First Published: 2025-06-09

Introduction

Cisco Unified Communications Manager Device Package Release 14.0(1.15070-1) provides database and firmware updates for Cisco Unified Communications Manager 14.

For information about all released Cisco Unified Communications Manager device packages, see the Cisco Unified Communications Manager Device Package Compatibility Matrix.

For information about how to install Cisco Unified Communications Manager device packages, see the Cisco Unified Communications Manager Device Package Installation Guide.

Caution

Installing the Device Package on the Publisher causes all of the device XML data to be reloaded into the database. This can cause high CPU on the Subscribers while these changes are being processed. It is recommended that Device Package installations occur during a maintenance window to minimize the impact of the database updates.

Caution

After applying the device package COP file, make sure that any future full upgrades are to a version that contains the device package fixes natively. Otherwise, some of the functionality added by the device package may be lost following the upgrade. If an upgrade to a version that does not contain the fixes natively is necessary, install the appropriate device package COP file to restore functionality.

Firmware Table

The Cisco Unified Communications Manager Device Package Release 14.0(1.15070-1) contains loads for the following device releases.

Note The device package also contains configuration files for many Cisco Webex models. If there are any new configuration files for these models, they are listed in the previous table: Cisco Unified Communications Device Package 14, on page 1. You can get the latest firmware for these models from the Download Software page.

Note Starting with the PhoneOS 3.2(1) release, the Video Phone 8875 now shares the same firmware files as the Desk Phone 9800 Series endpoints. There is no longer a standalone 8875 firmware file included in the Device Packs.

Note The PhoneOS firmware is now included in the Device Packs. There is no longer a need to download and install this firmware separately.
