Cisco License Agreement

This document is the Cisco License Agreement ("Agreement") for the Cisco Software License ("Software"). It is a legal agreement between you, the customer ("Customer"), and Cisco Systems, Inc. ("Cisco"). This Agreement applies to the Software and any related documentation, media, and physical or electronic documentation (collectively, "Products").

The Software is licensed under the Cisco End-User License Agreement ("EULA"), which can be found at <https://www.cisco.com/c/en/us/products/end-user-license-agreement.html>.

Section 1: Definitions
"Cisco" means Cisco Systems, Inc. and its direct and indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries.
"Customer" means the individual or organization that purchases or otherwise obtains a license to use the Software.
"Software" means the Cisco software products listed in the Agreement, including any updates, patches, and bug fixes provided by Cisco.
"Term" means the period of time for which Customer has a valid license to use the Software, starting from the date of purchase or other acquisition of a license.

Section 2: License Grant
Cisco grants Customer a non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the Software on Customer's internal network(s) and/or external network(s) for Customer's internal business purposes, subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

Section 3: Term and Termination
The term of the license will begin on the date of purchase and will continue until terminated by either party in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. Cisco may terminate the license if Customer violates any term of this Agreement. Customer may terminate the license by providing Cisco with written notice of termination.

Section 4: Support and Updates
Cisco will provide Customer with technical support and updates for the Software during the term of the license. Cisco may charge Customer for certain types of support and updates.

Section 5: Intellectual Property
Cisco retains all rights in the Software, including all intellectual property rights. Customer may not copy, distribute, or reverse engineer the Software.

Section 6: Confidentiality
Customer agrees to keep the Software and the terms of this Agreement confidential and not to disclose them to any third party without Cisco's prior written consent.

Section 7: Governing Law
This Agreement is governed by the laws of the State of California, USA. Any dispute arising out of or relating to this Agreement shall be resolved by arbitration in San Jose, California, USA, in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association.

Section 8: Miscellaneous
This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between Customer and Cisco regarding the Software. Any changes to this Agreement must be in writing and signed by both parties.
