

The public cloud experience in a private cloud environment.

Get the technology you need now, not when your budget dictates!

Cisco Metapod™ delivers a true public cloud experience in a private cloud environment—on your premises, behind your firewall, with complete administrative control.

It's a production-ready, OpenStack-based solution that we engineer, deploy, and remotely operate 24×7×365 on your behalf. You don't need to spend a minute being distracted with how the platform is built, upgraded, or operated. Like public cloud, it just works.

Focus your precious time not on managing OpenStack, but leveraging our solution to build and manage your own applications. Cisco Metapod is designed for stability and scale so you'll enjoy more predictable performance, improved economics, greater data control, and the strategic advantage that comes from empowering developers with the tools they need to innovate.
