

Java 7 migration

The VXML Server code base has been compiled with Java 7. To ensure backwards compatibility, all APIs remain unchanged. Any custom Java classes such as custom elements that have been compiled with the earlier JDK versions will continue to work on the new VXML Server platform, except for the known incompatibilities listed in the Java 7 compatibility document by Oracle.

