

Information about Cisco Cable SDN Application

The Cisco Cable SDN (Software-Defined Networking) application is a package that integrated into the Cisco Open SDN Controller. The purpose of this application is to display the status and statistical data of the CMTS node.

- Benefit of Cisco Cable SDN Application, on page 1

Benefit of Cisco Cable SDN Application

Many operators developed their own health monitor suite in-house in the past. This is time consuming and expensive. With the Cisco Cable SDN application, operators can monitor their HFC plants and plan operation and maintenance work based on the historical information collected through the application.

