamos nos referindo à liberdade, e não a preço. As nossas Licenças Públicas Gerais foram desenvolvidas para garantir que você tenha a liberdade de distribuir cópias de softwares livres (e cobrar por este serviço, se quiser); que você receba o código-fonte ou tenha acesso a ele, se quiser; que você possa alterar o software ou utilizar partes dele em novos programas livres; e que você saiba que pode fazer tudo isso.

Para proteger seus direitos, precisamos fazer restrições que impeçam a qualquer um de negar estes direitos ou solicitar que você abdique deles. Estas restrições traduzem-se em certas responsabilidades para você, se você for distribuir cópias do software ou modificá-lo.

Além disso, tanto para a proteção de cada autor quanto a nossa, gostaríamos de nos certificar de que todos... entendam que no h qualquer garantia nestes softwares livres. Se o software modificado por algum mais e passado adiante, queremos que seus recebedores saibam que o que eles obvieram no original, de forma que qualquer problema introduzido por terceiros no interfira na reputao do autor original.</para>

Se qualquer parte desta seio for considerada inválida ou não aplicável em qualquer circunstância particular, o restante da seio se aplica, e a seio como um todo se aplica em outras circunstâncias.

O propósito desta seio não é induz-lo a infringir quaisquer patentes ou reivindicações de direitos de propriedade outros, ou a contestar a validade de quaisquer das reivindicações; esta seio tem como único propósito proteger a integridade dos sistemas de distribuição de software livres, o que é implementado pela prática de licenças públicas. Várias pessoas têm contribuído generosamente e em grande escala para software distribuído usando este sistema, na certeza de que sua aplicação é implementada consistente; fica a critério do autor/doador decidir se ele ou ela está disposto a distribuir software utilizando outro sistema, e um licenciado não pode impor qualquer escolha.

Esta seio destina-se a tornar bastante claro o que se acredita ser consequência do restante desta Licença.

Se a distribuição e/ou uso do Programa so restringidos em certos pases por patentes ou direitos autorais, o detentor dos direitos autorais original, e que colocou o Programa sob esta Licença, pode incluir uma limitação geográfica de distribuição, excluindo aqueles paises de forma a tornar a distribuição permitida apenas naquelas ou entre aqueles paises ento no excluídos. Nestes casos, esta Licença incorpora a limitação como se a mesma constasse escrita nesta Licença.
A Free Software Foundation pode publicar versões revisadas e/ou novas da Licença Pública Geral de tempos em tempos. Estas novas versões serão similares em espírito versão atual, mas podem diferir em detalhes que resolvem novos problemas ou situações.

A cada versão dada um número distinto. Se o Programa especifica um número de versão específico desta Licença que se aplica a ele e a "qualquer nova versão", você tem a opção de aceitar os termos e condições daquela versão ou de qualquer outra versão publicada pela Free Software Foundation. Se o Programa não especifica um número de versão desta Licença, você pode escolher qualquer versão já publicada pela Free Software Foundation.

Se você pretende incorporar partes do Programa em outros programas livres, cujas condições de distribuição são diferentes, escreva ao autor e solicite permissão. Para o software que a Free Software Foundation detém direitos autorais, escreva a Free Software Foundation; às vezes nós permitimos exceções a este caso. Nossa decisão será guiada pelos dois objetivos de preservar a condição de liberdade de todas as derivações do nosso software livre, e de promover o compartilhamento e reutilização de software em aspectos gerais.

A <quote>Transparent</quote> copy of the <link linkend="fdl-document">Document</link> means a machine-readable copy, represented in a format whose specification is available to the general public, whose contents can be viewed and edited directly and straightforwardly with generic text editors or (for images composed of pixels) generic paint programs or (for drawings) some widely available drawing editor, and that is suitable for input to text formatters or for automatic translation to a variety of formats suitable for input to text formatters. A copy made in an otherwise Transparent file format whose markup has been designed to thwart or discourage subsequent modification by readers is not Transparent. A copy that is not "<quote>Transparent</quote> is called <quote>Opaque</quote>.

Examples of suitable formats for Transparent copies include plain ASCII without markup, Texinfo input format, LaTeX input format, SGML or XML using a publicly available DTD, and standard-conforming simple HTML designed for human modification. Opaque formats include PostScript, PDF, proprietary formats that can be read and edited only by proprietary word processors, SGML or XML for which the DTD and/or processing tools are not generally available, and the machine-generated HTML produced by some word processors for output purposes only.

It is requested, but not required, that you contact the authors of the Document well before redistributing any large number of copies, to give them a chance to provide you with an updated version of the Document.

You may copy and distribute a Modified Version of the Document under the conditions of sections 2 and 3 above, provided that you release the Modified Version under precisely this License, with the Modified Version filling the role of the Document, thus licensing distribution and modification of the Modified Version to whoever possesses a copy of it. In addition, you must do these things in the Modified Version:

Use in the Title Page (and on the covers, if any) a title distinct from that of the Document, and from those of previous versions (which should, if there were any, be listed in the History section of the Document). You may use the same title as a previous version if the original publisher of that version gives permission.
List on the Title Page, as authors, one or more persons or entities responsible for authorship of the modifications in the Modified Version, together with at least five of the principal authors of the Document (all of its principal authors, if it has less than five).

State on the Title Page the name of the publisher of the Modified Version, as the publisher.

Preserve all the copyright notices of the Document.

Add an appropriate copyright notice for your modifications adjacent to the other copyright notices.

Include, immediately after the copyright notices, a license notice giving the public permission to use the Modified Version under the terms of this License, in the form shown in the Addendum below.

In the combination, you must combine any sections entitled "History" in the various original documents, forming one section entitled "History"; likewise combine any sections entitled "Acknowledgements", and any sections entitled "Dedications". You must delete all sections entitled "Endorsements."
A compilation of the Document or its derivatives with other separate and independent documents or works, in or on a volume of a storage or distribution medium, does not as a whole count as a Modified Version of the Document, provided no compilation copyright is claimed for the compilation. Such a compilation is called an aggregate, and this License does not apply to the other self-contained works thus compiled with the Document, on account of their being thus compiled, if they are not themselves derivative works of the Document. If the Cover Text requirement of section 3 is applicable to these copies of the Document, then if the Document is less than one quarter of the entire aggregate, the Document's Cover Texts may be placed on covers that surround only the Document within the aggregate. Otherwise they must appear on covers around the whole aggregate.

Translation is considered a kind of modification, so you may distribute translations of the Document under the terms of section 4. Replacing Invariant Sections with translations requires special permission from their copyright holders, but you may include translations of some or all Invariant Sections in addition to the original versions of these Invariant Sections. You may include a translation of this License provided that you also include the original English version of this License. In case of a disagreement between the translation and the original English version of this License, the original English version will prevail.
You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Document except as expressly provided for under this License. Any other attempt to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Document is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

The Free Software Foundation may publish new, revised versions of the GNU Free Documentation License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns. See http://www.gnu.org/copyleft/.

Each version of the License is given a distinguishing version number. If the Document specifies that a particular numbered version of this License or any later version applies "to it, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of "
"that specified version or of any later version that has been published (not " "as a draft) by the Free Software Foundation. If the Document does not "
"specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever "
"published (not as a draft) by the Free Software Foundation."

</sect1>
Dovoljeno je razmnoevati in razirjati dobesedne izvode izvorne kode programa v enaki obliki, kot jo dobite, preko kateregakoli nosilca, e je le na vsakem izvodu razlono in primerno objavljen obvestilo o pravicah razirjanja in zanikanje jamstva; vsa obvestila, ki se nanaajo na to dovoljenje in odsotnost vsaknega jamstva pustite nedotaknjena; in da prejmejo vsi drugi prejemniki programa poleg programa e izvod tega dovoljenja.

Za fizino dejanje prenosa kopije lahko zaraunavate in po vai presoji lahko ponudite garancijsko zaito v zameno za plailo.

Dovoljeno je spreminjati va izvod ali izvode programa ali katerikoli njegov del, in tako narediti delo, ki temelji na programu, ter razmnoevati in razirjati takne spremembe ali dela pod pogoji zgornjega Razdelka 1, e je zadoeno tudi vsem naslednjim pogojem: Zagotoviti je treba, da spremenjene datoteke nosijo vidna obvestila o tem, da so spremenjena in datum vsake spremembe. Zagotoviti je treba, da je vsako delo, ki ga razirjate ali izdajate in ki v celoti ali deloma vsebuje program ali katerikoli njegov del ali pa je iz njega izpeljano, objavljeno pod pogoji tega dovoljenja kot celota brez plaila katerikoli tretji osebi. Zagotoviti je treba, da je sam program interaktivni, vendar navadno ne izpie takne najave, tudi za vse delo, ki temelji na programu, ni nujno, da jo.

Te zahteve se nanaajo na spremenjeno delo kot celoto. e razdelki tega dela, ki jih je lahko prepoznati, niso izpeljani iz programa in se jih lahko ima za neodvisna in loena dela sama po sebi, potem to dovoljenje in njeni pogoj zanje ne veljajo, kadar jih razirjate loeno. Vendar, kadar te iste razdelke razirjate kot del celote, ki je delo, ki temelji na programu, mora biti razirjanje celote izvedeno pod pogoji tega dovoljenja, katerega dovoljenja za druga dovoljenja se razirjajo na vso celoto in torej na vsak njen del, ne glede na to, kdo ga je napisal.

Te zahteve se nanaajo na spremenjeno delo kot celoto. e razdelki tega dela, ki jih je lahko prepoznati, niso izpeljani iz programa in se jih lahko ima za neodvisna in loena dela sama po sebi, potem to dovoljenje in njeni pogoj zanje ne veljajo, kadar jih razirjate loeno. Torej, namen tega razdelka ni, da bi zanikal ali spodbijal vae pravice do dela, ki ste ga v celoti napisali sami; namesto tega je namen raziriti pravico do nadzora razirjanja na izpeljana ali zbrana dela, ki temeljijo na Program (ali delo, ki temelji na njem, pod določili razdelka 2 je dovoljeno razmnoževati in razirjati v objektni kodi ali izvedljivi obliki pod pogoji zgornjih razdelkov 1 in 2, e izpolnite tudi kaj od tega:

- opremite ga s popolno in ustrezno izvorno kodo v strojno berljivi obliki, ki mora biti razirjana pod pogoji zgornjih razdelkov 1 in 2 na nosilcu, ki se navadno uporablja za izmenjavo programske opreme; ali,
- opremite ga z napisano ponudbo, veljavno vsaj tri leta, da boste katerikoli tretji osebi, za plačo, ki ne bo presegalo vseh strokov fizinega izvajanja izvorne distribucije, dali popoln izvod ustrezne izvorne kode v strojno berljivi obliki, ki bo razirjana pod pogoji zgornjih razdelkov 1 in 2 na nosilcu, ki se običajno uporablja za izmenjavo programske opreme; ali,
- opremite ga s podatki, ki ste jih dobili vi, kot ponudbo distribucije ustrezne izvorne kode. (Ta alternativa je dovoljena le za nekomercialne distribucije in le, e ste dobili program v obliki izvorne kode ali izvedljivi obliki s takno ponudbo, glede na podrazdelek b, zgoraj.)

Izvorna koda pri delih pomeni obliko dela, najprimernejo za izdelavo sprememb. Pri izvedljivem delu pomeni izvorna koda vse izvorne kodo za vse module, ki jih vsebuje, poleg tega pa e morebitne datoteke z definicijami vmesnika, povezane s tem delom in skripte, uporabljane za nadzor prevajanja in namestitve izvedljive datoteke. Vendar - kot posebna izjema - ni nujno, da razirjana izvorna koda vključuje vse, kar se navadno razirja (v izvorni ali strojni obliki) z večimi komponenti (prevajalnik, jedro, in tako naprej) operacijskega sistema, na katerem tee izvedljiva datoteka, razen e ta komponenta spremlja izvedljivo datoteko.

e se razirjanje izvedljive datoteke ali objektne kode izvede s ponujenim dostopom za prepisovanje z za to namenjenega mesta, potem ponujanje ekvivalentnega dostopa za razmnoževanje izvorne kode z istega mesta teje kot razirjanje izvorne kode, eprav tretje osebe niso prisiljene razmnoževati izvorne kode poleg objektne kode.

"Section 0"
This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice "placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms "of this General Public License. The <quote>Program</quote>, below, refers to "any such program or work, and a <quote>work based on the Program</quote> ""means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is ""to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or ""with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, ""translation is included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote> ""quote>.) Each licensee is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as "you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and "
"appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and "
"disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this "

"Jotta kyttjnin oikeudet turvattaisiin, lisenssill asetetaan rajoituksia, jotka estvt ket tahansa kielitmst nit oikeuksia tai vaatimasta niiden luovuttamista. Nm rajoitukset merkitsevt"

"tiettyj velvoitteita jokaiselle kyttjille, joka levitt ohjelmakopioita tai muuttaa ohjelmaa."

"For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get"

"the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights."

"Jokaisen joka esimerkiksi levitt kopioita GPL-lisenssin alaisesta ohjelmasta, ilmaiseksi tai maksusta, on annettava kyttjille kaikki oikeudet, jotka hnellkin on. Jokaisella kyttjll on oltava"

"varmasti mahdollisuuksa saada ohjelman lhdekoodi. Ohjelman kyttjille on myskin esitetty tnm lisenssisopimuksen ehdot, jotta he tietvt oikeutensa."

"We protect your rights with two steps:"

"Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed"

"on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations."

"Edelleen, jokaisen tekin ja Free Software Foundationin suojaamiseksi on varmistettava, ett jokainen ymmrt, ett vapaalla ohjelmalla ei ole takuuta. Jos joku muuttaa ohjelmaa ja levitt sen"

"edelleen, ohjelman vastaanottajan on tiedettv, ett heill ei ole alkuperist ohjelmaa. Joten mik tahansa ongelma, jonka muut ovat aikaansaaneet, ei vaikuta alkuperisen tekin maineeseen."
Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the "program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all."

Ohjelmistopatentit uhkaavat jokaista vapaa ohjelmaa. On olemassa vaara, ett vapaiden ohjelmien levittj patentoivat ohjelmia sill seurauksella, ett heill on ohjelmiin omistusoikeus. Tmn "vlittmiseksi jokainen patentti on joko lisensoitava ilmaiseksi kaikille kyttjille tai jetty kokonaan lisensoimatta."

This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The "<quote>Program</quote>, below, refers to any such program or work, and a <quote>work based on the Program</quote> means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a "work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "<quote>modification</quote>). Each licensee is addressed as <quote>you</quote>."

"Ti Lisenssi sovelletaan kaikkiin ohjelmiin tai muihin teoksiin, jotka sisltv tekijnoikeuden haltijan ilmoituksen, ett teoksen levittminen tapahtuu GPL-lisenssin ehtojen mukaan. "
"<quote>Ohjelma</quote> viittaa kaikkiin tllisiin tietokoneohjelmiin ja muihin teoksiin. <quote>Ohjelmaan perustuva teos</quote> tarkoittaa joko Ohjelmaa tai mit tahansa tekijnoikeuslain mukaista "

Mtk lisenssi ei kata muita toimenpiteit kuin kopioimisen, levittmisen ja muuttamisen. Ohjelman ajaminen ei ole kielletty. Ohjelman tuloste on tmm Lisenssin alainen vain silloin, kun se muodostaa "Ottelujaan perustuvan teoksen (riippumatta siit ajetaanko Ottelmaan vai ei). Milloin tuloste on Lisenssin alainen riippuu siit, mit Ohjelma tekee.”

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate "copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this "License along with the Program."

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

1. You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you modified the files and the date of any modification.
2. You must cause any work that you distribute to carry its own copyright notice.
3. If the modified work includes new material that added functions or removed functions of the original, you must make a reasonable attempt to ensure that the modified work preserves the separation of those functions. For example, if the original program contains a function that prints copyright notices, but the modified program contains a new function that prints additional information, you must ensure that the output produced by the two functions can be distinguished.
4. If the modified work is a platform-independent object file, you must ensure that the object file is in a standard file format that permits general-purpose object file processors to read and write it.
5. You must license the modified work under this License, so that anyone can distribute it free by conveying it under this License. If you convey the work thus altered, you must convey it under the same version of the License; if you alter it, you may alter it under special version terms.
6. If the modified work is a combination of two or more subprojects, you may provide each subproject under its own license and require each subproject's users to accept its own license. This license does not grant permission to use your work with any other program, even if both are simultaneous.

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.
In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other "work under the scope of this License."

Les licences de la plupart des logiciels sont conçues pour vous donner toute liberté de les partager et de les modifier. L'opposé, les Licences Générales Publiques GNU ont pour but de vous garantir la liberté de partager et modifier un logiciel libre, pour être sûr que le logiciel est bien libre pour tous les utilisateurs.
Les licences de la plupart des logiciels sont conçues pour vous assurer que vous disposez de la liberté de partager des copies du logiciel libre (et de facturer ce service si vous le désirez), que vous recevrez le code source ou pouvez l'obtenir chaque fois que vous le souhaitez, que vous pouvez modifier le logiciel et en utiliser tout ou partie dans de nouveaux programmes libres, et que vous êtes informés que vous pouvez faire tout ceci.

Cette licence, la Licence Générale Publique Limite (Lesser General Public License), s'applique à certains paquets logiciels signés spécifiquement typiquement des bibliothèques de la Free Software Foundation et d'autres auteurs qui décident de l'utiliser. Vous pouvez l'utiliser aussi, mais nous vous suggérons de considérer d'abord si la présente licence ou la Licence Générale Publique GNU (GNU General Public License) ordinaire est la meilleure stratégie à utiliser dans chaque cas particulier, suivant les explications données ci-dessous.

Quand nous parlons de logiciel libre, nous parlons de la liberté de l'utiliser, pas de son prix. Nos Licences Générales Publiques sont conçues pour s'assurer que vous disposerez de la liberté de distribuer des copies du logiciel libre (et de facturer ce service si vous le désirez); que vous recevrez le code source ou pouvez l'obtenir chaque fois que vous le souhaitez; que vous pouvez modifier le logiciel et en utiliser tout ou partie dans de nouveaux programmes libres; et que vous êtes informés que vous pouvez faire tout ceci.

Pour protéger vos droits, nous devons mettre des restrictions qui interdisent aux distributeurs de vous refuser ces droits ou de vous demander d'abandonner ces droits. Ces restrictions se traduisent par certaines responsabilités pour vous si vous distribuez des copies de la bibliothèque ou si vous la modifiez.

Par exemple, si vous distribuez des copies de la bibliothèque, que ce soit à titre gratuit ou contre un paiement, vous devez donner aux concessionnaires tous les droits que nous vous avons concédés. Si vous liez d'autres codes avec la bibliothèque, vous devez fournir des fichiers objets complets aux concessionnaires, de sorte qu'ils puissent les lier nouveau avec la bibliothèque après l'avoir modifiée et recopiable. Et vous devez leur montrer ces termes de sorte qu'ils puissent connaître leurs droits.

Nous protégeons vos droits par une méthode en deux étapes: (1) nous libellons la Bibliothèque avec une notice de propriété intellectuelle (copyright) et (2) nous vous offrons cette Licence, qui vous donne le droit de copier, distribuer ou modifier la bibliothèque.

Pour protéger chaque distributeur, nous voulons tablier de façon très claire qu'il n'y a aucune garantie pour la Bibliothèque libre. Aussi, si la Bibliothèque est modifiée par quelqu'un d'autre qui la redistribue ensuite, ses concessionnaires devraient savoir que ce qu'ils ont n'est pas la version originale, de sorte que la réputation de l'auteur original ne sera pas affectée cause de problèmes introduits par d'autres.

Enfin, les brevets logiciels constituent une menace constante contre l'existence même de tout logiciel libre. Nous voulons que, si une société ne peut pas effectivement restreindre les utilisateurs d'un programme libre en obtenant une licence restrictive d'un titulaire de brevet. Par conséquent, nous insistons pour que toute licence de brevet obtenue pour une version de la Bibliothèque doit être cohérente avec sa pleine liberté d'utilisation spécifiée dans la La plupart des logiciels GNU, y compris certaines bibliothèques, sont couverts par la Licence Générale Publique GNU (GNU General Public License). La présente licence s'applique certaines bibliothèques désignées et est assez différente de la Licence Générale Publique. Nous utilisons la présente licence pour certaines bibliothèques afin de permettre de lier ces bibliothèques, sous certaines conditions, des programmes non libres.

Quand un programme est lié avec une bibliothèque, que ce soit statiquement ou avec une bibliothèque partagée, la combinaison des deux constitue, en termes légaux, un travail combin, un driv de la bibliothèque originale. Il s'ensuit que la Licence Générale Publique ordinaire ne permet une telle liaison que si l'entire combinaison remplit ses critères et conditions de liberté. La Licence Générale Publique Limite permet de desserrer les critères permettant de lier d'autres codes avec la bibliothèque.

Nous appelons cette licence la Licence Générale Publique « Limite » (Lesser General Public License) car elle offre en fait une protection plus limitée de la liberté de l'utilisateur que celle offerte par la Licence Générale Publique ordinaire. Elle offre aux autres développeurs de logiciels libres un avantage plus limité face aux programmes concurrents non libres. Ces désavantages sont la raison pour laquelle nous utilisons la Licence Générale Publique ordinaire pour de nombreuses bibliothèques. Cependant, la licence limite offre des avantages dans certaines circonstances spéciales.

Par exemple, en de rares occasions, il peut exister le besoin particulier d'encourager l'utilisation la plus large possible d'une certaine bibliothèque, afin qu'elle devienne un standard de facto. Pour arriver à cette fin, des programmes non libres doivent pouvoir être autorisés à utiliser la bibliothèque. Un cas plus fréquent est qu'une bibliothèque libre effectue les mêmes tâches que des bibliothèques non libres largement utilisées. Dans ce cas, il n'y a pas grand chose à gagner à limiter la bibliothèque libre aux seuls logiciels libres, aussi nous utilisons la Licence Générale Publique Limite.

Dans d'autres cas, l'autorisation d'utiliser une bibliothèque particulière dans des programmes non libres permet un plus grand nombre de personnes d'utiliser un corpus très large de logiciels libres. Par exemple, l'autorisation d'utiliser la bibliothèque C GNU dans des programmes non libres permet plus de personnes d'utiliser le système d'exploitation GNU tout entier, de même que sa variante, le système d'exploitation GNU/Linux.

Bien que la Licence Générale Publique Limite semble limiter la protection de la liberté de l'utilisateur, elle assure que l'utilisateur d'un programme lié avec la bibliothèque dispose de la liberté et du choix d'exécuter ce programme en utilisant une version modifiée de la bibliothèque.

Les termes et conditions précis concernant la copie, la distribution et la modification suivent. Prenez une attention tout particulière aux différences entre un travail bas sur la Bibliothèque et un travail utilisant la Bibliothèque. Le premier contient du code driv de la bibliothèque, tandis que le second doit être combiné avec la bibliothèque afin de pouvoir être exécuté.
Cet Accord de Licence s'applique toute bibliothèque logicielle ou tout programme contenant une notice place par le titulaire de la rservation de droits (copyright) ou toute autre partie autorise indiquant que ce logiciel peut tre distribu suivant les termes de cette Licence Gnrale Publique Limite (appele ci-dessous <quote>cette Licence</quote>). Chacun des concessionnaires de cette Licence sera disgn en tant que <quote>Vous</quote>.

Une <quote>bibliothèque</quote> signifie une collection de fonctions logicielles ou de donnes prpares de faon tre lie facilement des programmes applicatifs (utilisant tout ou partie de ces fonctions et donnes) afin de former des executables.

La <quote>Bibliothèque</quote>, ci-dessous, se rfre toute telle bibliothèque logicielle ou travail qui a t distribu suivant ces termes. Un <quote>travail bas sur la Bibliothèque</quote> signifie soit la Bibliothèque ou tout travail driv pouvant tre soumis aux lois de proprit intellectuelle: c'est--dire un travail contenant la Bibliothèque ou une portion de celle-ci, soit en copie conforme, soit avec des modification ou traduit directement dans une autre langue. (Dans la suite ci-dessous, les traductions sont incluses sans limitation dans le terme modification.)

Le <quote>code source</quote> d'un travail signifie la forme prfére du travail permettant d'y effectuer des modifications. Pour une bibliothèque, le code source complet signifie tout le code source de tous les modules qu'elle contient, plus tous les fichiers de dfinition d'interface associés, plus les scripts utilis pour contrler la compilation et l'installation de la bibliothèque.

Les activits autres que la copie, la distribution et la modification ne sont pas couvertes par cette Licence; elles sont en dehors de son tendue. L'action d'executer un programme utilisant la Bibliothèque n'est pas restreinte et les rsultats produits par un tel programme ne sont couverts que si leur contenu constitue un travail bas sur la Bibliothèque (indpendamment de l'utilisation de la Bibliothèque dans un outil utilis pour l'crire). Que ce soit ou non le cas dpend de ce que ralise la Bibliothèque, et de ce que fait le programme utilisant la Bibliothèque.

Vous pouvez copier et distribuer des copies conformes du code source complet de la Bibliothèque que vous recevez, sur tout support, pourvu que vous publiiez scrupuleusement et de faon approprie sur chaque copie la notice de rservation de droit (copyright) et un dni de garantie; gardez intactes toutes les notices qui se rfrent cette Licence et l'absence de toute garantie; et distribuez une copie de cette Licence en mme temps que la Bibliothèque.

Vous pouvez demander un paiement pour l'action physique de transfert d'une copie et vous pouvez volont offrir une protection de garantie en change d'un paiement.

Vous pouvez modifier votre ou vos copie(s) de la Bibliothèque ou toute portion de celle-ci et ainsi crer un travail bas sur la Bibliothèque et copier ou distribuer de telles modifications suivant les termes de la <link linkend="sect1">Section 1</link> ci-dessus, pourvu que vous satisfassiez galement chacune de ces conditions:

  <listitem>
Le travail modifié doit être lui-même une bibliothèque logicielle.

Vous devez assurer que les fichiers modifiés comportent des notices videntes tablissant que vous avez changé les fichiers et la date de ces changements.

Vous devez assurer que l'ensemble du travail pourra être licencié sans frais toute tierce partie suivant les termes de cette Licence.

Si une facilit dans le bibliothèque modifie référence une fonction ou une table de données fournir par une application utilisant la facilit, autre qu'un argument pass quand la facilit est invoquée, alors vous devez faire un effort en toute bonne foi pour vous assurer que, dans l'éventualité ou une application ne fournirait pas une telle fonction ou table, la facilit restera opérationnelle et effectuera une partie quelconque de sa finalité de façon sense.

(Par exemple, une fonction dans une bibliothèque pour calculer des racines carrées a une finalité qui est totalement bien définie indépendamment de l'application. Par conséquent, la Sous-section 2d requiert que toute fonction fournie par l'application ou table utilise par cette fonction doit être optionnelle si l'application n'en fournit pas: la fonction racine carrée doit encore pouvoir calculer des racines carrées.)

Ces obligations s'appliquent au travail modifié dans son entier. Si des sections identifiables de ce travail ne sont pas dérivées dans la Bibliothèque, et peuvent être raisonnablement considérées comme des travaux indépendants et spars par eux-mêmes, alors cette Licence et ses termes, ne s'appliquent pas à ces sections, dès lors que vous les distribuez en tant que travaux spars. Mais quand vous distribuez les mêmes sections en tant que composants d'un ensemble constitué d'un travail bas sur la Bibliothèque, la distribution de l'ensemble doit se faire suivant les termes de cette Licence, dont les autorisations accordées d'autres obteneurs de licences s'étendent à la totalité de l'ensemble et donc pour chacun des composants indépendamment de qui les a écrit.

 Aussi, ce n'est pas l'intention de cette section de clamer des droits ou de contester vos droits sur des travaux créés entièrement par vous; l'intention est plutôt d'exercer le droit de contrôler la distribution des travaux dérivés ou collectifs bas sur la Bibliothèque.

De plus, la simple agrégation avec la Bibliothèque (ou avec un travail bas sur la Bibliothèque) d'un autre travail non bas sur la Bibliothèque sur un même volume de stockage ou un support de distribution n'amène pas cet autre travail dans le champ d'application de cette Licence.

Vous pouvez choisir d'appliquer les termes de la Licence Gnrale Publique GNU ordinaire au lieu de deux de cette Licence une copie donne de cette Bibliothèque. Pour le faire, vous devez modifier les notices qui se réfèrent cette Licence, de sorte qu'ils se réfèrent plutôt la Licence Gnrale Publique GNU version 2, au lieu de cette Licence. (Si une version officielle plus récente que la version 2 de la Licence Gnrale Publique GNU ordinaire a t publiée, alors vous pouvez specifier plutt cette version si vous le souhaitez.) N'effectuez aucun autre changement ces notices.</para>

<para>Ds que ce changement a t fait dans une copie donne, il est irrversible pour cette copie et donc la Licence Gnrale Publique GNU ordinaire s'appliquera toutes les copies suivantes et tous travaux drivs effectus partir de cette copie.</para>

<para>Cette option est utile quand vous souhaitez copier une partie du code de la Bibliothque en un programme qui n'est pas une bibliothque.</para>

<sect2 id="sect4" label="4">
<title>Section 4</title>

<para>Vous pouvez copier et distribuer la Bibliothque (ou une portion ou un driv de celle-ci, suivant les termes de la Section 2 ) sous forme de code objet ou exécutable suivant les termes des Sections 1 et 2 ci-dessus, pourvu que vous l'accompagniez avec le code source correspondant sous forme lisible par une machine, qui doit être distribué suivant les termes des Sections 1 et 2 ci-dessus sur un support utilisation habituellement pour l'échange de logiciels.</para>

<para>Si la distribution du code objet se fait en offrant l'accès à la copie depuis un emplacement désigné, alors une offre d'accès équivalente pour copier le code source depuis le même emplacement satisfer l'obligation de distribuer le code source, même si des parties tierces ne sont pas obligées de copier simultanément le source en même temps que le code objet.</para>

<title>Section 5</title>

<para>Un programme qui ne contient aucun driv d'une quelconque portion de la Bibliothque, mais est conçu pour travailler avec la Bibliothque en tant compil ou li avec cette Bibliothque, est appel un travail utilisant la Bibliothque. Un tel travail, pris isolément, n'est pas un travail driv de la Bibliothque et tombe par conséquent hors du champ d'application de cette Licence.</para>

<para>Cependant, la liaison avec la Bibliothque d'un travail utilisant la Bibliothque cre un exécutable qui est un driv de la Bibliothque (car il contient des portions de la Bibliothque), plutôt qu'un travail utilisant la Bibliothque. L'exécutable est par conséquent couvert par cette Licence. La Section 6 tablit les termes de distribution de tels exécutables.</para>

<para>Quand un travail utilisant la Bibliothque utilise des éléments d'un fichier d'entrée faisant partie de la Bibliothque, le code objet de ce travail peut être un travail driv de la Bibliothque même si son code source ne l'est pas. Cette définition prendra son sens tout particulièrement si le travail peut être lié sans la Bibliothque ou si le travail est lui-même une bibliothque. Les limitations de ce cas ne sont pas définies de façon précise par la loi.</para>

l'utilisation du fichier objet est non restreinte, indépendamment du fait que cela constitue également un travail driv. (Les règles de la "Section 6" s'appliqueront tout de même aux exécutables contenant ce code objet plus des portions de la Bibliothèque.)</para>

<para>Autrement, si le travail est un driv de la Bibliothèque, vous pouvez distribuer le code objet pour le travail suivant les termes de la "Section 6". <title>Section 6</title>

<para>Par exception aux Sections ci-dessus, vous pouvez aussi combiner ou lier un "travail utilisant la Bibliothèque" avec la Bibliothèque pour produire un travail contenant des portions de la Bibliothèque et distribuer ce travail suivant les termes de votre choix, pourvu que ces termes permettent la modification du travail pour les besoins propres du client et l'ingénierie inverse permettant le débogage de telles modifications.</para>

  <listitem>
    Accompagner le travail avec le code source complet correspondant lisible par une machine pour la Bibliothèque incluant tout changement quelconque qui ont été effectués dans le travail (qui doit être distribué suivant les Sections "1" et "2" ci-dessus); et, si le travail est un exécutable lié avec la Bibliothèque, fournir la totalité du "travail utilisant la Bibliothèque" lisible par une machine, sous forme de code objet ou source, de sorte que l'utilisateur puisse modifier la Bibliothèque et la relier pour produire un exécutable modifié contenant la Bibliothèque modifiée. (Il est admis que l'utilisateur qui change le contenu de fichiers de définition dans la Bibliothèque ne sera pas nécessairement capable de recompiler l'application pour utiliser les définitions modifiées.)</listitem>
  <listitem>
    Utiliser un mécanisme approprié de bibliothèque partage pour lier avec la Bibliothèque. Un mécanisme approprié est celui qui (1) utilise l'exécution une copie de la Bibliothèque déjà présente sur le système de l'ordinateur de l'utilisateur, plutôt que de copier les fonctions de bibliothèque dans l'exécutable et (2) fonctionnera correctement avec une version modifiée de la Bibliothèque, si l'utilisateur en installe une, tant que la version modifiée est compatible au niveau de l'interface avec la version avec laquelle le travail a été réalisé.</listitem>
  <listitem>
    Accompagner le travail avec une offre écrite, valide pour au moins trois ans, de donner au même utilisateur les éléments spécifiés dans la "Sous-section 6a", contre un paiement n'excedant pas le cot requis pour effectuer cette distribution.</listitem>
  <listitem>
    Si la distribution du travail est faite en offrant l'accès une copie depuis un emplacement désigné, offrir un accès équivalent depuis le même emplacement pour copier les éléments spécifiés ci-dessus.</listitem>
</orderedlist>
Vérifier que l'utilisateur a déjà reçu une copie de ces éléments ou que vous en avez déjà envoyé une copie à cet utilisateur.

Pour un exécutable, la forme requise du travail utilisant la Bibliothèque doit inclure toutes les données et programmes utiles nécessaires permettant de reproduire l'exécutable partiellement à partir de ceux-ci. Cependant, par exception, les matériels à distribuer n'ont pas besoin d'inclure tout ce qui est normalement distribué (sous forme source ou binaire) avec les composants majeurs (compilateur, noyau et autres composants similaires) du système d'exploitation sur lequel l'exécutable fonctionne, moins que ce composant lui-même accompagne l'exécutable.

Il peut arriver que ces conditions nécessaires contredisent les restrictions de licence d'autres bibliothèques propriétaires qui n'accompagnent pas normalement le système d'exploitation. Une telle contradiction signifie que vous ne pouvez pas les utiliser en même temps que la Bibliothèque dans un exécutable que vous distribuez.

Vous pouvez placer les facilités de bibliothèque qui sont un travail bas sur la Bibliothèque côte à côte dans une unique bibliothèque avec d'autres facilités de bibliothèque non couvertes par cette Licence et distribuer une telle bibliothèque combinée, pourvu que la distribution spare du travail bas sur la Bibliothèque et des autres facilités de bibliothèque soient autrement permises et pourvu que vous effectuiez chacune des deux tâches suivantes:

1. Accompagner la bibliothèque combinée avec une copie du même travail bas sur la Bibliothèque, non combiné avec d'autres facilités de bibliothèque. Cela doit être distribué suivant les termes des Sections ci-dessus.
2. Donner une notice visible avec la bibliothèque combinée du fait qu'une partie de celle-ci est un travail bas sur la Bibliothèque et expliquant où trouver la forme non combinée accompagnante du même travail.

Vous ne pouvez pas copier, modifier, accorder des sous-licences, lier ou distribuer la Bibliothèque autrement que d'une façon décrite expressément par cette Licence. Autrement, toute tentative de copier, modifier, accorder des sous-licences, lier ou distribuer la Bibliothèque est invalide et mettra fin automatiquement vos droits accordés sous cette Licence. Toutefois, toute autre tierce partie qui a reçu des copies ou des droits, par vous suivant les termes de cette Licence n'aura pas sa licence terminée, aussi longtemps que cette partie tierce continue de s'y conformer pleinement.
Vous n'êtes pas obligé d'accepter cette Licence, puisque vous ne l'avez pas signé. Cependant, rien d'autre ne vous accorde l'autorisation de modifier ou distribuer la Bibliothèque ou ses travaux dérivés. Ces actions sont également prohibées si vous n'acceptez pas cette Licence. Par conséquent, en modifiant ou distribuant la Bibliothèque (ou tout travail basé sur la Bibliothèque), vous indiquez votre acceptation de cette Licence pour le faire, ainsi que tous ses termes et conditions pour la copie, la distribution ou la modification de la Bibliothèque ou des travaux basés sur elle.

Chaque fois que vous redistribuez la Bibliothèque (ou tout travail basé sur la Bibliothèque), le destinataire reçoit automatiquement une licence par l'émetteur d'origine de la licence, permettant de copier, distribuer, lier ou modifier la Bibliothèque en accord avec les présents termes et conditions. Vous ne pouvez pas imposer davantage de restrictions sur l'exercice par le concessionnaire de cette licence des droits accordés dans la présente licence. Vous êtes dégagé de la responsabilité de contrôler la conformité d'usage de cette Licence par des parties tierces.

Si, par suite d'une décision judiciaire ou d'une allégation d'infraction d'un brevet ou pour toute autre raison (non limité aux problèmes de brevets), des conditions vous sont imposées (que ce soit par une ordonnance de justice, une transaction amiable ou contractuelle ou toute autre raison) qui contredisent les conditions de cette Licence, elles ne vous échappent pas des obligations de cette Licence. Si vous ne pouvez pas effectuer une distribution de façon satisfaisant simultanément vos obligations sous cette Licence et toute autre obligation pertinente, alors vous ne pouvez en aucun cas distribuer la Bibliothèque. Par exemple, si une licence de brevet ne permettait pas une redistribution de la Bibliothèque sans paiement de royalties par tous ceux qui en reçoivent des copies directement ou indirectement par vous, alors la seule façon pour vous de satisfaire la fois les conditions imposées et cette Licence sera de vous abstenir complètement de toute distribution de la Bibliothèque.

Si toute portion de cette section est jugée invalide ou inapplicable de plein droit dans une quelconque circonstance particulière, le maximum possible de cette section est supposé s'appliquer et la section dans son tout est supposé toujours applicable dans toutes les autres circonstances.

Le but de cette section n'est pas de vous obliger enfreindre un quelconque brevet ou d'autres prétentions des droits de proprit ou de contester la validité de telles prétentions; cette section a pour seul but de protéger l'intérêt du système de distribution des logiciels libres tel qu'il fonctionne au moyen de pratiques de licences publiques. De nombreuses personnes ont fait des contributions généreuses à la gamme très tendue de logiciels distribués via ce système, en comptant sur l'application rigoureuse et cohérente de ce système; il appartient seulement l'auteur ou au donateur de décider si il ou elle désire distribuer un logiciel via un autre système et le concessionnaire de licence ne peut pas imposer ce choix.
Cette section a pour but d'établir de façon très claire ce que l'on croit être une conséquence nécessaire du reste de cette Licence.

Si la distribution ou l'usage de la Bibliothèque est restreinte dans certains pays, que ce soit par des brevets ou des interfaces soumises au droit de propriété intellectuelle, le titulaire original de ce droit de propriété qui place la Bibliothèque sous la couverture de cette Licence peut ajouter une limitation géographique explicite de distribution excluant ces pays, afin que la distribution soit permise seulement dans ou parmi les pays non exclus. Dans un tel cas, cette Licence incorpore la limitation comme si elle tait rpute crée dans le corps de cette Licence.

La Free Software Foundation peut publier des versions ravisées ou nouvelles de la Licence Générale Publique Limite de temps en temps. De telles nouvelles versions resteront similaires l'esprit de la présente version, mais peut différer dans son détail afin de traiter de nouveaux problèmes ou préoccupations.

Chaque version reçoit un numéro de version distinctif. Si la Bibliothèque spécifie un numéro de version de cette Licence qui s'applique celle-ci et toute autre version future, vous avez l'option de suivre les termes et conditions de cette version ou de toute version ultérieure publiées par la Free Software Foundation. Si la Bibliothèque ne spécifie pas un numéro de version de licence, vous pouvez choisir n'importe quelle version publiee par la Free Software Foundation.

Si vous souhaitez incorporer des parties de la Bibliothèque dans tout autre programme libre dont les conditions de distribution sont incompatibles avec ces termes, crivez l'auteur ou demandez son autorisation. Pour les logiciels dont les droits de propriété sont tenus par la Free Software Foundation, crivez la Free Software Foundation; nous faisons parfois des exceptions pour celui-ci. Notre décision sera guide par les deux finalités de préserver le statut libre de tous les drivs de nos logiciels libres et de promouvoir le partage et la réutilisation des logiciels en général.

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.
This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.

Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.

When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.

We call this license the Lesser General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances.

For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License.

In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linux operating system.

Although the Lesser General Public License is Less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a work based on the library and a work that uses the library. The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.

This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called this License). Each licensee is addressed as you.

A library means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.
The <quote>Library</quote>, below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A <quote>work based on the Library</quote> means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote>.)

<quote>Source code</quote> for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.
You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

- The modified work must itself be a software library.
- You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.
- You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.
- If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)
These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.
Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.

You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a work that uses the Library. Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.
However, linking a work that uses the Library with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a work that uses the library. The executable is therefore covered by this License. Section 6 states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a work that uses the Library uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.

If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under Section 6.)

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a work that uses the Library with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.
You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:

Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable work that uses the Library, as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

Use a suitable shared library mechanism for linking with the Library. A suitable mechanism is one that (1) uses at run time a copy of the library already present on the user's computer system, rather than copying library functions into the executable, and (2) will operate properly with a modified version of the library, if the user installs one, as long as the modified version is interface-compatible with the version that the work was made with.

Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in Subsection 6a, above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.
If distribution of the work is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, offer equivalent access to copy the above specified materials from the same place.

Verify that the user has already received a copy of these materials or that you have already sent this user a copy.

For an executable, the required form of the work that uses the Library must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you distribute.

You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do these two things:
Accompany the combined library with a copy of the same work based on the Library, uncombined with any other library facilities. This must be distributed under the terms of the Sections above.

Give prominent notice with the combined library of the fact that part of it is a work based on the Library, and explaining where to find the accompanying uncombined form of the same work.

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Library or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Library (or any work based on the Library), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Library or works based on it.

Preamble

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users.

This license, the Library General Public License, applies to some specially designated Free Software Foundation software, and to any other libraries whose authors decide to use it. You can use it for your libraries, too.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights.
These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library, or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link a program with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients so that they can relink them with the library, after making changes to the library and recompiling
it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

Our method of protecting your rights has two steps: (1) copyright the library, and (2) offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.

Also, for each distributor's protection, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free library. If the library is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original version, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that companies distributing free software will individually obtain patent licenses, thus in effect transforming the program into proprietary software. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License, which was designed for utility programs. This license, the GNU Library General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries. This license is quite different from the ordinary one; be sure to read it in full, and don't assume that anything in it is the same as in the ordinary license.

The reason we have a separate public license for some libraries is that they blur the distinction we usually make between modifying or adding to a program and simply using it. Linking a program with a library, without changing the library, is in some sense simply using the library, and is analogous to running a utility program or application program. However, in a textual and legal sense, the linked executable is a combined work, a derivative of the original library, and the ordinary General Public License treats it as such.

Because of this blurred distinction, using the ordinary General Public License for libraries did not effectively promote software sharing, because most developers did not use the libraries. We concluded that weaker conditions might promote sharing better.

However, unrestricted linking of non-free programs would deprive the users of those programs of all benefit from the free status of the libraries themselves. This Library General Public License is intended to permit developers of non-free programs to use free libraries, while preserving your freedom as a user of such programs to change the free libraries that are incorporated in them. (We have not seen how to achieve this as regards changes in header files, but we have achieved it as regards changes in the actual functions of the Library.) The hope is that this will lead to faster development of free libraries.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a "work based on the library" and a "work that uses the library". The former contains code derived from the library, while the latter only works together with the library.
Note that it is possible for a library to be covered by the ordinary General Public License rather than by this special one.

GNU LIBRARY GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License Agreement applies to any software library which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Library General Public License (also called "this License"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

A "library" means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The "Library", below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A "work based on the Library" means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification").

"Source code" for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a
2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

a) The modified work must itself be a software library.

b) You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

c) You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

d) If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

3. You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.

4. You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

5. A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a "work that uses the Library". Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a "work that uses the Library" with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a "work that uses the library". The executable is therefore covered by this License. Section 6 states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a "work that uses the Library" uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.

If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under Section 6.)

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

6. As an exception to the Sections above, you may also compile or link a “work that uses the Library” with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:

a) Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable "work that uses the Library", as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

b) Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in Subsection 6a, above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.

c) If distribution of the work is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, offer equivalent access to copy the above specified materials from the same place.

d) Verify that the user has already received a copy of these materials or that you have already sent this user a copy.

For an executable, the required form of the "work that uses the Library" must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the source code distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you distribute.

7. You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do these two things:

a) Accompany the combined library with a copy of the same work based on the Library, uncombined with any other library facilities. This must be distributed under the terms of the Sections above.

b) Give prominent notice with the combined library of the fact that part of it is a work based on the Library, and explaining where to find the accompanying uncombined form of the same work.

8. You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

9. You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Library or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Library (or any work based on the Library), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Library or works based on it.

10. Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients’ exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.

11. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Library.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply, and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

12. If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

13. The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the Library General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Library specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and "any later version", you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Library does not specify a license version number, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

14. If you wish to incorporate parts of the Library into other free programs whose distribution conditions are incompatible with these, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

NO WARRANTY

15. BECAUSE THE LIBRARY IS LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE LIBRARY, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW. EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS AND/OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE LIBRARY "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY AND PERFORMANCE OF THE LIBRARY IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE LIBRARY PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY SERVICING, REPAIR OR CORRECTION.

16. IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER, OR ANY OTHER PARTY WHO MAY MODIFY AND/OR REDISTRIBUTE THE LIBRARY AS PERMITTED ABOVE, BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE LIBRARY (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE LIBRARY TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER SOFTWARE), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Libraries

If you develop a new library, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, we recommend making it free software that everyone can redistribute and change. You can do so by permitting redistribution under these terms (or, alternatively, under the terms of the ordinary General Public License).

To apply these terms, attach the following notices to the library. It is safest to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively convey the exclusion of warranty; and each file should have at least the "copyright" line and a pointer to where the full notice is found.

This library is free software; you can redistribute it and/or modify it under the terms of the GNU Library General Public License as published by the Free Software Foundation; either version 2 of the License, or (at your option) any later version.

This library is distributed in the hope that it will be useful, but WITHOUT ANY WARRANTY; without even the implied warranty of MERCHANTABILITY or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. See the GNU Library General Public License for more details.

You should have received a copy of the GNU Library General Public License along with this library; if not, write to the Free Software Foundation, Inc., 51 Franklin Street, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301 USA

Also add information on how to contact you by electronic and paper mail.

You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or your school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the library, if necessary. Here is a sample; alter the names:

Yoyodyne, Inc., hereby disclaims all copyright interest in the library 'Frob' (a library for tweaking knobs) written by James Random Hacker.

Preamble

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users. This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it. (Some other Free Software Foundation software is covered by the GNU Lesser General Public License instead.) You can apply it to your programs, too.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights.
These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with two steps: (1) copyright the software, and
(2) offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the software.

Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.
Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone’s free use or not licensed at all.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

GNU GENERAL PUBLIC LICENSE
TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

0. This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The "Program", below, refers to any such program or work, and a "work based on the Program" means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.

1. You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

2. You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

   a) You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.
b) You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

c) If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License. (Exception: if the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

3. You may copy and distribute the Program (or a work based on it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you also do one of the following:

a) Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

b) Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

c) Accompany it with the information you received as to the offer to distribute corresponding source code. (This alternative is allowed only for noncommercial distribution and only if you received the program in object code or executable form with such an offer, in accord with Subsection b above.)

The source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For an executable work, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the executable. However, as a special exception, the source code distributed need not include
anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

If distribution of executable or object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place counts as distribution of the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

4. You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Program except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Program is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License.
However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

5. You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Program or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Program (or any work based on the Program), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Program or works based on it.

6. Each time you redistribute the Program (or any work based on the Program), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute or modify the Program subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients’ exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.

7. If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Program at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Program by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Program.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system, which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

8. If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

9. The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.
Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and "any later version", you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

10. If you wish to incorporate parts of the Program into other free programs whose distribution conditions are different, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

NO WARRANTY

11. Because the program is licensed free of charge, there is no warranty for the program, to the extent permitted by applicable law. Except when otherwise stated in writing the copyright holders and/or other parties provide the program "as is" without warranty of any kind, either expressed or implied, including, but not limited to, the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. The entire risk as to the quality and performance of the program is with you. Should the program prove defective, you assume the cost of all necessary servicing, repair or correction.

12. In no event unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing will any copyright holder, or any other party who may modify and/or redistribute the program as permitted above, be liable to you for damages, including any general, special, incidental or consequential damages arising out of the use or inability to use the program (including but not limited to loss of data or data being rendered inaccurate or losses sustained by you or third parties or a failure of the program to operate with any other programs), even if such holder or other party has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

How to Apply These Terms to Your New Programs

If you develop a new program, and you want it to be of the greatest possible use to the public, the best way to achieve this is to make it free software which everyone can redistribute and change under these terms.

To do so, attach the following notices to the program. It is safest to attach them to the start of each source file to most effectively convey the exclusion of warranty; and each file should have at least the "copyright" line and a pointer to where the full notice is found.

If the program is interactive, make it output a short notice like this when it starts in an interactive mode:

Gnomovision version 69, Copyright (C) year name of author
Gnomovision comes with ABSOLUTELY NO WARRANTY; for details type `show w'. This is free software, and you are welcome to redistribute it under certain conditions; type `show c' for details.

The hypothetical commands `show w' and `show c' should show the appropriate parts of the General Public License. Of course, the commands you use may be called something other than `show w' and `show c'; they could even be mouse-clicks or menu items--whatever suits your program.

You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or your school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the program, if necessary. Here is a sample; alter the names:

Yoyodyne, Inc., hereby disclaims all copyright interest in the program `Gnomovision' (which makes passes at compilers) written by James Hacker.

Ty Coon, President of Vice

This General Public License does not permit incorporating your program into proprietary programs. If your program is a subroutine library, you may consider it more useful to permit linking proprietary applications with the library. If this is what you want to do, use the GNU Lesser General Public License instead of this License.

<title>Vorwort</title>

Die Bezeichnung "freie" Software bezieht sich auf Freiheit, nicht auf den Preis. Unsere Lizenzen sollen Ihnen die Freiheit garantieren, Kopien freier Software zu verbreiten (und etwas für diesen Service zu berechnen, wenn Sie möchten), die Möglichkeit, die Software im Quelltext zu erhalten oder den Quelltext auf Wunsch zu bekommen. Die Lizenzen sollen garantieren, dass Sie die Software ändern oder Teile davon in neuen freien Programmen verwenden dürfen und da Sie wissen, dass Sie dies alles tun dürfen.

Um Ihre Rechte zu schützen, müssen wir Einschränkungen machen, die es jedem verbieten, Ihnen diese Rechte zu verweigern oder Sie aufzufordern, auf diese Rechte zu verzichten. Aus diesen Einschränkungen folgen bestimmte Verantwortlichkeiten für Sie, wenn Sie Kopien der Software verbreiten oder sie verändern.

Beispielsweise müssen Sie den Empfängern alle Rechte gewähren, die Sie selbst haben, wenn Sie - kostenlos oder gegen Bezahlung - Kopien eines solchen Programms verbreiten. Sie müssen sicherstellen, dass auch die Empfänger den Quelltext erhalten bzw. erhalten können. Und Sie müssen ihnen diese Bedingungen zeigen, damit sie ihre Rechte kennen.

Wir schätzen Ihre Rechte in zwei Schritten: Wir stellen die Software unter ein Urheberrecht (Copyright), und wir bieten Ihnen diese Lizenz an, die Ihnen das Recht gibt, die Software zu vervielfältigen, zu verbreiten und/oder zu verändern.

Um die Autoren und uns zu schützen, wollen wir darüber hinaus sicherstellen, dass jeder erfährt, dass für diese freie Software keinerlei Garantie besteht. Wenn die Software von jemand anderem modifiziert und weitergegeben wird, möchten wir, dass die Empfänger wissen, dass sie nicht das Original erhalten haben, damit irgendwelche von anderen verursachte Probleme nicht den Ruf des ursprünglichen Autors schädigen.

Schließlich und endlich ist jedes freie Programm permanent durch Software-Patente bedroht. Wir möchten die Gefahr ausschließen, dass ein Distributoren eines freien Programms individuell Patente lizenzieren - mit dem Ergebnis, dass das Programm proprietär wird. Um dies zu verhindern, haben wir klargestellt, dass jedes Patent entweder für freie Benutzung durch jedermann lizenziert werden muß oder überhaupt nicht lizenziert werden darf.

Es folgen die genauen Bedingungen für die Vervielfältigung, Verbreitung und Bearbeitung:
Bedingungen für die Vervielfältigung, Verbreitung und Bearbeitung

Paragraph 0
Diese Lizenz gilt für jedes Programm und jedes andere Datenwerk, in dem ein entsprechender Vermerk des Copyright-Inhabers darauf hinweist, da das Datenwerk unter den Bestimmungen dieser General Public License verbreitet werden darf. Im folgenden wird jedes derartige Programm oder Datenwerk als das Programm bezeichnet; die Formulierung auf dem Programm basierendes Datenwerk bezeichnet das Programm sowie jegliche Bearbeitung des Programms im urheberrechtlichen Sinne, also ein Datenwerk, welches das Programm, auch auszugsweise, sei es unverändert oder verändert und/oder in eine andere Sprache übersetzt, enthält. (Im folgenden wird die Übersetzung ohne Einschränkung als Bearbeitung eingestuft.) Jeder Lizenznehmer wird im folgenden als Sie angesprochen.

Paragraph 1
Sie dürfen auf beliebigen Medien unveränderte Kopien des Quelltextes des Programms, wie sie ihn erhalten haben, anfertigen und verbreiten. Voraussetzung hierfür ist, dass Sie mit jeder Kopie einen entsprechenden Copyright-Vermerk sowie einen Haftungsausschluss veröffentlichen, alle Vermerke, die sich auf diese Lizenz und das Fehlen einer Garantie beziehen, unverändert lassen und des weiteren allen anderen Empfängern des Programms zusammen mit dem Programm eine Kopie dieser Lizenz zukommen lassen.

Paragraph 2
Sie dürfen Ihre Kopie(n) des Programms oder eines Teils davon verändern, wodurch ein auf dem Programm basierendes Datenwerk entsteht; Sie dürfen derartige Bearbeitungen unter den Bestimmungen von Paragraph 1 vervielfältigen und verbreiten, vorausgesetzt, dass zusätzliche all genannten Bedingungen erfüllt werden.

Sie müssen die veränderten Dateien mit einem auffälligen Vermerk versehen, der auf die von Ihnen vorgenommene Modifizierung und das Datum jeder Änderung hinweist.

Sie müssen dafür sorgen, dass jede von Ihnen verbreitete oder veröffentlichte Arbeit, die ganz oder teilweise von dem Programm oder Teilen davon abgeleitet ist, Dritten gegenüber als Ganzes unter den Bedingungen dieser Lizenz ohne Lizenzgebühren zur Verfügung gestellt wird.
Wenn das veränderte Programm normalerweise bei der Ausführung interaktiv Kommandos einliest, müssen Sie dafür sorgen, dass es, wenn es auf dem schnellsten Wege für solche interaktive Nutzung gestartet wird, eine Meldung ausgibt oder ausdruckt, die einen geeigneten Copyright-Vermerk enthält sowie einen Hinweis, dass es keine Garantieleistung gibt (oder anderenfalls, da Sie Garantie leisten), und da die Benutzer das Programm unter diesen Bedingungen weiter verbreiten dürfen. Auch mu der Benutzer darauf hingewiesen werden, wie er eine Kopie dieser Lizenz ansehen kann. <note> Ausnahme:
Wenn das Programm selbst interaktiv arbeitet, aber normalerweise keine derartige Meldung ausgibt, muss Ihr auf dem Programm basierendes Datenwerk auch keine solche Meldung ausgeben.</note></para>

Diese Anforderungen gelten für das bearbeitete Datenwerk als Ganzes. Wenn identifizierbare Teile des Datenwerkes nicht von dem Programm abgeleitet sind und vernünftigerweise als unabhängige und eigenständige Datenwerke für sich selbst zu betrachten sind, dann gelten diese Lizenz und ihre Bedingungen nicht für die betroffenen Teile, wenn Sie diese als eigenständige Datenwerke weitergeben. Wenn Sie jedoch dieselben Abschnitte als Teil eines Ganzen weitergeben, das ein auf dem Programm basierendes Datenwerk darstellt, dann muss die Weitergabe des Ganzen nach den Bedingungen dieser Lizenz erfolgen, deren Bedingungen für weitere Lizenznehmer somit auf das gesamte Ganze ausgedehnt werden - und somit auf jeden einzelnen Teil, unabhängig vom jeweiligen Autor.</para>

Somit ist es nicht die Absicht dieses Abschnittes, Rechte für Datenwerke in Anspruch zu nehmen oder Ihnen die Rechte für Datenwerke streitig zu machen, die komplett von Ihnen geschrieben wurden; vielmehr ist es die Absicht, die Rechte zur Kontrolle der Verbreitung von Datenwerken, die auf dem Programm basieren oder unter seiner auszugsweisen Verwendung zusammengestellt worden sind, auszuben.</para>

Ferner bringt auch das einfache Zusammenlegen eines anderen Datenwerkes, das nicht auf dem Programm basiert, mit dem Programm oder einem auf dem Programm basierenden Datenwerk auf ein- und demselben Speicher- oder Vertriebsmedium dieses andere Datenwerk nicht in den Anwendungsbereich dieser Lizenz.</sect2>

Sie dürfen das Programm (oder ein darauf basierendes Datenwerk gem Paragraph 2) als Objectcode oder in ausführbarer Form unter den Bedingungen der Paragraphen 1 und 2 kopieren und weitergeben - vorausgesetzt, dass Sie außerdem eine der folgenden Leistungen erbringen: orderedlist numeration="loweralpha"

Liefern Sie das Programm zusammen mit dem vollständig zugehörigen maschinenlesbaren Quelltext auf einem für den Datenaustausch blichen Medium aus, wobei die Verteilung unter den Bedingungen der Paragraphen 1 und 2 erfolgen mu. Oder:

Liefern Sie das Programm zusammen mit einem mindestens drei Jahre lang gültigen schriftlichen Angebot aus, jedem Dritten eine vollständige maschinenlesbare Kopie des Quelltextes zur Verfügung zu stellen - zu nicht höheren Kosten als denen, die durch den physikalischen Kopiervorgang anfallen -, wobei der Quelltext unter den Bedingungen der Paragraphen 1 und 2 auf einem für den Datenaustausch blichen Medium weitergegeben wird.

Oder:

- Liefern Sie das Programm zusammen mit dem schriftlichen Angebot der Zurverfügungstellung des Quelltextes aus, das Sie selbst erhalten haben. (Diese Alternative ist nur für nicht-kommerzielle Verbreitung zulässig und nur, wenn Sie das Programm als Objectcode oder in ausführbarer Form mit einem entsprechenden Angebot gem Absatz b erhalten haben.)

- Unter dem Quelltext eines Datenwerkes wird diejenige Form des Datenwerkes verstanden, die für Bearbeitungen vorzugsweise verwendet wird. Für ein ausführbares Programm bedeutet „der komplette Quelltext“: Der Quelltext aller im Programm enthaltenen Module einschließlich aller zugehörigen Modulschnittstellen-Definitionsdateien sowie der zur Compilation und Installation verwendeten Skripte. Als besondere Ausnahme jedoch braucht der verteilte Quelltext nichts von dem zu enthalten, was blicherweise (entweder als Quelltext oder in binärer Form) zusammen mit den Hauptkomponenten des Betriebssystems (Kernel, Compiler usw.) geliefert wird, unter dem das Programm auft - es sei denn, diese Komponente selbst gehört zum ausführbaren Programm.

-- Wenn die Verbreitung eines ausführbaren Programms oder von Objectcode dadurch erfolgt, da der Kopierzugriff auf eine dafür vorgesehene Stelle gewährt wird, so gilt die Gewährung eines gleichwertigen Zugriffs auf den Quelltext als Verbreitung des Quelltextes, auch wenn Dritte nicht dazu gezwungen sind, den Quelltext zusammen mit dem Objectcode zu kopieren.

-- Sie dürfen das Programm nicht vervielfältigen, verändern, weiter lizenzieren oder verbreiten, sofern es nicht durch diese Lizenz ausdrücklich gestattet ist. Jeder anderweitige Versuch der Vervielfältigung, Modifizierung, Weiterlizenzierung und Verbreitung ist nichtig und beendet automatisch Ihre Rechte unter dieser Lizenz. Jedoch werden die Lizenzen Dritter, die von Ihnen Kopien oder Rechte unter dieser Lizenz erhalten haben, nicht beendet, solange diese die Lizenz voll anerkennen und befolgen.

-- Sie sind nicht verpflichtet, diese Lizenz anzunehmen, da Sie sie nicht unterzeichnet haben. Jedoch gibt Ihnen nichts anderes die Erlaubnis, das Programm oder von ihm abgeleitete Datenwerke zu verändern oder zu verbreiten. Diese Handlungen sind gesetzlich verboten, wenn Sie diese Lizenz nicht anerkennen. Indem Sie das Programm (oder ein darauf basierendes Datenwerk) verändern oder verbreiten, erklären Sie Ihr Einverständnis mit dieser Lizenz und mit allen ihren Bedingungen bezüglich der Vervielfältigung, Verbreitung und Veränderung des Programms oder eines darauf basierenden Datenwerks.
Wenn Sie das Programm (oder ein auf dem Programm basierendes Datenwerk) weitergeben, erhält der Empfänger automatisch vom ursprünglichen Lizenzgeber die Lizenz, das Programm entsprechend den hier festgelegten Bestimmungen zu vervielfältigen, zu verbreiten und zu verändern. Sie dürfen keine weiteren Einschränkungen der Durchsetzung der hierin zugestandenen Rechte des Empfängers vornehmen. Sie sind nicht dafür verantwortlich, die Einhaltung dieser Lizenz durch Dritte durchzusetzen.

Sollten Ihnen infolge eines Gerichtsurteils, des Vorwurfs einer Patentverletzung oder aus einem anderen Grunde (nicht auf Patentfragen begrenzt) Bedingungen (durch Gerichtsbeschluss, Vergleich oder anderweitig) auferlegt werden, die den Bedingungen dieser Lizenz widersprechen, so befreien Sie diese Umstände nicht von den Bestimmungen dieser Lizenz. Wenn es Ihnen nicht möglichs ist, das Programm unter gleichzeitiger Beachtung der Bedingungen in dieser Lizenz und Ihrer anderweitigen Verpflichtungen zu verbreiten, dann dürfen Sie als Folge das Programm berhaupt nicht verbreiten. Wenn zum Beispiel ein Patent nicht die gebührenfreie Weiterverbreitung des Programms durch diejenigen erlaubt, die das Programm direkt oder indirekt von Ihnen erhalten haben, dann besteht der einzige Weg, sowohl das Patentrecht als auch diese Lizenz zu befolgen, darin, ganz auf die Verbreitung des Programms zu verzichten.

Sollte sich ein Teil dieses Paragraphen als ungültig oder unter bestimmten Umständen nicht durchsetzbar erweisen, so soll dieser Paragraph seinem Sinne nach angewandt werden; im Brigen soll dieser Paragraph als Ganzes gelten.

Zweck dieses Paragraphen ist nicht, Sie dazu zu bringen, irgendwelche Patente oder andere Eigentumsansprüche zu verletzen oder die Gültigkeit solcher Ansprüche zu bestreiten; dieser Paragraph hat einzig den Zweck, die Integrität des Verbreitungssystems der freien Software zu schützen, das durch die Praxis öffentlicher Lizzen verwirklicht wird. Viele Leute haben großzügige Beiträge zu dem groben Angebot der mit diesem System verbreiteten Software im Vertrauen auf die konsistente Anwendung dieses Systems geleistet; es liegt am Autor/Geber, zu entscheiden, ob er die Software mittels irgendeines anderen Systems verbreiten will; ein Lizenznehmer hat auf diese Entscheidung keinen Einfluss.

Dieser Paragraph ist dazu gedacht, deutlich klarzustellen, was als Konsequenz aus dem Rest dieser Lizenz betrachtet wird.

Wenn die Verbreitung und/oder die Benutzung des Programms in bestimmten Staaten entweder durch Patente oder durch urheberrechtlich geschützte Schnittstellen eingeschränkt ist, kann der Urheberrechtsinhaber, der das Programm unter diese Lizenz gestellt hat, eine explizite geographische Begrenzung der Verbreitung angeben, in der diese Staaten ausgeschlossen werden, so dass die Verbreitung nur innerhalb und zwischen den Staaten erlaubt ist, die nicht ausgeschlossen sind. In einem solchen Fall beinhaltet diese Lizenz die Beschränkung, als wären sie in diesem Text niedergeschrieben.
Die Free Software Foundation kann von Zeit zu Zeit berarbeitete und/oder neue Versionen der General Public License veröffentlichen. Solche neuen Versionen werden vom Grundprinzip her der gegenwärtigen entsprechen, können aber im Detail abweichen, um neuen Problemen und Anforderungen gerecht zu werden.

Da das Programm ohne jegliche Kosten lizenziert wird, besteht keinerlei Gewährleistung für das Programm, soweit dies gesetzlich zulässig ist. Sofern nicht anderweitig schriftlich bestätigt, stellen die Copyright-Inhaber und/oder Dritte das Programm so zur Verfügung, wie es ist, ohne irgendeine Gewährleistung, weder ausdrücklich noch implizit, einschließlich - aber nicht begrenzt auf - Marktreife oder Verwendbarkeit für einen bestimmten Zweck. Das volle Risiko bezüglich Qualitäts- und Leistungsfähigkeit des Programms liegt bei Ihnen. Sollte sich das Programm als fehlerhaft herausstellen, liegen die Kosten für notwendigen Service, Reparatur oder Korrektur bei Ihnen.

In keinem Fall, außer wenn durch geltendes Recht gefordert oder schriftlich zugesichert, ist irgendein Copyright-Inhaber oder irgendein Dritter, der das Programm wie oben erlaubt modifiziert oder verbreitet hat, Ihnen gegenüber für irgendwelche Schäden haftbar, einschließlich jeglicher allgemeiner oder spezieller Schäden, Schäden durch Seitenwirkungen oder Folgeschäden, die aus der Benutzung des Programms oder der Unbenutzbarkeit des Programms folgen (einschließlich - aber nicht beschränkt auf - Datenverluste, fehlerhafte Verarbeitung von Daten, Verluste, die von Ihnen oder anderen getragen werden müssen, oder dem Unvermögen des Programms, mit irgendeinem anderen Programm zusammenzuarbeiten), selbst wenn ein Copyright-Inhaber oder Dritter ber die Möglichkeit solcher Schäden unterrichtet worden war.

This License is a kind of "copyleft", which means that "derivative works of the document must themselves be free in the same sense."

"It complements the GNU General Public License, which is a copyleft license "
"designed for free software."

"We have designed this License in order to use it for manuals for free "
"software, because free software needs free documentation: a free program "
"should come with manuals providing the same freedoms that the software does. "

"But this License is not limited to software manuals; it can be used for any "
"textual work, regardless of subject matter or whether it is published as a "
"printed book. We recommend this License principally for works whose purpose "

"You may copy and distribute the Document in any medium, either commercially or noncommercially, provided that this License, the copyright notices, and the license notice saying this License applies to the Document are reproduced in all copies, and that you add no other conditions whatsoever to those of this License. You may not use technical measures to obstruct or control the reading or further copying of the copies you make or distribute. However, you may accept compensation in exchange for copies. If you distribute a large enough number of copies you must also follow the conditions in section 3.

"You may also lend copies, under the same conditions stated above, and you may publicly display copies.

If you publish printed copies of the Document numbering more than 100, and the Document's license notice requires Cover Texts, you must enclose the copies in covers that carry, clearly and legibly, all these Cover Texts: Front-Cover Texts on the front cover, and Back-Cover Texts on the back cover. Both covers must also clearly and legibly identify you as the publisher of these copies. The front cover must present the full title with all words of the title equally prominent and visible. You may add other material on the covers in addition. Copying with changes limited to the covers, as long as they preserve the title of the Document and satisfy these conditions, can be treated as verbatim copying in other respects.

If the required texts for either cover are too voluminous to fit legibly, you should put the first ones listed (as many as fit reasonably) on the actual cover, and continue the rest onto adjacent pages."

If you use the latter option, you must take reasonably prudent steps, when you begin distribution of Opaque copies in quantity, to ensure that this Transparent copy will remain thus accessible at the stated location until at least one year after the last time you distribute an Opaque copy (directly or through your agents or retailers) of that edition to the public."

It is requested, but not required, that you contact the authors of the Document well before redistributing any large number of copies, to give them a chance to provide you with an updated version of the Document.

You may copy and distribute a <link linkend="fdl-modified">Modified Version</link> of the Document under the conditions of sections 2 and 3 above, provided that you release the Modified Version under precisely this License, with the Modified Version filling the role of the Document, thus licensing distribution and modification of the Modified Version to whoever possesses a copy of it. Use in the <link linkend="fdl-title-page">Title Page</link> (and on the covers, if any) a title distinct from that of the Document, and from those of previous versions (which should, if there were any, be listed in the History section of the Document). of this General Public License. The <quote>Program</quote>, below, refers to "any such program or work, and a <quote>work based on the Program</quote>

"to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or"
"with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter,"
"translation is included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote>
"quote>.) Each licensee is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.
"Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered "by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program "is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its "contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been"

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

"ORDAGRANN KOPIERING"
You may copy and distribute the Document in any medium, either commercially or noncommercially, provided that:

- This License, the copyright notices, and the license notice saying this License applies to the Document are reproduced in all copies, and that you
- add no other conditions whatsoever to those of this License. You may not use technical measures to obstruct or control the reading or further copying of
- the copies you make or distribute. However, you may accept compensation in exchange for copies. If you distribute a large enough number of copies you
- must also follow the conditions in section 3.

You may also lend copies, under the same conditions stated above, and you may publicly display copies.

If you publish printed copies of the Document numbering more than 100, and the Document's license notice requires Cover Texts, you must enclose the copies in covers that carry, clearly and legibly, all these Cover Texts: Front-Cover Texts on the front cover, and Back-Cover Texts on the back cover. Both covers must also clearly and legibly identify you as the publisher of these copies. The front cover must present the full title.
"with all words of the title equally prominent and visible. You may add other "

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or not for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with two steps: copyright the software, and offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the software. Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.
Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.
You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you "may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee."

You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an "announcement."
"If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you "
"must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most "
"ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate "
"copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying "
"that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program "

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,
Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

Accompany it with the information you received as to the offer to distribute corresponding source code. (This alternative is allowed only for noncommercial distribution and only if you received the program in object code with such an offer, in accord with Subsection b above.)

You may copy and distribute the Program (or a work based on it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you also do one of the following:

The source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For an executable work, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the executable. However, as a special exception, the source "code distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in "
"either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, "
"and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that "

Section 5

You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Program or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Program (or any work based on the Program), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Program or works based on it.

Section 6

Each time you redistribute the Program (or any work based on the Program), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute or modify the Program subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.

infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues),

"otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not
"excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so
"as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any "other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute
"the Program at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit

GNU General Public License

Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure the software is free for all its users.
The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure the software is free for all its users. This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it. (Some other Free Software Foundation software is covered by the GNU Library General Public License instead.) You can apply it to your programs, too.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The "Program", below, refers to any such program or work, and a "work based on the Program" means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification".) Each licensee is addressed as "you".

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

Section 2

You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

Exception:

If the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.

If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License.

You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

"Mete modifikovat vai kopii i kopie programu anebo kterkoliv jeho sti, a tak vytvoit dlo "
"zaloen na programu a koprova a roziovan takov modifikace i dlo podle podmnek "paragrafu 1 ve, za pedpokladu, e splnte vechny tyto podmnky:"
These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you;
rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of <link linkend="sect1">Sections 1</link> and <link linkend="sect2">2</link> above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software

Section 4

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Program except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Program is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

Section 5

You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Program or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Program (or any work based on the Program), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Program or works based on it.

Each time you redistribute the Program (or any work based on the Program), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute or modify the Program subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties to this License.
If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Program at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Program by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Program.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system, which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.
Section 8

If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

Section 9

The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and "any later version", you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

If you wish to incorporate parts of the Program into other free programs whose distribution conditions are different, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally."

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use.

Although the Lesser General Public License is less protective of the users’ freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

Br az LGPL kevsb vdi a felhasznlak szabadsgt, azt azonban garantlja, hogy a Programknyvtrral sszeszerkesztett program felhasznlja jogosult legyen a program hasznlatra a Programknyvt mdostott vlozatval is.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a work based on the library and a work that uses the library. The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.

The modified work must itself be a software library.

You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful. (For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used "by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, "the square root function must still compute square roots.)

You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

A Program you modify or any of its disassembled forms is considered a work based on the Program. You may apply the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to that work, provided that you also meet all the conditions of that license. You may also combine it with the ordinary GNU General Public License in the same way that you could combine a derivative work with the ordinary GNU General Public License.

If you combine this Program with other software that is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License, then the work as a whole is a derivative work of the Program, which is derived from the Program. You may apply the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to that work as a whole.

Section 5

A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a "work that uses the Library". Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a "work that uses the Library" with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a "work that uses the library". The executable is therefore covered by this License. Section 6 states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a "work that uses the Library" uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.
Open Source Used In Data Center Network Manager 11 11.5(4) 6452

"If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure "
"layouts and accessing, and small macros and small inline functions (ten "
"lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, "
"regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables "
"containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall "
"under <link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link>.)"

"Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute "
"the object code for the work under the terms of <link linkend="sect6"> "
"Section 6</link>. Any executables containing that work also fall "
"under <link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link>, whether or not they are "

Svakome je doputeno da umnoava i da prosleuje verbatim (cd) primerke dokumenta ove licence, ali njegovo menjanje nije dozvoljeno.</para>

<releaseinfo>Izdanje 2, jun 1991</releaseinfo>

<abstract role="description"><para>Licence veine softvera su namjenjene oduzimanju vae slobode njegovog deljenja i menjanja. Nasuprot tome, GNU Opta javna licenca je osmiljena da garantuje vau slobodu deljenja i razmene slobodnog softvera kako bi osigurala slobodu softvera za sve njegove korisnike. Ova Opta javna licenca se primenjuje na veinu softvera Zadubine slobodnog softvera i na svaki drugi softver iji se autori obaveu na njeno korjenje. (Neki drugi softver Zadubine slobodnog softvera je pokriven GNU Bibliotekom optom javnom licencom.) I vi takoe moete da je primenite na vae programe.

Kada govorimo o slobodnom softveru, mislimo na slobodu, a ne na cenu. Nae Opte javne licence su osmiljena da osiguraju da vi imate slobodu da raspodeljujete primerke slobodnog softvera (i da naplatite za tu uslugu ako elite), da primite izvorni kd ili da moete da ga nabavite ako elite, da moete da izmenite softver ili da koristite njegove delove u novim slobodnim programima; i da znate da moete da uradite te stvari.

Da bismo zatitili vaa prava, moramo da napravimo ograničenja koja zabranjuju bilo kome da vam uskraćuje ta prava ili da od vas zatraži da se odreknete istih. Ova ograničenja se odnose na neke vae odgovornosti ako raspodeljujete primerke softvera ili ako ga menjate.

Na primer, ako raspodeljujete primerke takvog programa, bilo bez ili uz novanu nadoknadu, morate i primaocima da date sva prava koja posedujete. Morate da se osigurate da i oni, takoe, prime ili da mogu da nabave izvorni kd. I morate da im pokažete ove odredbe kako bi se upoznali sa svojim pravima.

We protect your rights with two steps:

- copyright the software, and
- offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the software.

Takoe, zbog zatite svakog autora a i nae, elimo da se osiguramo da svako razume da ne postoji garancija za taj slobodan softver. Ako je softver izmenio neko drugi i prosledio ga, elimo da njegovi primaoci znaju da ono to oni imaju nije original, tako da bilo koji problem koji uvede neko drugi nee da se odraži na ugled autora originala.

Najzad, svi slobodni programi su neprekidno ugroženi softverskim patentima. elimo da izbegnemo opasnost da raspodeljivai slobodnog programa pojedinaco nabave licence patenta, i da zapravo uine program vlasnikim. Da bismo ovo spreli, jasno smo naznaili da svaki patent mora biti licenciran za svajie slobodno korijenje ili da ne bude licenciran uopte.

Tane odredbe i uslovui za umnoavanje, raspodelu i izmene slede.
ODREDBE I USLOVI ZA UMNOAVANJE, RASPODELU I MENJANJE

Odeljak 0

Ova licenca se primenjuje na svaki program ili drugi rad koji sadri saopćenje vlasnika autorskih prava u kom stoji da moe biti raspodeljen pod odredbama ove Opte javne licence. Program e nadalje oznaavati svaki takav program ili delo, a delo zasnovano na Programu e oznaavati Program ili bilo koje delo proisteklo iz njega po Zakonu o autorskim pravima; tj. delo koje sadri Program ili njegov deo, bilo doslovni ili sa izmenama i/ili preveden na drugi jezik. (Odavde pa nadalje, prevod je ukljujen bez ograničenja u pogledu izraza izmena.) Svaki korisnik licence je oznaen kao vi.

Aktivnosti drugaice od umnoavanja, raspodele i menjanja nisu pokrivene ovom licencom; one su izvan njene primene, in pokretanja Programa nije ograničen, a rezultat Programa je pokriven jedino ako njegov sadraj saopćava delo zasnovano na Programu (nezavisno od toga da li je nastao pokretanjem Programa). Da li e ovo biti tako zavisi od toga ta Program radi.

Moete da umnoavate i raspodeljete verbatim (cd) primerke izvornog koda programa odmah im ga primite, na bilo kom medijumu, uz uslov da upadljivo i na odgovarajući način objavite na svakom primerku odgovarajuće obavetnje o autorskim pravima i odsustvo bilo kakve garancije; i da date svim drugim primacima Programa primerak ove licence uz Program.

Moete da naplatite nadoknadu za fiziki in prenos primerka, i moete po vaem izboru da ponudite zatitu garancijom u zamenu za nadoknadu.

Odeljak 2

You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License.

If the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.

Ovi zahtevi se odnose na izmenjeno delo kao celinu. Ako prepoznatljivi delovi takvog dela nisu izvedeni iz Programa, i mogu biti razumno smatrani nezavisnim i odvojenim delima za sebe, onda se ova Licence, i njene odredbe, ne odnosi na te delove kada ih raspodeljivaste kao odvojena dela. Ali kada raspodeljivaste iste delove kao deo celine koja je delo zasnovano na Programu, raspodela celine mora biti pod odredbama ove Licence, ija se ovlaenja za druge licence proiruju na itavu celinu, a time i na svaki i na bilo koji deo bez obzira ko ga je napisao.

Dakle, nije namera ovog odeljka da zahteva prava ili da osporava vaa prava na delo koje ste vi u potpunosti napisali; ve mu je namera da ostvari pravo da kontrolie raspodelu izvedenih ili zajednikih dela zasnovanih na Programu.

Pored toga, samo prisajedinjenje Programu drugog dela koje nije zasnovano na Programu (ili delu zasnovanom na Programu) na jedinicu skladitenja ili na medijum za raspodelu ne dovodi drugo delo pod okvir ove Licence.

Odeljak 3
You may copy and distribute the Program (or a work based on it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you also do one of the following:

- Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

- Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

- Accompany it with the information you received as to the offer to distribute corresponding source code. (This alternative is allowed only for noncommercial distribution and only if you received the program in object code or executable form with such an offer, in accord with Subsection b above.)
<title>Odeljak 4</title>

<para>Ne smete umnoavati, menjati, podlicencirati ili raspodeljivati Program izuzev pod izriitim odredbama ove licence. Svaki pokuaj da na drugi naiv umnoite, menjate, podlicencirate ili raspodeljujete Program je nitavan, i automatski e ukinuti vaa prava pod ovom licencom. Meutim, stranama koje su od vas primile primerke ili prava pod ovom Licencom nee biti ukinute njihove licence sve dok takve strane ostanu u potpunoj saglasnosti. </para>

<para>Niste obavezni da prihvatite ovu licencu, poto je niste ni potpisali. Meutim, nita drugo vam ne dozvoljava da menjate ili raspodeljujete Program ili izvedena dela. Te radnje su zabranjene zakonom ukoliko ne prihvatite ovu licencu. Tako, menjanjem ili raspodeljivanjem Programa (ili dela zasnovanog na Programu), vi prihvatate ovu Licencu, i sve njene odredbe i uslove za umnoavanje, raspodelu ili menjanje Programa ili dela zasnovanih na njemu.</para>

Ako ne moete da raspodeljujete i da istovremeno zadovoljite vae obaveze pod ovom licencom i pod bilo kojom drugom znaajnom obavezom, onda je posledica svega toga da ne moete program da raspodeljujete uopte. Na primer, ako licenca patenta ne dozvoljava besplatnu raspodelu Programa od strane svih onih koji direktno ili indirektno prime primerak preko vas, onda jedini naiv da zadovoljite i taj uslov i ovu licencu jeste taj da se u potpunosti odreknete raspodele Programa.</para>

<para>Ako se bilo koji deo ovog odeljka smatra nevaeim ili neprimenljivim pod bilo kojom odreem okolnom, primenjuje se ostatak odeljka a odeljak u celini se primenjuje u ostalim okolnostima.</para>

<para>Nije svrha ovog odeljka da vas navede da prekrite bilo koja potraivanja patenta ili drugih prava na svojinu niti da ospori punovanost takvih potraivanja; jedina svrha ovog odeljka je da zaati celovitost sistema raspodele slobodnog softvera, koja se sprovodi primenom javnih licenci. Mnogi ljudi su dali velikodune doprinose irokom spektu softvera raspodeljenog ovim sistemom oslanjaju se na doslednu primenu tog sistema; na autoru/donatoru je da odlui da li je on ili ona spreman/spremna da raspodeljuje softver nekim drugim sistemom a licenca ne moe da nametne taj izbor.</para>
Ovaj odeljak je namenjen da detaljno razjasni ono to se veruje da je posledica ostatka ove licence.

Ako je raspodela i/ili korijenje Programa ograničeno u određenim zemljama, bilo patentima ili autorskim pravima, prvobitni nosilac autorskih prava koji stavi Program pod ovu licencu može da doda izričito geografsko ograničenje raspodele isključujući te zemlje, tako da je raspodela dozvoljena samo u zemlji ili zemljama koje nisu na taj način isključene. U tom slučaju, ova licenca uključuje ograničenje kao da je njen sastavni deo.

Ako je raspodela i/ili korijenje Programa ograničeno u određenim zemljama, bilo patentima ili autorskim pravima, prvobitni nosilac autorskih prava koji stavi Program pod ovu licencu može da doda izričito geografsko ograničenje raspodele isključujući te zemlje, tako da je raspodela dozvoljena samo u zemlji ili zemljama koje nisu na taj način isključene. U tom slučaju, ova licenca uključuje ograničenje kao da je njen sastavni deo.

Zadubina slobodnog softvera može s vremenom na vreme da objavi prerađena i/ili nova izdanja Opte javne licence. Takve prerade e po duhu biti sline sadanjem izdanju, ali se mogu razlikovati u detaljima u cilju ukazivanja na nove probleme ili pitanja.

Svakom izdanju se dodaje broj za razlikovanje izdanja. Ako Program određuje broj izdanja Licence koja mu se primenjuje i bilo koje novije izdanje, imate mogućnost da sledite odredbe i uslove bilo tog izdanja ili bilo kog novijeg izdanja koje objavi Zadubina slobodnog softvera. Ako program ne određuje broj izdanja te Licence, moete da izaberete bilo koje izdanje koje je do sada objavila Zadubina slobodnog softvera.

Ako elite da pripojite delove Programa drugim slobodnim programima iji su uslovi raspodele druga dje, piite autoru i od njega zatraite odobrenje. Za softver za koji autorska prava zadržava Zadubina slobodnog softvera, piite Zadubini slobodnog softvera; za ovo mi ponekad napravimo izuzetke. Naa odluka e biti motivisana u cilju olaganja slobodnog statusa svih proisteklih radova naeg slobodnog softvera i u cilju promovisanja deljenja i ponovne upotrebe softvera uopte.

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure the software is free for all its users. This General Public License applies to most of the Free Software Foundation's software and to any other program whose authors commit to using it. (Some other Free Software Foundation software is covered by the GNU Library General Public License instead.) You can apply it to your programs, too.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The <quote>Program</quote>, below, refers to any such program or work, and a <quote>work based on the Program</quote> means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote>.) Each licensee is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may copy and distribute the Program (or a work based on it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above;
The source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For an executable work, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the executable. However, as a special exception, the source code distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

If distribution of executable or object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place counts as distribution of the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, or distribute the Program except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense or distribute the Program is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.

The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library."

msgid "We call this license the <quote>Lesser</quote> General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances."

msgid "For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License."

msgid "In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linux operating system."

Although the Lesser General Public License is less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a work based on the library and a work that uses the library. The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.

A library means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The Library, below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A work based on the Library means either the Library or any derivative work... under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification")."

(Aurrerantzean, itzulpena <quote>aldaketa</quote> terminoaren baina sartuko da inongo mugarik gabe.)"

msgid "<quote>Source code</quote> for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library."

msgid "Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does."

msgid "You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library."

ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices."

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.

You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a "work that uses the Library". Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients’ exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties with this License.

If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Library.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply, and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

GNU

Preamble

This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially "designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software "Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but "we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the "ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any "particular case, based on the explanations below."
"When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things."

"To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it."

"For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights."
We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.
"Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU "
"General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, " "applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the " "ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries "
"in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs."

msgid ""
msgid ""
msgid ""
msgid ""
msgid ""
For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the "widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the "library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as "widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by "limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser "General Public License."

In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs "enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For "example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables "many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its "variant, the GNU/Linux operating system."

Although the Lesser General Public License is Less protective of the users' "freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the "Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a "modified version of the Library."
The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a work based on the library and a work that uses the library. The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.

This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called this License). Each licensee is addressed as you.

A library means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.
The <quote>Library</quote>, below, refers to any such software library or "work which has been distributed under these terms. A <quote>work based on "the Library</quote> means either the Library or any derivative work under "copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of "it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated "straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is "included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote>.)"

" <quote></quote> , "
" , </quote> "
" : , "
" / , "
"<quote></quote>.)"

" <quote></quote> for a work means the preferred form of the work "for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means "all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated "interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and "installation of the library."

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library’s complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

The modified work must itself be a software library.

You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.
You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable "sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be "
"reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then "
"this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you "
"distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections "
"as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of "
"the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other "
"licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part "
"regardless of who wrote it."

You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2 in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

"However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the "
"Library or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you " "do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the "
"Library (or any work based on the Library), you indicate your acceptance of "
"this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, "
"distributing or modifying the Library or works based on it."

"Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), "
"the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to "
"copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and "
"conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients' "
"exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing "
"compliance by third parties with this License."

"If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent "
"infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), "
"conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or "
"otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not "
"excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so "
"as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any "
"other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute "
"the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit "
"royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies "
"directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both "
"it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the "
"Library."

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the Lesser General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to... address new problems or concerns.

You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License.

Exception:

If the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.

Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure the software is free for all its users.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things.
To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.

Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.
When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.

We call this license the General Public License because it does less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances.

For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to non-free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License.

In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linux operating system.

Although the Lesser General Public License is less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a <quote>work based on the library</quote> and a <quote>work that uses the library</quote>. The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.

This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called <quote>this License</quote>). Each licensee is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

<para>
A <quote>library</quote> means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.
</para>

<para>
The <quote>Library</quote>, below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A <quote>work based on the Library</quote> means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote>.)
</para>

<para>
<quote>Source code</quote> for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.
</para>

<para>
Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.

<li>
The modified work must itself be a software library.
</li> <li>
You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.
</li> <li>
You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.
You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote>. Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.
</para>

<para>
However, linking a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote> with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a <quote>work that uses the library</quote>. The executable is therefore covered by this License. <link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link> states terms for distribution of such executables.
</para>

<para>
When a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote> uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.
</para>

<para>
If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under <link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link>.)
</para>

<para>
Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a work that uses the Library with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:

Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable work that uses the Library, as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

Use a suitable shared library mechanism for linking with the Library. A suitable mechanism is one that (1) uses at run time a copy of the library already present on the user's computer system, rather than copying library functions into the executable, and (2) will operate properly with a modified version of the library, if the user installs one, as long as the modified version is interface-compatible with the version that the work was made with.

Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in Subsection 6a, above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.

If distribution of the work is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, offer equivalent access to copy the above specified materials from the same place.

Verify that the user has already received a copy of these materials or that you have already sent this user a copy.

For an executable, the required form of the work that uses the Library must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you distribute.

You may not copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library except as expressly provided under this License. Any attempt otherwise to copy, modify, sublicense, link with, or distribute the Library is void, and will automatically terminate your rights under this License. However, parties who have received copies, or rights, from you under this License will not have their licenses terminated so long as such parties remain in full compliance.
You are not required to accept this License, since you have not signed it. However, nothing else grants you permission to modify or distribute the Library or its derivative works. These actions are prohibited by law if you do not accept this License. Therefore, by modifying or distributing the Library (or any work based on the Library), you indicate your acceptance of this License to do so, and all its terms and conditions for copying, distributing or modifying the Library or works based on it.

Each time you redistribute the Library (or any work based on the Library), the recipient automatically receives a license from the original licensor to copy, distribute, link with or modify the Library subject to these terms and conditions. You may not impose any further restrictions on the recipients’ exercise of the rights granted herein. You are not responsible for enforcing compliance by third parties with this License.

If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Library.
If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply, and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Library specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and <quote>any later version</quote>, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Library does not specify a license version number, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.

TERM AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

Section 0

This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The <quote>Program</quote>, below, refers to any such program or work, and a <quote>work based on the Program</quote> means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote>.) Each licensee is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

Section 1: Source Code

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the source code of the Program (available in the program's documentation) in any medium, either source code form or in compiled or object code form, and you may make changes to the portions of the source code marked for eventual publication by the copyright holder.

Section 2: Cause of Discontinuance

If the Program is no longer distributed by any server or is no longer supported, you may not copy, distribute or modify the Program.

Section 3: Redistribution

If you modify or redistribute the Program, you must modify or redistribute the source code as well. You may use the modified or redistributed version only for the purpose of supporting the Program or for the purpose of providing a uniform interface to the Program and its tools.

Section 4: Terminal Interface

If you provide an interactive terminal interface for the Program, you must ensure that it displays the complete set of notices included in the Program's documentation.

Section 5: Accepting Source Code

You may accept source code from the Program's copyright holder for modification or redistribution. The copyright holder has the right to require the acceptance of source code from you. You must then modify or redistribute the source code in accordance with the terms of this License.

Section 6: Documentation

If you include the documentation for the Program in an installationoyo, you必须 ensure that the documentation is included with the source code.

Section 7: End of License

This License shall automatically terminate if all copies of the Program or the Complete-story Package that you distribute under this License are deleted or destroyed. This License and the program's documentation are covered by the GNU General Public License. You may choose to accept this License, or you may reject it. If you do not accept it, you must return all copies of the program to the copyright holder. You may not distribute copies of the program under this license without the consent of the copyright holder. You may not modify or distribute the program except in accordance with the terms of this License.

Section 8: Attribution

You must include the following in any version of the program you distribute:

- The program's copyright notice
- A copy of the license
- A reference to the program's documentation

This License is intended to make software distributed in the open source community more reliable by giving users the ability to verify that the program is free of defects. This License is also designed to make it easier for people to distribute the program by allowing them to copy and distribute it without having to obtain permission from the copyright holder. However, this License does not require you to distribute the program in a certain way or to make it available to the public. It simply requires that you be able to verify that the program is free of defects and that it can be copied and distributed freely. This License was developed by the Free Software Foundation. It is not intended to be subject to interpretation. If you have any questions about this License, please contact the Free Software Foundation.

Section 8

If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

Section 9

The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.
Die Free Software Foundation kann von Zeit zu Zeit berarbeitete und/oder neue Versionen der General Public License veröffentlichen. Solche neuen Versionen werden vom Grundprinzip her der gegenwärtigen entsprechen, können aber im Detail abweichen, um neuen Problemen und Anforderungen gerecht zu werden.

Wenn Sie den Wunsch haben, Teile des Programms in anderen freien Programmen zu verwenden, deren Bedingungen die Verbreitung anders sind, schreiben Sie an den Autor, um ihn um die Erlaubnis zu bitten. Fr Software, die unter dem Copyright der Free Software Foundation steht, schreiben Sie an die Free Software Foundation; wir machen zu diesem Zweck gelegentlich Ausnahmen. For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.

To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be affected by problems that might be introduced by others.

Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from

This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called this License). Each licensee is addressed as you.

Este Acordo de Licença se aplica a qualquer biblioteca de software ou outro programa que contenha um aviso colocado pelo proprietário da licença ou outra parte autorizada dizendo que ele pode ser distribuído sob os termos desta Licença Pública Geral Branca (Lesser General Public License) (também chamada esta Licença). A library means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs. (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The Library, below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A work based on the Library means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term modification.)

Source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered.

The modified work must itself be a software library.

You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)

(For exemplo, uma funo na biblioteca para calcular razes quadradas tem um propósito que é totalmente bem definido independente da aplicao. Dessa forma, a 2 Subseo requisita que qualquer funo suprida pela aplicao ou tabela usada por essa funo deve ser opcional: se a aplicao no suprir...
"isto, a funo da raiz quadrada ainda deve calcular razes quadradas.") msgid "These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable "

"sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be "
"reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then "
"this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you "
"distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections "
"as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of "
"the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other "
"licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part "
"regardless of who wrote it."
You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

Voc pode modificar sua cpia ou cpias da Biblioteca ou qualquer poro dela, assim formando um trabalho baseado na Biblioteca, e copiar e distribuir tais modificaes ou trabalho sob os termos da Seo 1 acima, supondo que voc tambm atenda a todas suas condies:

You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

Uma vez feita a mudana em determinada cpia, isto irreversvel para esta cpia, ento a Licena Pblica Geral GNU normal se aplica a todas as cpias subsequentes e trabalhos derivados feitos desta cpia.
This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.

Esta opção é útil quando você deseja copiar parte do código da Biblioteca para um programa que não é uma biblioteca.

You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

Voc pode copiar e distribuir a Biblioteca (ou uma porção ou derivada dela, sob Section 2) em código objetivo ou de forma executável sob os termos das Sees 1 e 2 acima fornecido que você acompanhe-a com o código-fonte correspondente em formato lido por máquina, que deve ser distribuído sob os termos das Sees 1 e 2 acima num meio costumeiramente usado para transação de software.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

Se a distribuição do código feita oferecendo acesso a cópia de um local específico, ento oferecer acesso equivalente cópia do código-fonte do mesmo local satisfaz a requerimento de distribuir o código fonte, mesmo se terceiros no tiverem interesse de copiar a fonte junto ao código em questão.
A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is "

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to "share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended "to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure "the software is free for all its users."

As licenças de muitos softwares são desenvolvidas para restringir sua "liberdade de compartilhar e mudar. Contrariamente a isso, a Licença Pública "Geral GNU pretende garantir sua liberdade de compartilhar e alterar software "livres - garantindo que o software será livre e gratuito para os seus "usuários.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our "General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom "to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you "wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you "
"can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that "
"you know you can do these things."

"Quando nos referimos a software livre, estamos nos referindo a liberdade, e "
"no a preo. As nossas Licenças Públicas Gerais foram desenvolvidas para "
"garantir que voc tenha a liberdade de distribuir cpias de softwares livres "
"(e cobrar por este servio, se quiser); que voc receba o cdigo-fonte ou "
"tenha acesso a ele, se quiser; que voc possa alterar o software ou utilizar "
"partes dele em novos programas livres; e que voc saiba que pode fazer tudo "
"isso."

"offer you this license which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute "
"and/or modify the software."
We protect your rights with two steps:

Also, for each author's protection and ours, we want to make certain that everyone understands that there is no warranty for this free software. If the software is modified by someone else and passed on, we want its recipients to know that what they have is not the original, so that any problems introduced by others will not reflect on the original authors' reputations.

Finally, any free program is threatened constantly by software patents. We wish to avoid the danger that redistributors of a free program will individually obtain patent licenses, in effect making the program proprietary. To prevent this, we have made it clear that any patent must be licensed for everyone's free use or not licensed at all.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system, which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

"The Bezeichnung freie Software bezieht sich auf Freiheit der Nutzung, nicht "auf den Preis. Unsere Allgemeinen öffentlichen Lizenzen sollen sicherstellen, "dass Sie die Freiheit haben, Kopien freier Software zu verbreiten (und etwas "für diesen Service zu berechnen, wenn Sie möchten), dass Sie die Software im "Quelltext erhalten oder den Quelltext auf Wunsch bekommen können, dass Sie "die Software ndern oder Teile davon in neuen freien Programmen verwenden "dürfen, und dass Sie darüber informiert sind, dass Sie alles tun dürfen."
"This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below."
"Diese Lizenz, die Kleine Allgemeine öffentliche Lizenz (Lesser General Public License), gilt für einige besonders bezeichnete Software-Pakete anderer Autoren, die beschließen, diese Lizenz zu verwenden. Auch Sie können sie verwenden; wir empfehlen aber, vorher gründlich darüber nachzudenken, ob diese Lizenz (LGPL) oder aber die gewöhnliche Allgemeine öffentliche Lizenz (GPL) die bessere Strategie zur Anwendung im jeweiligen speziellen Fall ist. Dabei bieten Ihnen die untenstehenden Erläuterungen eine Grundlage für Ihre Entscheidung."

"When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things."
"Die Bezeichnung "freie" Software bezieht sich auf Freiheit der Nutzung, nicht auf den Preis. Unsere Allgemeinen öffentlichen Lizenzen sollen sicherstellen, dass Sie die Freiheit haben, Kopien freier Software zu verbreiten (und etwas für diesen Service zu berechnen, wenn Sie möchten), dass Sie die Software im Quelltext erhalten oder den Quelltext auf Wunsch bekommen können, dass Sie die Software ndern oder Teile davon in neuen freien Programmen verwenden dürfen, und dass Sie darüber informiert sind, dass Sie dies alles tun dürfen."

"To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it."
"Um Ihre Rechte zu schützen, müssen wir Einschränkungen machen, die es jedem, der die Software weiter gibt, verbieten, Ihnen diese Rechte zu verweigern oder Sie zum Verzicht auf diese Rechte aufzufordern. Aus diesen..."
"Einschränkungen ergeben sich bestimmte Verantwortlichkeiten für Sie, wenn Sie "
"Kopien der Bibliothek verbreiten oder sie verändern."

"Beispielsweise müssen Sie den Empfängern alle Rechte gewähren, die wir Ihnen " "eingerumt haben, wenn Sie kostenlos oder gegen Bezahlung Kopien der "
"Bibliothek verbreiten. Sie müssen sicherstellen, dass auch die Empfänger den "
"Quelltext erhalten bzw. erhalten können. Wenn Sie einen anderen Code mit der "
"Bibliothek linken, müssen Sie den Empfängern die vollständigen Objekt-Dateien "
"zukommen lassen, so dass sie selbst diesen Code mit der Bibliothek neu linken "
"können, auch nachdem sie Veränderungen an der Bibliothek vorgenommen und sie "
"neu compilieren haben. Und Sie müssen ihnen diese Bedingungen zeigen, damit "
"sie ihre Rechte kennen."

"Wir schützen Ihre Rechte in zwei Schritten: (1) Wir stellen die Bibliothek "
"unter ein Urheberrecht (Copyright), und (2) wir bieten Ihnen diese Lizenz an, "
"die Ihnen das Recht gibt, die Bibliothek zu vervielfältigen, zu verbreiten "
"und/oder zu verändern."

"Um jeden, der die Software weiter gibt, zu schützen, wollen wir darüber "
"hinaus vollkommen klarstellen, dass für diese freie Bibliothek keinerlei "
"Garantie besteht. Auch sollten, falls die Software von jemand anderem "
"modifiziert und weitergegeben wird, die Empfänger wissen, dass sie nicht das "
"Original erhalten haben, damit irgendwelche von anderen verursachte Probleme "
"nicht den Ruf des ursprünglichen Autors schädigen."
Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.

Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.

When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.
"Die gewöhnliche GPL erlaubt ein solches Linken nur dann, wenn die ganze "
"Kombination die Kriterien für freie Software erfüllt. Die LGPL erlaubt " dagegen weniger strenge Kriterien für das Linken von irgendeiner anderen "
"Software mit der Bibliothek."

"Sie knnen die Bibliothek (oder einen Teil oder eine Ableitung von ihr, gem “ Paragraph 2 in Objektcode-Form oder in "ausführbarer Form unter den Bedingungen der obigen Paragraphen" kopieren und "weitergeben, sofern Sie den vollständigen entsprechenden maschinenlesbaren Quelltext beifügen, der unter den Bedingungen der obigen Paragraphen auf einem Medium weitergegeben werden muss, das blicherweise zum Austausch von Software benutzt wird.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a "work that uses the Library". Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a "work that uses the Library" with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a "work that uses the Library". The executable is therefore covered by this License.
Section 6 states terms for distribution of such "executables."

"Wird jedoch ein <quote>Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt</quote>, mit der "Bibliothek gelinkt, so entsteht ein ausführbares Programm, das ein von der "Bibliothek abgeleitetes Werk (weil es Teile der Bibliothek enthält) und kein "<quote>Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt</quote> ist. Das ausführbare Programm "fällt daher unter diese Lizenz. <link linkend="sect6">Paragraph 6</link>

"gibt die Bedingungen für die Weitergabe solcher ausführbarer Programme an."

"When a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote> uses material from a header "file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a "derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether "this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the "Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be "true is not precisely defined by law."

"Wenn ein <quote>Werk, das die Bibliothek nutzt</quote>, Material aus einer "Header-Datei verwendet, die Teil der Bibliothek ist, dann kann der Objektcode "für das Werk ein von der Bibliothek abgeleitetes Werk sein, selbst wenn der "Quelltext dies nicht ist. Ob dies jeweils zutrifft, ist besonders dann von "Bedeutung, wenn das Werk ohne die Bibliothek gelinkt werden kann oder wenn "das Werk selbst eine Bibliothek ist. Die genaue Grenze, von der an dies "zutrifft, ist rechtlich nicht genau definiert."

"If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts "and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less) "in length, then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of "whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object "code plus portions of the Library will still fall under <link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link>.)"

"Wenn solche eine Objektdatei nur numerische Parameter, Datenstruktur-Layouts "und Zugriffsfunctionen sowie kleine Makros und kleine Inlinefunktionen (zehn "Zeilen lang oder krzer) benutzt, dann unterliegt die Benutzung der "Objektdatei keinen Beschränkungen, ohne Recksicht darauf, ob es rechtlich "gesehen ein abgeleitetes Werk ist. (Ausführbare Programme, welche diesen "Objektc ode plus Teile der Bibliothek enthalten, fallen jedoch weiterhin unter "die Bestimmungen von <link linkend="sect6">Paragraph 6</link>.)"

"Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the "object code for the work under the terms of <link linkend="sect6">Section "

"Wenn solche eine Objektdatei nur numerische Parameter, Datenstruktur-Layouts "und Zugriffsfunctionen sowie kleine Makros und kleine Inlinefunktionen (zehn "Zeilen lang oder krzer) benutzt, dann unterliegt die Benutzung der "Objektdatei keinen Beschränkungen, ohne Recksicht darauf, ob es rechtlich "gesehen ein abgeleitetes Werk ist. (Ausführbare Programme, welche diesen "Objektc ode plus Teile der Bibliothek enthalten, fallen jedoch weiterhin unter "die Bestimmungen von <link linkend="sect6">Paragraph 6</link>.)"
Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

Ansonsten können Sie, wenn das Werk ein von der Bibliothek abgeleitetes ist, den Objektcode für das Werk unter den Bedingungen von Paragraph 6 weitergeben. Alle ausführbaren Programme, welche dieses Werk enthalten, fallen ebenfalls unter Paragraph 6, gleichgültig, ob sie direkt mit der Bibliothek selbst gelinkt sind oder nicht.

As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a work that uses the Library with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.

Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable work that uses the Library, as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

Sollten Ihnen infolge eines Gerichtsurteils, des Vorwurfs einer Patentverletzung oder aus einem anderen Grund Bedingungen (durch Gerichtsbeschluss, Vergleich oder anderweitig) auferlegt werden, die den Bedingungen dieser Lizenz widersprechen, so befreien diese Umstände Sie nicht von den Bestimmungen dieser Lizenz. Wenn es Ihnen nicht möglich ist, die Bibliothek unter gleichzeitiger Beachtung der Bedingungen dieser Lizenz und Ihrer anderweitigen Verpflichtungen zu verbreiten, dann dürfen Sie als Folge davon die Bibliothek überhaupt nicht verbreiten. Wenn zum Beispiel ein Patent nicht die gebührenfreie Weiterverbreitung der Bibliothek durch diejenigen erlaubt, welche die Bibliothek direkt oder indirekt von Ihnen erhalten haben, dann besteht der einzige Weg, sowohl dem Patentrecht als auch dieser Lizenz zu gedenken, darin, ganz auf die Verbreitung der Bibliothek zu verzichten.

Zweck dieses Paragraphen ist nicht, Sie dazu bringen, irgendwelche Patente oder andere Eigentumsansprüche zu verletzen oder die Gültigkeit solcher Ansprüche zu bestreiten; dieser Paragraph hat vielmehr einzig den Zweck, die Integrität des Verbreitungssystems der freien Software zu schützen. Viele Leute haben großzügige Beiträge zu dem weitreichenden Angebot der durch dieses System distribuierten Software geleistet; es obliegt dem Autor bzw. Geber, zu entscheiden, ob er die Software mittels irgendeines anderen Systems verbreiten will; ein Lizenznehmer jedoch darf darber nicht entscheiden.
This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

The purpose of this License is to make a manual, textbook, or other written document free in the sense of freedom: to assure everyone the effective freedom to copy and redistribute it, with or without modifying it, either commercially or noncommercially. Secondarily, this License preserves for the author and publisher a way to get credit for their work, while not being considered responsible for modifications made by others.

This License is a kind of copyleft, which means that derivative works of the document must themselves be free in the same sense. It complements the GNU General Public License, which is a copyleft license designed for free software.

We have designed this License in order to use it for manuals for free software, because free software needs free documentation: a free program should come with manuals providing the same freedoms that the software does. But this License is not limited to software manuals; it can be used for any...

Everyone is permitted to copy and distribute verbatim copies of this license document, but changing it is not allowed.

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure the software is free for all its users.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The <quote>Program</quote>, below, refers to any such program or work, and a <quote>work based on the Program</quote> means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote>.) Each licensee is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.
You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

Exception:

If the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.

If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this
The requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.

If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns.

Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Program specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and any later version, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Program does not specify a version number of this License, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation.
If you wish to incorporate parts of the Program into other free programs whose distribution conditions are different, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally.

Because the Program is licensed free of charge, there is no warranty for the Program, to the extent permitted by applicable law. Except when otherwise stated in writing the copyright holders and/or other parties provide the Program <quote>as is</quote> without warranty of any kind, either expressed or implied, including, but not limited to, the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. The entire risk as to the quality and performance of the Program is with you. Should the Program prove defective, you assume the cost of all necessary servicing, repair or correction.

In no event unless required by applicable law or agreed to in writing will any copyright holder, or any other party who may modify and/or redistribute the Program as permitted above, be liable to you for damages, including any GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE PROGRAM (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE PROGRAM TO OPERATE WITH ANY OTHER PROGRAMS), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

- The modified work must itself be a software library.
You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library.

You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:

- Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable <quote>work that uses the Library</quote>, as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

- Use a suitable shared library mechanism for linking with the Library. A suitable mechanism is one that (1) uses at run time a copy of the library already present on the user's computer system, rather than copying library functions into the executable, and (2) will operate properly with a modified version of the library, if the user installs one, as long as the modified version is interface-compatible with the version that the work was made with.

Legalnotice

Versio 2.1, helmikuu 1999

Yleens tietokoneohjelmien lisenssisopimuksen on suunniteltu siten, että ne estää ohjelmien vapaan jakamisen ja muuttamisen. Sen sijaan GPL-lisenssit on suunniteltu takaamaan kytjän vapaus jakaa ja muuttaa ohjelmaa lisenssi varmistaa, että ohjelma on vapaan kaikille kytjille.

This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below.

Kun tss Lisenssi puhutaan vapaasta ohjelmasta, silloin ei tarkoiteta hintaa. GPL-lisenssi on nimittäin suunniteltu siten, että kytjille taataan vapaus levittää kopioita vapaista ohjelmista (ja pyytää halutessaan maksua tst palvelusta). GPL-lisenssi takaa myös sen, että kytj saa halutessaan ohjelman lhdekoodin, että hän voi muuttaa ohjelmaa tai kytj osia siitä omissa vapaissa ohjelmissaan, ja että kaikkien niden toimien tiedetyn olevan sallittuja.

Kun tss Lisenssi puhutaan vapaasta ohjelmasta, silloin ei tarkoiteta hintaa. GPL-lisenssit on nimittäin suunniteltu siten, että kytjille taataan vapaus levittää kopioita vapaista ohjelmista (ja pyytää halutessaan maksua tst palvelusta). GPL-lisenssit takaavat myös sen, että kytj saa halutessaan ohjelman lhdekoodin, että hän voi muuttaa ohjelmaa tai kytj osia siitä omissa vapaissa ohjelmissaan, ja että kaikkien niden toimien tiedetyn olevan sallittuja.

Jotta kytjän oikeudet turvattaisiin, lisenssillä asetetaan rajoituksia, jotka esttävät kielteistä oikeuksia tai vaatimusta niden luovuttamista. Ns rajoitukset merkitsevät tiettyj velvoitteita jokaiselle kytjille, joka levittää kirjastokopioita tai muuttaa kirjastoa.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.
</para>

<para>
We protect your rights with a two-step method: (1) we copyright the library, and (2) we offer you this license, which gives you legal permission to copy, distribute and/or modify the library.
</para>

<para>Edelleen, jokaisen tekijn ja Free Software Foundationin suojaamiseksi on varmistettava, ett jokainen ymmrrt, ett vapaalla kirjastolla ei ole takuuta. Jos joku muuttaa kirjastoa ja levitt sen edelleen, kirjaston vastaanottajien on tiedettv, ett heill ei ole alkuperist kirjastoa. Joten mik tahansa ongelma, jonka muut ovat aikaansaaneet, ei vaikuta alkuperisen tekijn maineeseen.</para> <para>Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.

</para>

<para>Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.
</para>

<para>When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.
</para>
We call this license the Lesser General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances.

For example, on rare occasions, there may be a special need to encourage the widest possible use of a certain library, so that it becomes a de-facto standard. To achieve this, non-free programs must be allowed to use the library. A more frequent case is that a free library does the same job as widely used non-free libraries. In this case, there is little to gain by limiting the free library to free software only, so we use the Lesser General Public License.

In other cases, permission to use a particular library in non-free programs enables a greater number of people to use a large body of free software. For example, permission to use the GNU C Library in non-free programs enables many more people to use the whole GNU operating system, as well as its variant, the GNU/Linux operating system.

Although the Lesser General Public License is Less protective of the users' freedom, it does ensure that the user of a program that is linked with the Library has the freedom and the wherewithal to run that program using a modified version of the Library.

The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow. Pay close attention to the difference between a work based on the library and a work that uses the library. The former contains code derived from the library, whereas the latter must be combined with the library in order to run.
This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called `this License`). Each licensee is addressed as `you`.

A `library` means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The `Library`, below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A `work based on the Library` means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term `modification`.)

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.

Lisenssin saajalla on oikeus kopioida ja levittäytyttää Kirjaston lhdekooodista sellaisena kuin se on saatu, mill tahansa laitteella. Ehtona on, että asiantuntevasti jokaisesta kopiosta ilmenee lisäksi tekinon suhde Kirjastoon. Lisenssiin ja ilmoitukseen takuun

You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

1. The modified work must itself be a software library.
2. You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.
3. You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.
4. If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)
</para>

<para>
These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.
</para>

<para>
Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library.
</para>

<para>
In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

</para>

<para>
Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

<title>Kohta 5</title>

<para>
A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a work that uses the Library. Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.
</para>

</sect2>
However, linking a work that uses the Library with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a work that uses the library. The executable is therefore covered by this License. Section 6 states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a work that uses the Library uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.

If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under Section 6.)

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a work that uses the Library with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.
You must give prominent notice with each copy of the work that the Library is used in it and that the Library and its use are covered by this License. You must supply a copy of this License. If the work during execution displays copyright notices, you must include the copyright notice for the Library among them, as well as a reference directing the user to the copy of this License. Also, you must do one of these things:

- Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and
- Use a suitable shared library mechanism for linking with the Library. A suitable mechanism is one that (1) uses at run time a copy of the library already present on the user's computer system, rather than copying library functions into the executable, and (2) will operate properly with a modified version of the library, if the user installs one, as long as the modified version is interface-compatible with the version that the work was made with.

Accompany the work with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give the same user the materials specified in Subsection 6a, above, for a charge no more than the cost of performing this distribution.
If distribution of the work is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, offer equivalent access to copy the above specified materials from the same place.

Verify that the user has already received a copy of these materials or that you have already sent this user a copy.

For an executable, the required form of the work that uses the Library must include any data and utility programs needed for reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components (compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable.

It may happen that this requirement contradicts the license restrictions of other proprietary libraries that do not normally accompany the operating system. Such a contradiction means you cannot use both them and the Library together in an executable that you distribute.

You may place library facilities that are a work based on the Library side-by-side in a single library together with other library facilities not covered by this License, and distribute such a combined library, provided that the separate distribution of the work based on the Library and of the other library facilities is otherwise permitted, and provided that you do these two things:
Accompany the combined library with a copy of the same work based on the Library, uncombined with any other library facilities. This must be distributed under the terms of the Sections above.

Give prominent notice with the combined library of the fact that part of it is a work based on the Library, and explaining where to find the accompanying uncombined form of the same work.

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software--to make sure the software is free for all its users.

De flesta programvarulicenser r skapade fr att ta bort din frihet att ndra och dela med dig av programvaran. GNU General Public License r tvrtom skapad fr att garantera din frihet att dela med dig av och frndra fri programvara - fr att frskra att programvaran r fri fr alla dess anvndare.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid
"distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these"

"Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. "Open Source Used In Data Center Network Manager 11 11.5(4) 6734"
Section 2

The modified work must itself be a software library.

You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)
These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Library.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Library with the Library (or with a work based on the Library) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.
You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

- You must cause any modified files to carryగo సాధారణ GNU General Public License, instead of this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. To do this, you must alter all the notices that refer to this License, so that they refer to the ordinary GNU General Public License, version 2, instead of to this License. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.
This option is useful when you wish to copy part of the code of the Library into a program that is not a library.

You may copy and distribute the Library (or a portion or derivative of it, under Section 2) in object code or executable form under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above provided that you accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.
A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a work that uses the Library. Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a work that uses the Library with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a work that uses the library. The executable is therefore covered by this License. <link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link> states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a work that uses the Library uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.

For an executable, the required form of the <quote>work that uses the "Library"</quote> must include any data and utility programs needed for "reproducing the executable from it. However, as a special exception, the "materials to be distributed need not include anything that is normally "distributed (in either source or binary form) with the major components "(compiler, kernel, and so on) of the operating system on which the "executable runs, unless that component itself accompanies the executable."

Fr krbara filer mste <quote>verket som anvnder Biblioteket</quote> "innehlla samtliga data- och hjlpprogram som behvs fr att skapa en krbar "fil frn den. "The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public License is intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure the software is free for all its users."

"When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things."

"To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid anyone to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender the rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the software, or if you modify it."

"For example, if you distribute copies of such a program, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that you have. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights."
The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR COPYING, DISTRIBUTION AND MODIFICATION

This License applies to any program or other work which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder saying it may be distributed under the terms of this General Public License. The <quote>Program</quote>, below, refers to any such program or work, and a <quote>work based on the Program</quote> means either the Program or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Program or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term <quote>modification</quote>.) Each licensee is addressed as <quote>you</quote>.

"The precise terms and conditions for copying, distribution and modification follow."
Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running the Program is not restricted, and the output from the Program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Program (independent of having been made by running the Program). Whether that is true depends on what the Program does.

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Program's source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and give any other recipients of the Program a copy of this License along with the Program.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

You must cause the modified files to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause any work that you distribute or publish, that in whole or in part contains or is derived from the Program or any part thereof, to be licensed as a whole at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If the Program itself is interactive but does not normally print such an announcement, your work based on the Program is not required to print an announcement.
If the modified program normally reads commands interactively when run, you must cause it, when started running for such interactive use in the most ordinary way, to print or display an announcement including an appropriate copyright notice and a notice that there is no warranty (or else, saying that you provide a warranty) and that users may redistribute the program under these conditions, and telling the user how to view a copy of this License.

You may modify your copy or copies of the Program or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Program, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions:

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Program, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Program, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part regardless of who wrote it.

Thus, it is not the intent of this section to claim rights or contest your rights to work written entirely by you; rather, the intent is to exercise the right to control the distribution of derivative or collective works based on the Program.

In addition, mere aggregation of another work not based on the Program with the Program (or with a work based on the Program) on a volume of a storage or distribution medium does not bring the other work under the scope of this License.

Accompany it with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code, which must be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

Accompany it with a written offer, valid for at least three years, to give any third party, for a charge no more than your cost of physically performing source distribution, a complete machine-readable copy of the corresponding source code, to be distributed under the terms of Sections 1 and 2 above on a medium customarily used for software interchange; or,

If the distribution and/or use of the Program is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Program under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License.

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software—to make sure the software is free for all its users.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.
This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below.

When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom of use, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish); that you receive source code or can get it if you want it; that you can change the software and use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you are informed that you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you" link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to"
the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making" changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these" terms so they know their rights.

This License Agreement applies to any software library or other program which contains a notice placed by the copyright holder or other authorized party saying it may be distributed under the terms of this Lesser General Public License (also called "this License"). Each licensee is addressed as "you".

A "library" means a collection of software functions and/or data prepared so as to be conveniently linked with application programs (which use some of those functions and data) to form executables.

The "Library", below, refers to any such software library or work which has been distributed under these terms. A "work based on" the Library means either the Library or any derivative work under copyright law: that is to say, a work containing the Library or a portion of it, either verbatim or with modifications and/or translated straightforwardly into another language. (Hereinafter, translation is included without limitation in the term "modification".)

Source code for a work means the preferred form of the work for making modifications to it. For a library, complete source code means all the source code for all modules it contains, plus any associated interface definition files, plus the scripts used to control compilation and installation of the library.
Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.

The modified work must itself be a software library.

The modified work must itself be a software library.

The modified work must itself be a software library.
You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that you changed the files and the date of any change.

You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

These requirements apply to the modified work as a whole. If identifiable sections of that work are not derived from the Library, and can be reasonably considered independent and separate works in themselves, then this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part.

If, as a consequence of a court judgment or allegation of patent infringement or for any other reason (not limited to patent issues), conditions are imposed on you (whether by court order, agreement or otherwise) that contradict the conditions of this License, they do not excuse you from the conditions of this License. If you cannot distribute so as to satisfy simultaneously your obligations under this License and any other pertinent obligations, then as a consequence you may not distribute the Library at all. For example, if a patent license would not permit royalty-free redistribution of the Library by all those who receive copies directly or indirectly through you, then the only way you could satisfy both it and this License would be to refrain entirely from distribution of the Library.

If any portion of this section is held invalid or unenforceable under any particular circumstance, the balance of the section is intended to apply, and the section as a whole is intended to apply in other circumstances.

It is not the purpose of this section to induce you to infringe any patents or other property right claims or to contest validity of any such claims; this section has the sole purpose of protecting the integrity of the free software distribution system which is implemented by public license practices. Many people have made generous contributions to the wide range of software distributed through that system in reliance on consistent application of that system; it is up to the author/donor to decide if he or she is willing to distribute software through any other system and a licensee cannot impose that choice.

This section is intended to make thoroughly clear what is believed to be a consequence of the rest of this License.
"If the distribution and/or use of the Library is restricted in certain countries either by patents or by copyrighted interfaces, the original copyright holder who places the Library under this License may add an explicit geographical distribution limitation excluding those countries, so that distribution is permitted only in or among countries not thus excluded. In such case, this License incorporates the limitation as if written in the body of this License."

"The Free Software Foundation may publish revised and/or new versions of the Lesser General Public License from time to time. Such new versions will be similar in spirit to the present version, but may differ in detail to address new problems or concerns."

"Each version is given a distinguishing version number. If the Library specifies a version number of this License which applies to it and "<quote>any later version</quote>, you have the option of following the terms and conditions either of that version or of any later version published by the Free Software Foundation. If the Library does not specify a license version number, you may choose any version ever published by the Free Software Foundation."

"If you wish to incorporate parts of the Library into other free programs whose distribution conditions are incompatible with these, write to the author to ask for permission. For software which is copyrighted by the Free Software Foundation, write to the Free Software Foundation; we sometimes make exceptions for this. Our decision will be guided by the two goals of preserving the free status of all derivatives of our free software and of promoting the sharing and reuse of software generally."

L'usage de logiciels libres dans les réseaux de données centraux

La Licence Publique Générale GNU (GPL) est conçue pour garantir votre liberté d'utiliser, de distribuer et de modifier des logiciels libres. Elle a été créée par la Free Software Foundation pour préserver cette liberté pour tous leurs utilisateurs.

Projet de documentation GNOME

Chacun est libre de copier et de distribuer des copies conformes de cette Licence, mais nul n'est autorisé à la modifier.

Les licences de la plupart des logiciels sont conçues pour vous enlever toute liberté de les partager et de les modifier. À contrario, la Licence Publique Générale est destinée à garantir votre liberté de partager et de modifier les logiciels libres, et assurer que ces logiciels soient libres pour tous leurs utilisateurs.

La Licence Publique Générale GNU est maintenue par la Free Software Foundation, Inc., de 51 Franklin Street, Fifth Floor, Boston, MA 02110-1301, USA.

Benjamin Drieu
Les licences de la plupart des logiciels sont conçues pour vous enlever toute liberté de les partager et de les modifier. A contrario, la Licence Publique Générale est destinée à garantir votre liberté de partager et de modifier les logiciels libres, et à assurer que ces logiciels soient libres pour tous leurs utilisateurs. La présente Licence Publique Générale s'applique à la plupart des logiciels de la Free Software Foundation, ainsi qu'à tout autre programme pour lequel ses auteurs s'engagent à l'utiliser. (Certains autres logiciels de la Free Software Foundation sont couverts par la GNU Lesser General Public License à la place.) Vous pouvez aussi l'appliquer aux programmes qui sont les vôtres.
Quand nous parlons de logiciels libres, nous parlons de liberté, non de prix. Nos licences publiques générales sont conçues pour vous donner l'assurance d'être libres de distribuer des copies des logiciels libres (et de facturer ce service, si vous le souhaitez), de recevoir le code source ou de pouvoir l'obtenir si vous le souhaitez, de pouvoir modifier les logiciels ou en utiliser des éléments dans de nouveaux programmes libres et de savoir que vous pouvez le faire.

Pour protéger vos droits, il nous est nécessaire d'imposer des limitations qui interdisent quiconque de vous refuser ces droits ou de vous demander d'y renoncer. Certaines responsabilités vous incombent en raison de ces limitations si vous distribuez des copies de ces logiciels, ou si vous les modifiez.

Par exemple, si vous distribuez des copies d'un tel programme, titre gratuit ou contre une rémunération, vous devez accorder aux destinataires tous les droits dont vous disposez. Vous devez vous assurer qu'eux aussi reçoivent ou puissent disposer du code source. Et vous devez leur montrer les présentes conditions afin qu'ils aient connaissance de leurs droits.

Nous protégeons vos droits en deux étapes:

1. Nous sommes titulaires des droits d'auteur du logiciel, et
2. Nous vous délivrons cette licence, qui vous donne l'autorisation légale de copier, distribuer et/ou modifier le logiciel.

En outre, pour la protection de chaque auteur ainsi que la nôtre, nous voulons nous assurer que chacun comprenne que ce logiciel libre ne fait l'objet d'aucune garantie. Si le logiciel est modifié par quelqu'un d'autre puis transmis des tiers, nous voulons que les destinataires soient mis au courant que ce qu'ils ont reçu n'est pas le logiciel d'origine, de sorte que tout problème introduit par d'autres ne puisse entacher la réputation de l'auteur originel.

En définitive, un programme libre restera à la merci des brevets de logiciels. Nous souhaitons viter le risque que les redistributeurs d'un programme libre fassent des demandes individuelles de licence de brevet, ceci ayant pour effet de rendre le programme propriétaire. Pour viter cela, nous tablissons clairement que toute licence de brevet doit être concédée de façon que l'usage en soit libre pour tous ou bien qu'aucune licence ne soit concédée.

Les termes exacts et les conditions de copie, distribution et modification sont les suivants.
lois sur le droit d'auteur: en d'autres termes, un ouvrage contenant le Programme ou une partie de ce dernier, soit l'identique, soit avec des modifications et/ou traduit dans un autre langage. (Ci-après, le terme "modification" implique, sans s'y rduire, le terme traduction) Chaque concessionnaire sera désigné par vous.</para>

Les activités autres que la copie, la distribution et la modification ne sont pas couvertes par la présente Licence; elles sont hors de son champ d'application. L'opération consistant à exécuter le Programme n'est soumise aucune limitation et les sorties du programme ne sont couvertes que si leur contenu constitue un ouvrage fond sur le Programme (indépendamment du fait qu'il ait été réalisé par l'exécution du Programme). La validité de ce qui précède dépend de ce que fait le Programme.</sect2>

Vous pouvez copier et distribuer des copies l'identique du code source du Programme tel que vous l'avez reçu, sur n'importe quel support, du moment que vous apposiez sur chaque copie, de manière ad hoc et parfaitement visible, l'avis de droit d'auteur adquat et une exonération de garantie; que vous gardiez intacts tous les avis faisant référence la présente Licence et l'absence de toute garantie; et que vous fournissiez tout destinataire du Programme autre que vous mme un exemplaire de la présente Licence en mme temps que le Programme.</sect2>

Vous pouvez faire payer l'acte physique de transmission d'une copie, et vous pouvez, votre discrétion, proposer une garantie contre rémunération.</sect2>

Vous pouvez modifier votre copie ou des copies du Programme ou n'importe quelle partie de celui-ci, crant ainsi un ouvrage fond sur le Programme, et copier et distribuer de telles modifications ou ouvrage selon les termes de l'article ci-dessus, condition de vous conformer galement chacune des obligations suivantes: <orderedlist numeration="loweralpha">
  <listitem>
    Vous devez munir les fichiers modifiés d'avis bien visibles stipulant que vous avez modifié ces fichiers, ainsi que la date de chaque modification;</listitem>
  <listitem>
    Vous devez prendre les dispositions nécessaires pour que tout ouvrage que vous distribuez ou publiez, et qui, en totalité ou en partie, contient ou est fond sur le Programme - ou une partie quelconque de ce dernier - soit considéré comme un tout, titre gratuit, n'importe quel tiers, au titre des conditions de la présente Licence;</listitem>
  <listitem>
    Si le programme modifié lit habituellement des instructions de façon interactive lorsqu'on l'exécute, vous devez, quand il commence son exécution pour ladite utilisation interactive de la manière la plus usuelle, faire en sorte qu'il imprime ou affiche une annexe comprenant un avis de droit d'auteur ad hoc, et un avis stipulant qu'il n'y a pas de garantie (ou bien indiquant que c'est vous qui fournissez la garantie), et que les utilisateurs peuvent redistribuer le programme en respectant les présentes obligations, et expliquant l'utilisateur comment voir une copie de la présente Licence. <note>
    Exception: </note>
  </listitem>
</orderedlist>
Ces obligations s'appliquent à l'ouvrage modifié comme un tout. Si des éléments identifiables de cet ouvrage ne sont pas fondés sur le Programme et peuvent raisonnablement être considérés comme des ouvrages indépendants distincts en eux-mêmes, alors la présente Licence et ses conditions ne s'appliquent pas à ces éléments lorsque vous les distribuez en tant qu'ouvrages distincts. Mais lorsque vous distribuez ces mêmes éléments comme partie d'un tout, lequel constitue un ouvrage fondé sur le Programme, la distribution de ce tout doit être soumise aux conditions de la présente Licence, et les autorisations qu'elle octroie aux autres concessionnaires s'étendent à l'ensemble de l'ouvrage et par conséquent à chaque et toute partie indifféremment de qui l'a écrit.

Par conséquent, l'objet du présent article n'est pas de revendiquer des droits ou de contester vos droits sur un ouvrage entièrement écrit par vous; son objet est plutôt d'exercer le droit de contrôler la distribution d'ouvrages dérivés ou d'ouvrages collectifs fondés sur le Programme.

De plus, la simple proximité du Programme avec un autre ouvrage qui n'est pas fondé sur le Programme (ou un ouvrage fondé sur le Programme) sur une partition d'un espace de stockage ou un support de distribution ne place pas cet autre ouvrage dans le champ d'application de la présente Licence.

Vous pouvez copier et distribuer le Programme (ou un ouvrage fondé sur lui, selon l'Article 2 ci-dessus) sous forme de code objet ou d'exécutable, selon les termes des Articles 1 et 2 ci-dessus, condition que vous accomplissiez l'un des points suivants:

- L'accompagner de l'intégralité du code source correspondant, sous une forme lisible par un ordinateur, lequel doit être distribué au titre des termes des Articles 1 et 2 ci-dessus, sur un support habituellement utilisé pour l'échange de logiciels; ou,
- L'accompagner d'une proposition écrite, valable pendant au moins trois ans, de fournir à tout tiers, un tarif qui ne soit pas supérieur à ce que vous cotez l'acte physique de réaliser une distribution source, une copie intégrale du code source correspondant sous une forme lisible par un ordinateur, qui sera distribuée au titre des termes des Articles 1 et 2 ci-dessus, sur un support habituellement utilisé pour l'échange de logiciels; ou,
- L'accompagner des informations reçues par vous concernant la proposition de distribution du code source correspondant. (Cette solution n'est autorisée que dans le cas d'une distribution non-commerciale et seulement si vous avez reçu le programme sous forme de code objet ou d'exécutable accompagné d'une telle proposition - en conformité avec le sous-Article b ci-dessus.)
Le code source d'un ouvrage désigne la forme favorite pour travailler des modifications de cet ouvrage. Pour un ouvrage exécutable, le code source integral désigne la totalité du code source de la totalité des modules qu'il contient, ainsi que les ventuels fichiers de définition des interfaces qui y sont associés, ainsi que les scripts utilisés pour contrôler la compilation et l'installation de l'exécutable. Cependant, par exception spéciale, le code source distribué n'est pas censé inclure quoi que ce soit de normalement distribué (que ce soit sous forme source ou binaire) avec les composants principaux (compilateur, noyau, et autre) du système d'exploitation sur lequel l'exécutable tourne, moins que ce composant lui-même n'accompagne l'exécutable.

Si distribuer un exécutable ou un code objet consiste offrir un accès permettant leur copie depuis un endroit particulier, alors l'offre d'un accès équivalent pour copier le code source depuis le même endroit compte comme une distribution du code source - même si les tiers ne sont pas contraints de copier le source en même temps que le code objet.

Vous ne pouvez copier, modifier, concéder en sous-licence, ou distribuer le Programme, sauf tel qu'expressément prévu par la présente Licence. Toute tentative de copier, modifier, concéder en sous-licence, ou distribuer le Programme d'une autre manière est réputée non valable, et met immédiatement fin vos droits au titre de la présente Licence. Toutefois, les tiers ayant reçu de vous des copies, ou des droits, au titre de la présente Licence ne verront pas leurs autorisations réduites aussi longtemps que ledits tiers se conforment pleinement elle.

Vous n'êtes pas obligé d'accepter la présente Licence tant que vous ne l'avez pas signé. Cependant, rien d'autre ne vous accorde l'autorisation de modifier ou distribuer le Programme ou les ouvrages fondés sur lui. Ces actions sont interdites par la loi si vous n'acceptez pas la présente Licence. En conséquence, en modifiant ou distribuant le Programme (ou un ouvrage quelconque fondé sur le Programme), vous signifiez votre acceptation de la présente Licence en le faisant, et de toutes ses conditions concernant la copie, la distribution ou la modification du Programme ou d'ouvrages fondés sur lui.

Chaque fois que vous redistribuez le Programme (ou n'importez quel ouvrage fondé sur le Programme), une licence est automatiquement concédée au destinataire par le concédant originel de la licence, l'autorisant copier, distribuer ou modifier le Programme, sous réserve des présentes conditions. Vous ne pouvez imposer une quelconque limitation supplémentaire l'exercice des droits octroyés au titre des présentes par le destinataire. Vous n'avez pas la responsabilité d'imposer le respect de la présente Licence des tiers.
Si, conséquemment une décision de justice ou une allégation d'une transgression de brevet ou pour toute autre raison (non limite un problème de brevet), des obligations vous sont imposées (que ce soit par jugement, conciliation ou autre) qui contredisent les conditions de la présente Licence, elles ne vous excusent pas des conditions de la présente Licence. Si vous ne pouvez distribuer de manière satisfaire simultanément vos obligations au titre de la présente Licence et toute autre obligation pertinente, alors il en découle que vous ne pouvez pas du tout distribuer le Programme. Par exemple, si une licence de brevet ne permettait pas une redistribution sans redevance du Programme par tous ceux qui reçoivent une copie directement ou indirectement par votre intermédiaire, alors la seule façon pour vous de satisfaire la fois la licence du brevet et la présente Licence serait de vous abstenir totalement de toute distribution du Programme.

Si une partie quelconque de cet article est tenue pour nulle ou inopposable dans une circonstance particulière quelconque, l'intention est que le reste de l'article s'applique. La totalité de la section s'appliquera dans toutes les autres circonstances.

Cet article n'a pas pour but de vous induire à transgresser un quelconque brevet ou d'autres revendications un droit de propriété ou contester la validité de la moindre de ces revendications; cet article a pour seul objectif de protéger l'intégrité du système de distribution du logiciel libre, qui est mis en œuvre par la pratique des licences publiques. De nombreuses personnes ont fait de généreuses contributions au large spectre de logiciels distribués par ce système en se fiant l'application cohérente de ce système; il appartient chaque auteur/donateur de décider si il ou elle veut distribuer du logiciel par l'intermédiaire d'un quelconque autre système et un concessionnaire ne peut imposer ce choix.

Cet article a pour but de rendre totalement limpide ce que l'on pense être une conséquence du reste de la présente Licence.

Si la distribution et/ou l'utilisation du Programme est limitée dans certains pays que ce soit par des brevets ou par des interfaces soumises au droit d'auteur, le titulaire originel des droits d'auteur qui décide de couvrir le Programme par la présente Licence peut ajouter une limitation géographique de distribution explicite qui exclue ces pays afin que la distribution soit permise seulement dans ou entre les pays qui ne sont pas ainsi exclus. Dans ce cas, la présente Licence incorpore la limitation comme si elle tait crée dans le corps de la présente Licence.

La Free Software Foundation peut, de temps en temps, publier des versions révisées et/ou nouvelles de la Licence Publique Générale. De telles nouvelles versions seront similaires à la présente version dans l'esprit mais pourront différer dans le détail pour prendre en compte de nouvelles problématiques ou inquiétudes.

Chaque version possède un numéro de version la distinguant. Si le Programme précise le numéro de version de la présente Licence qui s'y applique et une version ultérieure quelconque, vous avez le choix de suivre les conditions de la présente version ou de toute autre version ultérieure publie par la Free Software Foundation. Si le Programme ne spécifie aucun numéro de version de la présente Licence, vous pouvez choisir une version quelconque publie par la Free Software Foundation quelque moment que ce soit.
Si vous souhaitez incorporer des parties du Programme dans d'autres programmes libres dont les conditions de distribution sont différentes, crivez l'auteur pour lui en demander l'autorisation. Pour les logiciels dont la Free Software Foundation est titulaire des droits d'auteur, crivez la Free Software Foundation; nous faisons parfois des exceptions dans ce sens. Notre décision sera guide par le double objectif de préserver le statut libre de tous les drrs de nos logiciels libres et de promouvoir le partage et la rutilisation des logiciels en général.

The licenses for most software are designed to take away your freedom to share and change it. By contrast, the GNU General Public Licenses are intended to guarantee your freedom to share and change free software - to make sure the software is free for all its users.

Licence pogodbe veine programske opreme so zasnovane tako, da vam prepreujejo njegovo svobodno razirjanje in spreminjanje. Za razliko od teh pa vam Splona dovoljenja GNU (angl. GNU General Public Licenses, GPL) jamijo svobodo pri razirjanju in spreminjanju proste programske opreme ter s tem zagotovljajo, da ostane ta prosta za vse njene uporabnike.
When we speak of free software, we are referring to freedom, not price. Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things.

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it.

For example, if you distribute copies of the library, whether gratis or for a fee, you must give the recipients all the rights that we gave you. You must make sure that they, too, receive or can get the source code. If you link other code with the library, you must provide complete object files to the recipients, so that they can relink them with the library after making changes to the library and recompiling it. And you must show them these terms so they know their rights.

You may modify your copy or copies of the Library or any portion of it, thus forming a work based on the Library, and copy and distribute such modifications or work under the terms of Section 1 above, provided that you also meet all of these conditions: You may opt to apply the terms of the ordinary GNU General Public License instead of this License to a given copy of the Library. (If a newer version than version 2 of the ordinary GNU General Public License has appeared, then you can specify that version instead if you wish.) Do not make any other change in these notices.

Once this change is made in a given copy, it is irreversible for that copy, so the ordinary GNU General Public License applies to all subsequent copies and derivative works made from that copy.

If distribution of object code is made by offering access to copy from a designated place, then offering equivalent access to copy the source code from the same place satisfies the requirement to distribute the source code, even though third parties are not compelled to copy the source along with the object code.

A program that contains no derivative of any portion of the Library, but is designed to work with the Library by being compiled or linked with it, is called a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote>. Such a work, in isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls outside the scope of this License.

However, linking a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote> with the Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because it contains portions of the Library), rather than a <quote>work that uses the library</quote>. The executable is therefore covered by this License. <link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link> states terms for distribution of such executables.

When a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote> uses material from a header file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be true is not precisely defined by law.
If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall under Section 6.)

Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under Section 6, whether or not they are linked directly with the Library itself.

As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a work that uses the Library with the Library to produce a work containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications.

Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2 above); and, if the work is an executable linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable work that uses the Library, as object code and/or source code, so that the user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions.)

(Razume se, da uporabnik, ki spremeni vsebino definicijskih datotek v knjinici, morda ne bo mogel vnovi prevesti programa, da bi uporabil spremenjene definicije.) "

Se permite a todo el mundo copiar y distribuir copias literales de este documento de licencia, pero no se permite modificarlo.

Se permiten a usted la libertad de compartirlo y modificarlo, las Licencias Públicas Generales de GNU pretenden garantizarle la libertad de compartir y modificar el software libre, para asegurar que el software es libre para todos sus usuarios.

Daniel Mustieles
Las licencias que cubren la mayor parte del software están diseñadas para quitarle a usted la libertad de compartirlo y modificarlo, las Licencias Públicas Generales de GNU pretenden garantizarle la libertad de compartir y modificar el software libre, para asegurar que el software es libre para todos sus usuarios.

Cuando hablamos de software libre, estamos refiriéndonos a libertad, no a precio. Nuestras Licencias Públicas Generales están diseñadas para asegurarnos de que tenga la libertad de distribuir copias de software libre (y cobrar por ese servicio si quiere), de que reciba el código fuente o que pueda conseguirlo si lo quiere, de que pueda modificar el software o usar fragmentos de él en programas nuevos libres, y de que sepa que puede hacer todas estas cosas.
Esta licencia, la Licencia Pública General Menor (Lesser General Public Licence), se aplica a algunos paquetes de software diseñados específicamente tipicamente bibliotecas de la Free Software Foundation y de otros autores que deciden usarla. Usted puede usarla también, pero le sugerimos que piense primero cuidadosamente si esta licencia o la General Public Licence ordinaria, es o no la estrategia mejor a usar en un caso particular, basándose en las explicaciones siguientes.

Cuando hablamos de software libre, nos referimos a libertad de uso, no a precio. Nuestras Licencias Públicas Generales están diseñadas para asegurar que usted tiene la libertad de distribuir copias de software libre (y cobrar por este servicio si quiere); que recibe el código fuente o que puede obtenerlo si lo quiere; que puede modificar el software y usar partes de él en nuevos programas libres; y de que ha sido informado de que puede hacer estas cosas.

Para proteger sus derechos necesitamos algunas restricciones que prohíban a cualquiera negarle a usted estos derechos o pedirle que renuncie a ellos. Estas restricciones se traducen en ciertas obligaciones que le afectan si distribuye copias de la biblioteca, o si la modifica.

Por ejemplo, si distribuye copias de la biblioteca, sea gratuitamente, o a cambio de una contraprestación, debe dar a los receptores todos los derechos que tiene. Debe asegurarse de que ellos también reciben, o pueden conseguir, el código fuente. Si enlaza otro código con la biblioteca, debe proporcionar archivos objeto completos a los receptores, para que ellos puedan reenlazarlos con la biblioteca después de hacer cambios a la biblioteca y recompilarla. Y debe mostrarles estas condiciones de forma que conozcan sus derechos.

Protegemos sus derechos con la combinación de dos medidas:
(1) Derechos de copia de la Biblioteca (copyright), y
(2) le ofrecemos esta licencia, que le da permiso legal para copiar, distribuir y/o modificar la biblioteca.

Para proteger a cada uno de los distribuidores, queremos dejar muy claro que no existe garantía para la biblioteca libre. Además, si la biblioteca es modificada por alguien y se transmite, los receptores deberán saber que lo que ellos tienen no es la versión original, de forma que la reputación del autor original no se vea afectada por problemas que podrían ser introducidos por otros.

Finalmente, cualquier programa libre está constantemente amenazado por patentes sobre el software. Queremos evitar el peligro de que una compañía no pueda restringir efectivamente a los usuarios de un programa libre obteniendo una licencia restrictiva de un propietario de una patente. Para evitar esto, insistimos en que cualquier licencia de patente obtenida por una versión de la biblioteca deba ser consistente con la completa libertad de uso especificada en esta licencia.

La mayoría del software de GNU, incluyendo algunas bibliotecas, está cubierto por la Licencia Licencia Pública General ordinaria. Esta licencia, la GNU Licencia Pública General Menor, se aplica a ciertas bibliotecas designadas, y es un poco diferente de la Licencia Pública General. Usamos esta licencia para ciertas bibliotecas con el fin de permitir enlazar esas bibliotecas en programas no libres.

Cuando un programa está enlazado con una biblioteca, ya sea estéticamente o usando una biblioteca compartida, la combinación de los dos es hablando legalmente un trabajo combinado, una derivación de la biblioteca original. La Licencia Pública General entonces permite dicho enlazado sólo si la combinación entera cumple con este criterio de libertad. La Licencia Pública General Menor permite un criterio más relajado para enlazar otro código con la biblioteca.
Llamamos a esta licencia Licencia Pública General <quote>Menor</quote> porque hace Menos para proteger la libertad del usuario que la Licencia Licencia Pública General ordinaria. También proporciona otros desarrolladores de software libre Menos de las ventajas respecto a competir con programas que no sean software libre. Estas desventajas son la razón por la que usamos la licencia Licencia Pública General para muchas bibliotecas. Sin embargo, la licencia Menor proporciona ventajas en ciertas circunstancias especiales.

Por ejemplo, en raras ocasiones puede haber una necesidad especial de fomentar lo ms ampliamente posible el uso de una determinada biblioteca, de forma que esta se convierta en un estándar. Para conseguir esto, se debe permitir a los programas no libres el uso de estas bibliotecas. Un caso ms frecuente es aquel en el que una biblioteca libre hace el mismo trabajo que el que realizan las bibliotecas no libres ms ampliamente usadas. En este caso, hay poco que ganar limitando la biblioteca nicamente al software libre, de manera que usamos la Licencia Pública General Menor.

En otros casos, el permiso para usar una biblioteca determinada en programas no libres posibilita a un mayor número de gente a usar una gran cantidad de software libre. Por ejemplo, el permiso para utilizar la biblioteca GNU C en programas no libres posibilita a mucha ms gente a usar al completo el sistema operativo GNU, as como su variante, el sistema operativo GNU/LINUX.

Aunque la Licencia Pública General Menor es menos protectora para las libertades del usuario, asegura que el usuario de un programa que est enlazado con la biblioteca tiene la libertad y los medios para ejecutar ese programa usando una versión modificada de la biblioteca.

Los trminos y las condiciones exactas para la copia, distribución y modificación se indican a continuación. Preste especial atención a la diferencia entre un <quote>trabajo basado en la biblioteca</quote> y un <quote>trabajo que utiliza la biblioteca</quote>. El primero contiene código derivado de la biblioteca, mientras que el último debe estar unido con la biblioteca para ser ejecutado.

Este Acuerdo de Licencia se aplica a cualquier biblioteca de software u otro programa que contenga una notificación colocada por el poseedor del copyright u otra parte autorizada diciendo que puede distribuirse bajo los trminos de la licencia Licencia Pública General Menor (tambín llamada <quote>esta Licencia</quote>). Cada licenciario será referido como <quote>Usted</quote>.

Una <quote>biblioteca</quote> significa una colección de funciones y/o datos de software, preparados para ser enlazados de una forma cómoda con programas de aplicación (que usan algunas de estas funciones y datos) para formar ejecutables.

La <quote>Biblioteca</quote> en lo que sigue, se refiere a cualquier trabajo o biblioteca de software que haya sido distribuido bajo estos trminos. Un <quote>trabajo basado en la Biblioteca</quote> significa que, o la Biblioteca o cualquier trabajo derivado, está bajo la ley de derechos de autor: es decir, un trabajo que contiene a la Biblioteca o a una parte de ella, ya sea de forma literal o con modificaciones y/o traducida de forma clara a otro idioma (mas abajo se incluye la traducción sin restricción en el trmino <quote>modificación</quote>).
El código fuente para un trabajo se refiere a la forma preferida del trabajo para hacer modificaciones en 1. Para una Biblioteca, el código fuente completo significa todos los códigos fuente para todos los módulos que contenga la biblioteca, más cualquier fichero de definición de interfaz asociado, y los scripts asociados para controlar la compilación y la instalación de la biblioteca.

Otras actividades que no sean la copia, distribución y modificación no se encuentran cubiertas por esta Licencia; se encuentran fuera de su objetivo. La opción de ejecutar un programa utilizando la Biblioteca no está restringida, y el resultado de dicho programa está cubierto nicamente si su contenido constituye un trabajo basado en la Biblioteca (independientemente del uso de la Biblioteca como herramienta para escribirlo). Que esto sea cierto va a depender de lo que haga la Biblioteca y de lo que haga el programa que utiliza la Biblioteca.

Puede copiar y distribuir copias literales del código fuente completo de la Biblioteca tal y como la recibe, en cualquier medio, a condición de que usted publique de forma manifiesta y apropiada, en cada una de las copias, un aviso conveniente de derechos de autor y una renuncia de garantía; mantenga intactas todas las notificaciones que se refieran a esta Licencia y a la ausencia de cualquier garantía; y distribuya una copia de esta Licencia junto con la Biblioteca.

Puede modificar su copia o copias de la Biblioteca o de cualquier parte de ella, formando así un trabajo basado en la Biblioteca, y copiar y distribuir tales modificaciones o trabajo bajo los términos de la Sección 1 de arriba, siempre que usted también cumpla con todas estas condiciones:

- El trabajo modificado debe ser por sí mismo una biblioteca.
- Debe hacer que los ficheros modificados lleven avisos llamativos, declarando que usted cambió los ficheros y la fecha de cualquier cambio.
- Debe hacer que a todo el trabajo le sea concedida una licencia, sin cargo a terceras partes, bajo los términos de esta Licencia.
- Si una facilidad en la Biblioteca modificada se refiere a una función o a una tabla de datos, que deba ser suministrada por un programa de aplicación que usa la facilidad de otra manera que como un argumento pasado cuando la facilidad es invocada, entonces debe hacer un esfuerzo de buena fe para asegurar que, en caso de que una aplicación no suministre tal función o tabla, la facilidad aún funcione y haga que cualquier parte de su finalidad siga siendo significativa.</para>

<para>(Por ejemplo, una funciòn en una biblioteca para computar razas cuadradas tiene un propuesto que est bien definido completamente, independientemente de la aplicaciòn. Por tanto, la Subsecciòn 2d exige que cualquier funciòn o tabla suministrada por la aplicaciòn y usada por esa funciòn debe ser opcional: si la aplicaciòn no la suministra, la funciòn raz cuadrada debe seguir computando razas cuadradas).</para>

<para>Estos requisitos se aplican al trabajo modificado como un todo. Si hay secciones identificables de ese trabajo que no derivan de la Biblioteca, y se pueden considerar razonablemente independientes y trabajos separados, por ellas mismas, entonces esta Licencia y sus trminos, no se aplican a aquellas secciones cuando usted los distribuya como trabajos separados. Pero cuando usted distribuya las mismas secciones como parte de un todo, que sea un trabajo basado en la Biblioteca, la distribuciòn del todo debe estar bajo los trminos de esta Licencia cuyos permisos para otros licenciatarios se extienden a todo el conjunto, y as para todas y cada una de las partes, sin tener en cuenta quien las escribi.</para>

1. Acompañar la biblioteca combinada con una copia del mismo trabajo basado en la Biblioteca, no combinado con cualquier otra facilidad de biblioteca. Esto debe ser distribuido bajo los términos de las Secciones superiores.
2. Incluir una notificación destacada con la biblioteca combinada del hecho de que parte de ella es un trabajo basado en la Biblioteca, y explicando donde encontrar las formas sin combinar acompañantes del mismo trabajo.

Usted no puede copiar, modificar, sublicenciar o distribuir la Biblioteca salvo por lo permitido expresamente por esta Licencia. Estas acciones están prohibidas por ley si usted no acepta esta Licencia. BAKGRUND

De flesta programvarulicenser r skapade fr att ta bort din frihet att ndra och dela med dig av programvaran. GNU General Public Licenses (nedan kallade GPL) r i stllet avsedda att garantera din frihet att dela med dig av och frndra fri programvara att frskra att programvaran r fri fr alla dess anvndare.

Når vi talar om fri programvara syftar vi p frihet att använda den, inte pris. Vra GPL r skapade fr att garantera din rtt att distribuera kopior av fri programvara (och ta betalt fr tjnsten om du nskar), att garantera att du fr kllkoden eller kan f den om du s nskar, att garantera att du kan ndra i programvaran och anvnda delar av den i ny fri programvara samt att garantera att du r informerad om dessa rttigheter.

Denna licens, Lesser General Public License, gller vissa specialutformade programpaket srskt bibliotek frn Free Software Foundation och andra upphovsmn som bestmmer sig fr att använda licensen. Du kan ocks använda licensen, men vi ferslr att du utfr beskrivningen nedan funderar p om det r den hr licensen eller ordinarie GPL som r den bsta strategin fr dig.

Om du exempelvis distribuerar kopior av biblioteket, gratis eller mot en avgift, mste du ge mottagaren alla de rttigheter du sjlv har. Du mste ocks se till att mottagaren fr eller kan f kllkoden. Om du lnkar annan kod till biblioteket mste du tillhandahlla fullstndiga objektfiler till mottagaren s att han/hon kan terlnka dem med biblioteket.
efter att ha gjort ändringar i biblioteket och kompilerat om det. Du mste ven visa dessa licensvillkor fr mottagaren s att han/hon knner till sina rttigheter.</para>

<para>Vi skyddar dina rttigheter i tv steg: (1) upphovsrtt till biblioteket och (2) dessa licensvillkor som ger dig laglig tillt att kopiera, distribuera och/eller ndra biblioteket.</para>

<para>Fr varje enskild distributurs skerhet vill vi friytliga att det inte lmnas nga garantier fr det fria biblioteket. Om biblioteket ndras av ngen annan n upphovsmannen och vidareverlts, br mottagaren knna till att han/hon inte har originalversionen och att frndringar av och felaktigheter i biblioteket inte skall belasta den ursprunglige upphovsmannen.</para>

<para>Slutligen skall nmnas att all fri programvara hotas av programvarupatent. Vi vill undvika att fretag kan frhindra anvndningen av fri programvara genom att skaffa en begrnsande licens frn en patentinnehavare. Vi insistrer drfr p att alla patentlicenser som erhlls fr en version av biblioteket mste vara frena med den fulla nyttjandefriheten i den hr licensen.</para>

<para>De flesta GNU-program, inklusive vissa bibliotek, tcks av ordinarie GPL. Den hr licensen, GNU Lesser General Public License (nedan kallad LGPL), gller vissa specificerade bibliotek och skiljer sig avsevrt frn GPL. Vi anvnder den hr licensen fr vissa bibliotek i syfte att tillta lnkning av biblioteken till icke-fria programvaror.</para>

<para>Nr ett program lnkas med ett bibliotek, antingen statiskt eller genom ett delat bibliotek, r sammanslagningen ur rttslig synpunkt ett kombinerat verk, en hrledning ur det ursprungliga biblioteket. Enligt ordinarie GPL tills drfr sdan lnkning endast om hela kombinationen verensstmmer med kriterierna fr fri programvara. LGPL tillter mer uppluckrade kriterier fr lnkning av annan kod till biblioteket.</para>

<para>Vid lssnynta fall kan det finnas srskilt behov av att uppmuntra bredast mjliga anvndning av ett visst bibliotek s att det de facto blir standard. I syfte att uppn detta mste icke-fria programvara tillta anvnda biblioteken. Vanligare r att ett fritt bibliotek utf samma uppgift som ofta anvnda icke-fria bibliotek. I det senare fallet finns det inte mycket att vinna p att begrnsa det fria biblioteket till fri programvara enbart, s vi anvnder d den begrnsade licensen.</para>

<para>I andra fall ger tillt att anvnda ett visst bibliotek i icke-fria program fler mnnskor mjlighet att anvnda en stor mngd fria programvaror. Som exempel kan nmnas att tillt att anvnda biblioteken GNU C i icke-fria program, gr det mjligt fr fler personer att anvnda hela GNU-operativsystemet eller GNU/Linux-operativsystemet.</para>

<para>Ven om den begrnsade licensen ger ett mindre omfattande skydd av anvndarnas frihet, garanterar det att anvndaren av ett program som r Inkat till biblioteket har friheten och mjligheten att kra programmet via en ndrad version av Biblioteket.</para>

<para>De exakta villkoren och frsttningarna fr att kopiera, distribuera och ndra programvaran beskrivs nedan. Observera skillnaden mellan ett verk r baserat p biblioteket och ett verk som anvnder biblioteket. Det frstnmnda innehller koden som hretts ur biblioteket medan det senare mste kombineras med biblioteket fr att kras.</para>
VILLKOR FR ÅTT KOPIERA, DISTRIBUERA OCH NDRA PROGRAMVARAN

Paragraf 0

Detta licensavtal gäller samtliga programbibliotek eller andra program som innehåller en upphovsrättsklausul från upphovsrättsinnehavaren eller annan behörig part som sger att det kan distribueras enligt villkoren i Lesser General Public License (nedan ven kallad "Licensen"). Samtliga licensinnehavare tituleras med "du".

Med ett "bibliotek" avses en samling programfunktioner och/eller data som frberetts fr att enkelt kunna inkas till applikationsprogram (som använder vissa av dessa funktioner och viss data) fr att skapa krbara filer.

Med ett "verk" baserat p Biblioteket avser antingen Biblioteket eller hrledda verk enligt upphovsrättslig lagstiftning: det vill sga ett verk som innehiller hela eller delar av Biblioteket, antingen en exakt kopia eller ndrad kopia och/eller versatt till ett annat sprk. (versningar ingr nedan utan begränsning i begreppet "ndring eller ndra").

Med ett "kllkod" avses den fredragna formen av verket fr att kunna gra ndringar av verket. Fr ett bibliotek betyder den fullständiga kllkoden all kllkod fr alla ingende moduler, eventuella dithrande definitionsfiler fr gränssnitt samt skript som anvnds fr att styra kompilering och installation av biblioteket.

Du kan kopiera och distribuera exakta kopior av Bibliotekets fullstndiga kllkod i den form du mottagit det, oavsett medium, frutsatt att du tydligt och korrekt p varje kopia publicerar en riktig upphovsrättsklausul och garantifrskrivningsklausul, vidhiller all hnvisningar till Licensen och till alla garantifrskrivningar samt distribuerar en kopia av Licensen tillsammans med Biblioteket.

Du kan ta ut en avgift fr proceduren att verfra en kopia och du kan erbjuda garanti mot en avgift om du snskar.

Du kan ndra din kopia eller dina kopior av Biblioteket eller delar av det och p s stt skapa ett verk baserat p...
Biblioteket. Du kan ven kopiera och distribuera dessa ndringar eller verk enligt villkoren i <link linkend="sect1">paragraf 1</link> ovan, under frutstning att ven fljande villkor r uppfyllda: <orderedlist numeration="loweralpha">
<li><para>Det frndrade verket mste i sig sjlv vara ett programvarubibliotek.</para>
<li><para>De ndrade filerna mste innehlla tydlig information om att du har ndrat filerna och vilket datum dessa ndringar utfrdes.</para>
<li><para>Hela verket mste licensieras utan kostnad till alla tredjemn enligt villkoren i Licensen.</para>
<li><para>Om en modul i det ndrade Biblioteket hnvisar till en funktion eller en datatabell som skall levereras med ett applikationsprogram som anvnder den modulen, annat n som ett argument nr modulen anropas, mste du frskra att, i hndelse av att en applikation inte tillhandahller funktionen eller tabellen, modulen nd fungerar och utf det den huvudsakligen syftar till.</para>
<li><para>(Exempelvis har en funktion i ett bibliotek som skall berkna kvadratrtter ett klart och vldefinierat syfte oberoende av applikationen. Drf krvs att samtliga applikationsfunktioner och -tabeller som anvnds av denna funktion, enligt paragraf 2d, mste vara valfria: om applikationen inte tillhandahller det mste kvadratrotsfunktionen nd berkna kvadratrtter.)</para>
<li><para>Dessa krav gller det ndrade verket i dess helhet. Om identifierbara delar av verket inte hrrr fran Biblioteket och rimligen kan anses fristende och separata verk gller inte licensvillkoren i dessa delar nr de distribueras som separata verk. Om samma delar distribueras som en del av en helhet som innehller verk baserat p Biblioteket, mste distributionen i sin helhet ske enligt villkoren i Licensen. Licensen skall i sdant fall glla fr andra licensinnehavare fr hela verket och dmd till varje del av Biblioteket oavsett vem som r upphovsman till de olika delarna.</para>
<li><para>Avsikten med denna paragraf r inte att hvda rttigheter eller ifrgastta dina rttigheter till ett verk som skrivits helt av dig. Syftet r i stllet att utva rtten att kontrollera distributionen av hredda verk eller kombinerade verk baserade p Biblioteket.</para>
<li><para>Om det p ett lagrings- eller distributionsmedium finns ett annat verk som inte baseras p Biblioteket (eller ett verk baserat p Biblioteket) tillsammans med Biblioteket omfattas inte det andra verket av Licensen.</para> </orderedlist></sect2>
Nr ndringen har genomfrts i en viss kopia, r den oterkallelig fr denna kopia, s att GNU GPL gller alla fljande kopior och hrledda verk som skapas frn den kopian.

Detta alternativ r anvndbart nr du vill kopiera delar av Bibliotekets kod till ett program som inte r ett bibliotek.

Du kan kopiera och distribuera Biblioteket (eller del av det eller verk hrledda ur Biblioteket enligt <link linkend="sect2">paragraf 2</link>) i objektkod eller krbar form enligt villkoren i paragraf <link linkend="sect1">1</link> och <link linkend="sect2">2</link> ovan under frutsttning att du bifogar den kompletta maskinsbara kllkoden, vilken mste distribueras i enlighet med paragraf <link linkend="sect1">1</link> och <link linkend="sect2">2</link> ovan, p ett medium som i allmnhet anvnds fr utbyte av programvara.

Om distribution av objektkod utfrs genom att erbjuda tillgng till att kopiera den frn en bestmd plats skall motsvarande tillgng till att kopiera kllkoden frn samma plats rkanas som distribution av kllkoden, ven om tredjeman inte behver kopiera kllkoden tillsammans med objektkoden.

Ett program som inte innehller del som hrrr frn Biblioteket, men r skapat fr att arbeta med Biblioteket genom att kompileras eller lnkas med det, kallas ett <quote>verk som anvnder Biblioteket</quote>. Ett sdant verk r i sig inte ett hrlett verk ur Biblioteket och faller utanfr licensens rckvidd.

Dremot r en lnkning av ett <quote>verk som anvnder Biblioteket</quote> med Biblioteket till en krbar fil en hrledning av Biblioteket (eftersom det innehller delar av Biblioteket) snarare n ett <quote>verk som anvnder Biblioteket</quote>. Den krbara filen teks i sdant fall av Licensen. I <link linkend="sect6">paragraf 6</link> beskrivs villkoren fr distribution av sdana krbara filer.

Ett verk som anvnder Bibioteket<quote> </quote> anvnder material frn en etikettfil som ingr i Biblioteket kan objektkoden fr verkets sida om kllkoden inte r det. Denna skillnad r srskt viktig om verket kan lnkas utan Biblioteket eller om verket i sig r ett bibliotek. Var gnsen gr fr att detta skall vara ett faktum r inte exakt definierat i lagstiftningen.

Om en sdan objektfil endast anvnder numeriska parametrar, datastrukturlayouter, accessor-funktioner, korta makron och kortare inline-funktioner (tio rader eller kortare) i användningen av objektfilen obegrnsad, oavsett om det lagligt sett r ett hrlett verk. (Krbara filer som innehller objektkoden samt delar av Biblioteket faller nd under <link linkend="sect6">paragraf 6</link>.)

Om verkets sida fr ur Biblioteket, kan du distribuera objektkoden fr verkets sida som innehller materialet ur Biblioteket, s att GNU GPL gller alla fljande kopior och hrledda verk som skapas frn den kopian.

Samtliga krbara filer som innehller materialet ur verkets sida faller nd under <link linkend="sect6">paragraf 6</link>, oavsett om de r lnkade indirekt till Biblioteket eller inte.
Paragraf 6

Undantag från paragraferna ovan kan gr ans fr kombination eller inkning av ett "verk som använder Biblioteket" med Biblioteket fr att skapa ett verk som innehåller delar av Biblioteket samt distribution av verkets enligt andra villkor, under förutsättning att villkoren tillträder nödvändiga i verkets fr kundens egen räkning och omvint en möjlighet att ta bort nödvändigarna.

Varje kopia av verkets maste utfjas av ett tydligt meddelande att Biblioteket används i verkets och att Biblioteket och dess användning tcks av den hr Licensen. Du mste bifoga en kopia av Licensen. Om verkets under krning visar upphovsrättsklausuler mste du ven inkludera upphovsrättsklausuler fr Biblioteket samt en referens till kopian av denna Licens. Du mste ven gra en av fljande saker: <orderedlist numeration="loweralpha">

- Bifoga den kompletta källkoden fr Biblioteket i maskinsvar form inklusive eventuella nödvändiga som anvnts i verkets (vilda skall distribueras enligt paragraf <link linkend="sect1">1</link> och <link linkend="sect2">2</link> ovan) samt, om verkets en krbar fil inkad till Biblioteket, det kompletta maskinsvarbara verkets som använder Biblioteket som objektkod och/eller källkod, s att användaren kan ndra Bibliotekettet och sedan tillika det fr att skapa en fränd krbar fil innehållande det ndrade Biblioteket. (Detta beror p att användaren som ndrar innehållet av definitionsfilerna i Biblioteket kanske inte kan kompensa om applikationen fr att använda de ndrade definitionerna.)</para>

- Använd en Implig delad biblioteksfunktion fr inkning med Biblioteket. En Implig funktion r en som (1) under krningen använder en redan befintlig kopia av biblioteket i stället fr att kopiera biblioteksfunktioner till den krbara filen och (2) fungerar korrekt med en ndrad version av biblioteket, om användaren installerar en, s Inge den ndrade versionen r gränssnittskompatibel med versionen som verkets skapades fr.</para>

- Bifoga ett skriftligt erbjudande, gällande i minst tre r, att ge samma anvndare materialen upprknade i <link linkend="sect6a">6a</link> ovan, mot en avgift som inte r hgre n sjlvkostnaden fr distributionen.</para>

- Om distributionen av verkets sker genom erbjudande av tillgng till kopiering frn en bestmd plats, erbjudas motsvarande tillgng att kopiera de ovan nmnda materialen frn samma plats.</para>

- Kontrollera att användaren redan har mottagit en kopia av materialen eller att du redan har skickat en kopia till denna anvndare.</para>

- Fr krbara filer mste <quote>verket som använder Biblioteket</quote> innehålla samtliga data- och hjlpprogram som behvs fr att skapa en krbar fil frn den. Ett undantag kan dock gr ans fr material som normalt distribueras, antingen i binr form eller källkod, med huvudkomponenterna (kompilator, kerna osv.) i vilket den krbara filen krs, svida inte denna komponent nedfljer den krbara filen.</para>
Det kan inträffa att detta krav motsger licensbegränsningarna i andra patenterade bibliotek som normalt inte medfjäer operativsystemet. Sdana begränsningar innebär att du inte kan använda de patenterade biblioteken samtidigt med Biblioteket i en kvar fil som du distribuerar.

Du kan placera biblioteksfunktioner som r ett verk baserat på Biblioteket sida vid sida i ett enskilt bibliotek tillsammans med andra biblioteksfunktioner som inte teks av Licensen, och distribuera ett sånt kombinerat bibliotek under frutsttning att separat distribution av verket baserat på Biblioteket och av de andra biblioteksmodulerna r tilliet, samt under frutsttning att du gr ngot av fljande:

Bifogar en kopia av samma verk baserat på Biblioteket, men skild från andra biblioteksfunktioner. Distributionen måste ske enligt villkoren i ovanstående paragrafer.

Meddelar tydligt i det sammansatta biblioteket att en del av biblioteket r ett verk baserat på Biblioteket samt frklarar var den medfljande separata versionen av samma verk kan terfinnas.

Du får inte kopiera, ndra, licensiera, lnka till eller distribuera Biblioteket utom p det s tt som uttryckligen anges i Licensen. Alla andra frsk att kopiera, ndra, licensiera, lnka till eller distribuera Biblioteket r ogiltiga och upphver automatiskt dina rttigheter enligt Licensen. Tredje man som har mottagit kopior eller rttigheter från dig enligt Licensen kommer dock inte att frlora sina rttigheter s Inge de fljande licensvillkoren.

Om till fljd av ett domstolsutslag eller anklagelse om patentintrng eller av ngot annat skl (ej begrsat till patentfrgor), villkor lggs dig (antingen genom domstolsbeslut, avtal eller p annat stt) som strider mot den hr Licensen, befriar det dig inte frn ngot av villkoren i Licensen. Om du inte kan distribuera Biblioteket och samtidigt uppfylla villkoren enligt Licensen och andra skylligheterna, fr du som en konsekvens inte distribuera Biblioteket. Om exempelvis ett patent inte tillter fri distribution av Biblioteket till alla dem som mottar kopior direkt eller indirekt frn dig, mste du avst helt frn distribution av Biblioteket.

Om ngon del av denna paragraf frklaras ogiltig eller ej verkstllbar i ngot sammanhang skall terstoden av paragrafen glla och paragrafen i sin helhet gller i andra sammanhang.

Syftet med denna paragraf r inte att frm dig att beg intrng i patent eller andra rttigheter eller att frm dig att bestrida gillheten i sdana rttigheter. Det enda syftet med denna paragraf r att skydda distributionssystemet fr fri programvara vilket grs genom anvndandet av dessa licensvillkor. Mnga mnniskor har lmnat generosa bidrag till det stora utbudet av programvara som distribueras i det hr systemet och stter sin tillit till en fortsatt anvndning av systemet. Det r upphovsmannen sjlv som beslutar om han/hon vill distribuera programvara genom detta eller annat system och en licensinnehavare kan inte framtvinga ett sdant beslut.

Denna paragrafs syfte r att gra helt klart vad som anses vara konsekvensen av terstende delen av Licensen.

Om distributionen och/eller anvndningen av Biblioteket r begrnsad i vissa lnder, p grund av patent eller upphovsrtlighet skyddade grnssnitt, kan upphovsmannen som placerar Biblioteket under den hr Licensen lgga till en uttrycklig geografisk spridningsklausul, enligt vilken distribution r tillten i lnder frutom dem i vilket det r frbjudet. Om s r fallet kommer begrnsningen att utgra en fullvrdig del av Licensen.

Free Software Foundation kan ge ut reviderade och/eller nya versioner av LGPL frn tid till annan. Sdana nya versioner kommer i sin helhet att pminna om nuvarande version, men kan skilja sig t i detaljer som berr nya problem eller vervganden.

Varje version ges ett srskiljande versionsnummer. Om Biblioteket anger ett versionsnummer av Licensen samt alla senare versioner kan du vlja mellan att flja villkoren enligt denna version eller valfri senare version som utges av Free Software Foundation. Om Biblioteken inte anger ett licensversionsnummer kan du välja valfri version som ngonsin getts ut av Free Software Foundation.</para></sect2></para>

<para>Om du vill använta delar av Biblioteken i andra fria programvaror vars distributionsvillkor inte frfrenliga med dessa skall du skriva till upphovsmannen och begra tillstånd. Fr programvara dr Free Software Foundation har upphovsrtt, skriver du till Free Software Foundation. Vi gr ibland undantag fr detta. Vr beslut kommer att styras av tv nl, nmligen att bevara den fria statusen av alla verk som hrleds ur vr fria programvara samt att frmja delning och teranvndning av programvara i allmnhet.</para>

Our General Public Licenses are designed to make sure that you have the freedom to distribute copies of free software (and charge for this service if you wish), that you receive source code or can get it if you want it, that you can change the software or use pieces of it in new free programs; and that you know you can do these things."

"Kun tss Lisenssiss puhutaan vapaasta ohjelmasta, silloin ei tarkoiteta hintaa. GPL-lisenssi on nimittin suunniteltu siten, ett kyttjille taataan vapaus levitt kopioita vapaista ohjelmista (ja pyyt halutessaan maksu tst palvelusta). "This license, the Lesser General Public License, applies to some specially designated software packages--typically libraries--of the Free Software Foundation and other authors who decide to use it. You can use it too, but we suggest you first think carefully about whether this license or the ordinary General Public License is the better strategy to use in any particular case, based on the explanations below."

To protect your rights, we need to make restrictions that forbid "distributors to deny you these rights or to ask you to surrender these "rights. These restrictions translate to certain responsibilities for you if "you distribute copies of the library or if you modify it."

"To protect each distributor, we want to make it very clear that there is no "warranty for the free library. Also, if the library is modified by someone "else and passed on, the recipients should know that what they have is not "the original version, so that the original author's reputation will not be "affected by problems that might be introduced by others."
“Finally, software patents pose a constant threat to the existence of any free program. We wish to make sure that a company cannot effectively restrict the users of a free program by obtaining a restrictive license from a patent holder. Therefore, we insist that any patent license obtained for a version of the library must be consistent with the full freedom of use specified in this license.”

“Most GNU software, including some libraries, is covered by the ordinary GNU General Public License. This license, the GNU Lesser General Public License, applies to certain designated libraries, and is quite different from the ordinary General Public License. We use this license for certain libraries in order to permit linking those libraries into non-free programs.”

“When a program is linked with a library, whether statically or using a shared library, the combination of the two is legally speaking a combined work, a derivative of the original library. The ordinary General Public License therefore permits such linking only if the entire combination fits its criteria of freedom. The Lesser General Public License permits more lax criteria for linking other code with the library.”

“We call this license the <quote>Lesser</quote> General Public License because it does Less to protect the user's freedom than the ordinary General Public License. It also provides other free software developers Less of an advantage over competing non-free programs. These disadvantages are the reason we use the ordinary General Public License for many libraries. However, the Lesser license provides advantages in certain special circumstances.”

We hope that you will support the development of free software and that you will support LPSF and similar organizations.”

Activities other than copying, distribution and modification are not covered by this License; they are outside its scope. The act of running a program using the Library is not restricted, and output from such a program is covered only if its contents constitute a work based on the Library (independent of the use of the Library in a tool for writing it). Whether that is true depends on what the Library does and what the program that uses the Library does.

You may copy and distribute verbatim copies of the Library's complete source code as you receive it, in any medium, provided that you conspicuously and appropriately publish on each copy an appropriate copyright notice and disclaimer of warranty; keep intact all the notices that refer to this License and to the absence of any warranty; and distribute a copy of this License along with the Library.

You may charge a fee for the physical act of transferring a copy, and you may at your option offer warranty protection in exchange for a fee.
The modified work must itself be a software library.

You must cause the files modified to carry prominent notices stating that "you changed the files and the date of any change."

Muuteltujen tiedostojen on sisältö jolla merkintä, josta ilmenee, kuka muutti tiedostot ja mitä aikaan.

You must cause the whole of the work to be licensed at no charge to all third parties under the terms of this License.

If a facility in the modified Library refers to a function or a table of data to be supplied by an application program that uses the facility, other than as an argument passed when the facility is invoked, then you must make a good faith effort to ensure that, in the event an application does not supply such function or table, the facility still operates, and performs whatever part of its purpose remains meaningful.

(For example, a function in a library to compute square roots has a purpose that is entirely well-defined independent of the application. Therefore, Subsection 2d requires that any application-supplied function or table used by this function must be optional: if the application does not supply it, the square root function must still compute square roots.)

"this License, and its terms, do not apply to those sections when you " distribute them as separate works. But when you distribute the same sections " as part of a whole which is a work based on the Library, the distribution of " the whole must be on the terms of this License, whose permissions for other " licensees extend to the entire whole, and thus to each and every part "
regardless of who wrote it."

called a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote>. Such a work, in " isolation, is not a derivative work of the Library, and therefore falls "
"outside the scope of this License."

msgid ""
"However, linking a <quote>work that uses the Library</quote> with the "
"Library creates an executable that is a derivative of the Library (because " it contains portions of the Library), rather than a <quote>work that uses "
"the library</quote>. The executable is therefore covered by this License. "
"<link linkend="sect6">Section 6</link> states terms for distribution of " such executables."
"When a work that uses the Library uses material from a header "
"file that is part of the Library, the object code for the work may be a "
"derivative work of the Library even though the source code is not. Whether "
"this is true is especially significant if the work can be linked without the "
"Library, or if the work is itself a library. The threshold for this to be "
"true is not precisely defined by law."

"If such an object file uses only numerical parameters, data structure "
"layouts and accessors, and small macros and small inline functions (ten "
"lines or less in length), then the use of the object file is unrestricted, "
"regardless of whether it is legally a derivative work. (Executables "
"containing this object code plus portions of the Library will still fall "
"under Section 6.)"

"Otherwise, if the work is a derivative of the Library, you may distribute "
"the object code for the work under the terms of Section 6. Any executables containing that work also fall under "
"Section 6, whether or not they are linked "
"directly with the Library itself."

"As an exception to the Sections above, you may also combine or link a "
"work that uses the Library with the Library to produce a work "
"containing portions of the Library, and distribute that work under terms of "
"your choice, provided that the terms permit modification of the work for the "
"customer's own use and reverse engineering for debugging such modifications."

"Accompany the work with the complete corresponding machine-readable source "
"code for the Library including whatever changes were used in the work (which " "must be distributed under Sections 1 and 2) above; and, if the work is an executable " linked with the Library, with the complete machine-readable <quote>work that </quote> uses the Library <quote>, as object code and/or source code, so that the <quote>user can modify the Library and then relink to produce a modified executable </quote> containing the modified Library. (It is understood that the user who changes <quote>the contents of definitions files in the Library will not necessarily be able to recompile the application to use the modified definitions."
