Risk score

This page is meant to set up the time range used for risk score computation.

The computation is done every hour, but considers only the activities of the configured time period.

The screenshot shows the Cisco Meraki Risk score configuration page. The page title is "Risk score". Below the title, it says "From this page, you can choose the time range that will be used to compute your devices risk scores". There is a dropdown menu labeled "Select a time range" with "30 days" selected. Below the dropdown are two buttons: "Save" and "Reset to default". The left sidebar shows the navigation menu with "Risk score" highlighted.

You can select a time range of 30 days (by default), 7 days, or set a custom one, with a minimum of one day.

For more information about risk scores, refer to the Concepts section of the User Guide..
