

Tinus Janse van Rensburg
Regional Manager: Security, Cisco Africa

Tinus Janse van Rensburg joined Cisco in March 2016 as a Security Specialist where he was responsible for providing advice, consultation services, sales strategies and gearing up Cisco Global Service Provider customers with Cisco “end-to-end security” capabilities. His success saw him quickly get promoted to lead Cisco’s Security strategy for the Africa region.

Janse van Rensburg is a senior expert in the ICT industry with over 18 years’ experience in Africa covering countries such as South Africa, Nigeria, Ethiopia, Namibia, Ghana, Botswana, Mauritius, Kenya, Lesotho, and Egypt.

Before Cisco, Janse van Rensburg was a Systems Engineering Manager at Fortinet looking after its Africa business. He also spent five years as the General and Operations Manager for Information Security at Altech Namitech where he led the strategy for the company’s Information Security and Managed Services offering by ensuring effective roadmap development and operational excellence internally and externally to shareholders, partners, suppliers, analysts, stakeholders and media.

Janse van Rensburg also has years of experience in Security Operational Management, Security Engineering, PABX Engineering, Networking, Cisco Security Technologies, Mobility, Cloud Architectures, Managed Services and implementing Core IT services.

He enjoys spending time in the water or in the bush, fishing, game viewing and camping with his wife, Linda and children, Belinda and Alexander, and with friends.

Executive Quote:

“When we accept average as enough and standby watching whilst people are negatively impacted, then we need to rethink what we are doing and rather focus on what we can do to make a difference,” Tinus Janse van Rensburg.
