

Cisco Managed Services Channel Program Prequalification Worksheet

Advanced Level

The Cisco® Managed Services Advanced certification is for partners who sell and deliver Cisco-based managed services through a direct network operations center (NOC) investment and offer basic management capabilities. Cisco Managed Services Advanced Channel Partners use ITIL® processes, practices, and tools to support Cisco's advanced technologies, from preparing, planning, design, and implementation to operation. Managed Services Advanced Channel Partners must demonstrate capabilities to support a minimum of two or more referenceable customers.

This document serves as a guideline to the partner considering enrolling in the Managed Services Channel Program at the Advanced level. The questions provide insight toward eligibility for this program. It is recommended that the partner complete this exercise with a Cisco channel account manager (CAM).

For a complete list of requirements for the Managed Services Advanced level, please refer to the audit website at www.cisco.com/go/audit.
