

Cisco TelePresence System Media P2

The Cisco TelePresence® Education portfolio creates an immersive, face-to-face experience - empowering you to collaborate with others like never before. By combining Cisco collaboration application technologies with education-specific designs, you and remote classrooms and participants feel as if you are all in the same room. The Cisco TelePresence Education portfolio is designed to transform the way students learn and the way instructors present material in a collaborative, distributed environment. Schools are using these education solutions to take full advantage of scarce expertise, extend the reach of subject-matter experts, control costs, make decisions faster, reduce travel costs, and increase student retention and development.

Product Overview

Designed for use in educational environments, the Cisco TelePresence System Media P2 (Media P2) offers a versatile combination of multimedia tools in a single compact, mobile, and secure unit. Featuring a Cisco TelePresence System Edge 95 MXP* codec and the Cisco TelePresence PrecisionHD Camera coupled with a high-resolution projector, the Media P2 also incorporates integrated Cisco TelePresence Synch** technology, offering a unique package that can be synchronized with supported interactive whiteboards.

* Please reference Cisco TelePresence System Edge 95 MXP datasheet for codec specifications.

** Please reference Cisco TelePresence Synch Release Notes for Interactive Whiteboards for whiteboard compatibility.
